On October 18, 2018, the communication set forth below was delivered on behalf of Novartis AG (Novartis) to employees of Endocyte, Inc. (Endocyte) in connection with Novartis' proposed acquisition of Endocyte.

Looking Forward to the Future

Dear Endocyte team,

On behalf of Novartis Oncology, I wanted to be the first to share my excitement about the opportunities ahead of us, as we announce the signing of an agreement and plan of merger between our two companies.

At Novartis, we have a strong legacy of addressing unmet needs with transformative therapies and we are moving fast to build our capabilities in new, technology-driven platforms that address some of the world's most complex health challenges, including cancer.

In bringing us one step closer to realizing our vision to reimagine cancer for patients, providers and payors, we are excited about this potential merger and the opportunities we would have to reach more patients and make an even greater impact on improving and extending the lives of people with cancer.

Endocyte has built a solid team with exceptional depth of experience and share our aspiration to deliver breakthrough transformative innovation in cancer. I am very impressed with all I have seen to date and look forward to learning more.

It is important to note that there are still steps ahead of us to complete this transaction. The legal and regulatory processes are ongoing and we expect to close in the first half of 2019, subject to customary closing conditions, including regulatory approvals and Endocyte stockholders approval. Until then, we will continue to operate as separate and independent companies.

Edgar Filing: ENDOCYTE INC - Form DFAN14A

Looking forward to the planned completion of the merger, we will plan a formal welcome after closing and a smooth integration to ensure the continued success of Endocyte within Novartis Oncology.

On Monday, some of my leadership team and I will be onsite to meet you to share our mission and commitment to patients as well as give you a glimpse of our culture, which allows Novartis associates to feel inspired by our purpose to reimagine medicine and feel empowered to achieve their personal and professional goals.

See you on Monday.

Best regards,

Liz

Note: Closing of the transaction is subject to customary closing conditions, including regulatory approvals and Endocyte stockholders approval.

Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This communication contains forward-looking statements within the meaning of the United States Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, that can generally be identified by words such as potential, will, planned, expect, or similar expressions, or by express or implied discussions regarding the proposed acquisition of Endocyte by Novartis including the potential outcome and expected timing for completion of the proposed acquisition, and the potential impact on Novartis of the proposed acquisition, including express or implied discussions regarding potential future sales or earnings of Novartis, and any potential strategic benefits, synergies or opportunities expected as a result of the proposed acquisition; and regarding potential marketing approvals, new indications or labeling for the potential and investigational products described in this communication and the potential timing of any such approvals, or regarding potential future revenues from any such products. You should not place undue reliance on these statements. There can be no guarantee that the acquisition described in this communication will be completed, or that it will be completed as currently proposed, or at any particular time. There can be no guarantee that Novartis or any potential products that would be obtained with Endocyte will achieve any particular future financial results, or that Novartis will be able to realize any potential strategic benefits or opportunities as a result of the proposed acquisition. There can be no guarantee that the potential and investigational products described in this communication will be submitted or approved for sale in any market or at any particular time. There can be no guarantee that such products will be commercially successful in the future. In particular, our expectations could be affected by, among other things: regulatory actions or delays or government regulation generally, including potential regulatory actions or delays relating to the completion of the potential acquisition described in this release, as well as potential regulatory actions or delays with respect to the development of the products described in this release; the ability to obtain Endocyte stockholder approval and the satisfaction of the other conditions to the consummation of the proposed acquisition; the potential that the strategic benefits or opportunities expected to result from the proposed acquisition may not be realized or may take longer to realize than expected; the potential that the integration of Endocyte into Novartis subsequent to the closing of the proposed acquisition may not be successful, or may take longer to succeed than expected; potential adverse reactions to the proposed acquisition by customers, suppliers or strategic partners; dependence on key Endocyte personnel, customers and suppliers; the uncertainties inherent in the research and development of new healthcare products, including clinical trial results and additional analysis of existing clinical data; our ability to obtain or maintain proprietary intellectual property protection; safety, quality or manufacturing issues; global trends toward health care cost containment, including government, payor and general public pricing and reimbursement pressures; the particular prescribing preferences of physicians and patients; uncertainties regarding actual or potential legal proceedings, including, among others, potential legal proceedings with respect to the proposed acquisition; and other risks and factors referred to in Novartis AG's filings with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission, including the Forward-Looking Statements and Risk Factors sections of Novartis AG's current Form 20-F for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2017. Forward-looking statements are based on information, plans, estimates, beliefs and expectations regarding future events as of the date they are made and are subject to significant known and unknown risks and uncertainties, and there may be other factors that may cause actual results to differ materially from these forward-looking statements. Novartis undertakes no obligation to publicly update or revise any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of new information, subsequent events or otherwise, except as required by applicable law.
