Zions Bancorporation

4.50% Senior Notes due March 27, 2017

This is a reopening of the series of notes we initially issued on March 27, 2012. As of April 23, 2012, there was $300,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of the notes outstanding, not including the notes offered by this prospectus supplement. All of the notes being offered hereby are a part of the same series of, and have the same CUSIP as, the notes that initially settled on March 27, 2012. Upon settlement, the notes offered by this prospectus supplement will be fungible with the $300,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of the notes that we have previously issued.

We will pay interest on the notes semi-annually on March 27 and September 27 of each year. The first such payment will be made on September 27, 2012. The notes will be issued only in denominations of $1,000 and integral multiples of $1,000.

We may not redeem the notes prior to maturity.

The notes will not be listed on any national securities exchange. Currently, there is no public market for the notes.

The public offering price and the allocation of the notes in this offering will be determined by an online auction process. During the auction period, potential bidders will be able to place bids at any price at or above the minimum bid price of 98.750000% of the principal amount (or conversely, a maximum yield to maturity of 4.788%) per note and up to and including the maximum bid price of 101.500000% of the principal amount (or conversely, a minimum yield to maturity of 4.158%) per note. Bids below the minimum bid price or above the maximum bid price will not be accepted. The minimum size for any bid is one note ($1,000 principal amount). There is no maximum bid size. If we decide to sell the notes being offered, the public offering price of the notes will equal the market-clearing price. If the number of notes for which valid bids are received is equal to or greater than 100,000 notes ($100,000,000 aggregate principal amount), or the auction amount, the market-clearing price will be equal to the highest price at which 100% of the offered notes can be sold in the auction. If the number of notes for which valid bids are received is 50% or more of the auction amount but less than 100% of the auction amount, the market-clearing price will be equal to the minimum bid price and we may (but are not required to) sell the number of notes subject to bids received in the auction. If the number of notes for which valid bids are received is less than 50% of the auction amount, then the offering will be cancelled and we will not issue any notes in this offering. Even if bids are received for the entire auction amount, we may decide not to sell any notes, regardless of the market-clearing price set in the auction process. The method for submitting bids and a more detailed description of this auction process are described in "The Auction Process" in this prospectus supplement.

You must meet minimum suitability standards in order to purchase the notes. You must be able to understand and bear the risk of an investment in the notes. You should reach an investment decision only after careful consideration, with your advisers, of the suitability of the notes in light of your particular financial circumstances and the information in this prospectus supplement.

Investing in the notes involves certain risks. See Risk Factors beginning on page S-10 of this prospectus supplement to read about certain factors you should consider before buying the notes.

The notes are our unsecured obligations. The notes are not savings accounts, deposits or other obligations of any of our banks or non-bank subsidiaries and are not insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or any other government agency.

Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any other regulatory body has approved or disapproved of these securities or passed upon the accuracy or adequacy of this prospectus supplement or the accompanying prospectus. Any representation to the contrary is a criminal offense.

	Per Note	Total
Public offering price	100.249372%	$ 100,249,372
Underwriting discounts and commissions	0.75%	$ 750,000
Proceeds, before expenses, to us(1)	99.499372%	$ 99,499,372

(1) The underwriter has agreed to pay a fee of $65,000 to our affiliate, Zions Direct, Inc., in its capacity as the auction agent in connection with this offering. See Underwriting (Conflicts of Interest) in this prospectus supplement.

The initial public offering price set forth above does not include accrued interest. Because these notes form a part of the same series of notes that were first issued on March 27, 2012, purchasers will be required to pay, in addition to the initial public offering price of the notes, an amount equal to the interest that has accrued on the notes from and including March 27, 2012 up to, but not including, the settlement date of these notes.

The underwriter expects to deliver the notes through the facilities of The Depository Trust Company ( DTC ) against payment in New York, New York on May 1, 2012.

Recent Developments

On March 13, 2012, the Federal Reserve Board formally notified us that it does not object to the capital actions contained in the Capital Plan, submitted pursuant to the Federal Reserve Board's 2012 Capital Plan and Review. Key capital actions included in that Capital Plan are as follows:

Redemption in 2012 in its entirety ($1.4 billion) of our Series D Preferred Stock held by the U.S. Treasury. We redeemed 50% of the outstanding Series D Preferred Stock on March 28, 2012.

Total cumulative issuance of approximately $600 million of senior debt, including any notes sold pursuant to this prospectus supplement.

Timely redemption upon their maturity of $255 million of our senior floating rate notes due June 21, 2012, which are guaranteed under the FDIC's Temporary Liquidity Guarantee Program.

No change to the current common stock dividend of $0.01/share per quarter through 2012.

The proposed capital actions did not include the issuance of any common or preferred equity or the redemption of our Series E Preferred Stock in 2012.

The Capital Plan submitted by the Company also included certain other provisions designed to assure that Zions Bancorporation (the parent entity) has adequate liquidity at all times, including:

Not making the first installment of the Series D Preferred Stock redemption unless at least $250 million of senior debt had been issued, which condition was satisfied pursuant to our issuance of $300 million of notes on March 27, 2012;

Not making the second installment of the Series D Preferred Stock redemption until a total of $600 million of senior debt had been issued, including the $250 million referred to above; and

Not making the second installment of the Series D Preferred Stock redemption unless at least $500 million of capital and dividends had been returned to Zions Bancorporation (the parent entity) by its affiliate banks in 2012, which requires approval of the banks applicable primary regulators.

The Capital Plan submitted by the Company also included certain other provisions designed to assure that the Company's overall condition had not materially deteriorated, as measured by the Company's required semi-annual stress test in mid-2012 using the Company's stress scenario.

On April 24, 2012, we announced that our Board of Directors approved the issuance via an auction of up to $150,000,000 of a new series of Tier 1 Capital qualifying perpetual preferred stock, the proceeds of which we expect to use to redeem all outstanding shares of our Series E Preferred Stock. The timing of an issuance of the new series of preferred stock is subject to market conditions.

98.750000% of the principal amount (or conversely, the maximum yield to maturity of 4.788%) per note and up to and including the maximum bid price of 101.500000% of the principal amount (or conversely, the minimum yield to maturity of 4.158%) per note. Bids below the minimum bid price or above the maximum bid price will not be accepted.

Minimum Bid Size

One note ($1,000 principal amount).

Maximum Number of Bids

Each bidder who submits a bid directly on the auction platform is allowed to place up to five separate, concurrent bids. A bidder who submits bids indirectly through the underwriter may only place one bid at any time.

Bid Submission Deadline

We will announce the auction at approximately 9:00 a.m., New York City time, on April 24, 2012 so that prospective holders will have time to take the necessary steps to become registered qualified bidders. The auction will then commence at 4:30 p.m., New York City time, on April 25, 2012 and will close at 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on April 26, 2012, subject to two-minute extensions not to exceed a total of fifteen minutes beyond 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on April 26, 2012, as described under "The Auction Process - Auction Bidding Process; Irrevocability of Bids (the submission deadline)". In the event that the market-clearing price reaches the maximum bid price prior to 3:00 p.m., New York City time, on April 26, 2012, then the auction will close immediately. Bidders who elect to submit bids indirectly through the underwriter rather than directly on the auction platform must submit their bids to the underwriter by 2:00 p.m., New York City time, on April 26, 2012. Zions and Deutsche Bank Securities Inc. may in their discretion determine to delay the commencement of the auction to a date after the date specified above at any time prior to the commencement of the auction. Any such delay will be announced by press release, and Zions will file a Form 8-K specifying the revised auction dates, if any. See "The Auction Process."

Irrevocability of Bids

Bids that have been submitted will constitute an irrevocable offer to purchase the notes on the terms provided for in the bid. See "The Auction Process."

Market-Clearing Price

The price at which the notes will be sold to the public will be the market-clearing price set by the auction process. The market-clearing price will be determined based on the valid bids at the time of the submission deadline as follows:

If the number of notes for which valid bids are received is equal to or greater than 100,000 notes ($100,000,000 aggregate principal amount), which we refer to as the auction amount, the market-clearing price for the notes will be equal to the highest price at which the auction amount is sold. The auction agent will determine this price by moving down the list of accepted bids in descending order of bid price until the total quantity of notes bid for is greater than or equal to the auction amount. Bids made at such market-clearing price may experience allocation, with bids with an earlier time stamp receiving allocations in priority to bids with a later time stamp.

If valid bids are received for 50% or more of the auction amount but less than 100% of the auction amount, the market-clearing price will be equal to the minimum bid price of 98.750000% of the principal amount per note.

If at the time of the submission deadline, the number of notes subject to bids is less than 50% of the auction amount, then the offering will be cancelled and we will not issue any notes in this offering.

If we decide to sell notes in the auction process, after we confirm acceptance of the market-clearing price, the auction agent will notify successful bidders, directly or through their brokers, that the auction has closed and that their bids have been accepted (subject in some cases to the allocation method described below). The market-clearing price and number of notes being sold are also expected to be announced by press release soon after the allocation of notes by the auction agent, but in any event, prior to the opening of the equity markets on the business day following the end of the auction. See The Auction Process.

See Appendix A for illustrative price and yield calculations.

Number of Notes to be Sold

We may decide not to sell any notes in the auction process, regardless of the market-clearing price, even if bids are received for the entire auction amount. If bids are received for 100% of the auction amount and we elect to sell notes in the auction process, the entire auction amount will be allocated to the winning bidders. If the number of notes for which valid bids are received is 50% or more of the auction amount but less than 100% of the auction amount, the market-clearing price will be equal to the minimum bid price and we may (but are not required to) sell the number of notes subject to bids received in the auction. If at the time of the submission deadline, the number of notes subject to bids is less than 50% of the auction amount, then the offering will be cancelled and we will not issue any notes in this offering. See The Auction Process.

Allocation

If bids for all the notes offered in this offering are received, then any bids submitted in the auction above the market-clearing price will receive allocations in full, while bids made at the market-clearing price with an earlier time stamp will receive allocations in priority to bids with a later time stamp. Thus, if your bid price equals the market-clearing price, you will be allocated notes only to the extent that notes have not been allocated to bidders with higher bid prices or to other bidders who bid at the market-clearing price with an earlier time stamp. See The Auction Process Allocation.

Use of Proceeds	We intend to use the net cash proceeds from this offering for general corporate purposes, which may include the partial redemption of the remaining Series D Preferred Stock held by the U.S. Treasury or the redemption of senior floating rate notes due June 21, 2012. See Use of Proceeds.
Listing	The notes will not be listed on any national securities exchange.
U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences	The notes offered hereby should be treated as issued in a qualified reopening for United States federal income tax purposes and we will therefore treat the notes as issued with the same amount of original issue discount, or OID, as the notes issued by us on March 27, 2012. See Supplemental Discussion of U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences in this prospectus supplement for a discussion of the United States federal income tax consequences of owning the notes. You should also carefully review the section United States Taxation Taxation of Debt Securities in the accompanying prospectus and discuss the tax consequences of your particular situation with your tax advisor.
Note Agent	Zions First National Bank, an affiliate of ours.
Auction Agent	Zions Direct, Inc., an affiliate of ours.
Auction Agent Fee	$65,000.
Reopening	This is a reopening of the series of notes we initially issued on March 27, 2012. As of April 23, 2012, there was $300,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of the notes outstanding, not including the notes offered by this prospectus supplement. All of the notes being offered hereby are a part of the same series of, and have the same CUSIP as, the notes that initially settled on March 27, 2012. Upon settlement, the notes offered by this prospectus supplement will be fungible with the $300,000,000 in aggregate principal amount of the notes that we have previously issued. We have the right to issue additional notes of this series in the future. Any such additional notes will have the same terms as the notes being offered by this prospectus supplement, but may be offered at a different public offering price. If issued, any such additional notes will also become part of the same series as the notes offered hereby.
Interest Accrual	Because these notes form a part of the same series of notes that were first issued on March 27, 2012, successful bidders will be required to pay, in addition to the market-clearing price of the notes, an amount equal to the interest that has accrued on the notes from and including March 27, 2012 up to, but not including, the settlement date of these notes.
