Neither the Securities and Exchange Commission nor any state securities commission has approved or disapproved of the notes or passed upon the accuracy or the adequacy of this document. See Supplemental Plan of Distribution (Conflicts of Interest) in this free writing prospectus.

Investment in the notes involves certain risks. You should refer to the section entitled Risk Factors in this free writing prospectus and in the accompanying prospectus supplement.

Per Note	At variable prices	%	%
Total	At variable prices	$	$

¹ STRH will purchase the notes from SunTrust for distribution to selected registered broker-dealers, which may include one or more of our affiliates, or will offer the notes directly to investors. STRH proposes to offer the notes at variable prices on the Pricing Date in one or more negotiated transactions, which may be at the market price prevailing on the Pricing Date, at prices related to such price or at negotiated prices, but the price for any sale will not be less than $994.00 per $1,000 principal amount of notes and will not be more than $1,000 per $1,000 principal amount of the Notes. Certain fiduciary accounts purchasing the Notes will pay a purchase price of $[994.00 to 995.00] per Note, and the placement agents with respect to sales made to such accounts will forgo any fees.

² The Agent will receive varying commissions from the Issuer of up to $6.00 per $1,000 principal amount of the Notes and may retain all or a portion of these commissions or use all or a portion of these commissions to pay selling concessions or fees to other affiliated and unaffiliated dealers. See Supplemental Plan of Distribution (Conflicts of Interest) in this free writing prospectus. In addition to the agent discount, the original offering price specified above includes structuring and development costs. If the notes were priced today, the agent discount and structuring and development costs would total approximately $15.00 per $1,000 note. The price at which investors purchase the Notes also includes hedging costs and profits that SunTrust Banks, Inc. or its affiliates expect to incur or realize. These costs and profits, in addition to the commissions and structuring and development costs described above, will reduce the secondary market price, if any secondary market develops, for the Notes. In no event will the agent discount and structuring and development costs exceed $20.00 per $1,000 note. See Plan of Distribution and Use of Proceeds and Hedging in the accompanying prospectus supplement for further information.

Table of ContentsILLUSTRATIVE EXAMPLES

The following examples are provided for illustrative purposes in order to show hypothetical payments on a single Interest Payment Date. They do not purport to be representative of every possible scenario concerning increases or decreases in 3 Month USD LIBOR. We cannot predict 3 Month USD LIBOR on any Reset Date. The assumptions we have made in connection with the illustrations set forth below may not reflect actual events. The hypothetical 3 Month USD LIBOR rates used in the table and examples below are not actual 3 Month USD LIBOR rates. You should not take these examples as an indication or assurance of the expected increases or decreases in 3 Month USD LIBOR or your return on the notes. Your return on the notes may be less than the amount that you would have received from a conventional debt security with the same stated maturity, including those issued by SunTrust. You should consider carefully whether the notes are suitable to your investment goals. The closing level for 3 Month USD-LIBOR on July 2, 2013 was 0.27290%. See Information Relating to 3 Month USD LIBOR (LIBOR) in this free writing prospectus. The historical levels of 3 Month USD-LIBOR should not be taken as an indication of future performance, and no assurance can be given as to the 3 Month USD-LIBOR closing level on any Reset Date.

The table below illustrates the interest payments on a $1,000 investment in the notes based on a hypothetical performance of 3 Month USD LIBOR and the Spread equal to 0.90%. The results in the examples are based solely on the assumptions outlined herein.

The numbers appearing in the table below and following examples have been rounded for ease of analysis.

Hypothetical 3-Month USD LIBOR	Spread	Minimum Interest Rate	Hypothetical Floating Interest Rate Per Annum	Hypothetical Interest Payment
8.00%	0.90%	1.00%	8.90%	$22.25
6.00%	0.90%	1.00%	6.90%	$17.25
4.00%	0.90%	1.00%	4.90%	$12.25
2.00%	0.90%	1.00%	2.90%	$7.25
0.00%	0.90%	1.00%	1.00%*	$2.50
-1.00%	0.90%	1.00%	1.00%*	$2.50
-3.00%	0.90%	1.00%	1.00%*	$2.50

* The Floating Interest Rate is subject to a Minimum Interest Rate of 1.00% (the sum of the Hypothetical 3-Month USD LIBOR + Spread is less than the Minimum Interest Rate).

Example 1: On the Reset Date, 3 Month USD LIBOR is equal to 6.00%.

Since 3 Month USD LIBOR plus the Spread is 6.90%, the Interest Rate applicable for such Interest Payment is 6.90% per annum. Therefore, the hypothetical Interest Payment on the relevant Interest Payment Date would be $17.25 per $1,000 principal amount of notes calculated as follows:

$$\text{Interest Payment} = $1,000 \times \text{Interest Rate} \times 90/360$$

$$\text{Interest Payment} = $1,000 \times 6.90\% \times 90/360$$

$$\text{Interest Payment} = $17.25$$

Example 2: On the Reset Date, 3 Month USD LIBOR is equal to 0.00%.

Since 3 Month USD LIBOR plus the Spread is 0.90%, the Interest Rate applicable for such Interest Payment is equal to 1.00% per annum because the rate cannot be less than the Minimum Interest Rate. Therefore, the hypothetical Interest Payment on the relevant Interest Payment Date would be $2.50 per $1,000 principal amount of notes calculated as follows:

$$\text{Interest Payment} = $1,000 \times \text{Interest Rate} \times 30/360$$

Edgar Filing: SUNTRUST BANKS INC - Form FWP

Interest Payment = $$1,000 \times 1.00\% \times 90/360$

Interest Payment = $2.50

RISK FACTORS

We urge you to read the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the accompanying prospectus supplement. Investing in the notes involves significant risks not associated with conventional fixed-rate or floating-rate debt securities. You should understand the risks of investing in the notes and should reach an investment decision only after careful consideration, with your advisers, of the suitability of the notes in light of your particular financial circumstances and the information set forth in this free writing prospectus and the accompanying prospectus supplement and prospectus.

Credit risk of SunTrust Banks, Inc.

The notes are senior, unsecured debt obligations of the issuer, SunTrust Banks, Inc., and are not, either directly or indirectly, an obligation of any third party. The notes are not deposits or other obligations of SunTrust Bank or any other bank and are not insured or guaranteed by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation or any other governmental agency. Any payment to be made on the notes depends on the ability of SunTrust Banks, Inc. to satisfy its obligations as they come due. As a result, the actual and perceived creditworthiness of SunTrust Banks, Inc. (including any downgrade in our credit rating) may affect the market value of the notes and, in the event that SunTrust Banks, Inc. defaults on its obligations, you may not receive the amounts owed to you under the terms of the notes.

The interest rate is uncertain.

You will receive a monthly interest payment on the applicable interest payment date that accrues at a rate per annum equal to 3 Month USD LIBOR plus the Spread, subject to the Minimum Interest Rate. 3 Month USD LIBOR may be influenced by a number of factors, including (but not limited to) monetary policies, fiscal policies, inflation, general economic conditions and public expectations with respect to such factors. The effect that any single factor may have on 3 Month USD LIBOR may be partially offset by other factors. We cannot predict the factors that may cause 3 Month USD LIBOR to increase or decrease. It is possible that your return on the notes will be no higher than the Minimum Interest Rate, and you will not be compensated for any loss in value due to inflation and other factors relating to the value of money over time. You should consider, among other things, the overall potential annual interest rate to maturity of the notes as compared to other investment alternatives.

The notes are not conventional fixed-rate securities and the interest rate is not fixed for any period and is variable.

The interest rate is not fixed for any period, but will vary depending on 3 Month USD LIBOR plus the Spread, which may be less than returns otherwise payable on debt securities issued at such time by us with similar maturities. We have no control over any fluctuations in 3 Month USD LIBOR.

Certain built-in costs are likely to adversely affect the value of the notes prior to maturity.

While the payment at maturity is based on the full principal amount of your notes, the original issue price of the notes includes the agent's commission, the potential cost of SunTrust hedging its obligations under the notes and certain structuring and development costs. As a result, the price, if any, at which STRH will be willing to purchase notes from you in secondary market transactions, if at all, will likely be lower than the original issue price, and any sale prior to the maturity date could result in a substantial loss to you. The notes are not designed to be short-term trading instruments. Accordingly, you should be able and willing to hold your notes to maturity.

The notes will not be listed on any securities exchange or quotation system. The notes are intended to be held to maturity and secondary trading of the notes may not be available.

The notes will not be listed on any securities exchange or quotation system, and there may be little or no secondary market for the notes. The notes are intended to be held to maturity and are not intended to be short-term trading instruments. STRH may make a market in the notes, but is under no obligation to do so. Even if there is a secondary market, it may not provide enough liquidity to allow you to sell the notes easily, and the price at which you will be able to sell your notes is likely to depend on the price, if any, that STRH is willing to pay for the notes. You may only be able to sell your notes at a dollar price less than the amount that you paid for your notes. If STRH does make a market in the notes, STRH may then cease acting as a market maker at any time and, if it does, it is likely that you will be unable to sell your notes.

The price you paid for the Notes may be higher than the prices paid by other investors.

Edgar Filing: SUNTRUST BANKS INC - Form FWP

STRH will purchase the notes from SunTrust for distribution to selected registered broker-dealers or will offer the notes directly to investors. STRH proposes to offer the Notes from time to time for sale to investors in one or more negotiated transactions, which may be at prevailing market prices at the time of sale, at prices related to then-prevailing prices, or at negotiated prices, but the price for any sale will not be less than $994.00 per $1,000 principal amount of the Notes and will not be more than $1,000 per $1,000 principal amount of the Notes. Accordingly, there is a risk that the price you paid for your Notes will be higher than the prices paid by other investors based on the date and time you made your purchase, from whom you purchased the Notes (e.g., directly from STRH or through a broker or dealer), any related transaction cost (e.g., any brokerage commission), whether you hold your Notes in a brokerage account, a fiduciary or fee-based account or another type of account and other market factors beyond our control.

Potential conflicts.

SunTrust and its affiliates play a variety of roles in connection with the issuance of the notes, including acting as calculation agent and in connection with hedging our obligations under the notes. In performing these duties, the economic interests of the calculation agent and other affiliates of ours are potentially adverse to your interests as an investor in the notes. We will not have any obligation to consider your interests as a holder of the notes in taking any action that might affect the value of your notes.

U.S. federal income tax treatment.

We intend to treat the notes as variable rate debt instruments for U.S. federal income tax purposes. For information regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of investing in a note, holders should refer to the section entitled U.S. Federal Income Tax Summary below.

Many economic and market factors will impact the value of the notes.

The value of the notes is subject to volatility due to a variety of factors, including but not limited to:

- interest and yield rates in the market generally;
- changes in, or perceptions, about the future 3 Month USD LIBOR;
- general economic conditions;
- policies of the Federal Reserve Board regarding interest rates;
- supply and demand among banks in London for U.S. dollar-denominated deposits with approximately a three-month term;
- sentiment regarding underlying strength in the U.S. and global economies;
- expectations regarding the level of price inflation;
- sentiment regarding credit quality in the U.S. and global credit markets;
- central bank policy regarding interest rates;
- inflation and expectations concerning inflation;
- performance of capital markets;
- geopolitical conditions and economic, financial, political, regulatory or judicial events that affect markets generally and that may affect the 3 Month USD LIBOR;
- the time to maturity of the notes;
- a variety of economic, financial, political, regulatory or judicial events; and
- our creditworthiness, including actual or anticipated downgrades in our credit ratings.

U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX SUMMARY

This discussion supplements, and should be read in conjunction with, the section entitled "United States Federal Taxation" in the accompanying prospectus supplement. We intend to treat the notes as "variable rate debt instruments" for U.S. federal income tax purposes, and the remainder of this discussion assumes such treatment. Under the rules governing variable rate debt instruments, interest on the notes will be taxable to a U.S. Holder (as defined in the prospectus supplement) as ordinary income at the time it accrues or is received in accordance with the holder's method of accounting for U.S. federal income tax purposes.

For additional information regarding the U.S. federal income tax consequences of investing in notes, U.S. Holders should refer to the discussion under "United States Federal Taxation - Tax Consequences to U.S. Holders" in the prospectus supplement, including the sections entitled "Sale, Exchange or Redemption of the Notes" and "Additional Tax on Certain Investment Income," as well as the discussion under "United States Federal Taxation - Backup Withholding and Information Reporting."

Non-U.S. Holders (as defined in the prospectus supplement) generally will not be subject to U.S. federal income or withholding tax with respect to interest paid and amounts received on the sale, exchange or retirement of the notes, provided certain certification and other requirements are met. For additional information, Non-U.S. Holders should refer to "United States Federal Taxation - Tax Consequences to Non-U.S. Holders," and "Backup Withholding and Information Reporting" in the prospectus supplement.

Under applicable Treasury Regulations, the withholding and reporting requirements under Sections 1471 through 1474 of the Internal Revenue Code (generally referred to as "FATCA"), discussed in the accompanying prospectus supplement under "United States Federal Taxation - FATCA Legislation," will not apply to the notes unless they are "significantly modified" after December 31, 2013. If the notes are significantly modified after that date, withholding under FATCA may apply to certain payments of interest on the notes made after the date of the modification, and payments of gross proceeds from a sale or other disposition of the notes after December 31, 2016, to a foreign financial institution or non-financial foreign entity.
