Item 5.03 Amendments to Articles of Incorporation or Bylaws; Change in Fiscal Year

On December 6, 2006, the board of directors (the Board) of General Dynamics Corporation (the Company) amended Article II, Section 7 of the Company's bylaws to change the voting standard for the election of directors in uncontested elections from a plurality to a majority voting standard. Under the new majority voting standard, a nominee in an uncontested director election will be elected if the number of votes cast for such nominee exceeds the number of votes cast against such nominee. In contested director elections, the plurality voting standard will be retained. In order for an incumbent director to become a nominee for further service on the Board, such person must submit an irrevocable resignation. This resignation will become effective upon that person not receiving a majority of the votes cast in an uncontested election and acceptance of that resignation by the Board.

In connection with this amendment of the Company's bylaws, the Company's Corporate Governance Guidelines were revised to provide that an incumbent director who fails to receive a majority of the votes cast in an uncontested election will not participate in any Board or committee proceedings regarding whether to accept or reject such director's resignation.
