Item 8.01 Other Events.

On February 3, 2011, Flotek notified the holders of its shares of Preferred Stock that Flotek was exercising its right to cause all outstanding shares of the Preferred Stock to be automatically converted into shares of Flotek common stock (the "Common Stock") at the prevailing conversion rate.

One of the conditions for mandatory conversion set forth in Section 10 of the certificate of designations governing the Preferred Stock (the "Certificate of Designations") is that the closing price of the Common Stock had been at or above 150% of the current conversion price for the Preferred Stock (i.e., $3.45) for 15 of the prior 30 consecutive trading days. The other condition for mandatory conversion set forth in Section 10 of the Certificate of Designations is that Flotek have paid all accumulated and unpaid dividends on the Preferred Stock for dividend periods ended prior to the date of the conversion notice. As of February 3, 2011, these conditions had been satisfied.

The effective date of the mandatory conversion (the "Mandatory Conversion Date") will be Friday, February 4, 2011. As of the Mandatory Conversion Date, each share of outstanding Preferred Stock will be converted into 434.782 shares of Common Stock and any resulting fractional shares will be paid in cash as provided in the Certificate of Designations.

Additionally, each holder of Preferred Stock is entitled to a dividend payment equal to eight quarterly dividends less all prior dividend payments should the Preferred Stock be mandatorily converted prior to the second anniversary of the issuance of the Preferred Stock. Pursuant to Section 5 of the Certificate of Designations, Flotek will pay the remaining amount of such dividends by delivery of shares of Common Stock. As of the Mandatory Conversion Date, holders will be entitled to receive 13.8356 shares of Common Stock for each share of outstanding Preferred Stock in payment of these dividends. On the Mandatory Conversion Date, dividends will cease to accrue on the converted Preferred Stock.
