We are well-positioned in the growth areas of a changing IT industry, focused on our evolving business model, and poised for long-term success for our clients and shareholders."

From a geographic perspective, the Americas fourth-quarter revenues were $11.1 billion, an increase of 6 percent as reported (5 percent, adjusting for currency) from the 2005 period. Revenues from Europe/Middle East/Africa were $9.3 billion, up 11 percent (3 percent, adjusting for currency). Asia-Pacific revenues increased 7 percent (5 percent, adjusting for currency) to $4.8 billion. OEM revenues were $1.0 billion, down 3 percent compared with the 2005 fourth quarter.

Revenues from the Software segment were $5.6 billion, an increase of 14 percent (11 percent, adjusting for currency) compared with the fourth quarter of 2005. For the Global Services business, segment revenues from Global Technology Services increased 7 percent (4 percent, adjusting for currency) to $8.6 billion, and segment revenues from Global Business Services increased 6 percent (3 percent, adjusting for currency) to $4.2 billion. S&TG revenues from System z server products increased 5 percent compared with the year-ago period. Total expense and other income increased 11 percent to $6.9 billion compared with the prior-year period. SG&A expense increased 7 percent to $5.6 billion. RD&E expense increased 9 percent compared with the year-ago period. Intellectual property and custom development income increased to $241 million compared with $228 million a year ago. Other (income) and expense contributed income of $150 million in the fourth quarter of 2006 versus income of $334 million in the fourth quarter of 2005. In the fourth quarter of last year, gains on real estate transactions were unusually high due to several large transactions compared with real estate activity in the fourth quarter of this year, resulting in a decrease of $140 million year to year.

IBM's effective tax rate in the fourth-quarter 2006 was 28.0 percent compared with 29.5 percent in the fourth quarter of 2005. The decrease in the tax rate was caused by the favorable effect of several items in the quarter, including the retroactive reinstatement of the U.S. research tax credit and changes in the mix of income in various tax jurisdictions.

For total operations, net income for the fourth-quarter 2006 was $3.5 billion, or $2.31 per diluted share, which included a gain from discontinued operations related to country tax settlements of $76 million, compared with the fourth quarter of 2005 net income of $3.2 billion, or $1.99 per diluted share, which included a gain from discontinued operations of $3 million and a charge for the cumulative effect of the FASB Interpretation No. 47 accounting change of $36 million.

Without the one-time items in 2005, diluted earnings in 2006 increased $0.74 per share, or 14 percent versus the comparable period last year.

Income from continuing operations for the year ended December 31, 2006 was $9.4 billion, compared with $8.0 billion in the year-ago period, or up 18 percent, which includes a charge of $525 million for taxes in connection with the 2005 repatriation of foreign earnings, and non-recurring pretax items for a curtailment charge of $267 million relating to the pension change and incremental restructuring charges of $1.7 billion, offset by the $1.1 billion gain on the sale of the Personal Computing (PC) business, and the $775 million legal settlement received from Microsoft. Excluding the non-recurring items and tax charge for 2005, the growth for income from continuing operations was 9 percent year over year.

Revenues from continuing operations for 2006 totaled $91.4 billion, essentially flat as reported and adjusting for currency compared with $91.1 billion for 2005, which includes PC revenues of $2.9 billion for the first four months of 2005 only. Software segment revenues in 2006 totaled $18.2 billion, an increase of 8 percent (7 percent, adjusting for currency). Revenues from the Global Technology Services segment totaled $32.3 billion, an increase of 3 percent (2 percent, adjusting for currency) compared with 2005. Revenues from the Global Business Services segment were $16.0 billion, flat (up 1 percent, adjusting for currency). S&TG segment revenues were $22.0 billion, an increase of 5 percent (4 percent, adjusting for currency). Global Financing revenues totaled $2.4 billion, a decrease of 2 percent (2 percent, adjusting for currency).

For total operations, net income for 2006 was $9.5 billion, or $6.11 per diluted share, which included a gain from discontinued operations related to country tax settlements of $76 million, compared with the 2005 net income of $7.9 billion, or $4.87 per diluted share, which included a loss from discontinued operations of $24 million and a charge for the cumulative effect of the FASB Interpretation No. 47 accounting change of $36 million.

IBM ended 2006 with $10.7 billion of cash on hand and net cash provided from operations, excluding the year-to-year change in Global Financing receivables, was $15.3 billion - an increase of $2.2 billion from last year. The balance sheet remains strong, and the company is well positioned to take advantage of opportunities.

In December, the company adopted Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 158 (SFAS 158), new accounting guidance related to pension and other postretirement plans released by the Financial Accounting Standards Board in September 2006. This accounting standard requires companies to recognize the funded status of their postretirement plans in the statement of financial position (or balance sheet). The funded status is measured as the difference between the value of pension plan assets and the company's benefit obligations to its current and retired employees. The adoption of SFAS 158 at December 31, 2006 reduced the company's assets by $9.2 billion, increased its liabilities by $0.3 billion and reduced stockholders' equity by $9.5 billion. These changes to the company's financial statements were non-cash and will have no impact on the company's existing debt covenants, credit ratings or financial flexibility.

Share repurchases totaled approximately $8.0 billion in 2006. The weighted-average number of diluted common shares outstanding in 2006 was 1.55 billion compared with 1.63 billion shares in 2005. As of December 31, 2006, there were 1.51 billion basic common shares outstanding.

Debt, including Global Financing, totaled $22.7 billion, compared with $22.6 billion at year-end 2005. From a management segment view, the non-global financing debt-to-capitalization ratio was 1.5 percent at the end of 2006, and Global Financing debt increased $1.8 billion from year-end 2005 to a total of $22.3 billion, resulting in a debt-to- equity ratio of 6.9 to 1.
