Item 8.01. Other Events.

On October 11, 2005, Arena Pharmaceuticals, Inc. was issued US patent number 6,953,787, entitled "5-HT_{2C} Receptor Modulators," by the United States Patent and Trademark Office. The patent relates to novel compounds that modulate the 5-HT_{2C} serotonin receptor, which helps regulate food intake and may also influence metabolic rate. These modulators could be useful in pharmaceutical compositions for the treatment of obesity. APD356, discovered by Arena, is a selective and orally available 5-HT_{2C} receptor modulator covered by the patent. A 12-week, randomized, double-blind, dose-ranging Phase 2b clinical trial studying APD356 in obese patients is currently ongoing.

On October 11, 2005, Arena publicly announced that it plans to announce top-line, longer term safety and efficacy data from its Phase 2b clinical trial of APD356 around the end of the year.

Forward-Looking Statements

Certain statements in this Form 8-K are forward-looking statements that involve a number of risks and uncertainties. Such forward-looking statements include statements about the possible usefulness of 5-HT_{2C} modulators in pharmaceutical compositions for the treatment of obesity, APD356's safety profile, potency and pharmaceutical behavior, and the expected timing of Arena's clinical trials and announcement of results and other statements about Arena's clinical programs and ability to develop compounds and commercialize drugs. For such statements, Arena claims the protection of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Actual events or results may differ materially from Arena's expectations. Factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from the forward-looking statements include, but are not limited to, the results of Arena's clinical trials, the results of preclinical studies or clinical trials may not be predictive of future results, Arena's ability to partner APD356, APD125 or other of its compounds or programs, the timing, success and cost of Arena's research, out-licensing endeavors and clinical trials, Arena's ability to obtain additional financing, Arena's ability to obtain and defend its patents, Arena's patent protection, and the timing and receipt of payments and fees, if any, from Arena's collaborators, including Ortho-McNeil and Merck. Additional factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those stated or implied by Arena's forward-looking statements are disclosed in Arena's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission. These forward-looking statements represent Arena's judgment as of the time of the filing of this Form 8-K. Arena disclaims any intent or obligation to update these forward-looking statements, other than as may be required under applicable law.
