WACHOVIA CORP/ NC Form 425 August 29, 2001

Pursuant to Rule 425 under the Securities Act of 1933

Subject Company: Wachovia Corporation Commission File No. 333-59616

Date: August 28, 2001

This filing contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Such statements include, but are not limited to, (i) statements about the benefits of the merger between First Union Corporation and Wachovia Corporation, including future financial and operating results, cost savings, enhanced revenues, and accretion to reported earnings that may be realized from the merger; (ii) statements with respect to First Union's and Wachovia's plans, objectives, expectations and intentions and other statements that are not historical facts; and (iii) other statements identified by words such as "believes", "expects", "anticipates", "estimates", "intends", "plans", "targets", "projects" and similar expressions. These statements are based upon the current beliefs and expectations of First Union's and Wachovia's management and are subject to significant risks and uncertainties. Actual results may differ from those set forth in the forward-looking statements.

The following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from the anticipated results or other expectations expressed in the forward-looking statements: (1) the risk that the businesses of First Union and Wachovia will not be integrated successfully or such integration may be more difficult, time-consuming or costly than expected; (2) expected revenue synergies and cost savings from the merger may not be fully realized or realized within the expected time frame; (3) revenues following the merger may be lower than expected; (4) deposit attrition, operating costs, customer loss and business disruption following the merger, including, without limitation, difficulties in maintaining relationships with employees, may be greater than expected; (5) the ability to obtain governmental approvals of the merger on the proposed terms and schedule; (6) competitive pressures among depository and other financial institutions may increase significantly and have an effect on pricing, spending, third-party relationships and revenues; (7) the strength of the United States economy in general and the strength of the local economies in which the combined company will conduct operations may be different than expected resulting in, among other things, a deterioration in credit quality or a reduced demand for credit, including the resultant effect on the combined company's loan portfolio and allowance for loan losses; (8) changes in the U.S. and foreign legal and regulatory framework; and (9) adverse conditions in the stock market, the public debt market and other capital markets (including changes in interest rate conditions) and the impact of such conditions on the combined company's capital markets and asset management activities. Additional factors that could cause First Union's and Wachovia's results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements can be found in First Union's and Wachovia's reports (such as Annual Reports on Form 10-K, Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q and Current Reports on Form 8-K) filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission and available at the SEC's Internet site (http://www.sec.gov). All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements concerning the proposed transaction or other matters attributable to First Union or Wachovia or any person acting on their behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements above. First Union and Wachovia do not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement to reflect circumstances or events that occur after the date the forward-looking statements are made.

Stockholders are urged to read the definitive joint proxy statement/prospectus regarding the proposed transaction and any other relevant documents filed with the SEC, as well as any amendments or supplements to those documents, because they contain (or will contain) important information. You will be able to obtain a free copy of the joint proxy statement/prospectus, as well as other filings containing information about First Union and Wachovia, at the SEC's Internet site (http://www.sec.gov). Copies of the joint proxy statement/prospectus and the SEC filings that have been or will be incorporated by reference in the joint proxy statement/prospectus can also be obtained, without charge, by directing a request to First Union, Investor Relations, One First Union Center, Charlotte, North Carolina 28288-0206 (704-374-6782), or to Wachovia, Investor Relations, 100 North Main Street, Winston-Salem, North Carolina 27150 (888-492-6397).

FIRST UNION AND WACHOVIA ANNOUNCE NEW LEADERSHIP FOR THE COMBINED COMPANY

Top Leaders For The New Wachovia Named As Next Step In Merger Integration

CHARLOTTE, N.C. and WINSTON-SALEM, N.C. - First Union (NYSE: FTU) and Wachovia (NYSE: WB) today announced the next level of leadership for the combined company, effective after merger consummation. These 105 leaders will report to the new Wachovia Operating Committee members - the 13 direct reports to Ken Thompson and L.M. Baker Jr., who, respectively, will be chief executive officer and chairman of the new Wachovia. This team will help define and create all aspects of the new company, and will be drivers of future success for the proposed fourth largest bank holding company in the United States.

"Selecting these leaders is an important step in our merger integration efforts, and I am excited about the opportunity to begin combining our two teams," said Baker. "We had a broad range of exceptional talent to choose from, and while the decisions were difficult, I believe we have selected the best group to move our new company forward."

Leaders were chosen for their roles through a detailed and thorough selection process that included open self-nominations, interviews and final approval of each selection by Thompson and Baker.

"I am confident in the talent of this team and its ability to ensure the new Wachovia is a fierce competitor in financial services," said Thompson. "This new leadership reflects the combination of two powerful teams and will make us stronger than we were before our plans to merge."

The new leadership team is listed in order of reporting relationship to previously named Operating Committee members for the new Wachovia:
