<http://ir.sqm.com/English/investor-relation/Annual-information/default.aspx> and annual report
<http://ir.sqm.com/English/investor-relation/Annual-information/default.aspx>. Through receipt of the 20-F, the Board will receive a list of all material contracts, and a full copy of the previous year’s financial statements. The Board has access to the Company website, through which it can access pertinent information about the Company, including but not limited to all recent financial statements and press releases issued by the Company and important Company policies. The Company will coordinate meetings with relevant management to discuss the business issues and risks, including those related to sustainability, site visits and other briefings as appropriate. The Board has access to an information sharing system, which allows each Board member safe, secure, remote and permanent access to all of the documents mentioned above.

ii) The relevant interest groups as identified by the entity as well as the reasons why they are relevant according to the Board, and the main mechanisms used to know their expectations and to maintain a stable and long term relationship with them.

NO

Explanation: CGP Section 8

The Company publishes a Sustainability Report to provide further information on its social and environmental performance. As part of the Sustainability Report, the Company identifies the relevant interest groups as well as the reason why said groups are identified as such. It also identifies indicators measured by the Company in matters related to social responsibility and sustainable development. Annually, the Board reviews and approves a copy of the Sustainability report, and also new Board members receive a copy as part for the orientation for new Board members.

iii) The mission, vision, strategic goals, and values that should guide the company, its Directors and personnel, and the inclusion, diversity, sustainability and risk management policies approved by the Board.

YES

Explanation: CGP Section 6

All new members of the Board will receive an orientation to the Company upon joining the Board regarding the Company, its business, risks, policies, procedures, principal accounting criteria, sustainability and the legal framework applicable to the Company and its Directors. Within 60 days of the new board being elected, the board will be provided with pertinent information related to the Company, including, but not limited to the Company's by-laws, Code of Ethics, Manual for the Management of Information, Monthly Management Report, Sustainability Report, most recent 20-F and annual report. Through receipt of the 20-F, the Board will receive a list of all material contracts, and a full copy of the previous year's financial statements. The Board has access to the Company website, through which it can access pertinent information about the Company, including but not limited to all recent financial statements and press releases issued by the Company and important Company policies.

iv) The most relevant legal framework applicable to the company, its Board and its main executives. YES

Explanation: CGP Section 6

All new members of the Board will receive an orientation to the Company upon joining the Board regarding the legal framework applicable to the Company and its Directors. As part of the new Board orientation the new members can meet with the Company's General Counsel or senior management at any time to discuss any aspect of the Company's business.

v) The duties of safekeeping, reservation, loyalty, diligence and information that fall on each member of the Board according to the current law, through examples of the most relevant verdicts, sanctions or pronouncements regarding those duties that occurred locally in the previous year. NO

Explanation:

The Board orientation procedure or mechanism in place aims to facilitate the duties of safekeeping, reservation, loyalty, diligence and information that falls on each Board member according to the current law, though it doesn't consider examples of the most relevant verdicts, sanctions or pronouncements regarding those duties that occurred locally in the previous year. This conforms with Section 6 of the CGP which states that, if necessary, the Board will request a meeting with internal or external counsel to explain the most relevant verdicts, sanctions or pronouncements relating to the duties of safekeeping, reservation, loyalty, diligence and information that have occurred both locally and international markets that could have an impact on the Company. The Board does not require the Board orientation have a procedure or mechanism in place that aims to facilitate the duties of safekeeping, reservation, loyalty, diligence and information that falls on each Board member according to the current law because the Board may request a meeting with internal or external counsel as it feels necessary.

vi) The main agreements adopted in the last 2 years prior to the beginning of its term and the reasons considered to adopt such agreements or to discard other options evaluated. NO

Explanation:

The Board orientation procedure or mechanism in place aims to facilitate the comprehension and knowledge process of the main agreements adopted in the last two years prior to the beginning of its term. However, the Board does not receive a copy of all the main agreements adopted, nor reasons considered to adopt such agreements or discard other options because the Board has made management responsible for main agreements signed within the Company with the exception of contracts with a value over US$20 million, which the Board is required to review and approve. The Board has access to an information sharing system, which allows each Board member safe, secure, remote and permanent access to all of the documents which are included in the Board orientation.

vii) The most relevant parts of the quarterly and annual financial statements of the previous year, as well as their related explanatory notes. YES

Explanation: CGP Section 6

All new members of the Board will receive an orientation to the Company upon joining the Board regarding the Company and its principal accounting criteria. Within 60 days of the new board being elected, the board will be provided with pertinent information related to the Company, including, but not limited to the most recent 20-F and annual report. Through receipt of the 20-F, the Board will receive a full copy of the previous year's financial statements. The Board has access to the Company website, through which it can access pertinent information about the Company, including but not limited to all recent financial statements, the monthly management report, and press releases issued by the Company.

YES

viii) Anything that according to the Board represents a conflict of interest and how it should be dealt with, according to the Board or to the Code or Manual established for this purpose, notwithstanding any conflict of interest explicitly addressed by the law.

Explanation: CGP Section 6

Within 60 days of the new board being elected, the board will be provided with pertinent information related to the Company, including, but not limited to the Company's Code of Ethics.

The Code of Ethics describes, among other things: i) the expected behavior of Company Directors and employees, ii) what is understood as conflict of interest, iii) the main situations that constitute a conflict of interest, iv) the procedure that a director must follow to declare and resolve a possible conflict of interest and v) policies and procedures relating to anti-corruption. The Code of Ethics shall be reviewed by the Board and updated, if necessary, annually.

b) The Board has a permanent training procedure or mechanism in place to better understand what:

i) Defines at least annually the subjects in which there will be training for its members and the training calendar for the year.

YES

Explanation: CGP Section 6

Professional development of the Board is encouraged through a formal training procedure. Notwithstanding, each year the Board will evaluate its own processes and performance through a Board Assessment designed to promote the Board's on-going effectiveness and continuous improvement. This evaluation may be performed by a third party. As a part of this evaluation, the Board will review itself, its Chairman, and its CEO, including but not be limited to evaluating the following items:

Ø Any areas that it feels should be examined further to increase the effectiveness of the Board and the Company;

Ø Any areas in which its members can strengthen and continue improving his or her personal performance on the Board;

Ø Any organization, social or cultural barriers that could be inhibiting the natural diversity of capabilities, visions, characteristics and conditions that could have taken place at the Board level had these barriers not existed;

Ø The considerations of any change to the organization and the functions of the Board in crisis situations; and

Ø Any areas of possible improvement related to the Company's disclosure policies and procedures, ensuring that disclosure are easily understood by the public and that it is released in a timely manner.

At the conclusion of this evaluation the Board will define any specific training measures that it feels should be carried out, and will consider advisory services from third-party experts to aid in the detection and implementation of possible improvements.

YES

ii) As a part of these subjects, includes the best corporate governance practices adopted by other entities, both locally and internationally.

Explanation: CGP Section 6

About SQM

SQM is an integrated producer and distributor of lithium, iodine, specialty plant nutrients, potassium-related fertilizers and industrial chemicals. Its products are based on the development of high quality natural resources that allow the Company to be a leader in costs, supported by a specialized international network with sales in over 110 countries.

SQM's business strategy is to be a mining operator that selectively integrates the production and sales of products to industries essential for human development, such as food, health and technology. The strategy is built on the following six principles:

- strengthen internal processes to ensure access to key resources required for the sustainability of the business;
- extend lean operations (M1) to the entire organization to strengthen our cost position, increase quality and ensure safety;
- invest in the development of a specialty fertilizer market, including product differentiation, sales channel management and price optimization;
- recover the iodine market share, seek consolidation and vertical integration opportunities; invest in the development of industrial nitrate applications;
- search and invest in lithium and potassium assets outside of Chile to leverage our operational capabilities, take advantage of the current lithium market appeal and ensure access to raw materials for our potassium nitrate production; and
- seek diversification opportunities in gold, copper and zinc projects in the region to leverage our mining operating capabilities and provide business continuity to our exploration program.

The business strategy's principles are based on the following four concepts:

- build an organization with strategic clarity, inspirational leaders, responsible personnel and strong values;
- develop a strategic planning process that responds to the needs of our customers and market trends, while ensuring coordination between all segments of the business, including sales and operations;
- develop a robust risk control and mitigation process to actively manage business risk; and
- improve our stakeholder management to establish links with the community and communicate to Chile and worldwide our contribution to industries essential for human development.

Cautionary Note Regarding Forward-Looking Statements

This news release contains “forward-looking statements” within the meaning of the safe harbor provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Forward-looking statements can be identified by words such as: “anticipate,” “plan,” “believe,” “estimate,” “expect,” “strategy,” “should,” “will” and similar references to future periods. Examples of forward-looking statements include, among others, statements we make concerning the Company’s business outlook, future economic performance, anticipated profitability, revenues, expenses, or other financial items, anticipated cost synergies and product or service line growth.

Forward-looking statements are neither historical facts nor assurances of future performance. Instead, they are estimates that reflect the best judgment of SQM management based on currently available information. Because forward-looking statements relate to the future, they involve a number of risks, uncertainties and other factors that are outside of our control and could cause actual results to differ materially from those stated in such statements. Therefore, you should not rely on any of these forward-looking statements. Readers are referred to the documents filed by SQM with the United States Securities and Exchange Commission, specifically the most recent annual report on Form 20-F, which identifies important risk factors that could cause actual results to differ from those contained in the forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are based on information available to SQM on the date hereof and SQM assumes no obligation to update such statements, whether as a result of new information, future developments or otherwise.
