May 7, 2012

Dear Colleagues:

I am writing to update you on a recent development at Progress. You may have seen the news today that Starboard Value and Opportunity Master Fund Ltd. (Starboard), one of our large shareholders, has withdrawn its slate of nominees proposed for election to the Progress Board of Directors at our upcoming Annual Meeting of Shareholders on May 31, 2012.

This is very good news for Progress. Our plan to become a leading provider of a next-generation application development and deployment platform in the Cloud for the aPaaS market is a dramatic strategic shift for Progress. It represents an exciting new opportunity for us to build the technology company of the future. The investors we've met with during the past few weeks have enthusiastically embraced the plan, as validated by Starboard's decision to withdraw its slate. Our focus will continue to be on executing our strategic plan and driving the value we are confident it will produce.

But we won't get there overnight. There is a lot of hard work yet to be done and I know we are up to the task. We have the benefit of decades of experience, best in class products and world class employees who will help drive us on this journey. We are in the beginning stages of our transformation, and to achieve our goals, we must remain single-minded and focused on execution.

I recognize that the new plan means significant change for many of you. The management team and I are committed to seeking new homes for the products we no longer consider core to our strategy at companies whose values are consistent with ours. As you know, we have a team already exploring the sale of these products. But we need your help, too. During this transition period we must continue to demonstrate the fundamental value of all of our products, and therefore we must go to market with all of our products and with the same spirit of competition that has helped us win in the past. And we must innovate and solve our customers' problems as we have always done.

Lastly, if you are a Progress shareholder, you should have already received our proxy statement in the mail, including a gold proxy card. You may have also received a white proxy card from Starboard. In light of today's news, the white card is no longer valid. As a Progress shareholder, it is still important that you vote by telephone, by Internet or by signing, dating and returning the GOLD proxy card. If you have questions about how to vote your shares you should contact the Company's proxy solicitor, MacKenzie Partners, toll-free at (800) 322-2885.

As always, it is important that the Company continues to speak with one voice. If you receive any inquiries from shareholders or investors, please forward them to Tom Barth at tobarth@progress.com or 781-280-4135. If you receive questions from the media, please forward them to John Stewart at jstewart@progress.com or 1-781-280-4101.

As incredibly difficult as this will be, we must remain focused on the business before us. If we do this, I know we can succeed and we will be a good, great and important company. I cannot thank you enough for your ongoing hard work, especially over the last several weeks and months. I look forward to spending time with you as we move forward.

Sincerely,

Jay Bhatt
