Potential persons who are to respond to the collection of information contained in this form are not required to respond unless the form displays a currently valid OMB number. annually by the Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner. The maximum allowable service charge rates were established and have not been revised since 1971, when the Texas Pawnshop Act was enacted. Since 1981, the ceiling amounts for stratification of the loan amounts to which these rates apply have been revised each July 1 in relation to the Consumer Price Index, except that the Texas legislature amended the Texas Pawnshop Act to establish the ceiling amounts reflected above for the year ended June 30, 2003. Under current Texas law, a pawn loan may not exceed $13,000. In addition to establishing maximum allowable service charge rates and loan ceilings, the Texas Pawnshop Act also provides for the licensing of pawnshops and pawnshop employees. To be eligible for a pawnshop license in Texas, an applicant must (i) be of good moral character; (ii) have net assets of at least $150,000 readily available for use in conducting the business of each licensed pawnshop; (iii) show that the pawnshop will be operated lawfully and fairly in accordance with the Texas Pawnshop Act; (iv) show that the applicant has the financial responsibility, experience, character, and general fitness to command the confidence of the public in its operations; and, (v) in the case of a business entity, the good moral character requirement shall apply to each officer, director and holder of 5% or more of the entity's outstanding shares.

As part of the license application process, any existing pawnshop licensee who would be affected by the granting of the proposed application may request a public hearing at which to appear and present evidence for or against the application. For an application for a new license in a county with a population of 250,000 or more, the proposed facility must not be located within two miles of an existing licensed pawnshop.

The Texas Consumer Credit Commissioner may, after notice and hearing, suspend or revoke any license for a Texas pawnshop upon finding, among other things, that (i) any fees or charges have not been paid; (ii) the licensee violates (whether knowingly or unknowingly without due care) any provisions of the Texas Pawnshop Act or any regulation or order thereunder; or (iii) any fact or condition exists which, if it had existed at the time the original application was filed for a license, would have justified the Commissioner in refusing such license.

Under the Texas Pawnshop Act, a pawnbroker may not accept a pledge from a person under the age of 18 years; make any agreement requiring the personal liability of the borrower; accept any waiver of any right or protection accorded to a pledgor under the Texas Pawnshop Act; fail to exercise reasonable care to protect pledged goods from loss or damage; fail to return pledged goods to a pledgor upon payment of the full amount due; make any charge for insurance in connection with a pawn transaction; enter into any pawn transaction that has a maturity date of more than one month; display for disposition in storefront windows or sidewalk display cases, pistols, swords, canes, blackjacks and similar weapons; operate a pawnshop between the hours of 9:00 p.m. and 7:00 a.m.; or purchase used or secondhand personal property or certain building construction materials unless a record is established containing the name, address and identification of the seller, a complete description of the property, including serial number, and a signed statement that the seller has the right to sell the property.

Florida Pawnshop Regulations. The Florida Pawnbroking Act, adopted in 1996, provides for the licensing and bonding of pawnbrokers in Florida and for the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services Division of Consumer Services to investigate the general fitness of applicants and generally to regulate pawnshops in the state. The statute limits the pawn service charge that a pawnbroker may collect to a maximum of 25% of the amount advanced in the pawn for each 30-day period of the transaction. The law also requires pawnbrokers to maintain detailed records of all transactions and to deliver such records to the appropriate local law enforcement officials. Among other things, the statute prohibits pawnbrokers from falsifying or failing to make entries in pawn transaction forms, refusing to allow appropriate law enforcement officials to inspect their records, failing to maintain records of pawn transactions for at least two years, making any agreement requiring the personal liability of a pledgor, failing to return pledged goods upon payment in full of the amount due (unless the pledged goods had been taken into custody by a court or law enforcement officer or otherwise lost or damaged), or engaging in title loan transactions at licensed pawnshop locations. It also prohibits pawnbrokers from entering into pawn transactions with a person who is under the influence of alcohol or controlled substances, a person who is under the age of eighteen, or a person using a name other than his own name or the registered name of his business.

Nevada Pawnshop Regulations. The Nevada statute governing pawnbrokers establishes a maximum allowable interest rate of 10% per month for pawn transactions and allows an initial charge of $5 in addition to interest. All pledged property must be held for redemption for at least 120 days before it can be offered for sale to the public. The statute also (i) requires that certain bookkeeping records be maintained, (ii) requires that pawn transaction information be reported to local law enforcement agencies, and (iii) establishes a procedure for law enforcement officials to place a hold on property alleged to be related to criminal activity. The Nevada law also prohibits pawnbrokers from making false entries in their books or records, making false reports to law enforcement agencies, removing pledged property from their business premises unless specifically authorized under the statute, and receiving pledged property from certain persons, including a person who is under age 18 or intoxicated.

Tennessee Pawnshop Regulations. Tennessee state law provides for the licensing of pawnbrokers in that state. It also (i) requires that pawn transactions be reported to local law enforcement agencies; (ii) requires pawnbrokers to maintain insurance coverage on the property held on pledge for the benefit of the pledgor; (iii) establishes certain hours during which pawnshops may be open for business; and (iv) requires that certain bookkeeping records be maintained. Tennessee law prohibits pawnbrokers from selling, redeeming or disposing of any goods pledged or pawned to or with them within 48 hours after making their report to local law enforcement agencies. The Tennessee statute establishes a maximum allowable interest rate of 24% per annum; however, the pawnshop operator may charge an additional fee of up to one-fifth of the amount of the loan per month for investigating the title, storing and insuring the security and various other expenses.

Louisiana Pawnshop Regulations. Louisiana law provides for the licensing and bonding of pawnbrokers in that state. In addition, the act requires that pawn transactions be reported to local law enforcement agencies, establishes hours during which pawnbrokers may be open for business and requires certain bookkeeping practices. Louisiana state law establishes maximum allowable rates of interest on pawn loans of 10% per month. In addition, Louisiana law provides that the pawnbroker may charge a service charge not to exceed 10% per month for all other services. Under the Louisiana statute, no pawnbroker may sell any pledged collateral until the lapse of three months from the time the loan was made. Various municipalities and parishes in the state of Louisiana have adopted additional ordinances and regulations pertaining to pawnshops.

Georgia Pawnshop Regulations. Georgia state law requires pawnbrokers to maintain detailed permanent records concerning pawn transactions and to keep them available for inspection by duly authorized law enforcement authorities. The Georgia statute prohibits pawnbrokers from failing to make entries of material matters in their permanent records; making false entries in their records; falsifying, obliterating, destroying, or removing permanent records from their places of business; refusing to allow duly authorized law enforcement officers to inspect their records; failing to maintain records of each pawn transaction for at least four years; accepting a pledge or purchase from a person under the age of eighteen or who the pawnbroker knows is not the true owner of the property; making any agreement requiring the personal liability of the pledgor or seller or waiving any of the provisions of the Georgia statute; or failing to return or replace pledged goods upon payment of the full amount due (unless pledged goods have been taken into custody by a court or a law enforcement officer). In the event pledged goods are lost or damaged while in the possession of the pawnbroker, the pawnbroker must replace the lost or damaged goods with like kinds of merchandise. Under Georgia law, total interest and service charges may not, during each 30-day period of the loan, exceed 25% of the principal amount advanced in the pawn transaction (except that after ninety days from the original date of the loan, the maximum rate declines to 12.5% for each subsequent 30-day period). The statute provides that municipal authorities may license pawnbrokers, define their powers and privileges by ordinance, impose taxes upon them, revoke their licenses, and exercise such general supervision as will ensure fair dealing between the pawnbroker and his customers.

Although pawnshop regulations vary from state to state to a considerable degree, the regulations summarized above are representative of the regulatory frameworks affecting the Company in the various states in which its operating units are located.

Cash Advances. The Company offers a cash advance product referred to as cash advances in most of its pawnshops and in all of its cash advance locations. Each state in which the Company offers the product has specific laws dealing with the conduct of this business. Typically, the applicable regulations restrict the amount of finance and service charges that may be assessed and limit the customers' ability to renew or extend these transactions. In many instances, the regulations also limit the aggregate amount that a provider may advance (and, in some cases, the number of cash advances the provider may make) to any one customer at one time. Providers typically must obtain a separate license from the state licensing authority in order to offer this product. The Company must also comply with the various disclosure requirements under the federal Truth in Lending Act (and Federal Reserve Regulation Z under that Act) in connection with these cash advance transactions.

As previously noted, these cash advances are offered by third-party banks in 366 of the Company's 678 locations that offered cash advances at December 31, 2004. The federal banking regulators who supervise the banks' activities closely scrutinize all aspects of each bank's cash advance programs. Further, certain state regulators have asserted that the Company must have a license under state law in order to perform the administrative services that it performs for the banks. In addition to a number of federal and state regulators, certain consumer advocacy groups and federal and state legislators have asserted that laws and regulations should be tightened so as to severely limit, if not eliminate, the availability of this cash advance product to consumers, despite the significant demand for it. Along with the leadership of the cash advance industry, the Company opposes such overly restrictive regulation and legislation. Nevertheless, the possibility exists that some combination of federal and state regulation and legislation could come to pass, which could restrict, or even eliminate, the availability of this cash advance product at some or all of the Company's locations.

As an example of restrictive legislation, the Georgia legislature passed a law in 2004 that, among other things, purported to prohibit a company from serving as an agent in connection with a third-party bank's offering of cash advances to Georgia consumers if the agent holds, acquires, or maintains a predominant economic interest in the revenues generated by the cash advances. The Company serves as an agent for Community State Bank (the Bank) in connection with the Bank's Georgia cash advance program. The Company and the Bank modified their contractual arrangement in 2004 to ensure that the

Table of Contents

Company's compensation from the Bank is less than a predominant economic interest in the revenues generated by the Bank's Georgia cash advances. In addition, the Company, the Bank, and several other banks and agents filed suit in U.S. District Court in April 2004 against the Georgia Attorney General and the Georgia Secretary of State seeking an injunction against enforcement of the new law primarily on the basis that it is preempted by federal law. While the District Court initially granted a temporary restraining order in the matter, it later denied the motion for an injunction. The plaintiffs in the case appealed that ruling to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the 11th Circuit. If the Court of Appeals issues an adverse ruling, the precedent established by such a ruling could adversely affect legal proceedings that have been or might in the future be commenced against the Company or other companies in the cash advance business. A ruling of that nature could also influence other legislators and regulators to give even stronger consideration to overly restrictive legislation and regulation. Such trends could well have an adverse impact on the Company's cash advance business.

In 2003, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) adopted guidelines for cash advance programs that apply to all financial institutions under the FDIC's supervision that offer these programs. The banks that offer cash advances in the Company's locations are state chartered banks which are supervised by the FDIC. The guidelines describe the FDIC's expectations for prudent risk management practices for cash advance activities, particularly with regard to capital, allowance for loan losses, and loan classifications. The guidelines also address recovery practices, income recognition, and managing risks associated with third-party relationships, as well as compliance with consumer protection laws. The guidelines form the basis for sound and appropriate regulation of cash advance programs conducted by FDIC-supervised financial institutions.

Other Regulatory Matters, Etc. With respect to firearm sales, each pawnshop must comply with the Brady Handgun Violence Prevention Act (the Brady Act), which took effect on February 28, 1994. The Brady Act imposes a background check requirement in connection with the disposition of firearms by federally licensed firearms dealers. In addition, the Company must continue to comply with the longstanding regulations promulgated by the Department of the Treasury Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms, which require each pawnshop dealing in guns to maintain a permanent written record of all receipts and dispositions of firearms.

Under the federal Gramm-Leach-Bliley Act that took effect in 2001 and the federal regulations adopted to implement it, the Company is required to disclose to its customers its privacy policy and practices, including those relating to the sharing of customers' nonpublic personal information with third parties. The disclosure must be made to customers at the time that the customer relationship is established and at least annually thereafter. Under these regulations, the Company is also required to ensure that its systems are designed to protect the confidentiality of customers' nonpublic personal information.

Under the USA PATRIOT Act passed by Congress in 2001, the Company is required to maintain an anti-money laundering compliance program covering certain of its business activities. The program must include: (1) the development of internal policies, procedures, and controls; (2) designation of a compliance officer; (3) an ongoing employee training program; and (4) an independent audit function to test the program. The United States Department of the Treasury is expected to issue regulations clarifying the requirements for anti-money laundering compliance programs for the pawnbroking and cash advance industries.

In addition to the federal and state statutes and regulations described above, many of the Company's operating units are subject to municipal ordinances, which may require, for example, local licenses or permits and specified recordkeeping procedures, among other things. Each of the Company's pawnshops voluntarily or pursuant to municipal ordinance provides to the police department having jurisdiction daily information on all transactions involving pawn loans and over-the-counter purchases. These information reports are designed to provide the local police with a detailed description of the goods involved, including serial numbers (if any) and the name and address of the owner obtained from a valid identification card. This information is provided to local law enforcement agencies for processing to determine conflicting claims of rightful ownership. In addition, the Company voluntarily participates with other pawn lenders to provide similar information to a national database available to law enforcement in multiple jurisdictions. Goods held to secure pawn loans or goods purchased that are determined to belong to an owner other than the borrower or seller are subject to recovery by the rightful owner. However, the Company historically has not experienced a material number of claims of this nature, and the claims experienced have not had a material adverse effect on the Company's results of operations.

Casualty insurance, including burglary coverage, is maintained for each of the Company's locations, and fidelity coverage is maintained on each of the Company's employees.

Management of the Company believes its operations are conducted in material compliance with all federal, state and local laws and ordinances applicable to its business.

The Company's franchising activities may be subject to various state regulations that, among other things, mandate disclosures to prospective franchisees and other requirements.

Executive Officers of the Registrant

The following sets forth, as of February 24, 2005, certain data concerning the executive officers of the Company, all of whom are elected on an annual basis. There is no family relationship between any of the executive officers.

William R. Horne joined the Company in February 1991 as Vice President MIS. He was elected Senior Vice President Information Technology in July 1997 and has served as Executive Vice President Information Technology since October 1999.

James H. Kauffman joined the Company in July 1996 as Executive Vice President Chief Financial Officer. He served as President Cash America Pawn from July 1997 to July 1998, and served as Chief Executive Officer of Rent-A-Tire, Inc. from July 1998 until August 2002. He also served as Executive Vice President International Operations from October 1999 to September 2004. He has served as Executive Vice President Financial Services since September 2004. Prior to joining the Company, Mr. Kauffman served as President of Keystone Steel & Wire Company, a wire products manufacturer, from July 1991 to June 1996.

Hugh A. Simpson joined the Company in December 1990 as Vice President and General Counsel and was elected Vice President General Counsel and Secretary in April 1991. He was elected Senior Vice President General Counsel and Secretary in July 1997 and has served as Executive Vice President General Counsel and Secretary since July 1998.

ITEM 2. PROPERTIES

As of December 31, 2004, the Company owned the real estate and building for seven of its pawnshop locations. Since May 1992, the Company's headquarters have been located in a nine-story building adjacent to downtown Fort Worth, Texas. The Company purchased the building in January 1992. All of the Company's other locations are leased under non-cancelable operating leases with terms ranging from 3 to 15 years.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth, as of December 31, 2004, the number of owned pawn and cash advance locations by state. In addition to the locations listed below, the Company operates six owned Mr. Payroll check cashing locations in Texas.

The Company considers its equipment, furniture and fixtures and owned buildings to be in good condition. The Company has its own construction supervisors who engage local contractors to selectively remodel and upgrade its lending facilities throughout the year.

The Company's leases typically require the Company to pay all maintenance costs, insurance costs and property taxes. For additional information concerning the Company's leases, see Item 8. Financial Statements and Supplementary Data, Note 11 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

ITEM 3. LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

On August 6, 2004, James E. Strong filed a purported class action lawsuit in the State Court of Cobb County, Georgia against Georgia Cash America, Inc., Cash America International, Inc. (together with Georgia Cash America, Inc., Cash America), Daniel R. Feehan, and several unnamed officers, directors, owners and stakeholders of Cash America. The lawsuit alleges many different causes of action, among the most significant of which is that Cash America has been making illegal payday loans in Georgia in violation of Georgia's usury law, the Georgia Industrial

Loan Act and Georgia's Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act. Community State Bank has for some time made loans to Georgia residents through Cash America's Georgia operating locations. The complaint in this lawsuit claims that Community State Bank is not the true lender with respect to the loans made to Georgia borrowers and that its involvement in the process is a mere subterfuge. Based on this claim, the suit alleges that Cash America is the de facto lender and is illegally operating in Georgia. The complaint seeks unspecified compensatory damages, attorney's fees, punitive damages and the trebling of any compensatory damages. The Company believes that the claims in this suit are without merit and intends to vigorously defend this lawsuit. Cash America removed the case to federal court and filed a motion to compel the plaintiff to arbitrate his claim, in addition to denying the plaintiff's allegations and asserting various defenses to his claim. The plaintiff has filed a motion to remand the case to Georgia state court. As of December 31, 2004, the parties await court rulings on the various motions. Because this case is at a very early stage, neither the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome nor the ultimate liability, if any, with respect to this litigation can be determined at this time.

The Company is a defendant in certain lawsuits encountered in the ordinary course of its business. Certain of these matters are covered to an extent by insurance. In the opinion of management, the resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

ITEM 4. SUBMISSION OF MATTERS TO A VOTE OF SECURITY HOLDERS

There were no matters submitted to the Company's security holders during the fourth quarter ended December 31, 2004.

ITEM 7. MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

GENERAL

The Company is a provider of specialty financial services to individuals in the United States. The Company offers secured non-recourse loans, commonly referred to as pawn loans, to individuals through its pawn lending operations. The pawn loan portfolio generates finance and service charges revenue. A related activity of the pawn lending operations is the disposition of merchandise, primarily collateral from unredeemed pawn loans. As an alternative to a pawn loan, the Company offers unsecured cash advances in selected lending locations and on behalf of third-party banks in other locations. The Company also provides check cashing and related financial services through many of its cash advance locations and through its franchised and company-owned check cashing centers. Prior to September 7, 2004, the Company also provided financial services to individuals in the United Kingdom and Sweden (the foreign pawn lending operations). The foreign pawn lending operations were sold to Rutland Partners LLP for approximately $112.9 million, consisting of cash and notes receivable valued at $8.0 million. See discussions of Discontinued Operations below and at Note 4 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

In December 2004, the Company completed the acquisition of the pawn operating assets of Camco, Inc., which operated under the trade name SuperPawn in four states in the western United States. SuperPawn is a 41-store chain based in Las Vegas, Nevada. This transaction provided the Company its initial entry into the western United States for pawn lending activities. The aggregate purchase consideration and costs totaled $118.4 million, which consisted of $104.8 million in cash, 578,793 shares of the Company's stock valued at $12.6 million and acquisition costs of $1.0 million. See Note 3 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Effective August 1, 2003, the Company, through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Cashland Financial Services, Inc. (Cashland), completed the purchase of substantially all of the assets of Cashland, Inc., a privately-owned consumer finance company based in Dayton, Ohio. The aggregate initial purchase consideration and costs totaled $50.5 million, which consisted of $32.0 million in cash, 1.5 million shares of the Company's common stock valued at $16.8 million and acquisition costs of $1.7 million. The terms of the purchase included the potential for additional consideration to be paid based on the earnings performance of Cashland during the twelve months ending June 30, 2004. On February 2, 2004, the parties amended the purchase agreement to eliminate that provision and to provide instead for the Company to make a final payment of additional consideration in the amount of $5.4 million. The payment consisted of $2.9 million in cash and a subordinated note for $2.5 million which increased the final total purchase price to $55.9 million. See Notes 3 and 9 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

As of December 31, 2004, the Company's pawn lending operations consisted of 452 pawnshops, including 441 owned units and 11 unconsolidated franchised units in 21 states in the United States. For the three years ended December 31, 2004, the Company acquired 51 operating units, established 4 locations, and combined or closed 18 locations for a net increase in owned pawn lending units of 37. In addition, 5 franchise locations were acquired, 1 was opened, and 7 were either terminated and/or converted to Company-owned locations.

At December 31, 2004, the Company's cash advance operations consisted of 253 cash advance locations in 6 states. For the three year period ended December 31, 2004, the Company acquired 153 operating units, established 105 locations, and combined or closed 5 locations for a net increase in cash advance locations of 253.

As of December 31, 2004, Mr. Payroll operated 128 franchised and 6 company-owned check cashing centers in 20 states.

Table of ContentsDISCONTINUED OPERATIONS

In September 2004, in order to dedicate its strategic efforts and resources on the growth opportunities of its pawn lending and cash advance activities in the United States, the Company sold its foreign pawn lending operations in the United Kingdom and Sweden to Rutland Partners LLP for approximately $104.9 million cash after paying off the outstanding balance of the multi-currency line of credit, and notes receivable valued at $8.0 million. The Company realized a gain on the sale of $19.0 million ($15.4 million net of related tax). Additionally, in September 2001, the Company announced plans to exit the rent-to-own business in order to focus on its core business of lending activities. In June 2002, the Company sold the remaining assets of its Rent-A-Tire rent-to-own business. The results of the foreign pawn lending operations and the rent-to-own business have been reclassified as discontinued operations for all periods presented in accordance with the Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. Income from discontinued operations was $6.5 million (excluding gain on the sale), $8.0 million, and $7.4 million for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively. See Note 4 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

CRITICAL ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND ESTIMATES

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations is based on the Company's consolidated financial statements, which have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States. The preparation of these financial statements requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities, at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting periods. On an on-going basis, management evaluates its estimates and judgments, including those related to revenue recognition, merchandise held for disposition, allowance for losses on cash advances, long-lived and intangible assets, income taxes, contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates on historical experience, empirical data and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions. The development and selection of the critical accounting policies and the related disclosures below have been reviewed with the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors.

Management believes the following critical accounting policies affect its more significant judgments and estimates used in the preparation of its consolidated financial statements.

Finance and service charges revenue recognition. The Company accrues finance and service charges revenue only on those pawn loans that the Company deems collectible based on historical loan redemption statistics. Pawn loans written during each calendar month are aggregated and tracked for performance. Loan transactions may conclude based upon redemption, renewal, or forfeiture of the loan collateral. The gathering of this empirical data allows the Company to analyze the characteristics of its outstanding pawn loan portfolio and estimate the probability of collection of finance and service charges. In the event the future actual performance of the loan portfolio differs significantly (positively or negatively) from expectations, revenue for the next reporting period would be likewise affected.

Due to the short-term nature of pawn loans, the Company is able to quickly identify performance trends. For 2004, $109.4 million, or 99.0%, of recorded finance and service charges represented cash collected from customers and the remaining $1.1 million, or 1.0%, represented an increase in the finance and service charges receivable during the year. At the end of the current year and based on the revenue recognition method described above, the Company had accrued $20.5 million of finance and service charges receivable. Assuming the year-end accrual of finance and service charges revenue was over estimated by 10%, finance and service charges revenue would decrease by $2.0 million in decrease by $1.3 million. Some or all of the decrease would potentially be mitigated through the profit on the disposition of the related forfeited loan collateral.

2005 and net income would

Merchandise held for disposition. Merchandise held for disposition consists primarily of forfeited collateral from pawn loans not repaid. The carrying value of the forfeited collateral is stated at the lower of cost (cash amount loaned) or market. Management provides an allowance for shrinkage and valuation based on its evaluation of the merchandise. Because pawn loans are made without the borrower's personal liability, the Company does not investigate the creditworthiness of the borrower, but evaluates the pledged personal property as a basis for its lending decision. The amount the Company is willing to finance is typically based on a percentage of the pledged personal property's estimated disposition value. The sources for the Company's determination of the estimated disposition value are numerous and include the Company's automated product valuation system as well as catalogues, blue books, newspapers, internet research and previous experience with similar items. The Company performs a physical count of its merchandise in each location on a cyclical basis and reviews the composition of inventory by category and age in order to assess the adequacy of the allowance, which was $1.4 million, representing 2.2% of the balance of merchandise held for disposition at December 31, 2004. Adverse changes in the disposition value of the Company's merchandise may result in the need to increase the valuation allowance.

Allowance for losses on cash advances. The Company maintains an allowance for losses on Company-owned cash advances (including fees and interest) and accrues losses for bank-owned cash advances at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb credit losses in the outstanding combined cash advance portfolio. The Company's cash advance product primarily services a customer base of non-prime borrowers. These advances are typically offered for a term of 7 to 45 days. Cash advances written during each calendar month are aggregated and tracked to develop a performance history. The Company stratifies the outstanding portfolio by age, delinquency and stage of collection when assessing the adequacy of the allowance for losses. Current portfolio performance as well as the performance of cash advances made in the same period twelve months ago and collection history are utilized to develop expected loss rates which are used for the establishment of the allowance. Increased defaults and credit losses may occur during a national or regional economic downturn, or could occur for other reasons, resulting in the need to increase the allowance. Unlike pawn loans, cash advances are unsecured, and the performance of the portfolio depends on the Company's ability to collect on defaulted loans. The Company believes it effectively manages the risks inherent in this product by utilizing a variety of underwriting criteria, maintaining a customer database of performance and by closely monitoring the performance of the portfolio. Any remaining unpaid balance of a cash advance is charged off once it becomes 60 days past due, or sooner if deemed uncollectible. At December 31, 2004, allowance for losses on cash advances was $4.4 million and accrued losses on bank owned cash advances were $0.3 million, in aggregate representing 9.1% of the combined cash advance portfolio.

During fiscal year 2004, the cash advance loss provision for the combined cash advance portfolio, which increases the allowance for loan losses, was $23.5 million and reflects 3.6% of gross combined cash advances written by the Company and third-party banks. Assuming future loss rates increased, or decreased, by 10% (0.36%) for 2004, the cash advance loss provision would increase, or decrease, by $2.3 million and net income would decrease, or increase, by $1.5 million, assuming the same volume of cash advances written in 2004.

Valuation of long-lived and intangible assets. The Company assesses the impairment of long-lived assets whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable. Intangible assets having an indefinite useful life are tested for impairment annually, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired. Factors considered important which could trigger an impairment review include significant underperformance relative to expected historical or projected future cash flows, significant changes in the manner of use of the acquired assets or the strategy for the overall business, and significant negative industry trends. When management determines that the carrying value of long-lived and intangible assets may not be recoverable, impairment is measured based on the excess of the assets' carrying value over the estimated fair value.

Income Taxes. As part of the process of preparing the consolidated financial statements, the Company is required to estimate income taxes in each of the jurisdictions in which it operates. This process involves estimating the actual current tax exposure together with assessing temporary differences in recognition of income for tax and accounting purposes. These differences result in deferred tax assets and liabilities, which are included within the Company's consolidated balance sheet. Management must then assess the likelihood that the deferred tax assets will be recovered from future taxable income and, to the extent it believes that recovery is not likely, it must establish a valuation allowance. An expense, or benefit, must be included within the tax provision in the statement of operations for any increase, or decrease, in the valuation allowance for a given period.

Management judgment is required in determining the provision for income taxes, the deferred tax assets and liabilities and any valuation allowance recorded against net deferred tax assets. The Company has recorded a valuation allowance of $0.2 million as of December 31, 2004, due to uncertainties related to the ability to utilize the deferred tax assets resulting from capital losses. The valuation allowance is based on Company estimates of capital gains expected to be recognized during the period over which the capital losses may be used to offset such gains. In the event that the Company determined that it would not be able to realize all or part of its other net deferred tax assets in the future, an adjustment to the deferred tax assets would be charged to provision for income taxes in the period that such determination was made. Likewise, should the Company determine that it would be able to realize its deferred tax assets in the future in excess of the net recorded amount, an adjustment to the deferred tax assets would reduce the provision for income taxes in the period that such determination was made.

OVERVIEW

Components of Consolidated Net Revenue. Consolidated net revenue is total revenue reduced by the cost of merchandise sold in the period. It represents the income available to satisfy expenses and is the measure management uses to evaluate top line performance. The growth in cash advance fees due to higher balances and the addition of new units, including the acquisition of Cashland in August 2003, has increased the comparative contribution from this product to the consolidated net revenue of the Company during 2004 compared to 2003 and 2002. While trending lower as a percent of total net revenue, pawn related net revenue, consisting of aggregate finance and service charges plus profit on the disposition of merchandise, remains the dominant source of net revenue at 65.6%, 78.5% and 88.6% for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively. The following graphs show consolidated net revenue and depict the mix of the components of net revenue for the years ended December 31, 2004, 2003 and 2002:

Table of Contents

Contribution to Increase in Net Revenue. Cash advance fees have increased since 2002 as the result of the growth and development of newly opened units, the inclusion of Cashland since August 1, 2003, and the higher average cash advance balances. As illustrated below, these increases represented 65.1% of the Company's overall increase in net revenue from 2002 to 2003 and 70.2% of the overall increase from 2003 to 2004. The increase in pawn related net revenue in the aggregate, combined finance and service charges and profit from the disposition of merchandise, declined from 31.6% to 23.7% of the increase in net revenue from continuing operations for 2004 compared to 2003. Check cashing royalties and fees accounted for 6.1% and 3.3% of the increase in net revenue in 2004 and 2003, respectively. These trends are depicted in the following graphs:

Year Ended 2004 Compared to Year Ended 2003

Consolidated Net Revenue. Consolidated net revenue is total revenue reduced by the cost of merchandise sold in the period. It represents the income available to satisfy expenses and is the measure management uses to evaluate top line performance. Consolidated net revenue increased $74.4 million, or 30.8%, to $315.6 million during 2004 from $241.2 million during 2003. The following table sets forth 2004 and 2003 net revenue by operating segment ($ in millions):

	2004	2003	Increase
Pawn lending operations	$ 239.9	$ 216.3	$ 23.6	10.9%
Cash advance operations	72.1	21.3	50.8	238.5
Check cashing operations	3.6	3.6
Consolidated net revenue	$ 315.6	$ 241.2	$ 74.4	30.8%

The increase in consolidated net revenue was partially due to the consolidation of the operating results of Cashland for the entire year for 2004 as compared to only five months for 2003. Excluding the impact of Cashland, net revenue for 2004 was up $31.0 million, or 14.0%, compared to 2003. Higher revenue from the Company's cash advance product, higher finance and service charges from pawn loans, and higher profit from the disposition of merchandise accounted for the increase in net revenue.

The components of net revenue are finance and service charges from pawn loans, which increased $9.8 million; profit from the disposition of merchandise, which increased $7.9 million; cash advance fees generated both from pawn locations and cash advance locations, which increased $52.2 million; and check cashing royalties and fees, which increased $4.5 million.

Finance and Service Charges. Finance and service charges increased $9.8 million, or 9.8%, from $100.7 million in 2003 to $110.5 million in 2004. An increase in the average balance of pawn loans outstanding contributed $7.5 million of the increase and the higher annualized yield of the pawn loan portfolio resulted in $2.3 million of the increase.

The average balances of pawn loans were 7.5% higher in 2004 than in 2003. The increase in the average balance of pawn loans outstanding was driven by a 4.3% increase in the average number of pawn loans outstanding during 2004 coupled with a 3.0% increase in the average amount per loan. Management believes the higher average pawn loan balance outstanding is partially attributable to the current economic environment affecting the Company's customers, which was conducive to an increase in loan demand, and expects this trend of higher demand for pawn loans to continue in 2005. Pawn loan balances at December 31, 2004 were $28.2 million, or 34.7% higher than at December 31, 2003, principally as a result of the acquisition of SuperPawn in December 2004. Annualized loan yield was 131.1% in 2004, compared to 128.4% in 2003. Favorable changes in the statutory rates and terms of pawn loans in some markets and improved performance of the pawn loan portfolio, including higher redemption rates and a slightly higher concentration of extended or renewed loans in the portfolio, contributed to the higher yield.

Profit from the Disposition of Merchandise. Profit from the disposition of merchandise represents the proceeds received from the disposition of merchandise in excess of the cost of disposed merchandise. The following table summarizes the proceeds from the disposition of merchandise and the related profit for 2004 as compared to 2003 ($ in millions):

	Year Ended December 31,
	2004			2003
	Merchan- dise	Refined Gold	Total	Merchan- dise	Refined Gold	Total
Proceeds from disposition	$ 208.6	$ 41.7	$ 250.3	$ 202.3	$ 33.7	$ 236.0
Profit on disposition	$ 83.4	$ 13.0	$ 96.4	$ 79.0	$ 9.6	$ 88.6
Profit margin	40.0%	31.2%	38.5%	39.1%	28.5%	37.5%

Total profit from the disposition of merchandise and refined gold increased $7.8 million, or 8.8%, due to higher profit margins on the disposition of merchandise (from 37.5% in 2003 to 38.5% in 2004) and a 6.1% increase in total proceeds from the disposition of merchandise. Excluding the effect of the disposition of refined gold, the profit margin on the disposition of merchandise increased to 40.0% in 2004 from 39.1% in 2003 due predominately to a heavier mix of jewelry sales. The profit margin on the disposition of refined gold was 31.2% in 2004 compared to 28.5% in 2003 due to the prevailing higher market prices of refined gold in 2004 than in 2003. Proceeds from disposition of merchandise, excluding refined gold, increased $6.3 million for 2004 due to higher levels of merchandise available for disposition and the acquisition of the SuperPawn stores in December 2004. Proceeds from disposition of refined gold increased $8.0 million, or 23.7%, due to higher market prices for gold and an increase in the volume of refined gold sold. The consolidated merchandise turnover rate decreased slightly to 3.0 times during 2004 from 3.1 times during 2003.

Management anticipates that profit margin on the disposition of merchandise in the near term is likely to remain at or around current levels. Higher levels of merchandise available for disposition over the long term could result in lower profit margins which is generally offset by higher proceeds. The addition of SuperPawn operating results in 2005 should increase the average profit margin slightly due to a higher amount of jewelry sales which has historically produced higher gross profit margins. However, the increases in jewelry merchandise levels could reduce inventory turnover.

Cash Advance Fees. Cash advance fees increased $52.2 million to $99.2 million in 2004 as compared to $47.0 million in 2003, an increase of 111.1%. The increase was primarily due to the growth and development of new cash advance units and the inclusion of Cashland for the full year in 2004, while only five months of operating results of Cashland were included in 2003. Higher average cash advance balances outstanding during 2004 from new unit growth and from the acquisition of 32 California units during the third quarter also contributed to the increase in cash advance fees. As of December 31, 2004, the product was available in 678 lending locations, which included 425 pawnshops, and 253 cash advance locations. This included 366 units that offer the product on behalf of third-party banks for which the Company performs administrative services. Cash advance fees include revenue from the cash advance portfolio owned by the Company and fees for administrative services performed for the banks. See further discussion in Note 5 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements. (Although cash advance transactions may take the form of loans or deferred check deposit transactions, the transactions are referred to throughout this discussion as cash advances for convenience.)

The following table sets forth cash advance fees by operating segment for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003 ($ in thousands):

	2004	2003	Increase
Cash advance operations	$ 66.2	$ 20.0	$ 46.2	231.0%
Pawn lending operations	33.0	27.0	6.0	22.2
 Total	 $ 99.2	 $ 47.0	 $ 52.2	 111.1%

The amount of cash advances written increased $347.1 million, or 115.5% to $647.6 million in 2004 from $300.5 million in 2003. Included in the amount of cash advances written in 2004 and 2003 were $238.9 million and $157.5 million, respectively, extended to customers by the banks. The average amount per cash advance increased to $336 from $311 due to changes in permitted loan amounts and adjustments to underwriting. The combined Company and bank portfolio of cash advances generated $106.6 million in revenue during 2004 compared to $51.2 million in 2003. The outstanding combined portfolio balance of cash advances increased $18.0 million, or 53.4%, to $51.7 million at December 31, 2004 from $33.7 million at December 31, 2003. Included in these amounts are $40.8 million and $31.8 million for 2004 and 2003, respectively, that are included in the Company's consolidated balance sheets. An allowance for losses of $4.4 million and $3.4 million has been provided in the consolidated financial statements for December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively, which is netted against the outstanding cash advance amounts on the Company's consolidated balance sheets.

Management anticipates continued growth in cash advance fees for fiscal 2005 due to increased consumer awareness and demand for the cash advance product, higher outstanding balances at December 31, 2004 compared to December 31, 2003, and the growth of balances from new units opened in 2003, 2004, and planned openings in 2005.

Check Cashing Royalties and Fees. Check cashing fees for Mr. Payroll remained constant at $3.6 million in 2004. Check cashing revenue for Cashland for 2004 and 2003 was $5.8 million and $1.4 million, respectively. The increase in fees for Cashland is due to the inclusion of the entire year for 2004 and the growth in the units. Cash America Payday Advance contributed $0.1 million of the increase during 2004.

Operations and Administration Expenses. Consolidated operations and administration expenses, as a percentage of total revenue, was 45.4% in 2004 compared to 45.1% in 2003. These expenses increased $38.1 million, or 21.7%, in 2004 compared to 2003. Pawn lending and Cash America Payday Advance operating expenses increased

$11.9 million, or 7.4%, primarily as a result of the net increase of 43 owned pawnshop locations and 59 Cash America Payday Advance locations. Slightly higher staffing levels and increased advertising expenditures for the cash advance product also contributed to the expense increase. Cashland accounted for $26.1 million of the increase as a result of the establishment of 40 cash advance locations net of 5 closures and an additional seven months of expenses included for 2004 as compared to

2003 due to the acquisition on August 1, 2003. Mr. Payroll accounted for the remaining $0.1 million increase.

As a multi-unit operator in the consumer finance industry, the Company's operations and administration expenses are predominately related to personnel and occupancy expenses. Personnel expenses include base salary and wages, performance incentives, and benefits. Occupancy expenses include rent, property taxes and insurance, utilities, and maintenance. The combination of personnel and occupancy expenses represents 82.0% of total operations and administration expenses in 2004 and 83.8% in 2003. The comparison is as follows ($ in millions):

	2004	% of Revenue	2003	% of Revenue
Personnel	$ 127.1	27.1%	$ 105.9	27.2%
Occupancy	48.1	10.2	41.1	10.6
Other	38.3	8.1	28.3	7.3
Total	$ 213.5	45.4%	$ 175.3	45.1%

Of the $21.2 million, or 20.0%, increase in personnel expense from 2003 to 2004, $14.3 million is attributable to the addition of Cashland for twelve months in 2004 versus five months in 2003. The balance of the increase is due to unit additions during the year, an increase in staffing levels, slightly higher incentive expenses as a result of increased operating results, and normal recurring salary adjustments. Of the $7.0 million, or 17.0%, increase in occupancy expenses from 2003 to 2004, $5.1 million is due to the addition of Cashland for twelve months in 2004 versus five months in 2003. The balance of the increase is primarily due to unit additions.

Cash Advance Loss Provision. The Company maintains an allowance for losses on cash advances at a level projected to be adequate to absorb credit losses inherent in the outstanding combined cash advance portfolio. The cash advance loss provision is utilized to increase the allowance carried against the outstanding company owned cash advance portfolio and accrued losses on the bank owned portfolios. The cash advance loss provision increased $12.7 million to $23.5 million in 2004, compared to $10.8 million in 2003, principally due to the significant increase in the size of the portfolio and the inclusion of Cashland for the full year in 2004, while only five months of operating results were included in 2003. Cashland provided $12.7 million and $3.9 million of the 2004 and 2003 loss provisions, respectively. The loss provision as a percentage of cash advance fees increased to 23.7% in the current year from 22.9% in the prior year. The increase in the loss provision as a percentage of cash advance fees is attributable to an emphasis on broadening the customer base for the payday loan product offered in pawnshops. On average, cash advance locations tend to originate more advances and experience lower loss rates than cash advances originated at pawnshop locations. Management expects that the addition of more cash advance locations will continue this trend.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation and amortization expense as a percentage of total revenue was 3.7% in 2004 compared to 3.4% in 2003. Total depreciation and amortization expenses increased $3.9 million, or 29.3%, primarily due to the increase in operating locations and the amortization of intangibles such as non-competition agreements and customer relationships acquired in the Cashland and other acquisitions.

Interest Expense. Interest expense as a percentage of total revenue declined to 1.7% in 2004 from 2.3% in 2003. Interest expense decreased $0.7 million, or 8.0%, to $8.1 million in 2004 as compared to $8.8 million in 2003. The decrease was due to the lower debt balances outstanding as a result of the repayment of the outstanding U.S. line of credit upon the sale of the foreign pawn lending operations. The effective blended borrowing cost was 6.3% in 2004 and 6.1% in 2003 as a result of the increase in short-term borrowing rates. The average amount of debt outstanding decreased during 2004 to $130.0 million from $145.4 million during 2003.

Table of Contents

Interest Income. Interest income increased $0.3 million from $0.3 million in 2003 to $0.6 million in 2004, primarily due to the interest income totaling $0.5 million recorded on the subordinated notes received in the sale of the Company's foreign pawn lending operations.

Foreign Currency Transaction Gains. The Company received two notes receivable denominated in Swedish kronor in the sale of the Company's foreign pawn lending operations. Exchange rate changes between the United States dollar and the Swedish kronor resulted in gains of $1.1 million in 2004.

Gain from Disposal of Asset. During 2003, the Company sold real estate that was being held for investment purposes following the reconstruction of the corporate headquarters. The Company received cash proceeds of $1.6 million and realized a gain of $1.0 million.

Income Taxes. The Company's effective tax rate for continuing operations for 2004 was 36.5% as compared to 35.8% for 2003. The Company's consolidated effective tax rate for 2003 was affected by a reduction in the deferred tax valuation allowance for capital losses as a result of the recognition of the capital gain from the sale of real estate held for investment. The effective tax rate for 2003 would have been 37.3% excluding the gain and the related tax effect.

Income from Continuing Operations. Income from continuing operations was $35.0 million and $22.0 million for 2004 and 2003, respectively, up 59.1%. Diluted income from continuing operations per share was $1.18 for 2004, as compared to $0.83 for 2003, reflecting a 42.2% increase. Excluding the gain of $1.0 million from the sale of the asset ($1.1 million after income tax benefit), diluted income from continuing operations was $0.78 per share for 2003.

Year Ended 2003 Compared to Year Ended 2002

Consolidated Net Revenue. Consolidated net revenue increased $42.8 million, or 21.6%, to $241.2 million during 2003 from $198.4 million during 2002. The following table sets forth 2003 and 2002 net revenue by operating segment ($ in millions):

	2003	2002	Increase/ (decrease)
Pawn lending operations	$ 216.3	$ 194.9	$ 21.4	11.0%
Cash advance operations	21.3		21.3
Check cashing operations	3.6	3.5	0.1	2.9
Consolidated net revenue	$ 241.2	$ 198.4	$ 42.8	21.6%

The increase in consolidated net revenue was partially due to the acquisition of Cashland on August 1, 2003 and the inclusion of their operating results for five months in 2003. Excluding the impact of Cashland, net revenue for 2003 was up $22.8 million, or 11.5%, compared to 2002. The Company's lending operations contributed the majority of the increase in consolidated net revenue excluding Cashland. Higher revenue from the Company's cash advance product being offered in pawn locations, higher finance and service charges from pawn loans, and higher profit from the disposition of merchandise accounted for the increase in net revenue.

The components of net revenue are finance and service charges from pawn loans, which increased $6.2 million; profit from the disposition of merchandise, which increased $7.3 million; cash advance fees, which increased $27.9 million; and check cashing royalties and fees, which increased $1.4 million.

Finance and Service Charges. Finance and service charges increased $6.2 million, or 6.6%, from $94.5 million in 2002 to $100.7 million in 2003. An increase in the average balance of pawn loans outstanding contributed $4.3 million of the increase and the higher annualized yield of the pawn loan portfolio resulted in $1.9 million of the increase.

Table of Contents

The average balances of pawn loans were 4.6% higher in 2003 than in 2002. The increase in the average balance of pawn loans outstanding was driven by a 2.8% increase in the average number of pawn loans outstanding during 2003 coupled with a 1.8% increase in the average amount per loan. Management believes the higher average pawn loan balance outstanding is partially attributable to adverse trends in the U.S. economy, which were conducive to an increase in loan demand. As management expected, during the third quarter of 2003, the pawn lending operations experienced a slow down in the rate of growth of pawn loan balances due to the advance child tax credit payments distributed by the Internal Revenue Service to certain customers. Management believes that customers may have used these proceeds to repay loans and/or reduce demand for loans in that quarter. Pawn loan balances at December 31, 2003 were $2.5 million, or 3.2% higher than at December 31, 2002 mostly due to unit additions during 2003. Annualized loan yield was 128.4% in 2003, compared to 126.0% in 2002. Improved performance of the pawn loan portfolio, including higher redemption rates and a slightly higher concentration of extended or renewed loans in the portfolio, contributed to the higher yield.

Profit from the Disposition of Merchandise. Profit from the disposition of merchandise represents the proceeds received from the disposition of merchandise in excess of the cost of disposed merchandise. The following table summarizes the proceeds from the disposition of merchandise and the related profit for 2003 as compared to 2002 ($ in millions):

	Year Ended December 31,
	2003			2002
	Merchan- dise	Refined Gold	Total	Merchan- dise	Refined Gold	Total
Proceeds from disposition	$ 202.3	$ 33.7	$ 236.0	$ 206.8	$ 26.6	$ 233.4
Profit on disposition	$ 79.0	$ 9.6	$ 88.6	$ 76.6	$ 4.7	$ 81.3
Profit margin	39.1%	28.5%	37.5%	37.0%	17.7%	34.8%

Profit from the disposition of merchandise and refined gold increased $7.3 million, or 9.0%, due to higher profit margins on the total disposition of merchandise (from 34.8% in 2002 to 37.5% in 2003). Excluding the effect of the disposition of refined gold, the profit margin on the disposition of merchandise increased to 39.1% in 2003 from 37.0% in 2002 due predominately to lower levels of aged merchandise and the lower average cost of merchandise sold. Proceeds from disposition of merchandise, excluding refined gold, decreased $4.5 million for 2003 due to lower average balances of merchandise available for disposition. The profit margin on the disposition of refined gold was 28.5% in 2003 compared to 17.7% in 2002 due to the prevailing higher market prices of refined gold in 2003 than in 2002. Proceeds from disposition of refined gold increased $7.1 million, or 26.7%, due to higher market prices for gold and an increase in the volume of refined gold sold. The consolidated merchandise turnover rate increased to 3.1 times during 2003 from 2.9 times during 2002.

Cash Advance Fees. Cash advance fees increased $27.9 million to $47.0 million in 2003 as compared to $19.1 million in 2002, an increase of 146.1%. The increase was primarily due to the addition of the operating results of Cashland beginning August 1, 2003. Excluding the impact of Cashland, cash advance fees for 2003 were $28.3 million, up $9.2 million, or 48.2%, due to higher average cash advance balances outstanding during 2003 resulting from higher demand for the cash advance product. The Company introduced cash advances to its broad group of locations in 2000. The product was available in 544 U.S. lending locations, which included 390 pawnshop locations and 154 cash advance locations. This included 304 units that offer the product on behalf of a third-party bank for which the Company performs administrative services. Cash advance fees include revenue from the cash advance portfolio owned by the Company and fees for administrative services performed for the bank. During the first quarter of 2003, the Company terminated its relationship with the national bank that had offered this product in many of its stores and entered into an agreement with a state chartered bank to offer the product in those stores.

Table of Contents

The following table sets forth cash advance fees by operating segment for the years ended December 31, 2003 and 2002 ($ in thousands):

	2003	2002	Increase
Cash advance operations	$ 20.0	$	$ 20.0	%
Pawn lending operations	27.0	19.1	7.9	41.1
 Total	 $ 47.0	 $ 19.1	 $ 27.9	 146.1%

Excluding the cash advance activities of Cashland, the amount of cash advances written increased $58.1 million, or 47.0%, to $181.8 million in 2003 from $123.7 million in 2002. Included in the amount of cash advances written in 2003 and 2002 were $157.5 million and $106.1 million, respectively, extended to customers by the bank. The average amount per cash advance increased to $297 from $284. The combined Company and bank portfolio of cash advances generated $32.5 million in revenue during 2003 compared to $21.7 million in 2002. The outstanding combined portfolio balance of cash advances increased $2.9 million to $15.0 million at December 31, 2003 from $12.1 million at December 31, 2002. Included in these amounts are $13.2 million and $4.0 million for 2003 and 2002, respectively, that are included in the Company's consolidated balance sheets. An allowance for losses of $1.5 million and $1.7 million has been provided in the consolidated financial statements for December 31, 2003 and 2002, respectively, which offsets the outstanding cash advance amounts from these activities.

The amount of cash advances written by Cashland for the period from August 1, 2003 through December 31, 2003 was $118.7 million. The average amount per cash advance was $336. Cashland generated cash advance fees of $18.7 million during the five-month period. At December 31, 2003, the Company's consolidated balance sheet included an outstanding portfolio of $16.7 million, net of an allowance for losses of $1.9 million, related to activities of Cashland.

Check Cashing Royalties and Fees. Check cashing fees for Mr. Payroll increased $0.1 million in 2003. Check cashing revenue for Cashland for the period from August 1, 2003 through December 31, 2003 was $1.4 million.

Operations and Administration Expenses. Consolidated operations and administration expenses, as a percentage of total revenue, were 45.1% in 2003 compared to 43.2% in 2002. These expenses increased $23.9 million, or 15.8%, in 2003 compared to 2002. Pawn lending expenses increased $12.0 million, or 8.0%, as a result of higher expenses related to the cash advance product, including advertising and the establishment of 17 new locations and increased incentive expenses associated with the improvement in operating results. Slightly higher staffing levels also contributed to the increase in pawn lending operating expenses. The addition of Cashland beginning August 1, 2003 contributed $11.7 million of the increase. Mr. Payroll's expenses increased $0.2 million.

As a multi-unit operator in the consumer finance industry, the Company's operations and administration expenses are predominately related to personnel and occupancy expenses. Personnel expenses include base salary and wages, performance incentives, and benefits. Occupancy expenses include rent, property taxes and insurance, utilities, and maintenance. The combination of personnel and occupancy expenses represents 83.8% of total operations and administration expenses in 2003 and 85.6% in 2002. The comparison is as follows ($ in millions):

-------------	-------------------------	------	-----------------

Edgar Filing: Scarpulla Justin - Form 4

Personnel	$ 105.9	27.2%	$ 91.8	26.2%
Occupancy	41.1	10.6	37.7	10.7
Other	28.3	7.3	21.9	6.3
Total	$ 175.3	45.1%	$ 151.4	43.2%

Of the $14.1 million, or 15.4%, increase in personnel expense, $6.2 million is attributable to the addition of Cashland in August 2003. The balance of the increase is due to unit additions during the year, higher incentive expenses as a result of the improved operating results, an increase in staffing levels, and normal recurring salary adjustments. Of the $3.4 million, or 9.0%, increase in occupancy expenses, $2.4 million is due to the addition of Cashland. The balance of the increase is primarily due to unit additions.

Cash Advance Loss Provision. The cash advance loss provision increased $4.1 million to $10.8 million in 2003, compared to $6.7 million in 2002, principally due to the acquisition of Cashland at August 1, 2003 and the significant increase in the size of the portfolio. Cashland provided $3.9 million of the 2003 loss provision. The loss provision as a percentage of cash advance fees decreased to 22.9% in the current year from 35.0% in the prior year. The decrease in the loss provision as a percentage of cash advance fees is due to lower loss rates experienced by the Company in the current year compared to the prior year. The Company continued to improve its collection performance in 2003. Also, the addition of Cashland for a partial year reduced the percentage of loss provision to cash advance fees due to their lower loss experience. The loss provision as a percentage of cash advance fees would have been 24.1% for the current year without Cashland. See Note 5 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation and amortization expense as a percentage of total revenue was 3.4% in 2003 compared to 3.6% in 2002. Total depreciation and amortization expenses increased $0.8 million, or 6.3%, primarily due to the addition of Cashland beginning in August 2003.

Interest Expense. Interest expense as a percentage of total revenue declined to 2.3% in 2003 from 2.6% in 2002. Interest expense decreased $0.2 million, or 2.2%, to $8.8 million in 2003 as compared to $9.0 million in 2002. Lower interest rates on floating rate debt and lower debt balances outstanding prior to the acquisition of Cashland on August 1, 2003 contributed to the decrease. The Company obtained cash of $32.0 million for the acquisition of Cashland through the expansion of its U.S. line of credit from $90.0 million to $135.0 million. The effective blended borrowing cost was 6.1% in 2003 and 5.9% in 2002. The increase in blended borrowing cost was partially due to the Company's issuance of $42.5 million of long-term fixed rate notes in July 2002 that replaced lower cost floating rate debt.

Interest Income. Interest income decreased $0.2 million, from $0.5 million in 2002 to $0.3 million in 2003. The decrease is primarily due to the elimination of interest income from notes receivable repaid during 2003.

Loss from Derivative Valuation Fluctuations. There were no adjustments to the fair value of interest rate cap agreements during 2003, as compared to a loss of $0.2 million in 2002. See Note 14 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

Gain from Disposal of Asset. During 2003, the Company sold real estate that was being held for investment purposes following the reconstruction of the corporate headquarters. The Company received cash proceeds of $1.6 million and realized a gain of $1.0 million.

Income Taxes. The Company's effective tax rate for 2003 was 35.8% as compared to 38.3% for 2002. The Company's consolidated effective tax rate for 2003 was affected by a reduction in the deferred tax valuation allowance for capital losses as a result of the recognition of the capital gain from the sale of real estate held for investment. The effective tax rate for 2003 would have been 37.3% excluding the gain and the related tax effect.

Income from Continuing Operations. Income from continuing operations was $22.0 million and $11.9 million for 2003 and 2002, respectively. Diluted income from continuing operations per share was $0.83 for 2003, as compared to $0.48 for 2002. Excluding the gain of $1.0 million from the sale of asset ($1.1 million after income tax benefit), diluted income from continuing operations was $0.78 per share for 2003.

Table of ContentsLIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

The Company's cash flows and other key indicators of liquidity are summarized as follows ($ in millions):

	Year Ended December 31,
	2004	2003	2002

Debt/EBITDA ¹	2.1x	2.7x	3.4x
Merchandise turnover	3.0x	3.1x	2.9x

¹ Debt/EBITDA is a non-GAAP measure of liquidity. For the purpose of this analysis, EBITDA is calculated as follows:

Income from operations + depreciation and amortization

Management views this ratio as an important measure of liquidity. This term is commonly recognized by the capital markets for this purpose and, therefore, is deemed to be a relevant measure for disclosure. Management is not aware of a comparable GAAP financial measure that would provide comparable information to investors.

Cash flows from operating activities. Net cash provided by operating activities of continuing operations was $80.7 million for 2004. Net cash generated from the Company's pawn lending operations, cash advance operations and check cashing operations were $57.9 million, $22.1 million and $0.7 million, respectively. The improvement in cash flows from operating activities in 2004 as compared to 2003 was due to the improvement in results of pawn lending operations, the growth and development of cash advance locations opened in recent periods as well as the addition of Cashland for twelve months in 2004 versus five months in 2003.

Historically, the Company's finance and service charge revenue is highest in the first and fourth fiscal quarters (October through March) due to higher average loan balances. Proceeds from the disposition of merchandise are also generally highest in the Company's fourth and first fiscal quarters (October through March) due to the holiday season and the impact of tax refunds. The net effect of these factors is that net revenues and net income typically are highest in the fourth and first fiscal quarters and likewise the Company's cash flow is generally greatest in these two fiscal quarters.

Cash flows from investing activities. Higher lending activities led to increases in the Company's investment in pawn loans and cash advances during 2004 that used cash of $10.3 million and $28.4 million, respectively. In addition, the Company acquired the assets of 42 pawnshops (including 41 SuperPawn locations in four western states) for a total of $104.8 million of cash and Company stock valued at $12.6 million. Of the total cash consideration, $1.5 million is payable in early 2005 and is included in Accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying Consolidated Balance Sheet as of December 31, 2004. The Company also acquired 32 cash advance locations in southern California operating under the trade names of Urgent Money and GoldX for $14.6 million of cash. During the first quarter of 2004, the Company amended the Cashland asset purchase agreement and made a final payment of additional consideration in the amount of $5.4 million, consisting of $2.9 million in cash and a subordinated note for $2.5 million. The Company also invested $28.5 million in property and equipment in 2004 for the establishment of 3 new pawnshop locations, 72 cash advance locations (27 Cash America Payday Advance and 45 Cashland), the remodeling of selected operating units and ongoing enhancements to the information technology infrastructure, and other property additions.

In September 2004, the Company sold its foreign pawn lending operations in the United Kingdom and Sweden to Rutland Partners LLP and received net cash proceeds of $104.9 million after paying off the outstanding balance of the multi-currency line of credit.

Management anticipates that capital expenditures for 2005 will be approximately $30 to $40 million primarily for the establishment of approximately 75 to 85 combined total of new cash advance-only locations and pawnshops, for the remodeling of selected operating units, and for enhancements to communications and information systems. The additional capital required to pursue acquisition opportunities is not included in the estimate of capital expenditures because of the uncertainties surrounding any potential transaction of this nature at this time.

Cash flows from financing activities. During 2004, the Company had net borrowings of $24.4 million on bank lines of credit, of which $17.5 million was used to pay the additional cash portion of the acquisitions made during the year in excess of cash proceeds received upon the sale of the foreign lending operations. The Company made repayments of $8.3 million on senior unsecured notes. Additional uses of cash included $10.6 million (including a special dividend of $8.6 million declared upon the sale of the foreign pawn lending operations) for dividends paid and $4.3 million for the purchase of treasury shares (including $0.3 million purchases on behalf of participants relating to the Non-Qualified Savings Plan). On July 24, 2002, the Company's Board of Directors authorized management to purchase up to one million shares of its common stock in the open market and terminated the open market purchase authorization established in 2000. During 2004, the Company purchased 173,200 shares for an aggregate amount of $4.0 million under this authorization. Additional purchases may be made from time to time in the open market, and it is expected that funding will come from operating cash flow. During 2004, options for 707,199 shares were exercised by its current and former directors, officers and employees and generated proceeds of $6.1 million of equity from the exercise of stock options.

Under the terms of its U.S. line of credit agreement, as of March 31, 2004, the Company's line of credit was reduced to $130.0 million from $135.0 million. At December 31, 2004, there was $92.5 million outstanding on this line of credit. See Note 9 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements.

In February 2005, the Company amended and restated the existing line of credit agreement to increase the credit limit to $250.0 million and extend the maturity to February 2010. Interest on the amended line of credit is charged, at the Company's option, at either LIBOR plus a margin or at the agent's base rate. The margin on the line of credit varies from 0.875% to 1.875%, depending on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios as defined in the amended agreement. The Company pays a fee on the unused portion ranging from 0.25% to 0.30% based on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios as defined in the amended agreement.

The credit agreement and the senior unsecured notes require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios. The Company is in compliance with all covenants and other requirements set forth in its debt agreements. A significant decline in demand for the Company's products and services may cause the Company to reduce its planned level of capital expenditures and lower its working capital needs in order to maintain compliance with the financial ratios in those agreements. A violation of the credit agreements could result in an acceleration of the Company's debt and increase the Company's borrowing costs and could even adversely affect the Company's ability to renew existing credit facilities, or obtain access to new credit facilities in the future. The Company does not anticipate a significant decline in demand for its services and has historically been successful in maintaining compliance with and renewing its debt agreements.

The following table summarizes the Company's contractual obligations of its continuing operations at December 31, 2004, and the effect such obligations are expected to have on its liquidity and cash flow in future periods, before giving effect to the February 2005 amendment to the Company's line of credit (in millions):

	2005	2006	2007	2008	2009	Thereafter	Total
Line of Credit	$	$ 92.5	$	$	$	$	$ 92.5
Other long-term debt	16.8	17.1	17.1	13.0	8.7	1.4	74.1
Non-cancelable leases	29.5	24.4	19.0	13.9	9.3	11.8	107.9
Total	$ 46.3	$ 134.0	$ 36.1	$ 26.9	$ 18.0	$ 13.2	$ 274.5

Management believes that borrowings available under the credit facilities, cash generated from operations and current working capital of $209.5 million should be sufficient to meet the Company's anticipated future capital requirements.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING RISKS AND UNCERTAINTIES THAT MAY AFFECT FUTURE RESULTS

This Annual Report on Form 10-K, including Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations, contains statements that are forward-looking, as that term is defined by the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995 or by the Securities and Exchange Commission in its rules. The Company intends that all forward-looking statements be subject to the safe harbors created by these laws and rules. When used in this Annual Report on Form 10-K, the words believes, estimates, plans, expects, anticipates, and similar expressions they relate to the Company or its management are intended to identify forward-looking statements. All forward-looking statements are based on current expectations regarding important risk factors. These risks and uncertainties are beyond the ability of the Company to control, and, in many cases, the Company cannot predict all of the risks and uncertainties that could cause its actual results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements. Accordingly, actual results may differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements, and such statements should not be regarded as a representation by the Company or any other person that the results expressed in the statements will be achieved.

Risk Factors

Important risk factors that could cause results or events to differ from current expectations are described below. These factors are not intended to be an all-encompassing list of risks and uncertainties that may affect the operations, performance, development and results of the Company's business.

Changes in customer demand for the Company's products and specialty financial services could adversely affect results. Although the Company's products and services are a staple of its customer base, a significant change in the needs or wants of customers and the Company's failure to adapt to those needs or wants could result in a significant decrease in the revenues of the Company.

The actions of third-parties who offer products, services or support at the Company's locations could adversely affect results. The Company makes products and services available to its customers through various third parties. A failure of a third-party provider to provide its product or service or to maintain the quality and consistency of its product or service could result in a loss of customers and a related loss in revenue from those products or services. The Company also utilizes third parties to support and maintain certain of its computerized point-of-sale and information systems. The failure of such a third party to fulfill its support and maintenance obligations could cause a disruption in the Company's unit operations.

Circumstances could adversely affect the ability of the Company to open and acquire new operating units in accordance with its plans. The Company's expansion program is subject to numerous factors which cannot be predicted or controlled, such as the availability of attractive acquisition candidates and the Company's ability to attract, train and retain qualified unit management personnel. Another such factor is the availability of sites with acceptable restrictions and suitable terms and general economic conditions.

Changes in competition from various sources such as banks, savings and loans, short-term consumer lenders, and other similar financial services entities, as well as retail businesses that offer products and services offered by the Company, could put additional pressure on the Company. The Company encounters significant competition in connection with its lending and merchandise disposition operations from other pawnshops, cash advance companies and other forms of financial institutions such as consumer finance companies. Significant increases in these competitive influences could adversely affect the Company's operations through a decrease in the number of cash advances and pawn loans originated, resulting in lower levels of earning assets in these categories.

Changes in economic conditions could reduce earnings. While the credit risk for most of the Company's consumer lending is mitigated by the collateralized nature of pawn lending, a sustained deterioration in the economic environment could adversely affect the Company's operations through a deterioration in performance of its pawn loan or cash advance portfolios, or by reducing consumer demand for the purchase of pre-owned merchandise.

Adverse real estate market fluctuations could affect the Company's profits. A significant rise in real estate prices could result in an increase in the cost of store leases as the Company opens new locations and renews leases for existing locations.

Interest rates could rise and affect earnings. Although the softness in the U.S. economy over the past several years has resulted in relatively low interest rates offered by lending institutions, the Federal Reserve Bank has embarked on a program to gradually increase the federal funds rates. If current trends continue in interest rates, this could increase the cost of borrowing to the Company.

Changes in the capital markets or the Company's financial condition could reduce available capital. The Company regularly accesses the debt capital markets to refinance existing debt obligations and to obtain capital to finance growth. Efficient access to these markets is critical to the Company's ongoing financial success; however, the Company's future access to the debt capital markets could become restricted should the Company experience deterioration of its cash flows, balance sheet quality, or overall business or industry prospects.

Changes in tax and other laws and governmental rules and regulations applicable to the specialty financial services industry can have adverse effects. The Company's lending activities are subject to extensive regulation and supervision under various federal, state and local laws, ordinances and regulations. The Company faces the risk that new laws and regulations could be enacted that could have a negative impact on the Company's U.S. lending activities.

Other factors are discussed under Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures about Market Risk.

Other risks that are indicated in the Company's filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission may apply as well.

Table of Contents

ITEM 7A. QUANTITATIVE AND QUALITATIVE DISCLOSURES ABOUT MARKET RISK

Market risks relating to the Company's operations result primarily from changes in interest rates and gold prices. The Company does not engage in speculative or leveraged transactions, nor does it hold or issue financial instruments for trading purposes.

Interest Rate Risk. Management's objective is to minimize the cost of borrowing through an appropriate mix of fixed and floating rate debt. Derivative financial instruments, such as interest rate cap agreements, may be used for the purpose of managing fluctuating interest rate exposures that exist from ongoing business operations. After considering the effectiveness, if any, of the interest rate cap agreements, the Company had net variable rate borrowings outstanding of $92.5 million and $68.1 million at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. If prevailing interest rates were to increase 100 basis points over the rates at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively, and the variable rate borrowings outstanding remained constant, the Company's interest expense would increase by $0.9 million and $0.8 million, and net income after taxes would decrease by $0.6 million and $0.5 million in 2004 and 2003, respectively. If prevailing interest rates were to decrease 100 basis points from the rates at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively, the combined fair values of the Company's outstanding fixed rate debt ($76.6 million and $84.5 million, respectively) would increase by $1.8 million and $2.4 million as of December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Gold Price Risk. The Company periodically uses forward sale contracts with a major gold bullion bank to sell a portion of the expected amount of refined gold produced in the normal course of business from its liquidation of forfeited gold merchandise. A significant decrease in the price of gold would result in a reduction of proceeds from the disposition of refined gold to the extent that amounts sold were in excess of the amount of contracted forward sales. In addition, a significant and sustained decline in the price of gold would negatively impact the value of some of the goods pledged as collateral by customers and identified for liquidation as refined gold. In this instance, management believes some customers would be willing to add additional items of value to their pledge in order to obtain the desired loan amount. However, those customers unable or unwilling to provide additional collateral would receive lower loan amounts, possibly resulting in a lower balance of pawn loans outstanding for the Company.

Foreign Exchange Risk. The notes receivable received in the sale of the Company's foreign operations are subject to the risk of unexpected change in the Swedish kronor exchange rates. As a result of fluctuations in the Swedish kronor, the Company recorded foreign currency transaction gains of $1.1 million in 2004. A hypothetical 10% decline in the exchange rate of the Swedish kronor at December 31, 2004 would have decreased net income by $0.5 million.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Directors and Stockholders of Cash America International, Inc.

We have completed an integrated audit of Cash America International, Inc.'s 2004 consolidated financial statements and of its internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004 and audits of its 2003 and 2002 consolidated financial statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Our opinions, based on our audits, are presented below.

Consolidated financial statements

In our opinion, the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and related consolidated statements of operations, stockholders' equity, comprehensive income and cash flows present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Cash America International, Inc. and its subsidiaries (the Company) at December 31, 2004 and 2003, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for each of the three years in the period ended December 31, 2004 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits of these statements in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit of financial statements includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements, assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, and evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

Internal control over financial reporting

Also, in our opinion, management's assessment, included in the accompanying Report of Management on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting, that the Company maintained effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004 based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO), is fairly stated, in all material respects, based on those criteria. Furthermore, in our opinion, the Company maintained, in all material respects, effective internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004, based on criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the COSO. The Company's management is responsible for maintaining effective internal control over financial reporting and for its assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting. Our responsibility is to express opinions on management's assessment and on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting based on our audit. We conducted our audit of internal control over financial reporting in accordance with the standards of the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States). Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether effective internal control over financial reporting was maintained in all material respects. An audit of internal control over financial reporting includes obtaining an understanding of internal control over financial reporting, evaluating management's assessment, testing and evaluating the design and operating effectiveness of internal control, and performing such other procedures as we consider necessary in the circumstances. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinions.

A company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. A company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of the assets of the company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Because of its inherent limitations, internal control over financial reporting may not prevent or detect misstatements. Also, projections of any evaluation of effectiveness to future periods are subject to the risk that controls may become inadequate because of changes in conditions, or that the degree of compliance with the policies or procedures may deteriorate.

As described in the Report of Management on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting, management has excluded the pawn operating assets acquired from Camco, Inc. which operated under the trade name of SuperPawn (SuperPawn) from its assessment of internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004, because they were acquired by the Company in a purchase business combination during 2004. We have also excluded SuperPawn from our audit of internal control over financial reporting. SuperPawn is included in a consolidated subsidiary and SuperPawn's total revenues and total assets represented 1.2% and 21.2%, respectively, of the related consolidated financial statement amounts as of and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

REPORT OF MANAGEMENT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING

Management is responsible for establishing and maintaining adequate internal control over financial reporting and for the assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting. The Company's internal control over financial reporting is a process designed to provide reasonable assurance regarding the reliability of financial reporting and the preparation of financial statements for external purposes in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles. The Company's internal control over financial reporting includes those policies and procedures that (i) pertain to the maintenance of records that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect the transactions and dispositions of assets of the Company; (ii) provide reasonable assurance that transactions are recorded as necessary to permit preparation of financial statements in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, and that receipts and expenditures of the Company are being made only in accordance with authorizations of management and directors of the Company; and (iii) provide reasonable assurance regarding prevention or timely detection of unauthorized acquisition, use, or disposition of the Company's assets that could have a material effect on the financial statements.

Management assessed the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004. In making its assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting, management of the Company has utilized the criteria established in Internal Control - Integrated Framework issued by the Committee of Sponsoring Organizations of the Treadway Commission (COSO).

Based on management's assessment, we concluded that, as of December 31, 2004, the Company's internal control over financial reporting is effective based on those criteria. Our assessment of the effectiveness of our internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004 has excluded the pawn operating assets acquired from Camco, Inc., which operated under the trade name SuperPawn (SuperPawn), because they were acquired by the Company in a purchase business combination during 2004. SuperPawn is included in a consolidated subsidiary and SuperPawn's total revenues and total assets represented 1.2% and 21.2%, respectively, of the related consolidated financial statement amounts as of and for the year ended December 31, 2004.

Our assessment of the effectiveness of the Company's internal control over financial reporting as of December 31, 2004 has been audited by PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP, an independent registered public accounting firm, as stated in their report which appears in this Form 10-K.

CASH AMERICA INTERNATIONAL, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. Nature of the Company

Cash America International, Inc. (the Company) is a provider of specialty financial services to U.S. consumers. The Company offers secured non-recourse loans, commonly referred to as pawn loans, to individuals through its pawn lending operations. The pawn loan portfolio generates finance and service charges revenue. A related activity of the lending operations is the disposition of merchandise, primarily collateral from unredeemed pawn loans. As an alternative to a pawn loan, the Company offers unsecured cash advances in selected locations and on behalf of third-party banks in other locations. The Company also provides check cashing and other money services through many of its cash advance locations and through its franchised and company owned check cashing centers. Prior to September 7, 2004, the Company also provided financial services to individuals in the United Kingdom and Sweden (the foreign pawn lending operations). The foreign pawn lending operations were sold to an investor in the United Kingdom. See Note 4.

As of December 31, 2004, the Company's pawn lending operations consisted of 452 pawnshops, including 441 owned units and 11 franchised units in 21 states.

As of December 31, 2004, the Company's cash advance operations consisted of 253 locations, including 175 locations through Cashland Financial Services, Inc. (Cashland), a wholly-owned subsidiary, 32 southern California locations that have historically operated under the trade names Urgent Money and GoldX, and 46 Cash America Payday Advance locations (collectively referred to as cash advance locations).

As of December 31, 2004, the check cashing operations of Mr. Payroll Corporation (Mr. Payroll), a wholly-owned subsidiary, consisted of 128 franchised and 6 company-owned check cashing centers in 20 states.

2. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Presentation The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company's majority-owned subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated in consolidation.

In September 2004, the Company sold its foreign pawn lending operations in the United Kingdom and Sweden. The results of the foreign pawn lending operations have been reclassified as discontinued operations for all periods presented in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (SFAS) No. 144, Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets. See Note 4. Additionally, in September 2001, the Company announced plans to exit the rent-to-own business in order to focus on its core lending business. In June 2002, the Company sold the remaining assets of its rent-to-own business. The results of the rent-to-own business have been reclassified as discontinued operations in accordance with Accounting Standards Board (APB) Opinion 30, Reporting of Results of Operations - Discontinued Events and Extraordinary Items.

Use of Estimates The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the dates of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting periods. On an ongoing basis, management evaluates its estimates and judgments, including those related to revenue recognition, merchandise held for disposition, allowance for losses on cash advances, long-lived and intangible assets, income taxes, contingencies and litigation. Management bases its estimates on historical experience and on various other assumptions that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis for making judgments about the carrying values of assets and liabilities. Actual results may differ from these estimates under different assumptions or conditions.

Foreign Currency Translations Notes receivable and related interest receivable resulting from the sale of the Company's foreign pawn lending operations are denominated in the Swedish kronor. The balances are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rates in effect at the balance sheet date. Interest income on the notes is translated at the monthly average exchange rates. All realized and unrealized transaction gains and losses are included in determining net income for the reporting period.

For the periods prior to the sale of its foreign pawn lending operations, the functional currencies for the foreign subsidiaries are the local currencies. The assets and liabilities of those subsidiaries are translated into U.S. dollars at the exchange rates in effect at each balance sheet date, and the resulting adjustments are accumulated in other comprehensive income (loss) as a separate component of stockholders' equity. Revenue and expenses are translated at the monthly average exchange rates occurring during each year.

Cash and Cash Equivalents The Company considers cash on hand in operating locations, deposits in banks and short-term marketable securities with original maturities of 90 days or less as cash and cash equivalents.

Revenue Recognition Pawn loans are made on the pledge of tangible personal property. The Company accrues finance and service charges revenue only on those pawn loans that the Company deems collectible based on historical loan redemption statistics. Pawn loans written during each calendar month are aggregated and tracked for performance. The gathering of this empirical data allows the Company to analyze the characteristics of its outstanding pawn loan portfolio and estimate the probability of collection of finance and service charges. For loans not repaid, the carrying value of the forfeited collateral (merchandise held for disposition) is stated at the lower of cost (cash amount loaned) or market. Revenue is recognized at the time that merchandise is sold. Interim customer payments for layaway sales are recorded as customer deposits and subsequently recognized as revenue during the period in which the final payment is received.

Cash advances provide customers with cash in exchange for a promissory note or other repayment agreement supported by that customer's personal check for the aggregate amount of the cash advanced plus a service fee. To repay the cash advance, customers may redeem their check by paying cash or they may allow the check to be presented for collection. The Company accrues fees and interest on cash advances on a constant yield basis ratably over their terms. For those locations that offer cash advances from third-party banks, the Company receives an administrative fee for services provided on the banks' behalf. These fees are recorded in revenue when earned.

The Company records fees derived from its owned check cashing locations and cash advance locations in the period in which the service is provided. Royalties derived from franchise locations are recorded on the accrual basis.

Allowance for Losses on Cash Advances In order to manage its portfolio of cash advances effectively, the Company utilizes a variety of underwriting criteria, monitors the performance of the portfolio, and maintains an allowance for losses.

Table of Contents

CASH AMERICA INTERNATIONAL, INC. AND SUBSIDIARIES

The Company maintains an allowance for losses on cash advances (including fees and interest) at a level estimated to be adequate to absorb credit losses inherent in the outstanding combined Company and bank portfolio. The allowance for losses on Company-owned cash advances offsets the outstanding cash advance amounts in the consolidated balance sheets. Active bank-originated cash advances that the Company doesn't have a participation interest in are not included in the consolidated balance sheet. Since losses on cash advances assigned to the Company by the banks are the Company's responsibility, an accrual for losses on bank-owned cash advances is maintained and included in Accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying consolidated balance sheet. See Note 5.

Cash advances written by the Company during each calendar month are aggregated and tracked to develop a performance history. The Company stratifies the outstanding combined portfolio by age, delinquency, and stage of collection when assessing the adequacy of the allowance for losses. Historical collection performance adjusted for recent portfolio performance trends is utilized to develop expected loss rates, which are used for the establishment of the allowance. Increases in the allowance are created by recording a cash advance loss provision in the consolidated statements of operations. The Company charges off all cash advances once they are 60 days past due, or sooner if deemed uncollectible. Recoveries on losses previously charged to the allowance are credited to the allowance when collected.

The allowance deducted from the carrying value of cash advances was $4,358,000 and $3,393,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. The accrual for losses on bank-owned cash advances was $342,000 and $55,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively. See Note 5.

Merchandise Held for Disposition and Cost of Disposed Merchandise Merchandise held for disposition includes merchandise acquired from unredeemed loans, merchandise purchased directly from the public and merchandise purchased from vendors. Merchandise held for disposition is stated at the lower of cost (specific identification) or market. The cost of merchandise, computed on the specific identification basis, is removed from merchandise held for disposition and recorded as a cost of revenue at the time of sale. The Company provides an allowance for valuation and shrinkage based on management's evaluation of the characteristics of the merchandise. The allowance deducted from the carrying value of merchandise held for disposition amounted to $1,445,000 and $1,410,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

Property and Equipment Property and equipment is recorded at cost. The cost of property retired or sold and the related accumulated depreciation are removed from the accounts, and any resulting gain or loss is recognized in the consolidated statements of operations. Depreciation expense is generally provided on a straight-line basis, using the following estimated useful lives:

Buildings and building improvements ⁽¹⁾	7 to 40 years
Leasehold improvements ⁽²⁾	2 to 10 years
Furniture, fixtures and equipment.	3 to 7 years
Computer software.	3 to 5 years

(1) Structural components are depreciated over 30 to 40 years and the remaining building systems and features are depreciated over 7 to 10 years.

(2) Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the terms of the lease agreements.

Software Development Costs The Company develops computer software for internal use. Internal and external costs incurred for the development of computer applications, as well as for upgrades and enhancements that result in additional functionality of the applications, are capitalized. Internal and external training and maintenance costs are charged to expense as incurred. When an application is placed in service, the Company begins amortizing the related capitalized software costs using the straight-line method and an estimated useful life varying from 3 to 5 years.

Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets SFAS No. 142, Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets, became effective January 1, 2002, and, as a result, the Company discontinued the amortization of goodwill as of that date. In lieu of amortization, the Company is required to perform an impairment review of goodwill at least annually. The Company completed its reviews during 2002, 2003 and 2004. Based on the results of these tests, management determined that there was no impairment as the respective fair values of each of the Company's reporting units exceeded their respective carrying amounts. See Note 7.

The Company amortizes intangible assets with an estimable life on the basis of their expected periods of benefit, generally 2 to 10 years. Accumulated amortization of these intangible assets was $1,947,000 and $783,000 at December 31, 2004 and 2003, respectively.

The costs of start-up activities and organization costs are charged to expense as incurred.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets An evaluation of the recoverability of property and equipment and intangible assets subject to amortization is performed whenever the facts and circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired. An impairment loss is recognized if the future undiscounted cash flows associated with the asset are less than the asset's corresponding carrying value. The amount of the impairment loss, if any, is the excess of the asset's carrying value over its estimated fair value.

Income Taxes The provision for income taxes is based on income before income taxes as reported for financial statement purposes. Deferred income taxes are provided for in accordance with the assets and liability method of accounting for income taxes in order to recognize the tax effects of temporary differences between financial statement and income tax accounting.

Hedging and Derivatives Activity As a policy, the Company does not engage in speculative or leveraged transactions, nor does it hold or issue financial instruments for trading purposes. The Company does periodically use derivative financial instruments, such as interest rate cap agreements, for the purpose of managing interest rate exposures that exist from ongoing business operations. At December 31, 2004, the Company entered into an interest rate cap agreement that is designated neither as a cash flow hedge nor a fair value hedge pursuant to SFAS No. 133, Accounting for Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities (SFAS 133), and its corresponding amendments under SFAS No. 138 Accounting for Certain Derivative Instruments and Certain Hedging Activities - an Amendment of FASB Statement No. 133 (SFAS 138) and SFAS No. 149 Amendment of FASB Statement No. 133 on Derivative and Hedging Activities (SFAS 149). The fair value of the interest rate cap agreement is recognized in the accompanying balance sheet and changes in its fair value are recognized in earnings. The Company may also periodically enter into forward sale contracts with a major gold bullion bank to sell fine gold that is produced in the normal course of business from the Company's liquidation of forfeited gold merchandise. These contracts are not accounted for as derivatives because they meet the criteria for the normal purchases and normal sales scope exception in SFAS 133. In addition, the Company may periodically transfer funds between currencies and may concurrently enter into short-term currency swaps to eliminate the risk of currency fluctuations. See Note 14.

Advertising Costs Costs of advertising are expensed at the time of first occurrence. Advertising expense for continuing operations was $11,210,000, $7,355,000 and $3,811,000 for the years ended December 31, 2004, 2003, and 2002, respectively.

Stock-Based Compensation The Company accounts for its stock-based employee compensation plans in accordance with APB Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees (APB 25), often referred to as the intrinsic value based method, and accordingly, no compensation expense has been recognized. In October 1995, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) issued SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation (SFAS 123). SFAS 123 encourages expensing the fair value of employee stock options, but allows an entity to continue to account for stock based compensation under APB 25 with disclosures of the pro forma effect on net income had the fair value accounting provisions of SFAS 123 been adopted. In December 2002, SFAS 123 was amended by SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation - Transition and Disclosure, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 123 . The table below illustrates the effect on net income and earnings per share if the Company had applied SFAS 123 and calculated the fair value of options granted using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model (in thousands, except per share amounts).

Included in the pro forma amounts below for 2004 and 2003 is the effect of the vesting of 576,547 and 1,021,725 shares, respectively, which accelerated pursuant to the original terms of the options due to price performance of the shares of the Company. As a result, the pro forma compensation expense of those option shares is moved forward into the current year, eliminating it from future years had scheduled vesting occurred during the years 2005 through 2007.

^(a) Determined under fair value based method for all awards, net of related tax effects. All awards refers to awards granted, modified, or settled in fiscal periods beginning after December 15, 1994, that is, options for which the fair value was required to be measured under SFAS 123.

The pro forma amounts of stock options granted were estimated on the date of grant using the Black-Scholes option-pricing model. No stock options were granted during 2004. For options granted during 2003 and 2002, the following weighted average assumptions were made:

	2003	2002
Expected term (years)	8.2	8.2
Risk-free interest rate	4.14%	5.23%
Expected dividend yield	0.54%	0.63%
Expected volatility	49.5%	56.7%

Net Income Per Share Basic net income per share is computed by dividing net income by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the year. Diluted net income per share is calculated by giving effect to the potential dilution that could occur if securities or other contracts to issue common shares were exercised and converted into common shares during the year.

As of December 31, 2004, no anti-dilutive shares were included in the above computations.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements In December 2004, FASB issued Statement 123 (revised 2004), Share-Based Payment (SFAS 123R). SFAS 123R requires that the cost resulting from all share-based payment transactions be recognized in the financial statements over the period during which an employee is required to provide service in exchange for the award. SFAS 123R establishes fair value as the measurement objective in accounting for share-based payment arrangements and requires all entities to apply a fair-value-based method in accounting for share-based transactions with employees. SFAS 123R also amends FASB Statement No. 95, Statement of Cash Flows, to require that excess tax benefits be reported as a financing cash inflow rather than as a reduction of taxes paid. SFAS 123R is effective as of the beginning of the first interim reporting period that begins after June 15, 2005 and is not expected to have a significant impact on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations because of the Company's decision to transition from its stock option compensation program to a restricted stock unit compensation program that is recognized as an expense, prior to the implementation of the new pronouncement.

In December 2003, the Accounting Standards Executive Committee (AcSEC) issued Statement of Position 03-3 (SOP 03-3), Accounting for Certain Loans or Debt Securities Acquired in a Transfer. SOP 03-3 requires that the excess of contractual cash flows over cash flows expected to be collected not be recognized as an adjustment of yield, loss accrual, or valuation allowance. Subsequent increases in cash flows expected to be collected generally should be recognized prospectively through adjustment of the loan's yield over its remaining life and decreases in cash flows expected to be collected should be recognized as impairment. SOP 03-3 is effective for loans acquired in fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2004 and is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's consolidated financial position or results of operations.

Reclassifications Certain amounts in the consolidated financial statements for 2003 and 2002 have been reclassified to conform to the presentation format adopted in 2004. These reclassifications have no effect on net income or stockholders' equity previously reported.

3. Acquisitions

SuperPawn In keeping with its business strategy to expand its service offerings to a larger number of potential customers, on December 10, 2004, the Company completed the acquisition of substantially all of the pawn operating assets of Camco, Inc., which operated under the trade name SuperPawn in four states in the western United States. SuperPawn is a 41-store chain based in Las Vegas, Nevada. The transaction provided the Company its initial entry into the western United States for pawn lending activities. The aggregate purchase consideration and costs totaled $118,363,000, which consisted of $104,802,000 in cash which includes a payable for $1,500,000 that is to be reconciled upon post transaction accounting and settled in early 2005, 578,793 shares of the Company's stock valued at $12,562,000 and acquisition costs of $999,000.

Other Acquisitions The Company acquired, in two distinct transactions, the operating assets of 32 cash advance locations in southern California operating under the trade names GoldX (acquired on August 31, 2004) and Urgent Money (acquired on September 20, 2004) for $14,628,000 in cash. The Company also acquired a pawnshop in Florida in November 2004 for $589,000. The operating results of those locations have been included in the consolidated financial statements since the respective dates of acquisition.

The Company's June 30, 2003 asset purchase agreement for the purchase of the assets of Cashland, Inc. through Cashland Financial Services, Inc. (Cashland), a wholly-owned subsidiary, contained a provision under which the seller could potentially have received additional consideration based upon the future earnings of the business. On February 2, 2004, the parties amended the asset purchase agreement to eliminate that provision and to provide instead for the Company to make a final payment of additional consideration in the amount of $5,400,000. The payment consisted of $2,900,000 in cash and a subordinated note for $2,500,000 (see Note 9). The Company increased goodwill for the additional consideration and other cost adjustments totaling $5,406,000.

The following table provides information concerning the acquisitions made by the Company's continuing operations during 2004 and 2003 ($ in thousands):

4. Discontinued Operations

In order to dedicate its strategic efforts and resources on the growth opportunities of pawn lending and cash advance activities in the United States, the Company announced in September 2004, the sale of its foreign pawn lending operations in the United Kingdom and Sweden to Rutland Partners LLP for $104,908,000 cash after paying off the outstanding balance of the multi-currency line of credit, and two separate subordinated notes receivable valued at $7,962,000. The Company realized a gain of $19,023,000 ($15,415,000 net of related taxes) upon the sale of the discontinued operations. The amount of goodwill included in the determination of the gain was $18,479,000. In connection with the sale, the Company declared a special dividend of $0.30 per share to its shareholders that was paid in December 2004. The special dividend reflects a share of the significant gain realized on the sale.

The subordinated notes received are the sole obligation of the company that acquired the Swedish pawn lending operations and are both subordinated as to rights and payment terms to certain senior lenders in the transaction. The senior subordinated note received in the maximum principal amount of SEK 80,400,000 (approximately $10,685,000 face value at the date of sale with a discounted value of $8,262,000 at December 31, 2004) bears a coupon rate of 8.33% per annum (effective yield of 16.4% per annum) payable quarterly with scheduled principal payments due between 2007 and 2011 subject to terms of the senior indebtedness. The convertible junior subordinated note received in the amount of SEK 13,400,000 (approximately $1,781,000 face value at the date of sale with discounted value of $874,000 at December 31, 2004) bears a coupon rate of 10.0% per annum (effective yield of 25.5% per annum) payable quarterly with the entire principal or remaining unconverted principal due in 2014. This subordinated note is convertible after two years, at the Company's option, into approximately 27.7% of the equity interest on a fully diluted basis in the acquiring company. Upon conversion to equity shares, the Company has no voting rights.

As the issuer of the two subordinated notes is heavily leveraged with minimal equity, and due to the subordination feature and the payment structure of the two notes, the Company has valued the notes based on comparable yields for securities of this nature and discounted the senior subordinated note with 8.33% coupon rate and face value of $10,685,000 to $7,197,000 at the date of sale to yield 16.4% per annum, and the junior subordinated convertible note with 10.0% coupon rate and face value of $1,781,000 to $765,000 at the date of sale to yield 25.5% per annum. Foreign currency transaction gains of $1,116,000 on the U.S. dollar equivalent value of the subordinated notes and the accrued interest receivable at December 31, 2004 was recognized in the Company's consolidated statements of operations.

In addition, in September 2001, the Company adopted a formal plan to exit the rent-to-own business conducted by the Company's subsidiary, Rent-A-Tire, Inc. (Rent-A-Tire). The Company closed 21 Rent-A-Tire operating locations and held the remaining 22 locations for sale. In conjunction with the plan, a charge was recorded in the quarter ended September 30, 2001 to establish a reserve for the estimated loss on disposal of the rental business segment. This charge included a provision for operating losses subsequent to September 1, 2001, the effective date of the plan, and a provision for the estimated loss on the sale of remaining assets. On June 14, 2002, the Company sold the assets of the 22 Rent-A-Tire stores for proceeds of approximately $3,000,000 in cash. During 2002, the Company recorded a $1,214,000 ($800,000 after income tax) reduction in the original charge to the reserve, due to both a decrease in the Company's expected future operating lease obligations (net of expected sublease income) for closed stores and proceeds from the sale of assets in excess of the original estimate. The remaining balance of the reserve of $325,000 at December 31, 2004, consists primarily of expected future operating lease obligations (net of expected sublease income) for closed stores. The reserve is included in Accounts payable and accrued expenses in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

5. Cash Advances, Allowance for Losses and Accruals for Losses on Bank-Owned Cash Advances

The Company offers the cash advance product through most of its pawnshops and cash advance locations. Cash advances are generally offered for a term of 7 to 45 days, depending on the customer's next payday. The Company originates cash advances in some of its locations and markets and services cash advances made by third-party banks in other Company locations. The Company entered into an agreement with a second third-party bank that began offering cash advances in some of those locations in the second quarter of 2004.

Under the banks' program, the banks sell participation interests in the bank originated cash advances to third parties, and the Company purchases sub-participation interests in certain of those participations. The Company also receives an administrative fee for its services. In order to benefit from the use of the Company's collection resources and proficiency, the banks assign cash advances unpaid after maturity to the Company at a discount from the amount owed by the borrower. Losses on cash advances assigned to the Company that prove uncollectible are the responsibility of the Company. To the extent that the Company collects an amount owed by the customer in excess of the amount assigned by the banks, the Company is entitled to the excess and recognizes it in income when collected. Since the Company may not be successful in the collection of the assigned accounts, the Company's cash advance loss provision

7. Goodwill and Other Intangible Assets

Effective January 1, 2002, all goodwill and other intangible assets having an indefinite useful life are no longer amortized to earnings but are tested for impairment annually at June 30, or more frequently if events or changes in circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired, using a two-step impairment assessment. The first step of the goodwill impairment test, used to identify potential impairment, compares the fair value of a reporting unit with its carrying amount, including goodwill. If the fair value of a reporting unit exceeds its carrying amount, goodwill of the reporting unit is considered not impaired, and the second step of the impairment test is not necessary. If the carrying amount of a reporting unit exceeds its fair value, the second step of the goodwill impairment test is performed to measure the amount of impairment loss, if any. The useful lives of other intangible assets must be reassessed and the remaining amortization periods adjusted accordingly.

The Company adopted the provisions of SFAS 142 on January 1, 2002. Based on the results of the initial and the subsequent annual impairment tests, management determined that there have been no impairments.

Goodwill Changes in the carrying value of goodwill for the years ended December 31, 2004 and 2003, were as follows (in thousands):

9. Long-term Debt

The Company's long-term debt instruments and balances outstanding at December 31, 2004 and 2003, were as follows (in thousands):

	2004	2003
U.S. line of credit up to $130,000 due July 31, 2006	$ 92,483	$ 68,111

Total debt	166,626	148,040
Less current portion	16,786	8,286
Total long-term debt	$ 149,840	$ 139,754

In connection with the sale of the foreign pawn lending operations and the acquisition of SuperPawn, the Company entered into agreements to amend certain terms and calculations of covenants under the U.S. line of credit, and the 8.14%, 7.10% and 7.20% senior notes.

Under the terms of its U.S. line of credit agreement, as of March 31, 2004, the borrowing capacity was reduced to $130,000,000 from $135,000,000. In February 2005, the Company amended and restated the existing line of credit agreement to increase the credit limit to $250,000,000 and extend the maturity to February 2010. Interest on the amended line of credit is charged, at the Company's option, at either LIBOR plus a margin or at the agent's base rate. The margin on the line of credit varies from 0.875% to 1.875%, depending on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios as defined in the amended agreement. The Company pays a fee on the unused portion ranging from 0.25% to 0.30% based on the Company's cash flow leverage ratios as defined in the amended agreement.

The credit agreements and the senior unsecured notes require the Company to maintain certain financial ratios. The Company is in compliance with all covenants or other requirements set forth in its debt agreements.

Pursuant to the amended Cashland asset purchase agreement, the Company issued a subordinated note for $2,500,000 as a partial consideration of the final payment. Interest on this note accrues at 12% per annum and is payable semi-annually. The note principal is payable in nine equal annual installments beginning in February 2006. The final payment is due in February 2014. However, the note may be prepaid after February 1, 2006.

As of December 31, 2004, the Company had net capital loss carryovers of $1,017,000, principally related to a previous investment. These losses may only be used to offset net capital gains. Any unused losses expire in 2006 through 2007. The deferred tax valuation allowances at December 31, 2004 and 2003 were provided to reduce deferred tax benefits of capital losses that the Company does not expect to realize. During 2004 and 2003, the Company reduced the valuation allowance by $6,979,000 and $487,000, respectively, as a result of capital gains arising during those years. The decrease in the valuation allowance during 2004 includes $6,813,000 attributable to gains recognized on disposal of discontinued foreign operations. The tax benefit resulting from that portion of the decrease reduced the tax provision on the gain from disposal of discontinued foreign operations (see Note 4). Upon adoption of SFAS 142 in 2002 (see Note 7) $406,000 of deferred tax assets was eliminated through a corresponding increase in goodwill.

Leases The Company leases certain of its facilities under operating leases with terms ranging from 3 to 15 years and certain rights to extend for additional periods. Future minimum rentals due under non-cancelable leases for continuing operations are as follows for each of the years ending December 31 (in thousands):

Rent expense for continuing operations was $24,734,000, $21,151,000 and $19,904,000 for 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Guarantees The Company guaranteed obligations under certain operating leases for the premises related to the 22 Rent-A-Tire stores sold in June 2002. In the event the buyer is unable to perform under the operating leases, the Company's maximum aggregate potential obligation under these guarantees was approximately $827,000 at December 31, 2004. This amount is reduced dollar-for-dollar by future amounts paid on these operating leases by the buyer. In the event that the buyer fails to perform and the Company is required to make payments under these leases, the Company will seek to mitigate its losses by subleasing the properties or buying out of the leases. See Note 4.

Litigation On August 6, 2004, James E. Strong filed a purported class action lawsuit in the State Court of Cobb County, Georgia against Georgia Cash America, Inc., Cash America International, Inc. (together with Georgia Cash America, Inc., Cash America), Daniel R. Feehan, and several unnamed officers, directors, owners and stakeholders of Cash America. The lawsuit alleges many different causes of action, among the most significant of which is that Cash America has been making illegal payday loans in Georgia in violation of Georgia's usury law, the Georgia Industrial Loan Act and Georgia's Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act. Community State Bank has for some time made loans to Georgia residents through Cash America's Georgia operating locations. The complaint in this lawsuit claims that Community State Bank is not the true lender with respect to the loans made to Georgia borrowers and that its involvement in the process is a mere subterfuge. Based on this claim, the suit alleges that Cash America is the de facto lender and is illegally operating in Georgia. The complaint seeks unspecified compensatory damages, attorney's fees, punitive damages and the trebling of any compensatory damages. The Company believes that the claims in this suit are without merit and intends to vigorously defend this lawsuit. Cash America has filed a motion to compel Mr. Strong to arbitrate his claim. Discovery has not yet commenced in this lawsuit, and as a result neither the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome nor the ultimate liability, if any, with respect to this litigation can be determined at this time. Cash America removed the case to federal court and filed a motion to compel the plaintiff to arbitrate his claim, in addition to denying the plaintiff's allegations and asserting various defenses to his claim. The plaintiff has filed a motion to remand the case to Georgia state court. As of December 31, 2004, the parties await court rulings on the various motions. Because this case is at a very early stage, neither the likelihood of an unfavorable outcome nor the ultimate liability, if any, with respect to this litigation can be determined at this time.

The Company is also a defendant in certain lawsuits encountered in the ordinary course of its business. Certain of these matters are covered to an extent by insurance. In the opinion of management, the resolution of these matters will not have a material adverse effect on the Company's financial position, results of operations or liquidity.

12. Stockholders Equity

During 2004, the Company received net proceeds totaling $6,067,000 from the exercise of stock options for 707,199 shares. The Company issued 578,793 and 1,533,333 treasury shares valued at $12,562,000 and $16,805,000, respectively, in connection with the acquisitions of SuperPawn in 2004 and Cashland in 2003.

The Company received 5,605 and 436 shares of its common stock valued at $130,000, and $8,000 during 2004 and 2003, respectively, as partial payment for shares issued under stock option plans. The Company also received 21,800 shares valued at $200,000 as partial payment on officer loans.

On July 25, 2002, the Company's Board of Directors authorized management to purchase up to one million shares of its common stock in the open market and terminated the existing open market purchase authorization established in 2000. The following table summarizes the aggregate shares purchased under these plans during each of the three years ended December 31:

	2004	2003	2002
Shares purchased:
Under 2000 authorization			176,700
Under 2002 authorization	173,200	199,800	109,000
Total shares purchased	173,200	199,800	285,700
Aggregate amount (in thousands)	$ 3,976	$ 2,281	$ 2,220
Average price paid per share	$ 22.96	$ 11.42	$ 7.77

Periodically, shares are purchased in the open market on behalf of participants relating to the Non-Qualified Savings Plan. Certain amounts are subsequently distributed or transferred to participants' 401(k) account annually based on results of the plan's administration testing results. Activities during each of the three years ended December 31 are summarized as follows:

	2004	2003	2002
Purchases:
Number of shares	13,355	13,756	24,206
Aggregate amount (in thousands)	$ 315	$ 173	$ 200
Distributions and transfers to 401(k) savings plan:
Number of shares	8,162	15,834	27,855
Aggregate amount (in thousands)	$ 83	$ 143	$ 258

The Board of Directors adopted an officer stock loan program (the "Program") in 1994 and modified it in 1996, 2001 and 2002. The amendment in 2002 provided that no further advances would be made to existing participants and closed the plan to new participants. Prior to the 2002 amendment, Program participants utilized loan proceeds to acquire and hold the Company's and affiliates' common stock by means of stock option exercises or otherwise. Common stock held as a result of the loan is pledged to the Company in support of the obligation. Interest accrues at 6% per annum. The entire unpaid balance of principal and interest on these loans is due and payable on July 24, 2007.

During 2003, the Chairman of the Board of Directors sold 139,400 shares of common stock that had been pledged to the Company to secure a loan under the Program. The proceeds of $1,749,000 from the sale were used to repay the loan in full. The Company's Chief Executive Officer and other officers also made principal and interest payments totaling $1,795,000 toward such loans during 2003. Amounts due under the Program are reflected as a reduction of stockholders' equity in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets.

13. Employee Benefit Plans

The Cash America International, Inc. 401(k) Savings Plan is open to substantially all employees who meet specific length of employment and age requirements. The Cash America International, Inc. Nonqualified Savings Plan is available to certain members of management. Participants may contribute up to 50% of their earnings to these plans. The Company makes matching cash contributions of 50% of each participant's contributions, based on participant contributions of up to 5% of compensation. Company contributions vest at the rate of 20% each year after one year of service; thus a participant is 100% vested after five years of service. The Company's total contributions to the 401(k) Savings plan for the continuing operations were $952,000, $716,000 and $617,000 in 2004, 2003 and 2002, respectively.

In addition to the retirement plans mentioned above, the Company established a Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (SERP) for its officers in 2003. The Company makes an annual discretionary cash contribution to the SERP based on the objectives of the plan as approved by the Management Development and Compensation Committee of the Board of Directors. The Company recorded compensation expense of $455,000 and $432,000 for contributions to the SERP during 2004 and 2003, respectively.

The amounts included in the Company's consolidated balance sheets relating to the Nonqualified Savings Plan and the SERP were as follows (in thousands):

	As of December 31,
	2004	2003
Other receivables and prepaid expenses	$ 3,910	$ 2,799
Accounts payable and accrued expenses	3,910	2,799
Other liabilities	630	412
Treasury shares	873	634

14. Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities

The Company entered into an interest rate cap agreement on December 31, 2004 with a notional amount of $12,000,000 of the Company's outstanding floating rate U.S. line of credit for a term of 12 months at a fixed rate of 4.0%. This interest rate cap is not designated as a cash flow hedge or a fair value hedge pursuant to SFAS 133, SFAS 138 and SFAS149. The fair value of the interest rate cap agreement of $9,000 at December 31, 2004 is included in Other assets of the accompanying consolidated balance sheet. There was no derivative instrument outstanding at December 31, 2003.

The accompanying consolidated statements of operations include losses from derivative valuation fluctuations of $177,000 during the year ended December 31, 2002 as a result of adjustments to the estimated fair value of interest rate cap agreements.

15. Stock Purchase Rights

In August 1997, the Board of Directors declared a dividend distribution of one Common Stock Purchase Right (the Rights) for each outstanding share of its common stock. The Rights become exercisable in the event a person or group acquires 15% or more of the Company's common stock or announces a tender offer, the consummation of which would result in ownership by a person or group of 15% or more of the common stock. If any person becomes a 15% or more shareholder of the Company, each Right (subject to certain limits) will entitle its holder (other than such person or members of such group) to purchase, for $37.00, the number of shares of the Company's common stock determined by dividing $74.00 by the then current market price of the common stock. The Rights will expire on August 5, 2007.

16. Stock Options and Restricted Stock Units

Under various equity compensation plans (the Plans) it sponsors, the Company is authorized to issue 8,300,000 shares of Common Stock pursuant to Awards granted as incentive stock options (intended to qualify under Section 422 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended), nonqualified stock options and restricted stock units.

Stock Options Stock options granted under the Plans have contractual terms of 5 to 15 years and have an exercise price equal to or greater than the fair market value of the stock at grant date. Stock options granted vest over periods ranging from 1 to 7 years. However, the terms of options with the 7-year vesting periods and certain of the 4-year and 5-year vesting periods include provisions which accelerate vesting if specified share price appreciation criteria are met. During 2004 and 2003, 576,547 and 1,021,725 shares vested due to the acceleration provisions. No accelerated vesting of stock options occurred in 2002.

A summary of the Company's stock option activity for each of the three years ended December 31, is as follows (shares in thousands):

$ 5.94 to $ 17.14	1,633	$ 10.26	5.3	1,583	$ 10.04

Restricted Stock Units In January 2004, the Company changed its approach to annual equity based compensation awards and granted restricted stock units to its officers under the provisions of the 1994 Long-Term Incentive Plan in lieu of stock options. In April 2004, the Company adopted the 2004 Long-Term Incentive Plan, which was approved by shareholders at the 2004 annual shareholders meeting held April 21, 2004 and granted restricted stock units to the non-management members of the Board of Directors.

The aggregate fair value of these restricted units was $2,597,000 based on their market value as of the date of the grant. The amount attributable to officer grants is being amortized to expense over a four-year period, as the officer units vest on each of the first four anniversaries of the grant date. Director units have the same vesting schedule, but for directors with five or more years of service the vesting of units held for one year or more accelerates upon the director's departure from the Board. Because all of the Company's current directors have served for more than five years, the market value of the units attributable to directors is being amortized to expense over a one-year period.

In December 2003, the Company granted restricted stock units to its officers in conjunction with the adoption of the Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan. Each vested restricted stock unit entitles the holder to receive a share of the common stock of the Company to be issued upon termination of employment from the Company. The aggregate fair value of these restricted stock units was $4,485,000 based on their market value as of the date of grant. This amount is being amortized to expense over the vesting periods of 4 to 15 years.

Compensation expense totaling $1,199,000 ($779,000 net of related taxes) and $14,000 ($9,000 net of related taxes) were recognized for 2004 and 2003, respectively, for all of the above restricted stock units granted.

The following table summarizes the restricted stock units activity during 2004 and 2003:

	2004		2003

18. Operating Segment Information

During the quarter ended March 31, 2004, the Company realigned its segment reporting to reflect the business mix and management reporting structure. The Company's continuing operations has three reportable operating segments, the pawn lending operations; the cash advance operations; and the check cashing operations (Mr. Payroll). Cash advance and check cashing are managed separately due to the different operational strategies required and therefore, are reported as separate segments.

The accounting policies of the segments are the same as those described in Note 2. Management of the Company evaluates performance based on income from operations before net interest expense, other miscellaneous items of income or expense, and the provision for income taxes. There are no sales between operating segments.

As described in Note 4, the Company reclassified the results of operations of its foreign lending operations and rent-to-own business as discontinued operations. These businesses were previously reported as a separate operating segment. The segment data included below has been restated to exclude amounts related to these discontinued operations.

Information concerning the operating segments is set forth below (in thousands):

19. Related Party Transactions

In December 1999, the Company sold three pawnshops, including certain real estate, for $4,520,000 to Ace Pawn, Inc (Ace) whose sole stockholder, J.D. Credit, Inc. (J. D. Credit) is controlled by the Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Company. The purchase price was determined by independent appraisal and approved by the Board of Directors of the Company. A gain of $2,224,000 was recognized on the transaction. The Company received promissory notes from Ace that were collateralized by all of its assets. In addition, J.D. Credit pledged the common stock of Ace and the Chairman of the Board provided a personal guaranty for repayment of the notes. The notes required quarterly principal payments and interest payments at 10% per annum with a final balloon payment due in December 2002. Ace paid off the notes in full on January 13, 2003. The Company recorded interest income from the notes of $9,000 and $285,000 in 2003 and 2002, respectively.

Upon completion of the sale, the three pawnshops were converted to Company franchise units. Royalties recorded by the Company for these units were $54,000, $77,000 and $83,000 for 2004, 2003, and 2002, respectively. The Company has the right of first refusal in the event of a proposed resale of these pawnshops.

In October 2003, the Company purchased one of the pawnshops from Ace for $2,461,000 cash. The purchase price was determined by independent appraisal and approved by the Board of Directors of the Company.

In February 2004, pursuant to the amended Cashland asset purchase agreement, the Company made a final payment of additional consideration in the amount of $5,400,000 to the seller, who was a senior officer of the Company through January 31, 2005. The payment consisted of $2,900,000 in cash and a subordinated note for $2,500,000 (see Note 9). The Company recorded interest expense of $275,000 in 2004. At December 31, 2004, the accrued interest payable on this note was $125,000. The Company also paid rent of $122,000 and $51,000 during 2004 and 2003, respectively, for three Cashland administrative offices and facilities that are owned by the seller.

Under the Company's now discontinued officer stock loan program, the Company recorded interest income of $150,000 and $299,000, respectively, in 2004 and 2003. During 2003, the Company's Chief Executive Officer and other officers made total principal and interest payment of $3,544,000 on these notes. At December 31, 2004 and 2003, the outstanding notes balance was $2,488,000, and accrued interest on these notes was $435,000 and $286,000, respectively.

20. Fair Values of Financial Instruments

The carrying amounts and estimated fair values of financial instruments at December 31, 2004 and 2003, were as follows (in thousands):

	2004		2003
	Carrying Value	Estimated Fair Value	Carrying Value	Estimated Fair Value
Financial assets:
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 15,103	$ 15,103	$ 11,959	$ 11,959

Senior unsecured notes	71,643	73,963	79,929	84,480
Subordinated note	2,500	2,683

Cash and cash equivalents bear interest at market rates and have maturities of less than 90 days. Pawn loans have relatively short maturity periods depending on local regulations, generally 90 days or less. Cash advances have maturity periods of 45 days or less. Finance and service charge rates are determined by regulations and bear no valuation relationship to the capital markets interest rate movements. Generally, pawn loans may only be resold to a licensed pawnbroker.

The fair value of the subordinated notes receivables are estimated by taking the present value of the expected cash flow over the life of the notes discounted at a rate prevalent to financial instruments with similar credit profiles and like terms.

The Company's bank credit facility bears interest at a rate that is frequently adjusted on the basis of market rate changes. The fair values of the remaining long-term debt instruments are estimated based on market values for debt issues with similar characteristics or rates currently available for debt with similar terms.

ITEM 9. CHANGES IN AND DISAGREEMENTS WITH ACCOUNTANTS ON ACCOUNTING AND FINANCIAL DISCLOSURE

None.

ITEM 9A. CONTROLS AND PROCEDURES

Under the supervision and with the participation of the Company's Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, management of the Company has evaluated the effectiveness of the design and operation of the Company's disclosure controls and procedures (as defined in Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934) as of December 31, 2004 (Evaluation Date). Based upon that evaluation, the Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer concluded that, as of the Evaluation Date, the Company's disclosure controls and procedures are effective in timely alerting them to the material information relating to the Company required to be included in its periodic filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The Report of Management on Internal Control Over Financial Reporting is included in Item 8 of this annual report on Form 10-K. There have been no significant changes during the fourth quarter of the year ended December 31, 2004 in the Company's internal control over financial reporting that was identified in connection with management's evaluation described in Item 9A above and has materially affected, or is reasonably likely to materially affect, the Company's internal control over financial reporting. Management's assessment of the Company's internal control over financial reporting excluded the pawn operating assets acquired from Camco, Inc., which operated under the trade name SuperPawn, because they were acquired by the Company in a purchase transaction during 2004.

The Company's management, including its Chief Executive Officer and Chief Financial Officer, does not expect that the Company's disclosure controls and procedures or internal controls will prevent all possible error and fraud. A control system, no matter how well conceived and operated, can provide only reasonable, not absolute, assurance that the objectives of the control system are met. Further, the design of a control system must reflect the fact that there are resource constraints, and the benefits of controls must be considered relative to their costs. Because of the inherent limitations in all control systems, no evaluation of controls can provide absolute assurance that all control issues and instances of fraud, if any, within the Company have been detected.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM ON FINANCIAL STATEMENT SCHEDULE

To the Board of Directors of Cash America International, Inc.

Our audits of the consolidated financial statements, of management's assessment of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting and of the effectiveness of internal control over financial reporting referred to in our report dated February 24, 2005 appearing in this Annual Report on Form 10-K also included an audit of the financial statement schedule listed in Item 15(a)(2) of this Form 10-K. In our opinion, this financial statement schedule presents fairly, in all material respects, the information set forth therein when read in conjunction with the related consolidated financial statements.
