Item 8.01 Other Events.

On January 7, 2009, at the Citigroup Global Entertainment, Media and Telecommunications Conference, Ivan Seidenberg, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of Verizon Communications Inc. (Verizon), provided an update of Verizon's initiatives for sustained organic growth. In his presentation, Mr. Seidenberg stated that:

Verizon estimates that it will report growth in earnings from continuing operations before special items for 2008 in the 7% to 8% range. (Earnings from continuing operations before special items eliminate items of revenues, expenses, gains and losses primarily as a result of their non-operational and/or non-recurring nature).

Verizon also expects to increase consolidated revenues and ARPU and to grow earnings from continuing operations before special items in 2009.

In the first half of 2009, Verizon expects Verizon Business revenues to be flat or somewhat lower compared to the same period in 2008.

Verizon reiterates its long-term goal to have wireline EBITDA margins in the 30-33% range. (EBITDA or earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation and amortization adds depreciation and amortization to operating income. Wireline EBITDA margin is calculated by dividing wireline EBITDA by wireline revenues.)

Verizon reiterates its estimate that capital expenditures in 2008 are expected to be less than $17.5 billion including integration capital related to Rural Cellular. Verizon reiterates its estimate that Verizon Wireless expects to realize potential synergy opportunities from the acquisition of Alltel Corporation. The net present value of expected synergies is more than $9 billion.

For those statements, we claim the protection of the safe harbor for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. The following important factors could affect future results and could cause those results to differ materially from those expressed in the forward-looking statements: materially adverse changes in economic and industry conditions and labor matters, including workforce levels and labor negotiations, and any resulting financial and/or operational impact, in the markets served by us or by companies in which we have substantial investments; material changes in available technology, including disruption of our suppliers' provisioning of critical products or services; the impact of natural or man-made disasters or litigation and any resulting financial impact not covered by insurance; technology substitution; an adverse change in the ratings afforded our debt securities by nationally accredited ratings organizations or adverse conditions in the credit markets impacting the cost, including interest rates, and/or availability of financing; the final results of federal and state regulatory proceedings concerning our provision of retail and wholesale services and judicial review of those results; the effects of competition in our markets; the timing, scope and financial impact of our deployment of fiber-to-the-premises broadband technology; the ability of Verizon Wireless to continue to obtain sufficient spectrum resources; changes in our accounting assumptions that regulatory agencies, including the SEC, may require or that result from changes in the accounting rules or their application, which could result in an impact on earnings; and the ability to complete acquisitions and dispositions.
