Novartis AV-380 Inventory Reimbursement

As previously disclosed, on August 13, 2015 (the Effective Date), AVEO Pharmaceuticals, Inc. (AVEO), entered into a License Agreement (the License Agreement) with Novartis International Pharmaceutical Ltd., a Bermuda corporation (Novartis). Under the License Agreement, AVEO granted to Novartis the exclusive right to develop and commercialize worldwide AVEO s proprietary antibody AV-380 and related AVEO antibodies that bind to Growth Differentiation Factor 15 (GDF15) for the treatment and prevention of diseases and other conditions in all indications in humans.

Under the License Agreement, Novartis was granted the right to acquire AVEO s inventory of clinical quality, AV-380 biological drug substance. On November 12, 2015, Novartis informed AVEO that it would exercise this right. Pursuant to the License Agreement, Novartis will reimburse AVEO $3.45 million for this existing inventory.

In addition to the $3.45 million inventory reimbursement payment, AVEO previously disclosed that under the terms of the License Agreement, AVEO received an upfront payment of $15 million and is eligible to receive potential clinical, regulatory and sales-based milestone payments as well as tiered royalties on product sales, each assuming successful advancement of the product. Novartis has responsibility under the License Agreement for the development, manufacture and commercialization of the AVEO antibodies and any resulting approved therapeutic products.

The foregoing information regarding the License Agreement does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by the full text of the License Agreement, which AVEO filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission as an exhibit to its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the period ended September 30, 2015.
