PROXY STATEMENT

ANNUAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

May 23, 2007

Landmark Bancorp, Inc., a Delaware corporation, is the holding company for Landmark National Bank. Landmark National Bank's main office is in Manhattan, Kansas with branch offices in central, eastern and southwestern Kansas. Landmark Bancorp was formed as part of the 2001 merger between MNB Bancshares, Inc., the holding company for Security National Bank, and Landmark Bancshares, Inc., the holding company for Landmark Federal Savings Bank. As a result of the merger, Landmark Bancorp became the holding company for Landmark National Bank. In April, 2004 Landmark Bancorp completed its acquisition of First Kansas Financial Corporation, the holding company of First Kansas Federal Savings Bank, and it was merged into Landmark National Bank. In January, 2006, Landmark Bancorp completed the acquisition of First Manhattan Bancorporation, Inc., the holding company of First Savings Bank, F.S.B.

This proxy statement is furnished in connection with the solicitation by the board of directors of Landmark Bancorp of proxies to be voted at the annual meeting of stockholders to be held at the Manhattan Union Pacific Depot, 120 Fort Riley Boulevard, Manhattan, Kansas, 66502, on Wednesday, May 23, 2007, at 2:00 p.m., local time, and at any adjournments or postponements of the meeting. Our 2006 annual report, which includes consolidated financial statements of Landmark Bancorp and Landmark National Bank, is also enclosed. This proxy statement is first being mailed to Landmark Bancorp's stockholders on or about April 20, 2007.

The following is information regarding the meeting and the voting process, presented in a question and answer format.

Why am I receiving this proxy statement and proxy card?

You are receiving a proxy statement and proxy card from us because on April 6, 2007, the record date for the annual meeting, you owned shares of Landmark Bancorp's common stock. This proxy statement describes the matters that will be presented for consideration by the stockholders at the annual meeting. It also gives you information concerning the matters to assist you in making an informed decision.

When you sign the enclosed proxy card, you appoint the proxy holder as your representative at the meeting. The proxy holder will vote your shares as you have instructed in the proxy card, thereby ensuring that your shares will be voted whether or not you attend the meeting. Even if you plan to attend the meeting, you should complete, sign and return your proxy card in advance of the meeting just in case your plans change.

If you have signed and returned the proxy card and an issue comes up for a vote at the meeting that is not identified on the card, the proxy holder will vote your shares, pursuant to your proxy, in accordance with his or her judgment.

What matters will be voted on at the meeting?

You are being asked to vote on the election of four Class III directors of Landmark Bancorp for a term expiring in 2010. Additionally, you are being asked to ratify the appointment of KPMG LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm for the 2007 fiscal year. These matters are more fully described in this proxy statement.

If I am the record holder of my shares, how do I vote?

You may vote either by mail or in person at the meeting. To vote by mail, complete and sign the enclosed proxy card and mail it in the enclosed postage-paid, pre-addressed envelope to our transfer agent, Registrar and Transfer Company, 10 Commerce Drive, Cranford, New Jersey, 07016.

If you mark your proxy card to indicate how you want your shares voted, your shares will be voted as you instruct. If you sign and return your proxy card but do not mark the card to provide voting instructions, the shares represented by your proxy card will be voted for all four nominees named in this proxy statement and for the ratification of KPMG LLP as our independent registered public accounting firm.

If you want to vote in person, please come to the meeting. We will distribute written ballots to anyone who wants to vote at the meeting. Even if you plan to attend the meeting, you should complete, sign and return your proxy card in advance of the meeting just in case your plans change. Please note, that if your shares are held in the name of your broker (or in what is usually referred to as street name), you will need to arrange to obtain a legal proxy from your broker in order to vote in person at the meeting.

If I hold shares in the name of a broker or fiduciary, who votes my shares?

If you received this proxy statement from your broker or by a trustee or other fiduciary who may hold your shares, your broker or fiduciary should have given you instructions for directing how they should vote your shares. It will then be their responsibility to vote your shares for you in the manner you direct. As discussed above, if you want to vote in person at the meeting, you will need to arrange to obtain a legal proxy from your broker or fiduciary in order to vote in person at the meeting.

Under the rules of various national and regional securities exchanges, brokers may generally vote on routine matters, such as the election of directors and the ratification of the independent registered public accounting firm, but cannot vote on non-routine matters, such as an amendment to the certificate of incorporation or the adoption or amendment of an equity compensation plan, unless they have received voting instructions from the person for whom they are holding shares. If your broker does not receive instructions from you on how to vote particular shares on a matter on which your broker does not have discretionary authority to vote, your broker will return the proxy card to us, indicating that he or she does not have the authority to vote on these matters. This is generally referred to as a broker non-vote and will affect the outcome of the voting as described below, under How many votes are needed for approval of each proposal?

We encourage you to provide directions to your broker as to how you want your shares voted on all matters to be brought before the meeting. You should do this by carefully following the instructions your broker gives you concerning its procedures. This ensures that your shares will be voted at the meeting.

What does it mean if I receive more than one proxy card?

It means that you have multiple holdings reflected in our stock transfer records and/or in accounts with stockbrokers. Please sign and return ALL proxy forms to ensure that all your shares are voted.

What options do I have in voting on each of the proposals?

You may vote for or withhold authority to vote for each nominee for director. You may vote for, against or abstain on any other proposal that may properly be brought before the meeting. Abstentions will be considered in determining the presence of a quorum but will not affect the vote required for election of our directors or the ratification of our independent registered public accounting firm.

How many votes may I cast?

Generally, you are entitled to cast one vote for each share of stock you owned on the record date. The proxy card included with this proxy statement indicates the number of shares owned by an account attributable to you.

How many votes are needed for approval of each proposal?

Directors are elected by a plurality and the four individuals receiving the highest number of votes cast for their election will be elected as Class III directors of Landmark Bancorp.

The ratification of our independent registered public accounting firm and all other matters must receive the affirmative vote of a majority of the shares present in person or by proxy at the meeting and entitled to vote. Broker non-votes and abstentions will not be counted as entitled to vote, but will count for purposes of determining whether or not a quorum is present on the matter.

What if I change my mind after I return my proxy?

If you hold your shares in your own name, you may revoke your proxy and change your vote at any time before the polls close at the meeting. You may do this by:

- signing another proxy with a later date and returning that proxy to our transfer agent at:

Registrar and Transfer Company
10 Commerce Drive
Cranford, New Jersey, 07016;

- sending notice to our transfer agent that you are revoking your proxy; or
- voting in person at the meeting.

If you hold your shares in the name of your broker and desire to revoke your proxy, you will need to contact your broker to revoke your proxy.

How many shares do we need to have represented at the meeting to hold the annual meeting?

A majority of the shares that are outstanding and entitled to vote as of the record date must be present in person or by proxy at the meeting in order to hold the meeting and conduct business.

Shares are counted as present at the meeting if the stockholder either:

- is present in person at the meeting; or
- has properly submitted a signed proxy card or other proxy.

On April 6, 2007, the record date, there were 2,322,224 shares of common stock issued and outstanding. Therefore, at least 1,166,113 shares need to be present at the annual meeting in order to hold the meeting and conduct business.

What happens if a nominee is unable to stand for re-election?

The board may, by resolution, provide for a lesser number of directors or designate a substitute nominee. In the latter case, shares represented by proxies may be voted for a substitute nominee. Proxies cannot be voted for more than four nominees. The board has no reason to believe any nominee will be unable to stand for re-election.

Where do I find the voting results of the meeting?

If available, we will announce voting results at the meeting. The voting results will also be disclosed in our Form 10-Q for the quarter ending June 30, 2007.

Who bears the cost of soliciting proxies?

We will bear the cost of soliciting proxies. In addition to solicitations by mail, officers, directors or employees of Landmark Bancorp or its subsidiaries may solicit proxies in person or by telephone. These persons will not receive any special or additional compensation for soliciting proxies. We may reimburse brokerage houses and other custodians, nominees and fiduciaries for their reasonable out-of-pocket expenses for forwarding proxy and solicitation materials to stockholders.

ELECTION OF DIRECTORS

At the annual meeting of the stockholders to be held on May 23, 2007, the stockholders will be entitled to elect four Class III directors for a term expiring in 2010. Landmark Bancorp's directors are divided into three classes having staggered terms of three years. The nominees for election as Class III directors are incumbent directors. We have no knowledge that any of the nominees will refuse or be unable to serve, but if any of the nominees becomes unavailable for election, the holders of the proxies reserve the right to substitute another person of their choice as a nominee when voting at the meeting.

Set forth below is information concerning the nominees for election and for the other directors whose terms of office will continue after the meeting, including their age, the year first elected a director and their business experience during the previous five years as of April 6, 2007. The nominees, if elected at the annual meeting of stockholders, will serve as Class III directors for three year terms expiring in 2010. We unanimously recommend that you vote FOR each of the nominees for director. Unless authority to vote for the nominees is withheld, the shares represented by the enclosed proxy card, if executed and returned, will be voted FOR the election of the nominees proposed by the board of directors.

CORPORATE GOVERNANCE AND THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

We currently have ten directors serving as our board, a majority of whom are deemed to be independent, as that term is defined by the Nasdaq Stock Market, LLC. Mr. Alexander is not deemed to be independent because of his position as our President and Chief Executive Officer and Mr. Schugart is not deemed to be independent because of his past services as an officer and consultant to Landmark Bancorp. Additionally, Mr. Bowman is not deemed to be independent because Landmark Bancorp engaged Bowman, Bowman and Novick, Inc., an architectural firm, of which he is the controlling shareholder, in connection with the design and construction of a new branch facility, while Mr. Snapp is not deemed to be independent because Landmark Bancorp has regularly engaged the law firm of Waite, Snapp & Doll, of which he is a partner, in the past. In accordance with our corporate governance procedures, the board does not involve itself in the day-to-day operations of Landmark Bancorp which is monitored by our executive officers and management. Our directors fulfill their duties and responsibilities by attending regular meetings of the full board, which were held two times each quarter in 2006, with additional special meetings held from time to time. In 2007 the full board intends to meet six times with special meetings held from time to time when necessary and through committee membership, which is discussed below. Our directors also discuss business and other matters with Mr. Alexander, other key executives and our principal external advisers (legal counsel, auditors and other consultants) at times other than regularly scheduled meetings when appropriate.

The board of directors has, in addition to other committees, an Audit Committee, a Nominating and Governance Committee and a Compensation Committee. Consistent with the Nasdaq listing requirements, the independent directors regularly have the opportunity to meet without Mr. Alexander, Mr. Schugart, Mr. Bowman and Mr. Snapp in attendance. The current charters of each of these committees are available on Landmark Bancorp's website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com. Our website also contains a general description about us as well as our Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. Additionally, we maintain a separate website for Landmark National Bank at www.banklandmark.com that contains a description of our banking services and products.

A total of eight regularly scheduled and special meetings were held by the board of directors of Landmark Bancorp during 2006. During 2006, all directors attended at least 75 percent of the meetings of the board and the committees on which they served. Although we do not have a formal policy regarding director attendance at the annual meeting, we encourage and expect all of our directors to attend. Last year, all of the directors were present at the annual meeting.

Audit Committee

Messrs. Ball, Downey, Pettle and Ross and Ms. Roepke served as members of the Audit Committee, with Mr. Pettle serving as Chairman. Each of these members is considered independent, according to listing standards set forth by Nasdaq and Rule 10A-3 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 and the board believes that each member of the committee possesses the necessary skills and qualifications to critically analyze our financial statements and financial reporting process. Further, the board has determined that Ms. Roepke qualifies as an audit committee financial expert under the rules of the Securities and Exchange Commission. The board based this decision on Ms. Roepke's education and professional experience as a former senior financial executive of a financial institution.

The functions performed by the Audit Committee include, but are not limited to, the following:

- selecting and managing the relationship with our independent registered public accounting firm;
- reviewing the independence of the independent registered public accounting firm;

- reviewing actions by management on recommendations of the independent registered public accounting firm and internal auditors;
- meeting with management, the internal auditors and the independent registered public accounting firm to review the effectiveness of our system of internal control over financial reporting and internal audit procedures;
- reviewing our earnings releases and reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission; and
- reviewing reports of bank regulatory agencies and monitoring management's compliance with recommendations contained in those reports.

To promote independence of the audit function, the Audit Committee consults separately and jointly with the independent registered public accounting firm, the internal auditors and management. The internal auditor reports directly to the committee on audit and compliance matters. The committee also reviews and approves the scope of the annual external audit and consults with the independent registered public accounting firm regarding the results of their auditing procedures. We have adopted a written charter, which sets forth the committee's duties and responsibilities. A copy of the charter is currently available on our website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com. The Audit Committee for Landmark Bancorp met eight times in 2006.

Compensation Committee

Our board of directors has a Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Ball and Pettle and Ms. Roepke, with Mr. Ball serving as Chairman. Each of the current members is considered independent, as such term is defined by Nasdaq listing requirements, an outside director pursuant to Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, and a non-employee director under Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act. The committee is responsible for matters related to the compensation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers. The committee's responsibilities and functions are further described below in the section titled Compensation Discussion and Analysis and in its charter, which is available on our website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com. The Compensation Committee met three times in 2006.

Nominating and Governance Committee

Our board of directors also has a Nominating and Governance Committee. The committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Downey, Lewis and Ross, with Mr. Downey serving as the Chairman. Each of the members is deemed to be independent, as such term is defined by Nasdaq. The Nominating and Governance Committee is charged with overseeing our corporate governance programs as well as nominating directors to serve on the board of directors. The committee's responsibilities and functions are further described in its charter, which is available on our website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com. The Nominating and Corporate Governance Committee met one time in 2006.

Director Nominations and Qualifications

In carrying out its nominating function, the Nominating and Governance Committee evaluates all potential nominees for election, including incumbent directors, board nominees and stockholder nominees, in the same manner, although it is not currently seeking candidates to serve on the board and we did not receive any stockholder nominations for the 2007 annual meeting. Generally, the committee believes that, at a minimum, directors should possess certain qualities, including the highest personal and professional ethics and integrity, a sufficient educational and professional background, demonstrated leadership skills, sound judgment, a strong sense of service to the communities which we serve and an ability to meet the standards and duties set forth in our code of conduct. The committee also evaluates potential nominees to determine if they have any conflicts of interest that may interfere with their ability to serve as effective board members and whether they are independent in accordance with Nasdaq requirements (to ensure that at least a majority of the directors will, at all times, be independent). The committee has not, in the past, retained a third party to assist it in identifying candidates, but it has the authority to retain a third party firm or professional for the purpose of identifying candidates.

Code of Business Conduct and Ethics. We have a Code of Business Conduct and Ethics in place that applies to all of our directors and employees. The code of conduct is posted on our website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com. We intend to satisfy the disclosure requirements under Item 5.01 of Form 8-K regarding any amendment to or waiver of the code with respect to our Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, and persons performing similar functions, by posting such information on our website.

Director Compensation

In 2006, directors of Landmark Bancorp received a monthly fee of $1,400 for serving on the board of directors and they will continue to receive a monthly fee of $1,400 in 2007. Additionally, during 2006, each non-employee director received 2,695 stock options. Landmark Bancorp has assumed deferred compensation agreements entered into by Messrs. COMPENSATION DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS

This Compensation Discussion and Analysis describes Landmark Bancorp's compensation philosophy and policies to the executive officers named in the Summary Compensation Table on page 22. This section explains the structure and rationale associated with each material element of our executive officers' compensation and it provides important context for the more detailed disclosure tables and specific compensation amounts provided following the section. It is important to note that Landmark Bancorp and Landmark National Bank share an executive management team, the members of which are compensated by the bank rather than the holding company. The compensation packages of the named executive officers are determined and approved by our Compensation Committee based upon their performances and roles for both Landmark Bancorp and Landmark National Bank.

Compensation-Related Governance and Role of the Compensation Committee.

Committee Membership and Charter. Our executive compensation program is administered by our Compensation Committee. The Compensation Committee is currently comprised of Messrs. Ball and Pettie and Ms. Roepke, each of whom is expected to serve on the Compensation Committee through 2007. Our board of directors has determined that each of the members is independent under the Nasdaq listing requirements, an outside director pursuant to Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code and a non-employee director pursuant to Section 16 of the Securities Exchange Act. The Compensation Committee has responsibility for all matters related to the compensation of the executive officers, including the Chief Executive Officer. The Compensation Committee is generally responsible for the following:

- to review and approve performance goals and objectives relevant to the compensation of our Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers;
- to evaluate the performance of the Chief Executive Officer in light of those goals and objectives and to set the compensation level of the Chief Executive Officer and approve the compensation levels recommended by our Chief Executive Officer for the other executive officers;
- to meet with our Chief Executive Officer to receive the Chief Executive Officer's evaluation of and recommendations regarding compensation performance goals for the other executive officers and Landmark Bancorp's progress towards meeting its performance goals and objectives;
- to review and approve all employment agreements, severance arrangements and change of control agreements or provisions for the Chief Executive Officer and other executive officers;
- to make recommendations to the board of directors regarding incentive compensation plans and equity-based plans;
- to review all compensation decisions in light of the provisions of Section 162(m) of the Internal Revenue Code; and
- to act in an advisory capacity to the board of directors regarding compensation matters generally.

The Compensation Committee operates under a charter adopted by our board of directors. A copy of the charter is available on our website at www.landmarkbancorpinc.com.

Role of Executives in Committee Meetings. The Compensation Committee relies upon the input of management, particularly Mr. Alexander, to evaluate and establish executive compensation. Management provides the Compensation Committee with evaluations of employee performance, guidance on establishing performance targets and objectives and recommendations of salary levels and option awards. The Compensation Committee also consults with management on matters that are related to executive compensation and benefit plans where board or stockholder action is expected, including the adoption of new plans or the amendment of existing plans. No executive officer participates in any recommendation or decision regarding his or her own compensation.

Role of Compensation Consultants. During 2006 and 2007, the Compensation Committee did not engage an independent compensation consultant to assist in evaluating and setting executive compensation, however the committee may engage one in the future. Although the Compensation Committee generally does not engage outside compensation consultants, it does receive a number of surveys from other independent sources, such as SNL, regarding the compensation levels and programs at other financial institutions. Additionally, the Compensation Committee engaged the services of Nash and Company, an independent compensation consultant, in 2003 to assist the Compensation Committee in the development and design of a program to implement the 2001 Long Term Incentive Plan and to also design a program to include director participation in the 2001 Long Term Incentive Plan.

Compensation Committee Activity. The Compensation Committee generally meets in January and December of each year. At the December meeting the Compensation Committee reviews the results for the year ending in December and sets bonus levels for the executive officers based upon results for the year as compared to the guidance of the executive bonus plan. In January, the Compensation Committee evaluates the performance of the CEO and other executive officers against the individual performance goals that were established for the previous year. Based on its evaluation, the Compensation Committee sets the CEO compensation for the upcoming year and reviews the CEO's recommendation for the compensation of the other executive officers for the upcoming year and either concurs or amends the recommendation. The Compensation Committee also sets performance goals for the upcoming year, including targets under our annual cash bonus plan. In 2006, the Compensation Committee also met in August to review new SEC disclosure requirements effective for the company's next proxy filing and determine what impact that might have on Compensation Committee responsibilities and reporting requirements.

Compensation Philosophy and Objectives

General. We are committed to providing a total compensation program that supports our long-term business strategy and performance culture and that aligns the interests of our executive officers with those of our stockholders. The executive compensation program is structured to accomplish the following objectives:

- to attract and retain top executive talent over an extended period of time;
- to provide incentives for executive officers to work toward achieving successful annual results and long-term strategic objectives;
- to provide significant reward for achievement of superior performance;
- to provide market-based compensation to help recruit and retain professionals of exceptional quality;
- to create significant opportunities and incentives for executives to be long-term stockholders;

- to link executive compensation rewards and increases in stockholder return, favorable long-term results and continued strengthening of Landmark Bancorp's financial condition; and
- to provide flexibility to recognize, differentiate and reward individual performance.

In furtherance of these objectives, the Compensation Committee's decisions regarding compensation for the named executive officers are based, in part, on qualitative and quantitative factors related to our corporate performance and individual executive officer performance as well as the Compensation Committee's subjective judgment. Additionally, the Compensation Committee takes into consideration any amounts an executive officer is entitled to upon retirement, termination or a change-in-control event. In addition to the factors described above, the Compensation Committee considers other factors, including the mix of long- and short-term compensation and management evaluations. The Compensation Committee believes it is important to provide a balance between long- and short-term compensation, although does not have a precise formula regarding the allocation between the two. The Compensation Committee also evaluates the recommendations of senior management with respect to the compensation of other key executive officers. However, while the Compensation Committee uses management as a resource, the Compensation Committee makes the final compensation decisions concerning named executive officers.

There are four major components to Landmark Bancorp's executive officer compensation program: base salary, bonus, long-term incentive awards and additional benefits. In reviewing and establishing an executive officer's compensation, the Compensation Committee considers and evaluates all components of the officer's total compensation package including base salary, annual bonus, equity incentive awards, perquisites, participation in our 401(k) plan and any other payments, awards or benefits that an executive officer earns. In this regard, in establishing compensation for 2007, the Compensation Committee utilized tally sheets summarizing these aggregated amounts. Each of these components are intended to work together to compensate the executive officer fairly for his or her services and reward the executive officer based on overall corporate and individual performance during the year and over an extended period of time.

Corporate Performance. In establishing executive compensation, the Compensation Committee measures Landmark Bancorp's performance compared to management's and the board's goals and objectives as well as to our peer group performance for financial institutions of similar size. The Compensation Committee believes that using corporate performance as a factor in determining an executive officer's compensation is effective in helping to align the executive's interests with those of our stockholders. In evaluating Landmark Bancorp's corporate performance, the Compensation Committee focuses on quantitative and qualitative factors. Quantitative factors that are considered include growth in earnings per share, return on average assets, return on average equity, growth rates for loans and deposits over the prior year and loan quality. The Compensation Committee also considers qualitative factors such as organizational development goals such as the development of middle management and the strengthening of corporate controls and procedures. As part of the evaluation and review of these criteria, the Compensation Committee also takes into account the general economic conditions and how they may affect our performance. Success in achieving corporate performance objectives is generally measured against the budget which is developed by management and approved by the board of directors on an annual basis.

Individual Performance. Individual performance is an important factor in the Compensation Committee's evaluation of each executive officer's compensation. When evaluating an executive officer's individual performance, the Compensation Committee considers the executive officer's efforts in contributing to the achievement of organizational financial performance goals and objectives, managing and developing employees and the enhancement of long-term relationships with customers, if applicable to his or her position. The executive officer's individual performance and/or individual contribution to the overall company performance depends to a degree on what steps are taken to increase revenues, implement cost-saving strategies and the outcome of that strategy.

Peer Comparison. In general, the Compensation Committee does not use benchmarking to establish executive compensation. However, the Compensation Committee does look to executive compensation and financial performance at similarly-sized financial institutions to ensure that Landmark Bancorp is able to attract and retain talented executives and to evaluate Landmark Bancorp's corporate performance against its peers. As such, the Compensation Committee targets maintaining executive compensation levels at comparable levels to its peers, although it does not target a specific range of executive compensation. In making this peer comparison, the Compensation Committee utilizes industry information contained in the most current SNL Executive Compensation Review. It compares executive compensation with that of other similar executives within twenty-eight similar peer institutions as defined by SNL and a population of similar size institutions compiled by SNL sorted on both a geographical and a financial performance basis. The Compensation Committee then cross checks this information against a data base of all publicly traded financial institutions between $250 million and $1 billion in assets in addition to average total annual compensation levels of approximately one hundred publicly traded financial institutions both immediately above and below Landmark Bancorp in total asset size. Additionally, the Compensation Committee examines average total annual compensation levels of Midwestern public banks and thrifts that ranged between $250 million and $1 billion in asset size. The Compensation Committee reviews this information and considers that it is outdated by one year as a result of the timing of reporting of compensation, compilation of the data and setting of compensation levels for the upcoming year.

Compensation Components and Decisions

We have continued to apply the compensation principles described above in determining the compensation of the executive officers named in Summary Compensation Table on page 22. Our compensation decisions for 2006 factored in our profitability and asset growth during 2005, the accomplishment of organizational mid-level management development and control infrastructure goals, which were set forth in 2005 by the board, and the acquisition and integration of First Manhattan Bancorporation, which began in the fall of 2005, was completed on January 1, 2006 and was integrated throughout 2006. The Compensation Committee evaluated this performance on an individual and a company basis as well as compared our performance to that of peer groups and determined that Landmark Bancorp showed solid performance in 2006. Additionally, the Compensation Committee determined that the named executive officers met or exceeded their expected contribution and performance levels to enable the company to achieve the success it enjoyed in 2005 and 2006.

Base Compensation - Salary. The Compensation Committee utilizes base salary as a basic building block in Landmark Bancorp's executive compensation program. The Compensation Committee believes that the base salaries should offer security to each executive officer and allow us to attract qualified executives and maintain a stable management team and environment. Additionally, the Compensation Committee believes it is important that an executive officer's base salary reflect corporate performance, his or her individual performance over time and base salaries in comparable positions throughout the industry. As such, base salaries are determined by examining, among other things, an executive's level of responsibility, prior experience, education, breadth of knowledge and internal performance objectives. When setting base salary, the Compensation Committee also considers the market level of salaries among financial institutions of comparable size and performance and other payments and awards that the executive officer may receive during the year, such as cash bonus awards. All of the factors described herein are considered on a subjective basis in the aggregate, and none of the factors is accorded a specific weight.

The Compensation Committee reviews each executive officer's base salary on an annual basis. When considering annual adjustments to the named executive officers' base salaries, the Compensation Committee concentrates primarily on corporate performance, although individual performance is also taken into consideration. When evaluating corporate performance, the Compensation Committee considers a number of factors, including, but not limited to, net income, earnings per share, return on average equity and return on average assets. When measuring individual performance, the Compensation Committee receives an annual performance review from Mr. Alexander for each executive officer as well as a recommendation from management as to what level of adjustment is appropriate for that officer. Mr. Alexander presents the annual review for each officer except for his own. All of these factors are considered on a subjective basis in the aggregate, and none of the factors is accorded a specific weight.

Base salaries for 2006 were determined by the Compensation Committee at the end of 2005 and are set forth in the summary compensation table on page 22. In determining these salary levels, we considered the following:

- the growth in 2005 of our profitability, revenue growth, expense control, and development of mid-level management and organizational control infrastructure;
- the base salary paid to the officers in comparable positions at companies in the peer groups;
- the experience and industry knowledge of the named executive officers and the quality and effectiveness of their leadership;
- all of the components of executive compensation, including base salary, bonus, stock options, retirement and death benefits, as well as benefits and perquisites; and
- internal pay equity among our executives.

The total increase in base salaries for the named executive officers for 2006 represents an overall increase of 11.6% over 2005. These increases were a result of Landmark Bancorp's solid performance in 2005 as well as the officers' additional responsibilities resulting from the acquisition of First Manhattan Bancorporation and the significant increase in asset size that occurred on January 1, 2006 due to the acquisition of First Manhattan Bancorporation. However, even though the increases were significant, the base salaries of our executive management team were still generally within the ranges of base salaries paid to executive management of other financial institutions of similar size and financial performance characteristics. These same increases were not necessarily granted to the non-executive officers due to the fact that, in general, their responsibilities did not materially change. At the end of 2006 and in early 2007, the Compensation Committee set base salaries for 2007 as follows:

Name	Position	2007 Base Salary(1)
Patrick L. Alexander	Chief Executive Officer	$ 274,583
Michael E. Scheopner	Credit Risk Manager	$ 155,000
Mark A. Herpich	Chief Financial Officer	$ 155,000
Mark J. Oliphant	Southwest Kansas Market President	$ 122,700
Larry R. Heyka	Manhattan Area Market President	$ 122,700

(1) Amounts shown reflect the base salary the named executive officers will receive during 2007 based on the changes to their base salary approved by the Compensation Committee in January 2007. These base salaries approved by the Compensation Committee become effective on the anniversary date of the prior year's salary adjustment. As such, changes in base salary may become effective throughout the year.

In determining these base salaries for 2007, the Compensation Committee considered the significant improvements made in Landmark Bancorp's 2006 financial performance as measured by growth in earnings per share, return on average assets and return on average equity. As a result of these factors, the total increase in base salaries for 2007 represents an increase of 8.47% over 2006 salaries. It was noted that earnings per share increased 54% to $2.55 per share, return on average assets increased from .87% to 1.01% and that return on average equity increased from 9.04% to 13.01%. Contributing to this improved financial performance was the realization of over $1 million in annual operating cost savings due to the successful and aggressive assimilation of First Manhattan Bancorporation into the Landmark Bancorp organization. Additionally, management was able to increase the net yield on average interest earning assets from 3.16% in 2005 to 3.49% in 2006 and at the same time increase non-interest income by approximately $1.9 million. The Compensation Committee also took into account the general economic factors in the financial industry that are beyond the executive officer's control and the Compensation Committee believes that our performance in 2006 compares favorably with other financial institutions, including those of our peer group.

Cash Incentive Awards Bonus. The Compensation Committee believes that it is important to maintain an annual cash bonus program that provides incentives and rewards executives that meet and exceed measurable short-term corporate financial performance objectives and organizational development objectives. Individual bonus awards are made pursuant to an annual cash bonus plan that is recommended by the Compensation Committee and approved each year by the full board. Potential bonus amounts are reviewed for each executive position on an annual basis. These amounts are then compared to historical bonuses previously paid by similar institutions to make sure they are reasonable according to industry practices. Objective performance goals are set at the beginning of each year by the Compensation Committee based on return on average equity, return on average assets, and growth in earnings per share over the prior year. These performance criteria are responsible for up to sixty percent of the possible bonus award for each executive officer. These criteria have a minimum threshold of 4% earnings per share growth with 10% growth required to receive the maximum bonus amount related to earnings per share and a minimum threshold on return on average equity is 9% with the top tier of the goal at 12% and the return on average assets has minimum and maximum thresholds of .8% and 1.25% respectively. Additionally, the Compensation Committee and the board believe that it is important to use subjective performance measures in addition to objective measures, as part of the evaluation in order to capture elements of performance that may not be appropriately measured by the financial performance measures identified above. This subjective component comprises up to forty percent of the potential bonus award for each executive officer.

Executives that participate in this program are the Chief Executive Officer, Chief Financial Officer, Credit Risk Manager, Senior Lending Officer, Southwest Kansas Market President, Manhattan Market President, and the Senior Vice President managing the Miami County market area. These individuals all have direct oversight responsibility of significant functions or markets within Landmark Bancorp. Their leadership and performance is critical in determining the financial success and long term growth of the company.

Cash bonuses are not paid until March in the year after they are earned, following the completion of Landmark Bancorp's audited financial statements. As a result of this policy, neither the Compensation Committee nor the board has adopted a policy regarding the adjustment or recovery of cash bonus awards if the relevant performance measures upon which they are based are restated or otherwise adjusted in a manner that would reduce the size of the award. In the event that could happen, the Compensation Committee would take that factor into consideration in any applicable awards for subsequent years.

The aggregate bonus payments to named executive officers for 2006 increased $144,000 from 2005. This reflects the growth in financial performance described above, including earnings per share growth of 54%, return on average equity of 13.01% and return on average assets of 1.01%, the growth in total assets, and the continued organizational development and growth in middle management and internal control infrastructure. The aggregate bonus payments to non-executive officers for 2006 increased $124,000 from 2005. The aggregate bonus payments made to both executive and non-executive officers increased from $192,000 in 2005 to $460,000 in 2006.

Bonuses paid in March 2007 for 2006 were the result of attainment of specific goals in earnings per share growth, return on average equity, and return on average assets. Additionally, the committee awarded a full discretionary bonus allocation slightly above that called for in the bonus program to reward the executive officers for the outstanding progress the company made in 2006 as the acquisition of First Manhattan Bancorporation was consummated and assimilated. Projected cost savings resulting from the acquisition were obtained in a very timely manner and other organizational goals regarding the relocation of the main banking office and attainment of operational efficiencies were accomplished.

Long-Term Incentive Awards-Equity Awards. Another key component of our compensation structure includes long term incentive provided by our equity incentive plan. The 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan was adopted in 2001 and amended in 2004. The board and the Compensation Committee believe that management ownership of our common stock is an effective tool to align the interests of management with those of stockholders. As such, the Compensation Committee feels that it is imperative that executive officers have an equity stake in Landmark Bancorp. In addition, the 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan seeks to enhance our long-term financial performance by attracting and retaining executive and other key employees through incentive compensation opportunity and motivating such employees to further our long term goals.

The 2001 Long-Term Incentive Plan authorizes the issuance of up to 340,000 shares of our common stock, as adjusted subsequently for the impact of our annual 5% stock dividends, including the granting of incentive stock options, nonqualified stock options, restricted stock and stock appreciation rights. The Compensation Committee has generally used stock options as a tool to help align the officers and stockholders long-term interests. The options were granted with an exercise price equal to the fair market value of the stock on the date of grant. If the value of the stock does not increase the option awards will have no value to the officers that receive the grants. Therefore, the board and the committee feel that the award of the options will provide a clear incentive for the executive officers to do everything possible to increase the value of the stock.

Generally, options are awarded to executive officers that the Compensation Committee feels have had, and will have in the future, the largest impact on Landmark Bancorp's success. The size of individual stock option grants varies by the responsibilities of the grantee and his or her ability to influence organizational success and financial performance. The Compensation Committee also evaluates the reasonableness of stock option grants against the backdrop of the recipient's total compensation package and other grants that have been given in the last few years to insure that the executive officers will be properly motivated to enhance stockholder value and have their interests aligned with those of the stockholders. The Compensation Committee believes that the expense associated with stock options is justified based on the benefit that stock options provide Landmark Bancorp by aligning the interest of management and our stockholders.

In 2003, the Compensation Committee engaged Nash and Company to assist the Compensation Committee in the development and design of a program to implement the 2001 Long Term Incentive Plan. As a result of this engagement, the Compensation Committee developed a program for granting awards under the Long-Term Incentive Plan. The program specified that of the amount of shares that were set aside for the program, 60% would be set aside for the named executive officers, 20% for directors and 20% would be set aside for a reserve to deal with other needs and corporate developments, such as acquisitions, recruiting and to reward outstanding performance by non-executive employees. Of the 60% of options set aside under the program for the named executive officers, a total of 34% was allocated to the President/CEO, 44% was allocated to the Chief Risk Manager and the Chief Financial Officer, and 22% was allocated to the Market Presidents. Under the program, option awards are awarded every two years beginning in 2004. Options awarded in 2004 vest over four years, while options awarded in 2006 vest over three years and options for grant under the program in 2008 would vest over two years, subject to the Compensation Committee's approval of the award at that time.

The Compensation Committee reconsiders the program each year and may deviate from it. In April 2006, the committee awarded 25,977 options to Mr. Alexander, 16,808 options to Mr. Scheopner, 16,808 options to Mr. Herpich, 8,404 to Mr. Oliphant and 8,404 options to Mr. Heyka. All of the options granted in 2006 vest ratably over four years and expire ten years from the date of grant, with the exception of Mr. Heyka's options which have no vesting the first year, 40% in the second year, and 20% annually in the third, fourth and fifth years. The changes to the vesting schedule were done in an effort to provide incentives to retain executive management over an extended period and achieve stability in our executive management group.

As of January 1, 2007, 171,593 shares remained eligible for award or issuance under the Long-Term Incentive Plan. The timing of awards under the Long-Term Incentive Plan is not intended to correspond to the release of any public information, either prior to or after the release of any such information. All stock options that have been awarded under the Long-Term Incentive Plan have an exercise price equal to the closing market price on the date of grant. Neither the Compensation Committee nor the board of directors has engaged in any back-dating of stock options. In determining compensation cost, we have utilized the Black-Scholes option pricing model to estimate the fair value of options on the date of grant. The model uses various assumptions such as the expected volatility and dividend rate, which are based on historical volatility and dividend rates of the Company's stock. We also use historical exercise behavior and other qualitative factors to estimate the expected term of the options.

All Other Compensation. We provide general and customary benefit programs to executive officers and other employees. Benefits offered to executive officers are intended to serve a different purpose than base salary, bonus and equity awards. While the benefits offered are competitive with the market place and help attract and retain executives, the benefits also provide financial security for employees for retirement as well as in the event of illness, disability, or death. Benefits offered to executive officers are generally those offered to other employees with some variation to promote tax efficiency and replacement of benefit opportunities lost to regulatory limits, although there are some additional perquisites that may only be offered to executive officers. Because of the nature of the benefits offered, the Compensation Committee normally does not adjust the level of benefits offered on a year to year basis.

Landmark Bancorp, Inc. Employees 401(k) Savings Plan. We sponsor a qualified, tax-exempt savings plan qualifying under Section 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code. Virtually all employees are eligible to participate after meeting certain age and service requirements including our executive officers. The 401(k) plan allows for participants' contributions up to the maximum amount allowed by the IRS regulations. Starting in 2005, the first 6% of gross salary was available for a 100% match. Participants can choose between several investment options under the 401(k) plan, but they do not have the option to invest in our common stock under this plan.

Landmark Bancorp Employee Stock Ownership Plan. We also maintained a separate employee stock ownership plan in which shares of our common stock were allocated to our employees, including our executive officers. All the shares have been allocated and, effective December 31, 2004, the plan was merged into the 401(k) savings plan. During 2005, 97% of the shares in the 401(k) saving plan were distributed to participants. The remaining three percent were not distributed due to Internal Revenue Service rules and regulations governing qualified retirement plans.

Other Perquisites. It is our belief that perquisites for executive officers should be very limited in scope and value. Due to this philosophy, we have generally provided nominal benefits to executives that are not available to all full time employees and we plan to continue this approach in the future. We provide Messrs. Alexander, Scheopner, Herpich, Oliphant and Heyka with the use of a company-owned automobile that each may use to visit our banking locations on a regular basis, to call on our customers and for personal use. These automobiles are always available for general bank use when necessary. We also provide these officers and certain other officers of the company membership to local country clubs within their communities to facilitate business development efforts and to promote the development of personal relationships with leaders and business people which might lead to a banking relationship with these individuals in the future. These memberships are available to be used on a personal level as well. Additionally, we provide cell phones to the executive officers to allow them to always be accessible should issues or emergencies arise that require instant communication. The cell phones also facilitate communication as these individuals travel to our banking locations.

The benefits offered in 2006 to the named executive officers will continue for 2007 and the perquisites received by the named executive officers in 2006 are reported in the Summary Compensation Table on page 22 despite the fact that they are below the SEC's threshold requiring disclosure.

Reasonableness of Compensation

After considering all components of the compensation paid to the named executive officers, the Compensation Committee has determined that the compensation is reasonable and not excessive.

In making this determination, we considered many factors, including the following:

- our executive officers have met the goals and expectations for their performance as set forth by the board of directors and the Compensation Committee;
- our financial performance has consistently been solid and stockholder value has increased over time in an amount that compares favorably with our peers, the bank stock market, and the equity markets as a whole; and
- when we compare executive compensation paid to our executive management team with executive compensation of peer institutions we believe that our compensation levels are consistent with these peer institutions and do not appear as outside the range.

COMPENSATION COMMITTEE REPORT

We have reviewed and discussed the foregoing Compensation Discussion and Analysis with management. Based on our review and discussion with management, we have recommended to the Board of Directors that the Compensation Discussion and Analysis be included in this proxy statement and our Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2006.

Section 16(a) of the Securities Exchange Act requires that our executive officers, directors and persons who own more than 10% of our common stock file reports of ownership and changes in ownership with the Securities and Exchange Commission and with the exchange on which our shares of common stock are traded. These persons are also required to furnish us with copies of all Section 16(a) forms they file. Based solely on our review of the copies of these forms, we are not aware that any of our directors, executive officers or 10% stockholders failed to comply with the filing requirements of Section 16(a) during the fiscal year ended December 31, 2006.

CERTAIN RELATIONSHIPS AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS

Our directors and officers and their associates were customers of and had transactions with Landmark Bancorp and Landmark National Bank, and their predecessors, during 2006. Additional transactions are expected to take place in the future. All outstanding loans, commitments to loan, and certificates of deposit and depository relationships, in the opinion of management, were made in the ordinary course of business, on substantially the same terms, including interest rates and collateral, as those prevailing at the time for comparable transactions with other persons and did not involve more than the normal risk of collectibility or present other unfavorable features. All such loans are approved by the Landmark Bank's board of directors in accordance with the bank regulatory requirements.

The board of directors of Landmark Bancorp does not have a formal policy regarding approval of non-lending transactions between directors and officers and Landmark Bancorp, including its subsidiaries, although the full board of directors is notified of all such potential transactions.

The committee has also discussed with KPMG LLP the matters required to be discussed by SAS 61 (Codification for Statements on Auditing Standards) as well as having received and discussed the written disclosures and the letter from KPMG LLP required by Independence Standards Board Statement No. 1 (Independence Discussions with Audit Committees). Based on the review and discussions with management and KPMG LLP, the committee has recommended to the board that the audited financial statements be included in our annual report on Form 10-K for 2006 for filing with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Accountant Fees

Audit Fees. The aggregate amounts of fees billed by KPMG LLP for their audit of our annual financial statements for fiscal years 2006 and 2005 and for their required reviews of our unaudited interim financial statements included in our quarterly reports filed during fiscal years 2006 and 2005 were $140,000 and $110,350, respectively.

Audit Related Fees. The aggregate amount of audit related fees billed by KPMG LLP for fiscal years 2006 and 2005 was $0 and $38,350, respectively. We were billed an aggregate of $23,350 in 2005 by KPMG LLP for agreed-upon procedures in connection with the acquisition of First Manhattan Bancorporation, Inc. The additional services provided in 2005 were related to year-end audit of the Landmark Bancorp, Inc. Employee Stock Ownership Plan and the Landmark Bancorp, Inc. 401(k) Profit Sharing Plan.

Tax Fees. The aggregate amounts of tax related services billed by KPMG LLP for fiscal years 2006 and 2005 were $40,155 and $40,850, respectively, for professional services rendered for tax compliance, tax advice and tax planning. The services provided included assistance with the preparation of our tax return and guidance with respect to estimated tax payments.

All Other Fees. We did not incur fees from KPMG LLP for fiscal years 2006 and 2005 other than the fees reported above.

The Audit Committee, after consideration of these matters, does not believe that the rendering of these services by KPMG LLP to be incompatible with maintaining their independence as our principal accountants.

Audit Committee Pre-Approval Policy

Among other things, the Audit Committee is responsible for appointing, setting compensation for and overseeing the work of the independent accountant. We have adopted a pre-approval policy under which the Audit Committee approves in advance all audit and non-audit services to be performed by our independent registered public accounting firm. As part of its pre-approval policy, the Audit Committee considers whether the provision of any proposed non-audit services is consistent with the SEC's rules on auditor independence. In accordance with the pre-approval policy, the Audit Committee has pre-approved certain specified audit and non-audit services to be provided by KPMG LLP for up to twelve months from the date of the pre-approval. All of the services referred to above in the table for 2006 were pre-approved by the Audit Committee.
