Presentation to Investors and Analysts

InterContinental Hotels Group ("IHG") will today hold a seminar for analysts and investors entitled "Building Profitable Scale". Andy Cosslett, Chief Executive, will outline the favourable environment and growth opportunities for branded scale players in the hotel industry and describe IHG's approach to development in different markets around the world.

He will be joined by Richard Solomons - Chief Financial Officer and Head of Commercial Development; Keith Barr - Managing Director Greater China; Jerry Huang - Senior Vice President Operations Greater China and Kirk Kinsell - President EMEA, who will give more detailed presentations on IHG's leading position and considerable growth opportunities in India, China and the Middle East.

As part of the presentations the following forecasts for 2010 performance will be provided:

In Greater China for the full year 2010 for the managed and franchised business, after an allocation of Asia Pacific regional overheads, IHG is forecasting revenues of $61m and operating profit of $21m.

In the Middle East for the full year 2010 for the managed and franchised business only, IHG is forecasting revenues of $58m and operating profit of $44m.

Commenting on this announcement, Andy Cosslett, CEO of IHG said: "Although China, the Middle East and India are very different markets in terms of their maturity, we will demonstrate today that they represent significant growth opportunities for IHG. Our leading positions, the strength of our brands and our long term relationships with local partners in each of these territories give us a significant competitive advantage."

The presentation will commence at 2pm UK time today. It can be viewed live via a webcast which can be accessed at www.ihgplc.com where presentation materials will also be available for download.
