Mr. Jeswald W. Salacuse, Chairman
The India Fund, Inc.
c/o Aberdeen Asset Management Inc.
1735 Market Street
32nd Floor
Philadelphia, PA 19103

Dear Mr. Salacuse,

City of London Investment Management Company Limited (“City of London”) is a long-term investor in emerging markets closed-end funds and first became a shareholder in The India Fund, Inc. (“the Fund”) more than a decade ago. As of our most recent regulatory disclosure, City of London, on behalf of its clients, held 3,797,502 shares, representing 10.00% of the Fund’s outstanding shares. We are writing in response to the announcement on August 23, 2013, of another 5% semi-annual repurchase offer in the context of your letter to us dated August 12, 2013.

Looking back at the history of this Fund, we can say without hesitation that we are unimpressed by the Board’s performance. In our last letter, we began by contending that a CEF’s discount reflects the level of demand for the product in the marketplace. Our reading of your response suggests that you reject that fundamental concept. We would respectfully observe that the Board’s view of the way a CEF should be managed as a business is fundamentally flawed, and that the results the Board has delivered are evidence of that contention.

Considering both the history of the Fund and the current situation, we see no justification for the The India Fund, Inc.’s continued existence as a closed-end fund. An open-end mutual fund is forced to respond immediately to an investor’s wish to buy or sell shares, providing shareholders with the opportunity to exit at NAV. The closed-end fund structure is not meant to be unresponsive to investors, but instead the ‘long-term’ interests of CEF shareholders are meant to be protected from (disruptive) ‘immediate’ buy/sell requests.

A ‘long-term’ CEF investor, however, is not a ‘perpetual’ CEF investor, the distinction being that long-term investors will eventually have a reason to sell shares, at which time the Fund’s discount becomes very material. Both we and you have seen a significant premium in IFN disappear on the back of significant rights issues in 2005, 2006 and 2009. Now you are arguing that the other side of the equation, a wide and persistent discount, could not be reduced or eliminated by an enlarged Tender. Really?!

You are absolutely right that inaction from you and other peers, otherwise known as everyone either doing nothing, pointing a figure at everyone else, putting their heads in the sand, or just creating a diversion, will achieve nothing. The bottom line is that this inactivity benefits no one apart from the Manager who continues to receive fees based upon the value of the (inflated) net asset value rather than the (deflated) market capitalization.

You have been on the Board of this Fund since 1993 and Chairman since 2005. You have overseen two rights issues as Chairman and one as a Board member. During this time the Fund's capital has increased in size from 34,000,000 to 37,700,000 shares. For us as investors in CEFs, it is a pity that you cannot be held accountable for your oversight. Unfortunately, because of the way that corporate governance works in the US, we cannot vote against you when coming up for reelection, much in the same way as IFN Shareholders could not vote against the three rights issues that this Fund has launched.

Your letter's focus on the expense ratio demonstrates either a lack of understanding or a view that investors are easily diverted away from reality or the truth. The 2012 IFN all-in expense ratio was 1.16%, and annually the Manager receives 1.10% of the first $500 million and 0.90% of the next $500 million (we did see the footnotes related to temporary partial fee waivers). Meanwhile, shareholders have lost 1,000 basis points and more as a result of discount widening from time of the rights offerings! Would shareholders have been willing to bear another 10 bps of expense ratio in order to realize 1,000 bps of otherwise lost price performance in the form of a larger tender? In order for the Fund to succeed, the Board must manage it as a business entity rather than simply 'going along for a ride' that is organized by an investment management company.

IFN is now an example of a Fund that is 'deaf' with respect to its shareholders. How else could the discount be allowed to be wide for so long without a significant response? The discount is seemingly deemed by the Board to be a fact of life in IFN. The only logical conclusion is that the Board should provide shareholders with the opportunity to vote to open-end the fund, after which shareholders could choose to remain invested or to exit at NAV. Please note that for our part we are considering our next course of action.

Sincerely yours,

Jeremy Bannister
