Item 2.01 Completion of Acquisition or Disposition of Assets

On October 14, 2005, Chase Corporation's wholly owned subsidiary, Chase & Sons Limited, acquired all of the outstanding capital stock of Concoat Holdings Limited and its subsidiaries. Concoat is a specialist manufacturer of materials used by the electronics industry around the world, based in Camberley, Surrey, England. The total purchase price was approximately US $9,300,000 (using current foreign exchange rates) plus acquisition related costs and subject to adjustments, retentions and holdbacks as defined in the Agreement to account for certain potential post-closing adjustments.

Claims related to the retentions must be made in accordance with the terms of the Agreement, but in any event not later than 36 months from the acquisition date. These retentions relate to final working capital adjustments, and property, tax and warranty retentions. Monies not used for retention claims must be paid in full, with interest from the closing date at 4.5% per year, to the Seller's representatives.
