MERGER PROPOSED YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT

Dear Stockholder:

On January 25, 2016, Huntington Bancshares Incorporated, or Huntington, and FirstMerit Corporation, or FirstMerit, entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (which we refer to as the merger agreement) that provides for the combination of the two companies. Under the merger agreement, a wholly owned subsidiary of Huntington will merge with and into FirstMerit, with FirstMerit remaining as the surviving entity and becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of Huntington (which we refer to as the merger). Such surviving entity will, as soon as reasonably practicable following the merger and as part of a single integrated transaction, merge with and into Huntington (which we refer to as the second step merger and, together with the merger, as the mergers). Immediately following the completion of the second step merger or at such later time as Huntington may determine in its sole discretion, FirstMerit Bank, National Association, a national bank and wholly-owned bank subsidiary of FirstMerit, will merge with and into The Huntington National Bank, a national bank and wholly-owned subsidiary of Huntington, with The Huntington National Bank as the surviving bank, in a transaction we refer to as the bank merger. The mergers will bring together two companies with more than 150 years of serving the banking needs of consumers and small and middle market businesses in the Midwest.

In the merger, each outstanding share of FirstMerit common stock (except for specified shares of FirstMerit common stock held by FirstMerit or Huntington and shares of FirstMerit common stock held by shareholders who properly exercise dissenters' rights) will be automatically converted into the right to receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock (which we refer to as the stock consideration) plus $5.00 in cash (which we refer to as the cash consideration and, together with the stock consideration, the merger consideration). Although the cash consideration and the number of shares of Huntington common stock that each FirstMerit common shareholder will receive is fixed, the market value of the merger consideration will fluctuate with the market price of Huntington common stock. Based on the closing price of Huntington's common stock on the NASDAQ Stock Market, or the NASDAQ, on January 25, 2016, the last trading day before public announcement of the merger, the exchange of FirstMerit shares for shares of Huntington common stock (which we refer to as the exchange ratio) plus the cash consideration represented approximately $20.14 in value for each share of FirstMerit common stock and approximately $3.4 billion in the aggregate. Based on the closing price of Huntington's common stock on April 21, 2016 of $10.22, the stock consideration plus the cash consideration represented approximately $22.58 in value for each share of FirstMerit common stock and approximately $3.76 billion in the aggregate. We urge you to obtain current market quotations for Huntington (trading symbol HBAN) and FirstMerit (trading symbol FMER).

Based on the exchange ratio and the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding as of April 21, 2016, Huntington currently expects to issue approximately 286,371,940 shares upon the completion of the merger. However, an increase or decrease in the number of outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock prior to the completion of the merger could cause the actual number of shares issued upon completion to change.

Also, in the second step merger, each share of FirstMerit 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, without par value, with a liquidation preference of $1,000 per share, issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the second step merger (which we refer to as FirstMerit preferred stock) will be automatically converted into the right to receive one share of Huntington 5.875% Series C Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, par value $0.01 per share, with a liquidation preference of $1,000 per share (which we refer to as Huntington preferred stock). But for the par value, the dividend payment dates, the dividend record dates, and the optional redemption date of the securities, the Huntington preferred stock to be issued in connection with the second step merger will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock. Similarly, following the completion of the second step merger, each outstanding depositary share of FirstMerit listed on the New York Stock Exchange under the symbol FMER-A representing a 1/40th interest in a share of FirstMerit preferred stock will become a depositary share of Huntington and will represent a 1/40th interest in a share of Huntington preferred stock. Huntington intends to list such Huntington depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN following the completion of the second step merger. Based on the number of shares of FirstMerit preferred stock, outstanding as of April 21, 2016, and the exchange of each such share of FirstMerit preferred stock for one share of Huntington preferred stock, the maximum number of shares of Huntington preferred stock issuable in the second step merger is 100,000 and the maximum number of Huntington depositary shares issuable in the second step merger is 4,000,000.

FirstMerit and Huntington will each hold a special meeting of their shareholders in connection with the mergers. FirstMerit common shareholders will be asked to vote to adopt the merger agreement and approve related matters, as described in the attached joint proxy statement/prospectus. Adoption of the merger agreement requires the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock. Huntington common stockholders will be asked to vote to approve the issuance of the shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger. Approval of the issuance of the shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast by holders of outstanding Huntington common stock.

Holders of FirstMerit preferred stock and holders of depositary shares representing FirstMerit preferred stock are not entitled to and are not requested to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting. Holders of Huntington preferred stock are not entitled to and are not requested to vote at the Huntington special meeting.

The special meeting of Huntington common stockholders will be held on June 13, 2016 at Huntington's Easton Business Service Center, 7 Easton Oval, Columbus, Ohio 43219, at 1:00 p.m. local time. The special meeting of FirstMerit common shareholders will be held on June 13, 2016 at FirstMerit Tower, 7th Floor, 106 South Main Street, Akron, Ohio 44308, at 2:00 p.m. local time.

The FirstMerit board of directors recommends that FirstMerit common shareholders vote FOR the adoption of the merger agreement and FOR the other matters to be considered at the FirstMerit special meeting.

The Huntington board of directors recommends that Huntington common stockholders vote FOR the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger.

The attached joint proxy statement/prospectus describes the special meeting of Huntington, the special meeting of FirstMerit, the mergers, the documents related to the mergers, and other related matters. Please carefully read the entire joint proxy statement/prospectus, including Risk Factors, for a discussion of the risks relating to the proposed mergers. You also can obtain information about Huntington and FirstMerit from documents that each has filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF STOCKHOLDERS

To the Stockholders of Huntington Bancshares Incorporated:

Huntington Bancshares Incorporated (which we refer to as Huntington) will hold a special meeting of holders of common stock of Huntington (which we refer to as Huntington common stockholders) at 1:00 p.m. local time, on June 13, 2016, at Huntington's Easton Business Service Center, 7 Easton Oval, Columbus, Ohio 43219 (which we refer to as the Huntington special meeting) to consider and vote upon the following matter:

a proposal to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger as contemplated by the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of January 25, 2016, as such agreement may be amended from time to time (which we refer to as the merger agreement), by and among Huntington, FirstMerit Corporation and West Subsidiary Corporation (which we refer to as the Huntington stock issuance proposal).

We have fixed the close of business on April 15, 2016 as the record date for the special meeting. Only Huntington common stockholders of record at that time are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the Huntington special meeting, or any postponement or adjournment of the Huntington special meeting. Approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal requires the affirmative vote of a majority of the votes cast by holders of outstanding Huntington common stock (which we refer to as Huntington common stock). In accordance with Huntington's bylaws, the Huntington special meeting may be adjourned by the Chairman of the meeting.

The Huntington board of directors has approved the mergers, the stock issuance and the merger agreement, has determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the mergers and the stock issuance, are advisable and in the best interests of Huntington, and recommends that Huntington common stockholders vote FOR the Huntington stock issuance proposal.

Your vote is very important. We cannot complete the merger unless Huntington's stockholders approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock as contemplated by the merger agreement.

Regardless of whether you plan to attend the Huntington special meeting, please vote as soon as possible. If you hold stock in your name as a stockholder of record of Huntington, please complete, sign, date, and return the accompanying proxy card in the enclosed postage-paid return envelope. If you hold your stock in street name through a bank, broker or other holder of record, please follow the instructions on the voting instruction card furnished by the record holder. This will not prevent you from voting in person, but it will help to secure a quorum and avoid added solicitation costs. Any holder of record of Huntington common stock who is present at the Huntington special meeting may vote in person instead of by proxy, thereby canceling any previous proxy. In any event, a proxy may be revoked in writing at any time before the Huntington special meeting in the manner described in the accompanying joint proxy statement/prospectus. Information and applicable deadlines for voting through the Internet or by telephone are set forth in the enclosed proxy card instructions.

The enclosed joint proxy statement/prospectus provides a detailed description of the Huntington special meeting, the mergers, the documents related to the mergers, and other related matters. We urge you to read the joint proxy statement/prospectus, including any documents incorporated in the joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference, and its annexes carefully and in their entirety.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MEETING OF SHAREHOLDERS

To the Shareholders of FirstMerit Corporation:

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that FirstMerit Corporation (which we refer to as FirstMerit) will hold a special meeting of holders of common stock of FirstMerit (which we refer to as FirstMerit common shareholders) at 2:00 p.m. local time, on June 13, 2016, at FirstMerit Tower, 7th Floor, 106 South Main Street, Akron, Ohio 44308 (which we refer to as the FirstMerit special meeting) to consider and vote upon the following matters:

a proposal to adopt the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of January 25, 2016, by and among FirstMerit, Huntington Bancshares Incorporated (which we refer to as Huntington) and West Subsidiary Corporation (which we refer to as Merger Sub), as such agreement may be amended from time to time, a copy of which is attached as Annex A (which we refer to as the FirstMerit merger proposal);

a proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that certain executive officers of FirstMerit may receive in connection with the merger pursuant to existing agreements or arrangements with FirstMerit (which we refer to as the FirstMerit compensation proposal); and a proposal to approve one or more adjournments of the special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, including adjournments to permit further solicitation of proxies in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal (which we refer to as the FirstMerit adjournment proposal).

The FirstMerit board of directors has fixed the close of business on April 15, 2016 as the record date for the FirstMerit special meeting. Only FirstMerit common shareholders of record at that time are entitled to notice of, and to vote at, the FirstMerit special meeting, or any adjournment or postponement of the FirstMerit special meeting. Adoption of the FirstMerit merger proposal requires the affirmative vote of holders of a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of common stock of FirstMerit (which we refer to as FirstMerit common stock). Approval of the FirstMerit compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote by the holders of a majority of the votes cast at the FirstMerit special meeting and the approval of the FirstMerit adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote by the holders of a majority of the shares of FirstMerit common stock present or represented by proxy at the FirstMerit special meeting.

The FirstMerit board of directors has approved the merger agreement, has determined that the mergers, on the terms and conditions set forth in the merger agreement, is in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders and recommends that FirstMerit common shareholders vote FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal, FOR the FirstMerit compensation proposal and FOR the FirstMerit adjournment proposal.

Your vote is very important. We cannot complete the merger unless FirstMerit's shareholders adopt the FirstMerit merger proposal.

Each copy of the joint proxy statement/prospectus mailed to holders of FirstMerit common stock is accompanied by a form of proxy card with instructions for voting. Regardless of whether you plan to attend the FirstMerit special meeting, please vote as soon as possible by accessing the Internet site listed on the FirstMerit proxy card, by voting telephonically using the phone number listed on the FirstMerit proxy card or by submitting your proxy card by mail. If you hold stock in your name as a shareholder of record of FirstMerit and are voting by mail, please complete, sign, date, and return the accompanying proxy card in the enclosed postage-paid return envelope. If you hold your stock in street name through a bank, broker or other holder of record, please follow the instructions on the voting instruction card furnished by the record holder. This will not prevent you from voting in person, but it will help to secure a quorum and avoid added solicitation costs. Any holder of record of FirstMerit common stock who is present at the FirstMerit special meeting may vote in person instead of by proxy, thereby canceling any previous proxy. In any event, a proxy may be revoked at any time before the FirstMerit special meeting in the manner described in the accompanying joint proxy statement/prospectus. Information and applicable deadlines for voting through the Internet or by telephone are set forth in the enclosed proxy card instructions.

Under Ohio law, FirstMerit common shareholders who do not vote in favor of the adoption of the FirstMerit merger proposal will have the right to seek appraisal of the fair cash value of their shares of FirstMerit common stock as determined by the court of common pleas of the Ohio county in which the principal office of FirstMerit is located if the merger is completed, but only if they submit a written demand for such an appraisal prior to the vote on the FirstMerit merger proposal and comply with the other Ohio law procedures explained in the accompanying joint proxy statement/prospectus. FirstMerit common shareholders who do not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal and who submit a written demand for such an appraisal prior to the vote on the FirstMerit merger proposal and comply with the other Ohio law procedures will not receive the merger consideration.

The enclosed joint proxy statement/prospectus provides a detailed description of the special meeting, the mergers, the documents related to the mergers, and other related matters. We urge you to read the joint proxy statement/prospectus, including any documents incorporated in the joint proxy statement/prospectus by reference, and its annexes carefully and in their entirety.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

The following are some questions that you may have about the mergers and the Huntington special meeting or the FirstMerit special meeting, and brief answers to those questions. We urge you to read carefully the remainder of this joint proxy statement/prospectus because the information in this section does not provide all of the information that might be important to you with respect to the mergers, the Huntington special meeting or the FirstMerit special meeting. Additional important information is also contained in the documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Please see Where You Can Find More Information.

Q: What are the mergers?

A: Huntington, FirstMerit and West Subsidiary Corporation, an Ohio corporation and a direct, wholly-owned subsidiary of Huntington (which we refer to as Merger Sub) have entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of January 25, 2016, as such agreement may be amended from time to time (which we refer to as the merger agreement). Under the merger agreement, Merger Sub will merge with and into FirstMerit, with FirstMerit remaining as the surviving entity and becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of Huntington (which we refer to as the merger). Such surviving entity will, as soon as reasonably practicable following the merger and as part of a single integrated transaction, merge with and into Huntington (which we refer to as the second step merger and, together with the merger, as the mergers). Immediately following the completion of the second step merger, or at such later time as Huntington may determine in its sole discretion, FirstMerit Bank, National Association (which we refer to as FirstMerit Bank), a national bank and wholly-owned bank subsidiary of FirstMerit, will merge with and into The Huntington National Bank, a national bank and wholly-owned bank subsidiary of Huntington, with The Huntington National Bank continuing as the surviving bank (which we refer to as the bank merger). A copy of the merger agreement is included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A.

If the merger is completed, FirstMerit common shareholders will receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock plus $5.00 in cash for each share of FirstMerit common stock they hold immediately prior to the merger. Huntington will not issue any fractional shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. FirstMerit common shareholders who would otherwise be entitled to a fraction of a share of Huntington common stock upon the completion of the merger will instead receive, for the fraction of a share, an amount in cash (rounded to the nearest cent) based on the Huntington share closing price, as further discussed below. As a result of the foregoing, based on the number of shares of Huntington and FirstMerit common stock outstanding as of April 21, 2016, the last date before the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for which it was practicable to obtain this information, approximately 74% of outstanding Huntington common stock following the merger will be held by stockholders that were holders of Huntington common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 26% of outstanding Huntington common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of FirstMerit common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger.

The merger cannot be completed unless, among other things, FirstMerit common shareholders approve their proposal to adopt the merger agreement and Huntington common stockholders approve their proposal for issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger.

Q: Why am I receiving this joint proxy statement/prospectus?

A: We are delivering this document to you because it is a joint proxy statement being used by both Huntington's and FirstMerit's boards of directors to solicit proxies of their respective common stockholders in connection with the adoption of the merger agreement, the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock, and related matters.

In order to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock, Huntington has called a special meeting of its common stockholders. This document serves as proxy statement for the Huntington special meeting and describes the proposal to be presented at the Huntington special meeting. Holders of

Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock, Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, and 6.250% Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock are not entitled to, and are not requested to, vote at the Huntington meeting.

FirstMerit has also called a special meeting of its shareholders to adopt the merger agreement and approve related matters. This document serves as proxy statement for the FirstMerit special meeting and describes the proposals to be presented at the FirstMerit special meeting. Holders of FirstMerit preferred stock, as defined below, and holders of depositary shares representing shares of FirstMerit preferred stock (which we refer to as the FirstMerit depositary shares) are not entitled to, and are not requested to, vote at the FirstMerit meeting.

Finally, this document is also a prospectus that is being delivered to FirstMerit common shareholders because, in connection with the mergers, Huntington is offering, in addition to cash consideration, shares of its common stock to FirstMerit common shareholders. Huntington also is issuing shares of Huntington 5.875% Series C Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, par value $0.01 per share and liquidation preference of $1,000 per share (which we refer to as the Huntington preferred stock), to holders of FirstMerit s 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, without par value and with liquidation preference of $1,000 per share (which we refer to as the FirstMerit preferred stock). Each share of FirstMerit preferred stock will be automatically converted into the right to receive one share of Huntington preferred stock in the second step merger. Following the completion of the second step merger, each outstanding FirstMerit depositary share will be converted into a depositary share representing a 1/40th interest in a share of Huntington preferred stock (which we refer to as a Huntington depositary share).

This joint proxy statement/prospectus contains important information about the mergers and the other proposals being voted on at the Huntington and FirstMerit special meetings and important information to consider in connection with an investment in Huntington common stock. You should read it carefully and in its entirety. The enclosed materials allow you to have your shares of common stock voted by proxy without attending your meeting. Your vote is important and we encourage you to submit your proxy as soon as possible.

Q: What are Huntington common stockholders being asked to vote on at the Huntington special meeting?

A: Huntington is soliciting proxies from its stockholders with respect to the following proposal:

a proposal to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger as contemplated by the merger agreement (which we refer to as the Huntington stock issuance proposal).

Q: What are FirstMerit common shareholders being asked to vote on at the FirstMerit special meeting?

A: FirstMerit is soliciting proxies from its shareholders with respect to the following proposals:

a proposal to adopt the merger agreement (which we refer to as the FirstMerit merger proposal);

a proposal to approve, on an advisory (non-binding) basis, the compensation that certain executive officers of FirstMerit may receive in connection with the merger pursuant to existing agreements or arrangements with FirstMerit (which we refer to as the FirstMerit compensation proposal); and a proposal to adjourn the FirstMerit special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal (which we refer to as the FirstMerit adjournment proposal).

Table of Contents

Q: What will FirstMerit common shareholders receive in the merger?

A: If the merger is completed, FirstMerit common shareholders will receive 1.72 shares (which we refer to as the exchange ratio) of Huntington common stock (which we refer to as the stock consideration) plus a $5.00 cash payment (which we refer to as the cash consideration and, together with the stock consideration, as the merger consideration) for each share of FirstMerit common stock held immediately prior to the merger. Huntington will not issue any fractional shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. In lieu of fractional shares of Huntington common stock, Huntington will pay to each former FirstMerit common shareholder who holds fractional shares an amount in cash equal to the fractional share that such shareholder would otherwise be entitled to receive (rounded to the nearest cent), determined by multiplying the average of the closing-sale prices of Huntington common stock on the NASDAQ Stock Market (which we refer to as the NASDAQ), as reported by The Wall Street Journal, for the five full trading days ending on the day preceding the closing date of the merger (which we refer to as the Huntington share closing price) by the fraction of a share (rounded to the nearest thousandth when expressed in decimal form) of Huntington common stock that such shareholder would otherwise be entitled to receive.

Q: What will holders of FirstMerit depositary shares receive in the mergers?

A: If the second step merger is completed, holders of FirstMerit depositary shares will hold Huntington depositary shares. After the second step merger is completed, each such outstanding depositary share will represent a 1/40th interest in a share of newly issued Huntington preferred stock, which will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of FirstMerit's outstanding preferred stock (except for the par value, the dividend payment dates and the optional redemption date of the securities). For more information, see Designation of New Huntington Preferred Stock.

Q: What will Huntington common stockholders receive in the merger?

A: If the merger is completed, Huntington common stockholders will not receive any merger consideration and will continue to hold the shares of Huntington common stock that they currently hold. Following the merger, shares of Huntington common stock will continue to be traded on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBAN.

Q: How will the merger affect FirstMerit options?

A: At the effective time of the merger, which we refer to as the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is less than the sum of (i) the cash consideration and (ii) the dollar value of 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock, based on the Huntington share closing price (the per share cash equivalent consideration), will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each net share covered by the FirstMerit option, less applicable tax withholdings. A net share is determined, with respect to each FirstMerit option, by dividing (1) the product of (A) the excess, if any, of (x) per share cash equivalent consideration over (y) the per share exercise price of such FirstMerit option, multiplied by (B) the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock underlying such FirstMerit option, by (2) the per share cash equivalent consideration.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is greater than or equal to the per share cash equivalent consideration will be assumed and converted into an option to purchase, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to such FirstMerit option prior to the effective time, the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio (as defined below), at an exercise price per share (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) determined by dividing the per share exercise price of the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio. The equity award exchange ratio is equal to the sum of (i) the exchange ratio and (ii) the quotient (rounded to four decimal places) of the cash consideration divided by the Huntington share closing price.

Q: How will the merger affect FirstMerit restricted stock and restricted stock units?

A: At the effective time, each award of restricted shares of FirstMerit common stock (each, a FirstMerit restricted stock award) and each award of FirstMerit restricted stock units (each, a FirstMerit RSU award) granted prior to January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will fully vest and be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each share of FirstMerit common stock subject to each such award, less applicable tax withholdings. The performance conditions applicable to a FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 will be deemed satisfied at maximum performance at the effective time.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted on or following January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will be assumed and converted into a restricted stock or restricted stock unit award relating to shares of Huntington common stock, with the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such award, and relating to the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded to the nearest whole share), determined by multiplying (i) the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to such FirstMerit award immediately prior to the effective time by (ii) the equity award exchange ratio.

Q: Will the value of the merger consideration change between the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the time the merger is completed?

A: Yes. Although the merger consideration is fixed, the value of the stock consideration will fluctuate between the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the completion of the merger based upon the market value of Huntington common stock. Any fluctuation in the market price of Huntington common stock after the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus will change the value of the shares of Huntington common stock that FirstMerit common shareholders will receive.

Q: How does the Huntington board of directors recommend that I vote at the Huntington special meeting?

A: The Huntington board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the Huntington stock issuance proposal.

Q: How does the FirstMerit board of directors recommend that I vote at the FirstMerit special meeting?

A: The FirstMerit board of directors recommends that you vote FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal, FOR the FirstMerit compensation proposal, and FOR the FirstMerit adjournment proposal.

Q: When and where are the meetings?

A: The Huntington special meeting will be held at Huntington's Easton Business Service Center, 7 Easton Oval, Columbus, Ohio 43219 on June 13, 2016, at 1:00 p.m. local time.

The FirstMerit special meeting will be held at FirstMerit Tower, 7th Floor, 106 South Main Street, Akron, Ohio 44308 on June 13, 2016, at 2:00 p.m. local time.

Q: What do I need to do now?

A: After you have carefully read this joint proxy statement/prospectus and have decided how you wish to vote your shares, please vote your shares promptly so that your shares are represented and voted at the Huntington special meeting and/or FirstMerit special meeting, as applicable. If you are a stockholder of both Huntington and FirstMerit, you will need to vote your Huntington and FirstMerit shares separately and to submit a separate proxy card to each company. If you hold your shares in your name as a stockholder of record, you must complete, sign, date, and mail your proxy card in the enclosed postage-paid return envelope as soon as possible. Alternatively, you may vote through the Internet or by telephone. Information and applicable deadlines for voting through the Internet or by telephone are set forth in the enclosed proxy card instructions. If you hold your shares in street name through a bank, broker or other holder of record, you must direct your bank, broker or other holder of record how to vote in accordance with the instructions you have received from your bank, broker or other holder of record. Street name stockholders who wish to vote in person at the Huntington special meeting or FirstMerit special meeting will need to obtain a legal proxy from the institution that holds their shares.

Q: What constitutes a quorum for the Huntington special meeting?

A: The presence at the Huntington special meeting, in person or by proxy, of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of Huntington common stock entitled to vote at the special meeting will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Abstentions will be included in determining the number of shares present at the meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

Q: What constitutes a quorum for the FirstMerit special meeting?

A: The presence at the FirstMerit special meeting, in person or by proxy, of holders of a majority of the voting power of FirstMerit will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. Abstentions will be included in determining the number of shares present at the meeting for the purpose of determining the presence of a quorum.

Q: What is the vote required to approve each proposal at the Huntington special meeting?

A: Huntington stock issuance proposal:

Standard: Approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the Huntington special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the Huntington special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the Huntington stock issuance proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

Q: What is the vote required to approve each proposal at the FirstMerit special meeting?

A: FirstMerit merger proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit merger proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you fail to vote, mark ABSTAIN on your proxy, or fail to instruct your bank or broker with respect to the FirstMerit merger proposal, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal.

FirstMerit compensation proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the FirstMerit special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the FirstMerit compensation proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

FirstMerit adjournment proposal:

Standard: Whether or not a quorum is present, approval of the FirstMerit adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FirstMerit common stock present or represented by proxy at the special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal. If you fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the FirstMerit adjournment proposal, it will have no effect on the proposal.

Q: Will holders of FirstMerit depositary shares be entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting?

A: No. Because the underlying FirstMerit preferred stock does not have voting rights with respect to any of the proposals that will be considered at the FirstMerit special meeting, holders of FirstMerit depositary shares will not be entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting, and should not submit a proxy card with respect to the FirstMerit special meeting or otherwise attempt to vote with respect to their FirstMerit depositary shares.

Q: Why is my vote important?

A: If you do not vote, it will be more difficult for Huntington or FirstMerit to obtain the necessary quorum to hold their special meetings. In addition, if you are a holder of FirstMerit common stock, your abstention will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the FirstMerit merger proposal and AGAINST the FirstMerit adjournment proposal, and your failure to submit a proxy or vote in person, or failure to instruct your bank or broker how to vote will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the FirstMerit merger proposal.

Q: If my shares of common stock are held in street name by my bank or broker, will my bank or broker automatically vote my shares for me?

A: No. Your bank or broker cannot vote your shares without instructions from you. If your shares are held in street name through a bank, broker, or other holder of record, you must provide the record holder of your shares with instructions on how to vote the shares. Please follow the voting instructions provided by the bank or broker. You may not vote shares held in street name by returning a proxy card directly to Huntington or FirstMerit, or by voting in person at the Huntington special meeting or the FirstMerit special meeting, unless you provide a legal proxy, which you must obtain from your broker, bank, or other holder of record. Further, brokers, banks, or other holder of record who hold shares of Huntington common stock or FirstMerit common stock on behalf of their customers may not give a proxy to Huntington or FirstMerit to vote those shares with respect to any of the proposals without specific instructions from their customers, as brokers, banks, and other holder of record do not have discretionary voting power on these matters. If you are a FirstMerit street name shareholder, failure to instruct your bank, broker, or other holder of record how to vote will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the FirstMerit merger proposal.

Q: How do I vote if I own shares through the FirstMerit Corporation and Affiliates Employees Salary Savings Retirement Plan?

A: Participants in the FirstMerit Corporation and Affiliates Employees Salary Savings Retirement Plan, referred to as the FirstMerit 401(k) Plan, as of the record date of the FirstMerit special meeting, have the right to participate in directing the voting of FirstMerit common stock held in their plan accounts as of that date, but do not have the right to vote those shares personally at the FirstMerit special meeting. Such participants should refer to the voting instructions provided by the plan fiduciaries for information on how to direct the voting of such shares.

Q: Can I attend the Huntington and FirstMerit special meetings and vote my shares in person?

A: Yes. All holders of the common stock of Huntington and FirstMerit, including holders of record and holders who hold their shares through banks, brokers or any other holder of record, are invited to attend their respective special meetings. Holders of record of Huntington and FirstMerit common stock can vote in person at the Huntington special meeting and FirstMerit special meeting, respectively. If you are not a holder of record (i.e., if your shares are held for you in street name), you must obtain a legal proxy, executed in your favor, from the record holder of your shares, such as a broker, bank, or other holder of record, to be able to vote in person at the meetings. If you plan to attend your meeting, you must hold your shares in your own name or have a letter from the record holder of your shares confirming your ownership. In addition, you must bring a form of personal photo identification with you in order to be admitted to the meeting. Huntington and FirstMerit reserve the right to refuse admittance to anyone without proper proof of share ownership or without proper photo identification. Whether or not you intend to be present at the Huntington special meeting or the FirstMerit special meeting, you are urged to sign, date, and return your proxy card, or to vote via the Internet or by telephone, promptly. If you are then present and wish to vote your shares in person, your original proxy may be revoked by voting by ballot at the Huntington special meeting or the FirstMerit special meeting, as applicable.

Q: Can I change my vote?

A: Huntington common stockholders: Yes. If you are a holder of record of Huntington common stock, you may change your vote at any time before your shares of Huntington common stock are voted at the Huntington special meeting by: (1) signing and returning a proxy card with a later date, (2) delivering a written revocation letter to Huntington's corporate secretary, (3) attending the special meeting in person, notifying the corporate secretary and voting by ballot at the special meeting, or (4) voting by telephone or the Internet at a later time. Attendance at the special meeting will not automatically revoke your proxy. A revocation or later-dated proxy received by Huntington after the vote will not affect the vote. Huntington's corporate secretary's mailing address is: Corporate Secretary of Huntington at Huntington Center, 41 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio 43287. If you hold your shares in street name through a bank or broker, you should contact your bank or broker to change your vote.

FirstMerit common shareholders: Yes. If you are a holder of record of FirstMerit common stock, you may change your vote at any time before your shares of FirstMerit common stock are voted at the FirstMerit special meeting by: (1) signing and returning a proxy card with a later date, (2) delivering a written revocation letter to FirstMerit's corporate secretary, (3) attending the special meeting in person, notifying the corporate secretary and voting by ballot at the special meeting, or (4) voting by telephone or the Internet at a later time. Attendance at the special meeting will not automatically revoke your proxy. A revocation or later-dated proxy received by FirstMerit after the vote will not affect the vote. FirstMerit's corporate secretary's mailing address is: Corporate Secretary of FirstMerit at III Cascade Plaza, Akron, Ohio 44308. If you hold your shares in street name through a bank or broker, you should contact your bank or broker to change your vote.

Q: Will FirstMerit be required to submit the proposal to adopt the merger agreement to its shareholders even if the FirstMerit board of directors has withdrawn, modified, or qualified its recommendation?

A:

Yes. Unless the merger agreement is terminated before the FirstMerit special meeting, FirstMerit is required to submit the proposal to adopt the merger agreement to its shareholders even if the FirstMerit board of directors has withdrawn or modified its recommendation.

Q: What are the U.S. federal income tax consequences of the merger to FirstMerit common shareholders?

A: The mergers, taken together, are intended to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, which we refer as the Code, and it is a condition to the respective obligations of Huntington and FirstMerit to complete the merger that each of Huntington and FirstMerit receives a legal opinion to that effect. Accordingly, a FirstMerit common shareholder generally will recognize gain, but not loss, in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of gain realized (i.e., the excess of the sum of the amount of cash and the fair market value of the Huntington common stock received pursuant to the merger over that holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of FirstMerit common stock surrendered) and (2) the amount of cash received pursuant to the merger (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share). Further, a FirstMerit common shareholder generally will recognize gain or loss with respect to cash received instead of fractional shares of Huntington common stock that the FirstMerit common shareholder would otherwise be entitled to receive. For further information, please refer to Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Mergers.

The United States federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of FirstMerit common stock. Your tax consequences will depend on your individual situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the merger to you.

Q: Are FirstMerit common shareholders entitled to dissenters' rights?

A: Yes. FirstMerit common shareholders are expected to be entitled to dissenters' rights. For further information, see The Merger Dissenters' Rights in the Merger.

Q: If I am a FirstMerit common shareholder, should I send in my FirstMerit stock certificate(s) now?

A: No. Please do not send in your FirstMerit stock certificates with your proxy. After the merger, an exchange agent will send you instructions for exchanging FirstMerit stock certificates for the merger consideration. See The Merger Agreement Conversion of Shares; Exchange of Certificates.

Q: What should I do if I hold my shares of FirstMerit common stock in book-entry form?

A: You are not required to take any special additional actions if your shares of FirstMerit common stock are held in book-entry form. After the completion of the merger, shares of FirstMerit common stock held in book-entry form automatically will be exchanged for book-entry shares of Huntington common stock, plus the cash consideration.

Q: What should I do if I receive more than one set of voting materials?

A: Huntington and FirstMerit common stockholders may receive more than one set of voting materials, including multiple copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus and multiple proxy cards or voting instruction cards. For example, if you hold shares of Huntington and/or FirstMerit common stock in more than one brokerage account, you will receive a separate voting instruction card for each brokerage account in which you hold such shares. If you are a holder of record of Huntington common stock or FirstMerit common stock and your shares are registered in more than one name, you will receive more than one proxy card. In addition, if you are a holder of both Huntington common stock and FirstMerit common stock, you will receive one or more separate proxy cards or voting instruction cards for each company. Please complete, sign, date, and return each proxy card and voting instruction card that you receive or otherwise follow the voting instructions set forth in this joint proxy statement/prospectus to ensure that you vote every share of Huntington common stock and/or FirstMerit common stock that you own.

Q: When do you expect to complete the merger?

A: Huntington and FirstMerit expect to complete the merger in the third quarter of 2016. However, neither Huntington nor FirstMerit can assure you of when or if the merger will be completed. Huntington must obtain the approval of Huntington common stockholders for the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock at its special meeting, and FirstMerit must obtain the approval of FirstMerit common shareholders to adopt the merger agreement at its special meeting. Huntington and FirstMerit must also obtain necessary regulatory approvals in addition to satisfying certain other closing conditions.

Q: What happens if the merger is not completed?

A: If the merger is not completed, FirstMerit common shareholders will not receive any consideration for their shares of FirstMerit common stock in connection with the merger. Instead, FirstMerit will remain an independent, public company and FirstMerit common stock and FirstMerit depositary shares will continue to be listed and traded on the NASDAQ and the New York Stock Exchange (which we refer to as the NYSE), respectively. In addition, if the merger agreement is terminated in certain circumstances, FirstMerit may be required to pay a termination fee. See The Merger Agreement Termination Fee for a complete discussion of the circumstances under which a termination fee will be required to be paid.

Q: Whom should I call with questions?

A: Huntington common stockholders: If you have any questions concerning the merger or this joint proxy statement/prospectus, would like additional copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, or need help voting your shares of Huntington common stock, please contact Huntington's proxy solicitor, Morrow & Co., LLC, at 470 West Avenue, Stamford, CT 06902, (203) 658-9400, or toll-free at (855) 223-1287.

FirstMerit common shareholders: If you have any questions concerning the merger or this joint proxy statement/prospectus, would like additional copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, or need help voting your shares of FirstMerit common stock, please contact FirstMerit's proxy solicitor, Alliance Advisors LLC, at firstmerit@allianceadvisorsllc.com, or toll-free at (855) 928-4490.

Table of ContentsSUMMARY

This summary highlights selected information from this joint proxy statement/prospectus. It may not contain all of the information that is important to you. We urge you to read carefully the entire joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the annexes, and the other documents to which we refer in order to fully understand the mergers. Please see Where You Can Find More Information. Each item in this summary refers to the page of this joint proxy statement/prospectus on which that subject is discussed in more detail.

In the Merger, FirstMerit Common Shareholders Will Receive Huntington Common Stock and Cash (page 52)

Huntington and FirstMerit are proposing a strategic merger. If the merger is completed, FirstMerit common shareholders will receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock plus $5.00 in cash for each share of FirstMerit common stock they hold immediately prior to the merger. Huntington will not issue any fractional shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. FirstMerit common shareholders who would otherwise be entitled to a fraction of a share of Huntington common stock upon the completion of the merger will instead receive, for the fraction of a share, an amount in cash (rounded to the nearest cent) based on the Huntington share closing price as further discussed in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. As a result of the foregoing, based on the number of shares of Huntington and FirstMerit common stock outstanding as of April 21, 2016, the last date before the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for which it was practicable to obtain this information, approximately 74% of outstanding Huntington common stock following the merger will be held by stockholders that were holders of Huntington common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger and approximately 26% of outstanding Huntington common stock will be held by stockholders that were holders of FirstMerit common stock immediately prior to the effectiveness of the merger.

Huntington common stock is listed on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBAN, and FirstMerit common stock is listed on the NASDAQ under the symbol FMER. The following table shows the closing sale prices of Huntington common stock and FirstMerit common stock as reported on the NASDAQ on January 25, 2016, the last full trading day before the public announcement of the merger agreement, and on April 21, 2016, the last practicable trading day before the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. This table also shows the implied value of the merger consideration payable for each share of FirstMerit common stock, which was calculated by multiplying the closing price of Huntington common stock on those dates by the exchange ratio of 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock per share of FirstMerit common stock and then adding the cash consideration of $5.00.

	Huntington Common Stock	FirstMerit Common Stock	Cash Consideration	Implied Value of One Share of FirstMerit Common Stock
January 25, 2016	$ 8.80	$ 15.37	$ 5.00	$ 20.14
April 21, 2016	$ 10.22	$ 22.33	$ 5.00	$ 22.58

The merger agreement governs the mergers. The merger agreement is included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A. All descriptions in this summary and elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus of the terms and conditions of the mergers are qualified by reference to the merger agreement. Please read the merger agreement carefully for a more complete understanding of the mergers.

The Huntington board of directors has approved the mergers, the stock issuance and the merger agreement, has determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the mergers and the stock issuance, are advisable and in the best interests of Huntington, and recommends that Huntington common stockholders vote FOR the Huntington stock issuance proposal. For the factors considered by the Huntington board of directors in reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, see The Merger Huntington's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the Huntington Board of Directors.

The FirstMerit Board of Directors Recommends that FirstMerit Common Shareholders Vote FOR the Adoption of the Merger Agreement and the Other Proposals Presented at the FirstMerit Special Meeting (page 45)

The FirstMerit board of directors has determined that the mergers, the merger agreement, and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are advisable and in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders, and has approved the merger agreement. The FirstMerit board of directors recommends that FirstMerit common shareholders vote FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal and FOR the other proposals presented at the FirstMerit special meeting. For the factors considered by the FirstMerit board of directors in reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, see The Merger FirstMerit's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors.

Opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co.

At a meeting of the Huntington board of directors held on January 25, 2016, Goldman, Sachs & Co. (which we refer to as Goldman Sachs), rendered to the Huntington board of directors its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of the date of its written opinion and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Huntington.

The full text of the written opinion of Goldman Sachs, dated January 25, 2016, which sets forth assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex B. The summary of the Goldman Sachs opinion contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Goldman Sachs' written opinion. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the Huntington board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Huntington common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter.

For further information, see The Merger Opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co.

Opinion of FirstMerit's Financial Advisor (page 75 and Annex C)

At the January 22, 2016 meeting at which the FirstMerit board of directors considered the merger agreement, Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. (which we refer to as Sandler), delivered to the FirstMerit board of directors its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing on January 25, 2016 that, as of such date, subject to procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations described in Sandler's opinion, the merger consideration was fair to FirstMerit common shareholders from a financial point of view.

Table of Contents

The full text of Sandler's opinion is attached as Annex C to this joint proxy statement/prospectus. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler in rendering its opinion.

FirstMerit common shareholders are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed transaction.

Sandler's opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion and was necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as they existed on, and the information made available to Sandler as of, the date thereof. The opinion was directed to the FirstMerit board of directors and is directed only to the fairness of the merger consideration to FirstMerit common shareholders from a financial point of view. It does not address the underlying business decision of FirstMerit to engage in the merger, enter into the merger agreement or any other aspects or terms of the merger or merger agreement. Sandler's opinion is not a recommendation to any FirstMerit common shareholder as to how such shareholder should vote at the FirstMerit special meeting with respect to the merger or any other matter. Sandler did not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the merger or other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement by FirstMerit's or Huntington's officers, directors or employees, or class of such persons, relative to the merger consideration to be received by FirstMerit common shareholders, or the fairness of the merger to the holders of any other class of securities of FirstMerit or any other constituency of FirstMerit.

FirstMerit Options. At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is less than the per share cash equivalent consideration will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each net share covered by the FirstMerit option, less applicable tax withholdings.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is greater than or equal to the per share cash equivalent consideration will be assumed and converted into an option to purchase, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to such FirstMerit option prior to the effective time, the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio, at an exercise price per share (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) determined by dividing the per share exercise price of the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio.

FirstMerit Restricted Stock Awards and FirstMerit RSU Awards. At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will fully vest and be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each share of FirstMerit common stock subject to each such award immediately prior to the effective time, less applicable tax withholdings. The performance conditions applicable to a FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 will be deemed satisfied at maximum performance at the effective time.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted on or following January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will be assumed and converted into a restricted stock or restricted stock unit award relating to shares of Huntington common stock, with the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such award prior to the effective time, and relating to the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying (i) the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to such award immediately prior to the effective time by (ii) the equity award exchange ratio.

Each share of FirstMerit preferred stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the second step merger will be automatically converted into the right to receive one share of Huntington preferred stock. Pursuant to the merger agreement, the Huntington preferred stock must have rights, preferences, privileges, and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions that, taken as a whole, are not materially less favorable than the rights, preferences, privileges, and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions, taken as a whole, applicable to the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock immediately prior to the effective time of the second step merger. But for the par value, the dividend payment dates, the dividend record dates, and the optional redemption date of the securities, the Huntington preferred stock will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock. Each outstanding share of FirstMerit preferred stock is presently represented by depositary shares that are listed on the NYSE under the symbol FMER-A and represent a 1/40th interest in a share of FirstMerit preferred stock. Upon completion of the second step merger, Huntington will assume the obligations of FirstMerit under FirstMerit's deposit agreement, dated as of February 4, 2013, by and among FirstMerit, American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC, as depositary, and the holders from time to time of the depositary receipts described therein (which we refer to as the deposit agreement). Huntington will instruct the depositary to treat the shares of Huntington preferred stock received by it upon conversion of the shares of FirstMerit preferred stock as newly deposited securities as provided in the deposit agreement. The depositary shares will thereafter represent shares of Huntington preferred stock. Huntington intends to list such Huntington depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN following the completion of the second step merger.

For further information, see The Merger Agreement Treatment of FirstMerit Preferred Stock and Depositary Shares. Following the completion of the second step merger, Huntington will have 100,000 shares of Huntington preferred stock and 4,000,000 Huntington depositary shares issued and outstanding.

The Huntington special meeting will be held on June 13, 2016, at 1:00 p.m. local time, at Huntington's Easton Business Service Center, 7 Easton Oval, Columbus, Ohio 43219. At the Huntington special meeting, Huntington common stockholders will be asked to approve the Huntington stock issuance proposal.

Only holders of record of Huntington common stock at the close of business on April 15, 2016 (which we refer to as the Huntington record date) will be entitled to vote at the Huntington special meeting. Each share of Huntington common stock is entitled to one vote on the proposal to be considered at the Huntington special meeting. As of the Huntington record date, there were 798,867,394 shares of Huntington common stock entitled to vote at the Huntington special meeting. The directors and executive officers of Huntington and their affiliates beneficially owned, and were entitled to vote, approximately 13,705,078 shares of Huntington common stock, representing approximately 1.7% of the shares of Huntington common stock outstanding on the Huntington record date.

For further information, see The Huntington Special Meeting Date, Time, and Place of Meeting.

FirstMerit Will Hold Its Special Meeting on June 13, 2016 (page 45)

The FirstMerit special meeting will be held on June 13, 2016, at 2:00 p.m. local time, at FirstMerit Tower, 7th Floor, 106 South Main Street, Akron, Ohio 44308. At the FirstMerit special meeting, FirstMerit common shareholders will be asked to:

approve the FirstMerit merger proposal;

approve the FirstMerit compensation proposal; and approve the FirstMerit adjournment proposal.

Only holders of record of FirstMerit common stock at the close of business on April 15, 2016 will be entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting (which we refer to as the FirstMerit record date). Each share of FirstMerit common stock is entitled to one vote on each proposal to be considered at the FirstMerit special meeting. On the FirstMerit record date, there were 166,462,448 shares of FirstMerit common stock entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting. The directors and executive officers of FirstMerit and their affiliates beneficially owned, and were entitled to vote, approximately 2,748,897 shares of FirstMerit common stock, representing approximately 1.65% of the shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding on the FirstMerit record date.

For further information, see The FirstMerit Special Meeting Date, Time, and Place of the Meeting.

Huntington Special Meeting Proposal: Required Vote; Treatment of Abstentions and Failure to Vote

Standard: Approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the Huntington special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the Huntington special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the Huntington stock issuance proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

For further information, see The Huntington Special Meeting Votes Required; Treatment of Abstentions and Failure to Vote.

FirstMerit Special Meeting Proposals: Required Vote; Treatment of Abstentions and Failure to Vote

FirstMerit merger proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit merger proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock entitled to vote on the proposal.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you fail to vote, mark ABSTAIN on your proxy, or fail to instruct your bank or broker with respect to the FirstMerit merger proposal, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal.

FirstMerit compensation proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the FirstMerit special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the FirstMerit compensation proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Mergers (page 120)

The mergers, taken together, are intended to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code and it is a condition to the respective obligations of Huntington and FirstMerit to complete the merger that each of Huntington and FirstMerit receives a legal opinion to that effect. Accordingly, a FirstMerit common shareholder generally will recognize gain, but not loss, in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of gain realized (i.e., the excess of the sum of the amount of cash and the fair market value of the Huntington common stock received pursuant to the merger over that holder's adjusted tax basis in its shares of FirstMerit common stock surrendered) and (2) the amount of cash received pursuant to the merger (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share). Further, a FirstMerit common shareholder generally will recognize gain or loss with respect to cash received instead of fractional shares of Huntington common stock that the FirstMerit common shareholder would otherwise be entitled to receive. For further information, please refer to Material U.S. Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Mergers.

The United States federal income tax consequences described above may not apply to all holders of FirstMerit common stock. Your tax consequences will depend on your individual situation. Accordingly, we strongly urge you to consult your tax advisor for a full understanding of the particular tax consequences of the merger to you.

FirstMerit's Officers and Directors Have Financial Interests in the Merger that Differ from Your Interests (page 90)

FirstMerit common shareholders should be aware that FirstMerit's directors and executive officers have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, interests of FirstMerit common shareholders generally. These interests include, among others, the treatment of outstanding FirstMerit equity awards pursuant to the merger agreement, certain payments and benefits payable under change in control termination agreements entered into with executive officers, certain payments and benefits payable under an employment agreement with Mr. Paul Greig, FirstMerit's President and Chief Executive Officer, and a separation and consulting agreement between Mr. Greig and Huntington, and rights to ongoing indemnification and insurance coverage by Huntington for acts or omissions occurring prior to the merger. These interests also include Huntington's agreement to appoint four current directors of FirstMerit to the board of directors of Huntington and to invite other members of the FirstMerit board of directors to serve as paid members of Huntington's existing Greater Akron-Canton Advisory Board following the effective time of the merger. The FirstMerit board of directors was aware of and considered those interests, among other matters, in reaching its decisions to approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby and to recommend the adoption of the merger agreement to FirstMerit common shareholders. See The Merger, Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger for a more detailed description of these interests.

FirstMerit Common Shareholders Are Expected to Be Entitled to Assert Dissenters' Rights (page 97)

If the merger agreement is adopted by FirstMerit common shareholders, FirstMerit common shareholders who do not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal and who properly demand payment of fair cash value of their shares are entitled to certain dissenters' rights pursuant to Sections 1701.84(A) and 1701.85 of the Ohio General Corporation Law (OGCL). Section 1701.85 generally provides that shareholders of FirstMerit will not be entitled to such rights without strict compliance with the procedures set forth in Section 1701.85, and failure to take any one of the required steps may result in the termination or waiver of such rights.

Specifically, any FirstMerit common shareholder who is a record holder of shares of FirstMerit common stock on April 15, 2016, the record date for the FirstMerit special meeting, and whose shares are not voted in favor of the adoption of the FirstMerit merger proposal may be entitled to be paid the fair cash value of such shares of common stock after the effective time of the merger. To be entitled to such payment, a shareholder must deliver to FirstMerit a written demand for payment of the fair cash value of the shares held by such shareholder before the vote on the FirstMerit merger proposal is taken, the shareholder must not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal, and the shareholder must otherwise comply with Section 1701.85. A FirstMerit common shareholder's failure to vote against the FirstMerit merger proposal will not constitute a waiver of such shareholder's dissenters' rights, as long as such shareholder does not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal. Any written demand must specify the shareholder's name and address, the number and class of shares held by him, her or it on the record date, and the amount claimed as the fair cash value of such shares of common stock.

See the text of Section 1701.85 of the OGCL attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus for specific information on the procedures to be followed in exercising dissenters' rights. FirstMerit common shareholders who wish to seek appraisal of their shares are encouraged to seek the advice of legal counsel with respect to the exercise of dissenters' rights, due to the complexity of the appraisal process.

FirstMerit common shareholders considering seeking payment of fair cash value of their shares should be aware that the fair cash value of their shares as determined pursuant to Section 1701.85 of the OGCL could be more than, the same as, or less than the value of the consideration they would receive pursuant to the merger if they did not seek payment of fair cash value of their shares. If the shares of FirstMerit common stock are listed on a national securities exchange, such as the NASDAQ, immediately before the effective time of the merger, the fair cash value will be the closing sale price of FirstMerit's shares of common stock as of the close of trading on the day before the vote of the FirstMerit common shareholders.

For more information, see "The Merger - Dissenters' Rights in the Merger."

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger (page 98)

Subject to the terms of the merger agreement, Huntington and FirstMerit have agreed to cooperate with each other and use their reasonable best efforts to promptly prepare and file all necessary documentation, to effect all applications, notices, petitions and filings, and to obtain as promptly as practicable all regulatory approvals necessary or advisable to complete the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. These approvals include, among others, approval from the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, which we refer to as the Federal Reserve Board, and the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, which we refer to as the OCC. On March 10, 2016, Huntington and The Huntington National Bank, respectively, filed applications and notifications to obtain regulatory approvals from the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC.

Although neither FirstMerit nor Huntington knows of any reason why Huntington cannot obtain these regulatory approvals in a timely manner, FirstMerit and Huntington cannot be certain when or if they will be obtained. For more information, see The Merger Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger.

Conditions that Must Be Satisfied or Waived for the Merger to Occur (page 115)

Huntington's and FirstMerit's respective obligations to complete the merger are subject to the satisfaction or waiver of certain conditions, including: (1) the adoption of the merger agreement by the requisite vote of FirstMerit common shareholders; (2) the approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal by the requisite vote of Huntington common stockholders; (3) authorization for listing on the NASDAQ of the shares of Huntington common stock to be issued in connection with the merger and authorization for listing on the NASDAQ or NYSE of the Huntington preferred stock to be issued pursuant to the merger agreement; (4) effectiveness of the registration statement on Form S-4 of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part; (5) the absence of any order, injunction, decree by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing the completion of the merger or the bank merger or making the completion of the merger illegal; (6) the receipt of all required regulatory approvals and expiration or termination of all statutory waiting periods in respect thereof; (7) subject to certain exceptions, the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the other party contained in the merger agreement as of the date on which the merger agreement was entered into and as of the date on which the merger is completed (and the receipt by each party of an officer's certificate from the other party to such effect); (8) performance in all material respects by the other party of its obligations under the merger agreement (and the receipt by each party of an officer's certificate from the other party to such effect); and (9) receipt by each of Huntington and FirstMerit of an opinion from its outside legal counsel to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

Neither FirstMerit nor Huntington can provide assurance as to when or if all of the conditions to the merger can or will be satisfied or waived by the appropriate party. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, neither FirstMerit nor Huntington has reason to believe that any of these conditions will not be satisfied. For more information, see "The Merger Agreement - Conditions to Complete the Merger."

The merger agreement can be terminated at any time prior to completion of the merger by either Huntington or FirstMerit in the following circumstances:

by mutual written consent of Huntington and FirstMerit;

if any governmental entity issues a final and nonappealable denial of approval of the merger or the bank merger or issues a final and nonappealable order permanently enjoining or otherwise prohibiting the consummation of the merger or the bank merger, unless the failure to obtain such approval is due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement to perform or observe its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement;

if the merger has not been completed on or before January 25, 2017 (which we refer to as the termination date), unless the failure of the merger to be consummated by that date is due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement to perform or observe its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement; and subject to cure rights, if there is a breach of any of the covenants or agreements or any of the representations or warranties (or any such representation or warranty ceases to be true) set forth in the merger agreement on the part of the other party which, either individually or in the aggregate, would constitute, if occurring or continuing on the date the merger is completed, the failure of a closing condition of the terminating party.

In addition, the merger agreement may be terminated by Huntington if, (x) prior to obtaining the requisite approval of the merger agreement by FirstMerit common shareholders, FirstMerit or the FirstMerit board of directors (i) submits the merger agreement to its shareholders without a recommendation for approval, or otherwise withdraws or materially and adversely modifies (or discloses its intention to withdraw or materially and adversely modify) its recommendation as contemplated by the merger agreement, or recommends to its shareholders an acquisition proposal other than the merger, or (ii) materially breaches its obligations to hold a meeting of its shareholders to adopt the merger agreement or not to solicit alternative acquisition proposals; or (y) a tender offer or exchange offer for 20% or more of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock is commenced, and the FirstMerit board of directors recommends that the shareholders of FirstMerit tender their shares in such tender or exchange offer or otherwise fails to recommend that such shareholders reject such tender offer or exchange offer within the 10 business day period specified in Rule 14e-2(a) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (which we refer to as the Exchange Act).

If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, including circumstances involving alternative acquisition proposals and adverse recommendation changes made by the FirstMerit board of directors, FirstMerit may be required to pay to Huntington a termination fee equal to $100.6 million. This termination fee could discourage other companies from seeking to acquire or merge with FirstMerit. For more information, see The Merger Agreement Termination Fee.

The Rights of FirstMerit Common Shareholders Will Change as a Result of the Merger (page 142)

The rights of FirstMerit common shareholders will change as a result of the merger due to differences in Huntington's and FirstMerit's governing documents. The rights of FirstMerit common shareholders are governed by Ohio law and by the FirstMerit articles of incorporation and code of regulations. Upon the completion of the merger, FirstMerit common shareholders will become common stockholders of Huntington, and their rights will therefore be governed by Maryland law and the Huntington charter and bylaws.

For more information, see Comparison of Stockholders' Rights, for a description of the material differences in stockholders' rights under each of the Huntington and FirstMerit governing documents.

Litigation Relating to the Merger (page 100)

Following the announcement on January 26, 2016 of the execution of the merger agreement, five purported shareholders of FirstMerit filed putative derivative and class action lawsuits in the Court of Common Pleas, Summit County, Ohio and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio against FirstMerit, the individual members of the FirstMerit board of directors (including FirstMerit's Chief Executive Officer), Huntington, and Merger Sub challenging the proposed transaction. The complaints variously allege, among other things, that the directors of FirstMerit breached their fiduciary duties and violated Sections 14(a) and 20 of the Exchange Act and Rule 14a-9 thereunder in connection with entering into the merger agreement, that Huntington and Merger Sub aided and abetted the alleged fiduciary breaches, and that Huntington violated Section 20 of the Exchange Act. One of the purported shareholders, prior to filing the lawsuit, sent a letter to the FirstMerit board of directors attaching a draft proposed complaint and demanding that the FirstMerit board of directors investigate the allegations therein and remedy the breaches of duty alleged therein. Other potential plaintiffs may also file additional lawsuits challenging the proposed transaction. If any case is not resolved, the lawsuit(s) could prevent or delay completion of the merger and result in substantial costs to Huntington and FirstMerit, including any costs associated with the indemnification of directors and officers. The defense or settlement of any lawsuit or claim that remains unresolved at the time the merger is completed may adversely affect Huntington's business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

- (1) On an FTE basis assuming a 35% tax rate.
 - (2) Net income applicable to common shares excluding expense for amortization of intangibles for the period divided by average tangible shareholders' equity. Average tangible shareholders' equity equals average total shareholders' equity less average intangible assets and goodwill. Expense for amortization of intangibles and average intangible assets are net of deferred tax liability, and calculated assuming a 35% tax rate.
 - (3) Noninterest expense less amortization of intangibles divided by the sum of FTE net interest income and noninterest income excluding securities gains.
 - (4) Tangible common equity (total common equity less goodwill and other intangible assets) divided by tangible assets (total assets less goodwill and other intangible assets). Other intangible assets are net of deferred tax and calculated assuming a 35% tax rate.
 - (5) Tangible equity (total equity less goodwill and other intangible assets) divided by tangible assets (total assets less goodwill and other intangible assets). Other intangible assets are net of deferred tax and calculated assuming a 35% tax rate.
 - (6) Tier 1 common equity, tangible equity, tangible common equity, and tangible assets are non-GAAP financial measures. Additionally, any ratios utilizing these financial measures are also non-GAAP. These financial measures have been included as they are considered to be critical metrics with which to analyze and evaluate financial condition and capital strength. Other companies may calculate these financial measures differently.
 - (7) In accordance with applicable regulatory reporting guidance, Huntington is not required to retrospectively update historical filings for newly adopted accounting principles. Therefore, regulatory capital data has not been updated for the adoption of ASU 2014-01 in periods prior to 2014.
 - (8) Ratios are calculated on the Basel I basis.
- N.A. On January 1, 2015, Huntington became subject to the Basel III capital requirements and the standardized approach for calculating risk-weighted assets in accordance with subpart D of the final capital rule.

- (1) TE or Tax-Equivalent represents a non-GAAP financial measure. Net interest income is presented on a TE basis. Net interest income TE includes the effects of taxable-equivalent adjustments using a statutory federal income tax rate of 35% adjusted for the non-deductible portion of interest expense incurred to acquire the tax-free assets. Net interest income TE enhances comparability of net interest income arising from taxable and tax exempt sources and is the preferred industry measurement of net interest income.
- (2) FirstMerit adopted ASU 2014-01 in the first quarter of 2014, pursuant to which amortization of the initial investment in qualified affordable housing projects is now recorded in the provision for income taxes together with the tax credits and benefits received. Previously, the amortization was recorded as other noninterest expense. All prior period amounts have been restated to reflect the adoption of the amendment, which resulted in an offsetting decrease to other noninterest expense and increase to the provision for income taxes of approximately $3.1 million, $2.7 million and $2.6 million for the years ended, December 31, 2013, 2012, and 2011, respectively.
- (3) Net income used to determine diluted net income per common share was reduced by the cash dividends payable on FirstMerit's 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A.
- (4) The efficiency ratio is a non-GAAP financial measure which measures productivity and is generally calculated as noninterest expense divided by total revenue TE. The efficiency ratio removes the impact of FirstMerit's intangible asset amortization from the calculation. The adjusted efficiency ratio further removes the impact of the merger-related charges in respect of FirstMerit's acquisition of Citizens Republic Bancorp on April 12, 2013.
- (5) The Basel III capital rules, effective January 1, 2015, replace tier 1 common equity and the associated tier 1 common equity ratio with common equity tier 1 (CET1) capital and the CET1 risk-based capital ratio. December 31, 2015 figures are presented on a Basel III basis and reflect transitional capital requirements and phase-in provisions, including the standardized approach for calculating risk weighted assets. December 31, 2014, December 31, 2013, December 31, 2012 and December 31, 2011 amounts and ratios are reported on a Basel I basis. Basel III rules are not formally defined by GAAP; therefore, these measures are considered to be non-GAAP financial measures, and other entities may calculate them differently from FirstMerit's disclosed calculations. Since analysts and banking regulators may assess FirstMerit's capital adequacy using the Basel III framework, Management believes that it is useful to provide investors information enabling them to assess FirstMerit's capital adequacy on the same basis.

Table of ContentsSELECTED UNAUDITED PRO FORMA FINANCIAL DATA

The following table shows selected pro forma condensed combined financial information about the financial condition and results of operations of Huntington giving effect to the merger with FirstMerit. The selected pro forma condensed combined financial information assumes that the merger is accounted for under the acquisition method of accounting, with Huntington treated as the acquirer. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of FirstMerit, as of the effective date of the merger, will be recorded by Huntington at their respective estimated fair values, and the excess of the merger consideration over the fair value of FirstMerit's net assets will be allocated to goodwill.

The pro forma condensed combined income statement information for the year ended December 31, 2015 is presented as if the merger was completed on January 1, 2015, the first business day of the Huntington 2015 fiscal year, and combines the historical results of Huntington and FirstMerit. The pro forma condensed combined balance sheet information as of December 31, 2015 gives effect to the merger as if it occurred on December 31, 2015, and combines the historical balance sheets of Huntington and FirstMerit as of December 31, 2015.

The selected pro forma condensed combined financial data has been derived from, and should be read in conjunction with, the pro forma condensed combined financial information, including the notes thereto, which is included in this joint proxy statement/prospectus under Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements.

The selected pro forma condensed combined financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not necessarily indicate the financial results of the combined companies had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of the period presented. The selected pro forma condensed combined financial information also does not consider any potential impacts of current market conditions on revenues, potential revenue enhancements, anticipated cost savings and expense efficiencies, or asset dispositions, among other factors. Further, as explained in more detail in the notes accompanying the more detailed pro forma combined condensed financial information included under Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements, the pro forma allocation of the purchase price reflected in the selected pro forma condensed combined financial information is subject to adjustment and may vary from the actual purchase price allocation that will be recorded at the time the merger is completed. Additionally, the adjustments made in the pro forma condensed financial information, which are described in those notes, are preliminary and may be revised.

Table of ContentsCOMPARATIVE HISTORICAL AND UNAUDITED PRO FORMA PER SHARE DATA

Presented below are Huntington's and FirstMerit's historical per share data for the year ended December 31, 2015, and pro forma combined per share data for the year ended December 31, 2015. Except for the historical information as of and for the year ended December 31, 2015, the information provided in the table below is unaudited. The pro forma data and equivalent per share information gives effect to the merger as if the transaction had been effective on the dates presented, in the case of the tangible book value data, and as if the transactions had become effective on January 1, 2015, in the case of the earnings per share and dividends declared data. This information should be read together with the historical consolidated financial statements and related notes of Huntington and FirstMerit filed by each with the SEC, and incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and with the unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements included under Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements.

The pro forma financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not necessarily indicate the financial results of the combined companies had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of the period presented. The pro forma financial information also does not consider any potential impacts of current market conditions on revenues, potential revenue enhancements, anticipated cost savings and expense efficiencies, or asset dispositions, among other factors.

CAUTIONARY STATEMENT REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

Some of the statements contained or incorporated by reference in this joint proxy statement/prospectus are forward looking statements within the meaning of the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. Statements that do not describe historical or current facts, including statements about beliefs, expectations and predictions of future financial or business performance or conditions, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements may be identified by words such as expect, anticipate, believe, intend, estimate, plan, target, goal, or similar expressions, or future or conditional verbs such as will, may, might, should, would, could, or similar variations. These forward-looking statements are subject to numerous assumptions, risks, and uncertainties which change over time. In addition to factors previously disclosed in Huntington's and FirstMerit's reports filed with the SEC, the following factors, among others, could cause actual results to differ materially from forward-looking statements:

the possibility that the merger does not close when expected or at all because required regulatory, shareholder, or other approvals are not received or other conditions to the closing are not satisfied on a timely basis or at all;

the possibility that the anticipated benefits of the transaction are not realized when expected or at all, including as a result of the impact of, or problems arising from, the integration of the two companies or as a result of the strength of the economy and competitive factors in the areas where Huntington and FirstMerit do business;

the effect of divestitures that may be required by regulatory authorities in certain markets in which Huntington and FirstMerit compete;

the potential impact of announcement or completion of the proposed merger with FirstMerit on relationships with third parties, including customers, employees, and competitors;

business disruption following the merger, including diversion of management's attention from ongoing business operations and opportunities;

Huntington's ability to complete the acquisition and integration of FirstMerit successfully;

Huntington's potential exposure to unknown or contingent liabilities of FirstMerit;

the possibility that the transaction may be more expensive to complete than anticipated, including as a result of unexpected factors or events;

the challenges of integrating, retaining, and hiring key personnel;

failure to attract new customers and retain existing customers in the manner anticipated;

the outcome of pending or threatened litigation, or of matters before regulatory agencies, whether currently existing or commencing in the future, including litigation related to the merger;

any interruption or breach of security resulting in failures or disruptions in customer account management, general ledger, deposit, loan, or other systems;

changes in Huntington's stock price before closing, including as a result of the financial performance of FirstMerit prior to closing;

operational issues stemming from, and/or capital spending necessitated by, the potential need to adapt to industry changes in information technology systems, on which Huntington and FirstMerit are highly dependent;

changes in legislation, regulation, policies, or administrative practices, whether by judicial, governmental, or legislative action, including, but not limited to, the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act, which we refer to as the Dodd-Frank Act, and other changes pertaining to banking, securities, taxation, rent regulation and housing, financial accounting and reporting, environmental protection, and insurance, and the ability to comply with such changes in a timely manner; changes in the monetary and fiscal policies of the U.S. government, including policies of the U.S. Department of the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board; changes in interest rates, which may affect Huntington's or FirstMerit's net income, prepayment penalty income, mortgage banking income, and other future cash flows, or the market value of Huntington's or FirstMerit's assets, including investment securities;

changes in accounting principles, policies, practices, or guidelines; changes in Huntington's credit ratings or in Huntington's ability to access the capital markets; natural disasters, war, or terrorist activities; and other economic, competitive, governmental, regulatory, technological, and geopolitical factors affecting Huntington's or FirstMerit's operations, pricing, and services.

Additionally, the timing and occurrence or non-occurrence of events may be subject to circumstances beyond Huntington's or FirstMerit's control.

For any forward-looking statements made in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or in any documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Huntington and FirstMerit claim the protection of the safe harbor for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. You are cautioned not to place undue reliance on these statements, which speak only as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus or the date of the applicable document incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Except to the extent required by applicable law, Huntington and FirstMerit do not undertake to update forward-looking statements to reflect facts, circumstances, assumptions, or events that occur after the date the forward-looking statements are made. All written and oral forward-looking statements concerning the merger or other matters addressed in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and attributable to Huntington, FirstMerit, or any person acting on their behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the cautionary statements contained or referred to in this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

RISK FACTORS

In addition to general investment risks and the other information contained in or incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the matters addressed under the section Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements, you should carefully consider the following risk factors in deciding how to vote for the proposals presented in this joint proxy statement/prospectus. You should also consider the other information in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Please see Where You Can Find More Information.

Risks Related to the Mergers and Huntington's Business Upon Completion of the Mergers

Because the market price of Huntington common stock will fluctuate, FirstMerit common shareholders cannot be certain of the market value of the merger consideration they will receive.

Upon completion of the merger, each outstanding share of FirstMerit common stock (except for specified shares of FirstMerit common stock held by FirstMerit or Huntington and shares of FirstMerit common stock held by shareholders who properly exercise dissenters' rights) will be converted into 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock and $5.00 in cash. The market value of the stock consideration will vary from the closing price of Huntington common stock on the date Huntington and FirstMerit announced the merger, on the date that this joint proxy statement/prospectus is mailed to FirstMerit common shareholders, on the date of the special meeting of the FirstMerit common shareholders, and on the date the merger is completed. Any change in the market price of Huntington common stock prior to the completion of the merger will affect the market value of the stock consideration that FirstMerit common shareholders will receive upon completion of the merger, and there will be no adjustment to the merger consideration for changes in the market price of either shares of Huntington common stock or shares of FirstMerit common stock.

The market price of Huntington's common stock could be subject to significant fluctuations due to changes in sentiment in the market regarding Huntington's operations or business prospects, including market sentiment regarding Huntington's entry into the merger agreement. These risks may be affected by:

operating results that vary from the expectations of Huntington management or of securities analysts and investors;

developments in Huntington's business or in the financial services sector generally; regulatory or legislative changes affecting Huntington's industry generally or its business and operations;

operating and securities price performance of companies that investors consider to be comparable to Huntington;

changes in estimates or recommendations by securities analysts or rating agencies; announcements of strategic developments, acquisitions, dispositions, financings, and other material events by Huntington or its competitors; and changes in global financial markets and economies and general market conditions, such as interest or foreign exchange rates, stock, commodity, credit or asset valuations or volatility.

Therefore, at the time of the FirstMerit special meeting, you will not know the precise market value of the consideration you will receive at the effective time of the merger. You should obtain current market quotations for shares of Huntington common stock and for shares of FirstMerit common stock.

The market price of Huntington common stock after the merger may be affected by factors different from those affecting the shares of FirstMerit or Huntington currently.

Upon completion of the merger, holders of FirstMerit common stock will become holders of Huntington common stock. Huntington's business differs in important respects from that of FirstMerit and, accordingly, the results of operations of the combined company and the market price of Huntington common stock after the completion of the merger may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the independent results of operations of each of Huntington and FirstMerit. For example, Huntington operates branches in certain states of the United States, including Indiana, Kentucky, and West Virginia, where FirstMerit does not. Accordingly, the results of operations of Huntington will be affected by business and other developments in those areas of the country to a larger extent than those of FirstMerit. For a discussion of the businesses of Huntington and FirstMerit and of some important factors to consider in connection with those businesses, please see the documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus and referred to under Where You Can Find More Information.

Regulatory approvals may not be received, may take longer than expected, or may impose conditions that are not presently anticipated or that could have an adverse effect on the combined company following the merger.

Before the mergers and the bank merger may be completed, Huntington and FirstMerit must obtain approvals from the Federal Reserve Board, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the United States Department of Justice. Other approvals, waivers, or consents from regulators may also be required. In determining whether to grant these approvals, the relevant governmental entities consider a variety of factors, including the regulatory standing of each party, the effect of the mergers and the bank merger on competition and the factors described under The Merger Regulatory Approvals Required for the Completion of the Merger. An adverse development in either party's regulatory standing or these factors could result in an inability to obtain approval or delay receipt of required approvals. The relevant governmental entities may impose conditions, limitations, obligations or restrictions on the conduct of the combined company's business or require branch divestitures or changes to the terms of the mergers or the bank merger. There can be no assurance that relevant government entities will not impose conditions, limitations, obligations or restrictions and that such conditions, limitations, obligations or restrictions will not have the effect of delaying the completion of the mergers or the bank merger, imposing additional material costs on or materially limiting the revenues of the combined company following the mergers or otherwise reduce the anticipated benefits of the mergers or the bank merger. Additionally, the completion of the merger and the bank merger is conditioned on the absence of certain orders, injunctions or decrees by any court or regulatory agency of competent jurisdiction that would prohibit or make illegal the completion of the merger or bank merger.

The processing time for obtaining regulatory approvals for bank mergers, particularly for larger institutions, has increased since the financial crisis.

In a recent approval order, the Federal Reserve Board has stated that if material weaknesses are identified by examiners before a banking organization applies to engage in expansionary activity, the Federal Reserve Board will not in the future allow the application to remain pending while the banking organization addresses its weaknesses. The Federal Reserve Board explained that, in the future, if issues arise during processing of an application, a banking organization will be required to withdraw its application pending resolution of any supervisory concerns. Accordingly, if there is an adverse development in either party's regulatory standing, Huntington may be required to withdraw the application for approval of the proposed merger and, if possible, resubmit it after the applicable supervisory concerns have been resolved. See The Merger Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger.

The success of the mergers and the bank merger and integration of Huntington and FirstMerit will depend on a number of uncertain factors.

The success of the mergers and the bank merger will depend on a number of factors, including, without limitation:

Huntington's ability to integrate the business acquired from FirstMerit Bank in the merger (which we refer to as the acquired business) into The Huntington National Bank's current operations;

Table of Contents

Huntington's ability to limit the outflow of deposits held by its new customers in the acquired business and to successfully retain and manage interest-earning assets and relationships (i.e., loans) acquired in the merger;

Huntington's ability to control the incremental non-interest expense from the acquired business in a manner that enables it to maintain a favorable overall efficiency ratio;

Huntington's ability to retain and attract the key employees and appropriate personnel;

Huntington's ability to earn acceptable levels of interest and non-interest income, including fee income, from the acquired business;

Huntington's ability to retain the customer relationships from the acquired business; and the effect of divestitures that may be required by regulatory authorities in certain markets in which Huntington and FirstMerit compete.

Integrating the acquired business will be an operation of substantial size and expense, and may be affected by general market and economic conditions or government actions affecting the financial industry generally. Integration efforts will also likely divert Huntington's management's attention and resources. No assurance can be given that Huntington will be able to integrate the acquired business successfully, and the integration process could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of ongoing business, or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures and policies that adversely affect Huntington's ability to maintain relationships with clients, customers, depositors and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits of the mergers and the bank merger. Huntington may also encounter unexpected difficulties or costs during the integration that could adversely affect its earnings and financial condition, perhaps materially. Additionally, no assurance can be given that the operation of the acquired business will not adversely affect Huntington's existing profitability, that Huntington will be able to achieve results in the future similar to those achieved by its existing banking business, or that Huntington will be able to manage any growth resulting from the mergers effectively.

Combining Huntington and FirstMerit may be more difficult, costly or time consuming than expected and the anticipated benefits and cost savings of the mergers and the bank merger may not be realized.

Huntington and FirstMerit have operated and, until the completion of the merger, will continue to operate, independently. The success of the mergers and the bank merger, including anticipated benefits and cost savings, will depend, in part, on Huntington's ability to successfully combine and integrate the businesses of Huntington and FirstMerit in a manner that permits growth opportunities, and does not materially disrupt existing customer relations nor result in decreased revenues due to loss of customers. It is possible that the integration process could result in the loss of key employees, the disruption of either company's ongoing businesses, or inconsistencies in standards, controls, procedures, and policies that adversely affect the combined company's ability to maintain relationships with clients, customers, depositors, and employees or to achieve the anticipated benefits and cost savings of the mergers and the bank merger. The loss of key employees could adversely affect Huntington's ability to successfully conduct its business, which could have an adverse effect on Huntington's financial results and the value of its common stock. If Huntington experiences difficulties with the integration process and attendant systems conversion, the anticipated benefits of the mergers and the bank merger may not be realized fully or at all, or may take longer to realize than expected. As with any merger of financial institutions, there also may be business disruptions that cause Huntington and/or FirstMerit to lose customers or cause customers to remove their accounts from Huntington and/or FirstMerit and move their business to competing financial institutions. Integration efforts between the two companies will also divert management attention and resources. These integration matters could have an adverse effect on each of FirstMerit and Huntington during this transition period and for an undetermined period after completion of the mergers and the bank merger on the combined company. In addition, the actual cost savings of the mergers and the bank merger could be less than anticipated.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements included in this document are preliminary and the actual financial condition and results of operations of Huntington after the mergers may differ materially.

The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements in this document are presented for illustrative purposes only and are not necessarily indicative of what Huntington's actual financial condition or results of operations would have been had the mergers been completed on the dates indicated. The unaudited pro forma condensed combined financial statements reflect adjustments, which are based upon preliminary estimates, to record the FirstMerit identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed at fair value and the resulting goodwill recognized. The purchase price allocation reflected in this document is preliminary, and final allocation of the purchase price will be based upon the actual purchase price and the fair value of the assets and liabilities of FirstMerit as of the date of the completion of the mergers. Accordingly, the final acquisition accounting adjustments may differ materially from the pro forma adjustments reflected in this document. For more information, please see Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Combined Financial Statements.

In connection with the mergers, Huntington will assume FirstMerit's outstanding debt obligations and preferred stock, and Huntington's level of indebtedness following the completion of the mergers could adversely affect Huntington's ability to raise additional capital and to meet its obligations under its existing indebtedness.

In connection with the mergers, Huntington will assume $250 million of FirstMerit's outstanding subordinated notes and FirstMerit's obligations related to its outstanding preferred stock, and in connection with the bank merger, The Huntington National Bank will assume $250 million of FirstMerit Bank's outstanding subordinated notes. Huntington's existing debt, together with any future incurrence of additional indebtedness, and assumption of the obligations related to FirstMerit's outstanding preferred stock, could have important consequences for Huntington's creditors and Huntington's stockholders. For example, it could:

limit Huntington's ability to obtain additional financing for working capital, capital expenditures, debt service requirements, acquisitions, and general corporate or other purposes;

restrict Huntington from making strategic acquisitions or cause the combined company to make non-strategic divestitures;

restrict Huntington from paying dividends to its stockholders;

increase the combined company's vulnerability to general economic and industry conditions; and require a substantial portion of cash flow from operations to be dedicated to the payment of principal and interest on the combined company's indebtedness and dividends on the preferred stock, thereby reducing Huntington's ability to use cash flows to fund its operations, capital expenditures, and future business opportunities.

Following completion of the mergers, holders of Huntington common stock will be subject to the dividend and liquidation rights of the holders of the Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock, the Huntington Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, the Huntington 6.250%

Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, and the Huntington preferred stock that Huntington will issue upon completion of the second step merger. The holders of shares of FirstMerit preferred stock, who will receive Huntington preferred stock upon completion of the second step merger, as well as the holders of the Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock, the Huntington Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, the Huntington 6.250% Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, and any shares of undesignated Huntington preferred stock that Huntington may reclassify and issue in the future, would receive, upon Huntington's voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution, or winding up, before any payment is made to holders of Huntington common stock, their liquidation preferences as well as any accrued and unpaid distributions. These payments would reduce the remaining amount of Huntington's assets, if any, available for distribution to holders of its common stock.

General market conditions and unpredictable factors, including conditions and factors different from those affecting FirstMerit preferred stock and depositary shares currently, could adversely affect market prices for Huntington preferred stock and depositary shares.

There can be no assurance about the market prices for the Huntington preferred stock and Huntington depositary shares. Several factors, many of which are beyond the control of Huntington, could influence the market prices of the Huntington preferred stock and Huntington depositary shares, including:

whether Huntington declares or fails to declare dividends on the Huntington preferred stock from time to time;

real or anticipated changes in the credit ratings assigned to the Huntington depositary shares, Huntington preferred stock, or other Huntington securities;

Huntington's creditworthiness;

interest rates;

developments in the securities, credit, and housing markets, and developments with respect to financial institutions generally;

the market for similar securities; and economic, corporate, securities market, geopolitical, regulatory or judicial events that affect Huntington, the banking industry, or the financial markets generally.

Shares of Huntington preferred stock are equity interests and do not constitute indebtedness. As such, Huntington preferred stock and Huntington depositary shares rank junior to all indebtedness of, and other non-equity claims on, Huntington with respect to assets available to satisfy claims. The market prices for the Huntington preferred stock and Huntington depositary shares may be affected by factors different from those currently affecting the FirstMerit preferred stock and FirstMerit depositary shares.

Certain of FirstMerit's directors and executive officers have interests in the merger that may differ from the interests of FirstMerit's shareholders.

FirstMerit's shareholders should be aware that some of FirstMerit's directors and executive officers have interests in the merger and have arrangements that are different from, or in addition to, those of FirstMerit's shareholders generally. These interests and arrangements may create potential conflicts of interest. The FirstMerit board of directors was aware of these interests and considered these interests, among other matters, when making its decision to approve the merger agreement, and in recommending that FirstMerit's shareholders vote in favor of adopting the merger agreement.

For a more complete description of these interests, please see "The Merger" Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger.

Termination of the merger agreement could negatively impact FirstMerit or Huntington.

If the merger agreement is terminated, there may be various consequences. For example, FirstMerit's or Huntington's businesses may have been impacted adversely by the failure to pursue other beneficial opportunities due to the focus of management on the merger, without realizing any of the anticipated benefits of completing the merger. Additionally, if the merger agreement is terminated, the market price of FirstMerit's or Huntington's common stock could decline to the extent that the current market prices reflect a market assumption that the merger will be completed. If the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, FirstMerit may be required to pay to Huntington a termination fee of $100.6 million.

FirstMerit and Huntington will be subject to business uncertainties and contractual restrictions while the merger is pending.

Uncertainty about the effect of the merger on employees and customers may have an adverse effect on FirstMerit or Huntington. These uncertainties may impair FirstMerit's or Huntington's ability to attract, retain, and motivate key personnel until the merger is completed, and could cause customers and others that deal with FirstMerit or Huntington to seek to change existing business relationships with FirstMerit or Huntington. Retention of certain employees by FirstMerit or Huntington may be challenging while the merger is pending, as certain employees may experience uncertainty about their future roles with the combined company. If key employees depart because of issues relating to the uncertainty and difficulty of integration, or a desire not to remain with FirstMerit or Huntington, FirstMerit's business or Huntington's business could be harmed. In addition, subject to certain exceptions, FirstMerit has agreed to operate its business in the ordinary course prior to closing. See The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements for a description of the restrictive covenants applicable to FirstMerit and Huntington.

If the merger is not completed, Huntington and FirstMerit will have incurred substantial expenses without realizing the expected benefits of the merger.

Each of Huntington and FirstMerit has incurred and will incur substantial expenses in connection with the negotiation and completion of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, as well as the costs and expenses of filing, printing, and mailing this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and all filing and other fees paid to the SEC in connection with the merger. If the merger is not completed, Huntington and FirstMerit would have to recognize these expenses without realizing the expected benefits of the merger.

The merger agreement limits FirstMerit's ability to pursue acquisition proposals and requires FirstMerit to pay a termination fee of $100.6 million under limited circumstances, including circumstances relating to acquisition proposals. Additionally, certain provisions of the Huntington charter, FirstMerit articles of incorporation, Huntington bylaws, and FirstMerit code of regulations may deter other potential or competing acquirers.

The merger agreement prohibits FirstMerit from initiating, soliciting, knowingly encouraging, or knowingly facilitating certain third-party acquisition proposals. See The Merger Agreement Covenants and Agreements Agreement Not to Solicit Other Offers. The merger agreement also provides that FirstMerit will be required to pay to Huntington a termination fee in the amount of $100.6 million in the event that the merger agreement is terminated under certain circumstances, including a change of recommendation by the FirstMerit board of directors. See The Merger Agreement Termination Fee. These provisions might discourage a potential competing acquirer that might have an interest in acquiring all or a significant part of FirstMerit from considering or proposing such an acquisition. Under Maryland law and Ohio law, each of Huntington and FirstMerit may not engage in certain business combinations involving interested stockholders unless the transaction is approved by the applicable corporation's board of directors before the interested stockholder becomes an interested stockholder of the corporation or certain other requirements are met, and neither Huntington nor FirstMerit has opted out of such provision in Maryland law and Ohio law, respectively, other than with respect to the merger. In addition, under Maryland law, holders of Huntington common stock who beneficially own shares of Huntington common stock within one of several specified ranges (one-tenth or more but less than one-third, one-third or more but less than a majority or a majority or more) (referred to as control shares) are not entitled to vote their control shares unless acquisition of such control shares has been approved by Huntington's stockholders, and Huntington has not opted out of this provision. See Comparison of Stockholders' Rights Anti-Takeover Provisions and Other Stockholder Protections. These provisions and other provisions of the MGCL, the OGCL, and the FirstMerit and Huntington charters or bylaws/code of regulations could make it more difficult for a third-party to acquire control of FirstMerit or Huntington and may discourage a potential competing acquirer.

The shares of Huntington common stock to be received by FirstMerit common shareholders as a result of the merger will have different rights from the shares of FirstMerit common stock.

Upon completion of the merger, FirstMerit common shareholders will become Huntington common stockholders and their rights as stockholders will be governed by the MGCL and the Huntington charter and bylaws. The rights associated with FirstMerit common stock are different from the rights associated with Huntington common stock. Please see Comparison of Stockholders' Rights for a discussion of the different rights associated with Huntington common stock.

Holders of FirstMerit and Huntington common stock will have a reduced ownership and voting interest in the combined company after the merger and will exercise less influence over management.

Holders of FirstMerit and Huntington common stock currently have the right to vote in the election of the board of directors and on other matters affecting FirstMerit and Huntington, respectively. Upon completion of the merger, each FirstMerit common shareholder who receives shares of Huntington common stock will become a common stockholder of Huntington, with a percentage ownership of Huntington that is smaller than the stockholder's percentage ownership of FirstMerit. Based on the number of shares of Huntington and FirstMerit common stock outstanding on April 21, 2016, the last date before the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus for which it was practicable to obtain this information, and based on the shares expected to be issued in the merger, the former shareholders of FirstMerit as a group will receive shares in the merger constituting approximately 26% of the outstanding shares of Huntington common stock immediately after the merger. As a result, current stockholders of Huntington as a group will own approximately 74% of the outstanding shares of Huntington common stock immediately after the merger. Because of this, FirstMerit common shareholders may have less influence on the management and policies of Huntington than they now have on the management and policies of FirstMerit, and current Huntington common stockholders may have less influence than they now have on the management and policies of Huntington.

The opinions of Huntington's and FirstMerit's financial advisors will not reflect changes in circumstances between the signing of the merger agreement and the completion of the merger.

Huntington and FirstMerit have not obtained updated opinions from their respective financial advisors as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Changes in the operations and prospects of Huntington or FirstMerit, general market and economic conditions and other factors that may be beyond the control of Huntington or FirstMerit, and on which Huntington's and FirstMerit's financial advisors' opinions were based, may significantly alter the value of FirstMerit or Huntington or the prices of the FirstMerit common shares or shares of Huntington common stock by the time the merger is completed. The opinions do not speak as of the time the merger will be completed or as of any date other than the date of such opinions. Because Huntington and FirstMerit do not currently anticipate asking their respective financial advisors to update their opinions, the opinions will not address the fairness of the merger consideration from a financial point of view at the time the merger is completed.

FirstMerit common shareholders are expected to have dissenters' rights in the merger.

If the merger agreement is adopted by FirstMerit common shareholders, FirstMerit common shareholders who do not vote in favor of the adoption of the merger agreement and who properly demand payment of fair cash value of their shares will be entitled to dissenters' rights in connection with the merger under Sections 1701.84(A) and 1701.85 of the OGCL. Neither FirstMerit nor Huntington can predict the number of FirstMerit common shareholders who will seek payment of fair cash value of their shares. For more information, please see The Merger Dissenters' Rights in the Merger.

Pending Litigation Against Huntington and FirstMerit Could Result in an Injunction Preventing the Completion of the Merger or a Judgment Resulting in the Payment of Damages.

Following the announcement on January 26, 2016 of the execution of the merger agreement, five purported shareholders of FirstMerit filed five putative derivative and class action lawsuits in the Court of Common Pleas, Summit County, Ohio and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio against FirstMerit, its directors (including its Chief Executive Officer), Huntington, and Merger Sub challenging the proposed transaction. One of the purported shareholders, prior to filing the lawsuit, sent a letter to the FirstMerit board of directors attaching a draft proposed complaint and demanding that the FirstMerit board of directors investigate the allegations therein and remedy the breaches of duty alleged therein. Other potential plaintiffs may also file additional lawsuits challenging the proposed transaction. The outcome of any such litigation is uncertain. If any case is not resolved, the lawsuit(s) could prevent or delay completion of the merger and result in substantial costs to Huntington and FirstMerit, including any costs associated with the indemnification of directors and officers. One of the conditions to the closing of the merger is that no order, injunction, or decree issued by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing the consummation of the merger or the bank merger shall be in effect. As such, if plaintiffs are successful in obtaining an injunction prohibiting the completion of the merger or the bank merger on the agreed-upon terms, then such injunction may prevent the merger from being completed, or from being completed within the expected timeframe. The defense or settlement of any lawsuit or claim that remains unresolved at the time the merger is completed may adversely affect the combined company's business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows. For more information, see The Merger Litigation Related to the Merger.

Risks Relating to Huntington's Business

You should read and consider risk factors specific to Huntington's business that will also affect the combined company after the mergers. These risks are described in the sections entitled Risk Factors in Huntington's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 and in other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Please see Where You Can Find More Information for the location of information incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Risks Relating to FirstMerit's Business

You should read and consider risk factors specific to FirstMerit's business that will also affect the combined company after the mergers. These risks are described in the sections entitled Risk Factors in FirstMerit's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2015 (as amended by Annual Report on Form 10-K/A filed on April 25, 2016) and in other documents incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. THE HUNTINGTON SPECIAL MEETING

This section contains information for Huntington common stockholders about the special meeting that Huntington has called to allow its common stockholders to consider and vote on the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. Huntington is mailing this joint proxy statement/prospectus to you, as a Huntington common stockholder, on or about []. This joint proxy statement/prospectus is accompanied by a notice of the special meeting of Huntington common stockholders and a form of proxy card that the Huntington board of directors is soliciting for use at the special meeting and at any postponements or adjournments of the special meeting.

Date, Time, and Place of Meeting

The special meeting of Huntington common stockholders will be held at Huntington's Easton Business Service Center, 7 Easton Oval, Columbus, Ohio 43219 at 1:00 p.m., local time, on June 13, 2016. On or about [], Huntington commenced mailing this joint proxy statement/prospectus and the enclosed form of proxy card to its common stockholders entitled to vote at the Huntington special meeting.

Matters to Be Considered

At the Huntington special meeting, Huntington common stockholders will be asked to consider and vote upon the Huntington stock issuance proposal.

Recommendation of the Huntington Board of Directors

Huntington Record Date and Quorum

The Huntington board of directors has fixed the close of business on April 15, 2016, as the record date for determining the holders of Huntington common stock entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the Huntington special meeting.

As of the Huntington record date, there were 798,867,394 shares of Huntington common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the Huntington special meeting held by 32,934 holders of record. Each share of Huntington common stock, other than any control shares, if any, entitles the holder to one vote at the Huntington special meeting on each proposal to be considered at the Huntington special meeting. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, Huntington is not aware of any stockholder that holds any control shares.

The representation (in person or by proxy) of holders of at least a majority of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter to be voted on at the Huntington special meeting constitutes a quorum for transacting business at the Huntington special meeting. Other than control shares, all shares of Huntington common stock, whether present in person or represented by proxy, including abstentions, will be treated as present for purposes of determining the presence or absence of a quorum for all matters voted on at the Huntington special meeting.

In accordance with Huntington's bylaws, the Huntington special meeting may be adjourned by the Chairman of the meeting.

Vote Required; Treatment of Abstentions and Failure to Vote

Standard: Approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the Huntington special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the Huntington special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the Huntington stock issuance proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

Shares Held by Officers and Directors

As of the Huntington record date, the directors and executive officers of Huntington and their affiliates owned, and were entitled to vote, 13,705,078 shares of Huntington common stock, representing approximately 1.7% of the shares of Huntington common stock outstanding on that date. Huntington currently expects that Huntington's directors and executive officers will vote their shares in favor of the Huntington stock issuance proposal, although none of them has entered into any agreements obligating them to do so. As of the Huntington record date, excluding shares held in fiduciary or agency capacity, FirstMerit and its subsidiaries did not own any shares of Huntington common stock.

Voting of Proxies; Incomplete Proxies

A Huntington common stockholder may vote by proxy or in person at the Huntington special meeting. If you hold your shares of Huntington common stock in your name as a stockholder of record, to submit a proxy, you, as a Huntington common stockholder, may use one of the following methods:

by telephone: by calling the toll-free number indicated on your proxy card and following the recorded instructions.

through the Internet: by visiting the website indicated on your proxy card and following the instructions.

complete and return the proxy card in the enclosed envelope. The envelope requires no additional postage if mailed in the United States.

Huntington requests that Huntington common stockholders vote by telephone, over the Internet, or by completing and signing the accompanying proxy card and returning it to Huntington as soon as possible in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. When the accompanying proxy card is returned properly executed, the shares of Huntington common stock represented by it will be voted at the Huntington special meeting in accordance with the instructions contained on the proxy card. If any proxy card is returned without indication as to how to vote, the shares of Huntington common stock represented by the proxy card will be voted as recommended by the Huntington board of directors.

Every Huntington common stockholder's vote is important. Accordingly, each Huntington common stockholder should sign, date, and return the enclosed proxy card, or vote via the Internet or by telephone, whether or not the Huntington common stockholder plans to attend the Huntington special meeting in person. Sending in your proxy card or voting by telephone or on the Internet will not prevent you from voting your shares personally at the meeting, since you may revoke your proxy at any time before it is voted.

Shares Held in Street Name ; Broker Non-Votes

Under stock exchange rules, banks, brokers, and other nominees who hold shares of Huntington common stock in street name for a beneficial owner of those shares typically have the authority to vote in their discretion on routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. However, banks, brokers, and other nominees are not allowed to exercise their voting discretion with respect to the approval of matters determined to be non-routine, without specific instructions from the beneficial owner. Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank, or other nominee that are represented at the Huntington special meeting, but with respect to which the broker or nominee is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares to vote on the particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. If your broker, bank, or other nominee holds your shares of Huntington common stock in street name, your broker, bank, or other nominee will vote your shares of Huntington common stock only if you provide instructions on how to vote by filling out the voter instruction form sent to you by your broker, bank, or other nominee with this joint proxy statement/prospectus. We believe that the Huntington stock issuance proposal is a non-routine proposal and your broker, bank, or other nominee can vote your shares of Huntington common stock only with your specific voting instructions.

Revocability of Proxies and Changes to a Huntington Common Stockholder's Vote

You have the power to change your vote at any time before your shares of Huntington common stock are voted at the Huntington special meeting by:

signing and returning a proxy card with a later date; delivering a written revocation letter to Huntington's corporate secretary at Huntington Center, 41 South High Street, Columbus, Ohio 43287;

attending the Huntington special meeting in person, notifying the corporate secretary and voting by ballot at the special meeting; or voting by telephone or the Internet at a later time than the time at which you first voted.

If you choose to send a completed proxy card bearing a later date than your original proxy card, the new proxy card must be received before the beginning of the Huntington special meeting. If you have instructed a bank, broker, or other holder of record to vote your shares of Huntington common stock, you must follow the directions you receive from your bank, broker, or other holder of record in order to change or revoke your vote.

Solicitation of Proxies

In addition to solicitation by mail, directors, officers, and employees of Huntington may solicit proxies by personal interview, telephone, or electronic mail. Huntington reimburses brokerage houses, custodians, nominees, and fiduciaries for their expenses in forwarding proxies and proxy material to their principals. Huntington's directors, officers and employees will not be paid any additional amounts for soliciting proxies. Huntington has retained Morrow & Co., LLC to assist in the solicitation of proxies, which firm will, by agreement, receive compensation of $20,000, plus expenses, for these services. Huntington will bear the entire cost of soliciting proxies from you.

Attending the Huntington Special Meeting

Subject to space availability, all Huntington common stockholders as of the Huntington record date, or their duly appointed proxies, may attend the Huntington special meeting. Since seating is limited, admission to the Huntington special meeting will be on a first-come, first-served basis. Registration and seating will begin at 12:00 noon, local time.

If you hold your shares of Huntington common stock in your name as a stockholder of record and you wish to attend the Huntington special meeting, please bring evidence of your stock ownership, such as your most recent account statement, to the Huntington special meeting. You should also bring a valid picture identification.

If your shares of Huntington common stock are held in street name in a stock brokerage account or by a bank, broker or other holder of record and you wish to attend the Huntington special meeting, you must obtain a legal proxy from the bank, broker or other holder of record and you will need to bring a copy of a bank or brokerage statement to the Huntington special meeting reflecting your stock ownership as of the Huntington record date. You should also bring a valid picture identification.

Delivery of Proxy Materials to Stockholders Sharing an Address

The SEC has adopted rules that permit companies to mail a single proxy statement to two or more stockholders sharing the same address. This practice is known as householding. Householding provides greater convenience to stockholders and saves Huntington money by reducing excess printing costs. You may have been identified as living at the same address as another Huntington common stockholder. If this is the case, and unless Huntington receives contrary instructions from you, Huntington will continue to household your proxy statement for the reasons stated above.

If you are a Huntington common stockholder or a beneficial owner at a shared address to which a single copy of the proxy statement has been delivered, and you would like to receive your own copy of this joint proxy

HUNTINGTON PROPOSAL

PROPOSAL NO. 1 HUNTINGTON STOCK ISSUANCE PROPOSAL

Huntington is asking its common stockholders to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement. Holders of Huntington common stock should read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully and in its entirety, including the annexes, for more detailed information concerning the merger agreement and the merger. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A.

After careful consideration, the Huntington board of directors approved the mergers, stock issuance and the merger agreement and declared the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the mergers, the bank merger, and the issuance of Huntington common stock in the merger pursuant to the merger agreement, to be advisable and in the best interests of Huntington. See The Merger Huntington's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the Huntington Board of Directors included elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus for a more detailed discussion of the Huntington board of directors' recommendation.

THE FIRSTMERIT SPECIAL MEETING

Date, Time, and Place of Meeting

The special meeting of FirstMerit common shareholders will be held on June 13, 2016 at 2:00 p.m., local time, at FirstMerit Tower, 7th Floor, 106 South Main Street, Akron, Ohio 44308, local time.

Matters to Be Considered

At the FirstMerit special meeting, FirstMerit common shareholders will be asked to consider and vote upon the following matters:

the FirstMerit merger proposal;

the FirstMerit compensation proposal; and the FirstMerit adjournment proposal.

Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors

The FirstMerit board of directors has determined that the mergers and the bank merger are in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders and has approved the merger agreement. The FirstMerit board of directors recommends that FirstMerit common shareholders vote FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal, FOR the FirstMerit compensation proposal, and FOR the FirstMerit adjournment proposal. See The Merger FirstMerit's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors for a more detailed discussion of the FirstMerit board of directors recommendation.

FirstMerit Record Date and Quorum

The FirstMerit board of directors has fixed the close of business on April 15, 2016 as the record date for determining the holders of FirstMerit common stock entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting.

As of the FirstMerit record date, there were 166,462,448 shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding and entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting held by approximately 39,334 holders of record. Each share of FirstMerit common stock entitles the holder to one vote at the FirstMerit special meeting on each proposal to be considered at the FirstMerit special meeting.

The presence at the FirstMerit special meeting, in person or by proxy, of holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock entitled to vote at the FirstMerit special meeting will constitute a quorum for the transaction of business. All shares of FirstMerit common stock present in person or represented by proxy, including abstentions, will be treated as present for purposes of determining the presence or absence of a quorum for all matters voted on at the FirstMerit special meeting.

Vote Required; Treatment of Abstentions and Failure to Vote

FirstMerit merger proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit merger proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the voting power of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you fail to vote, mark ABSTAIN on your proxy, or fail to instruct your bank or broker with respect to the FirstMerit merger proposal, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal.

Table of Contents

FirstMerit compensation proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit compensation proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the votes cast at the FirstMerit special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the FirstMerit compensation proposal, you will not be deemed to have cast a vote with respect to the proposal and it will have no effect on the proposal.

FirstMerit adjournment proposal:

Standard: Approval of the FirstMerit adjournment proposal requires the affirmative vote of the holders of at least a majority of the shares of FirstMerit common stock present or represented by proxy at the FirstMerit special meeting.

Effect of abstentions and broker non-votes: If you mark ABSTAIN on your proxy card, it will have the same effect as a vote AGAINST the proposal. If you fail to submit a proxy card or vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting, or fail to instruct your bank or broker how to vote with respect to the FirstMerit adjournment proposal, it will have no effect on the proposal.

As of the FirstMerit record date, the directors and executive officers of FirstMerit and their affiliates beneficially owned and were entitled to vote approximately 2,748,897 shares of FirstMerit common stock representing approximately 1.65% of the shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding on that date. As of the FirstMerit record date, excluding shares held in fiduciary or agency capacity, Huntington and its subsidiaries did not own any shares of FirstMerit common stock.

Voting of Proxies; Incomplete Proxies

Each copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus mailed to holders of FirstMerit common stock is accompanied by a form of proxy card with instructions for voting. If you hold stock in your name as a shareholder of record, you should complete and return the proxy card accompanying this joint proxy statement/prospectus, regardless of whether you plan to attend the FirstMerit special meeting. You may also vote your shares through the Internet or by telephone. Information and applicable deadlines for voting through the Internet or by telephone are set forth in the enclosed proxy card instructions.

If you hold your stock in street name through a bank or broker, you must direct your bank or broker how to vote in accordance with the instructions you have received from your bank or broker.

YOUR VOTE IS VERY IMPORTANT, REGARDLESS OF THE NUMBER OF SHARES OF FIRSTMERIT COMMON STOCK YOU OWN. Accordingly, each FirstMerit common shareholder should sign, date and return the enclosed proxy card, or vote via the Internet or by telephone, whether or not the FirstMerit common shareholder plans to attend the FirstMerit special meeting in person.

All shares represented by valid proxies that FirstMerit receives through this solicitation, and that are not revoked, will be voted in accordance with your instructions on the proxy card. If you make no specification on your proxy card as to how you want your shares voted before signing and returning it, your proxy will be voted FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal, FOR the FirstMerit compensation proposal, and FOR the FirstMerit adjournment proposal. No matters other than the matters described in this joint proxy statement/prospectus are anticipated to be presented for action at the FirstMerit special meeting or at any adjournment or postponement of the FirstMerit special meeting. However, if other business properly comes before the FirstMerit special meeting, the proxy agents will, in their discretion, vote upon such matters in their best judgment.

Shares Held in Street Name ; Broker Non-Votes

Under stock exchange rules, banks, brokers, and other nominees who hold shares of FirstMerit common stock in street name for a beneficial owner of those shares typically have the authority to vote in their discretion on routine proposals when they have not received instructions from beneficial owners. However, banks, brokers, and other nominees are not allowed to exercise their voting discretion with respect to the approval of matters determined to be non-routine, without specific instructions from the beneficial owner. Broker non-votes are shares held by a broker, bank, or other nominee that are represented at the FirstMerit special meeting, but with respect to which the broker or nominee is not instructed by the beneficial owner of such shares to vote on the particular proposal and the broker does not have discretionary voting power on such proposal. If your broker, bank, or other nominee holds your shares of FirstMerit common stock in street name, your broker, bank, or other nominee will vote your shares of FirstMerit common stock only if you provide instructions on how to vote by filling out the voter instruction form sent to you by your broker, bank, or other nominee with this joint proxy statement/prospectus. We believe that the FirstMerit merger proposal, FirstMerit compensation proposal and FirstMerit adjournment proposal are non-routine proposals and your broker, bank, or other nominee can vote your shares of FirstMerit common stock only with your specific voting instructions.

Revocability of Proxies and Changes to a FirstMerit Common Shareholder's Vote

If you hold your shares of FirstMerit common stock in your name as a shareholder of record, you may revoke any proxy at any time before it is voted by (1) signing and returning a proxy card with a later date, (2) delivering a written revocation letter to FirstMerit's corporate secretary, (3) attending the special meeting in person, notifying the corporate secretary, and voting by ballot at the special meeting, or (4) voting by telephone or the Internet at a later time.

Any shareholder entitled to vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting may vote in person regardless of whether a proxy has been previously given, but the mere presence (without notifying FirstMerit's corporate secretary) of a shareholder at the FirstMerit special meeting will not constitute revocation of a previously given proxy.

Written notices of revocation and other communications about revoking your proxy card should be addressed to:

FirstMerit Corporation

Akron, Ohio 44308

Attention: Corporate Secretary

If your shares of FirstMerit common stock are held in street name by a bank or broker, you should follow the instructions of your bank or broker regarding the revocation of proxies.

Solicitation of Proxies

FirstMerit is soliciting your proxy in conjunction with the merger. FirstMerit will bear the cost of soliciting proxies from you. In addition to solicitation of proxies by mail, FirstMerit will request that banks, brokers, and other record holders send proxies and proxy material to the beneficial owners of FirstMerit common stock and secure their voting instructions. FirstMerit has also made arrangements with Alliance Advisors LLC to assist it in soliciting proxies and has agreed to pay Alliance Advisors LLC approximately $13,500 plus reasonable expenses for these services.

Attending the FirstMerit Special Meeting

All holders of FirstMerit common stock, including holders of record and shareholders who hold their shares through banks, brokers, nominees, or any other holder of record, are invited to attend the FirstMerit special meeting. Shareholders of record can vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting. If you are not a shareholder of record, you must obtain a proxy executed in your favor from the record holder of your shares, such as a broker, bank, or other nominee, to be able to vote in person at the FirstMerit special meeting. If you plan to attend the FirstMerit special meeting, you must hold your shares in your own name or have a letter from the record holder of your shares confirming your ownership. In addition, you must bring a form of personal photo identification with you in order to be admitted. FirstMerit reserves the right to refuse admittance to anyone without proper proof of share ownership and without proper photo identification. The use of cameras, sound recording equipment, communications devices, or any similar equipment during the FirstMerit special meeting is prohibited without FirstMerit's express written consent.

Delivery of Proxy Materials to Shareholders Sharing an Address

As permitted by the Exchange Act, only one copy of this joint proxy statement/prospectus is being delivered to multiple shareholders of FirstMerit sharing an address unless FirstMerit has previously received contrary instructions from one or more such shareholders. This is referred to as householding. Shareholders who hold their shares in street name can request further information on householding through their banks, brokers, or other holders of record. On written or oral request to FirstMerit's proxy solicitor, Alliance Advisors LLC, at firstmerit@allianceadvisorsllc.com, or toll-free at (855) 928-4490, FirstMerit will deliver promptly a separate copy of this document to a shareholder at a shared address to which a single copy of the document was delivered.

Assistance

If you have any questions concerning the merger or this joint proxy statement/prospectus, would like additional copies of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, or need help voting your shares of FirstMerit common stock, please contact Investor Relations, III Cascade Plaza, Akron, Ohio 44308, (330) 384-7109, or FirstMerit's proxy solicitor, Alliance Advisors LLC, at firstmerit@allianceadvisorsllc.com or toll-free at (855) 928-4490.

FIRSTMERIT PROPOSALS

PROPOSAL NO. 1: FIRSTMERIT MERGER PROPOSAL

FirstMerit is asking its shareholders to adopt the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger and the bank merger. Holders of FirstMerit common stock should read this joint proxy statement/prospectus carefully and in its entirety, including the annexes, for more detailed information concerning the merger agreement and the merger. A copy of the merger agreement is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A.

After careful consideration, the FirstMerit board of directors determined that the merger, on the terms and conditions set forth in the merger agreement, are in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders. Please see The Merger FirstMerit's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors included elsewhere in this joint proxy statement/prospectus for a more detailed discussion of the FirstMerit board of directors recommendation.

PROPOSAL NO. 2: FIRSTMERIT COMPENSATION PROPOSAL

Pursuant to the Dodd-Frank Act and Rule 14a-21(c) under the Exchange Act, FirstMerit is seeking non-binding, advisory approval from its common shareholders of the compensation of FirstMerit's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger, as disclosed in The Merger Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers. The proposal gives FirstMerit common shareholders the opportunity to express their views on the merger-related compensation of FirstMerit's named executive officers. Accordingly, FirstMerit is requesting its common shareholders to adopt the following resolution, on a non-binding, advisory basis:

RESOLVED, that the compensation that may be paid or become payable to FirstMerit's named executive officers in connection with the merger, and the agreements or understandings pursuant to which such compensation may be paid or become payable, in each case as disclosed pursuant to Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K in The Merger Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers, are hereby APPROVED.

Approval of this proposal is not a condition to completion of the merger, and the vote with respect to this proposal is advisory only and will not be binding on Huntington or FirstMerit. If the merger is completed, the merger-related compensation may be paid to FirstMerit's named executive officers to the extent payable in accordance with the terms of the compensation agreements and arrangements even if FirstMerit common shareholders fail to approve the advisory vote regarding merger-related compensation.

PROPOSAL NO. 3: FIRSTMERIT ADJOURNMENT PROPOSAL

The FirstMerit special meeting may be adjourned to another time or place, if necessary or appropriate, to permit, among other things, further solicitation of proxies if necessary to obtain additional votes in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal.

If, at the FirstMerit special meeting, the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock present or represented and voting in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal is insufficient to approve such proposal, FirstMerit intends to move to adjourn the FirstMerit special meeting in order to solicit additional proxies for the adoption of the merger agreement. In accordance with the FirstMerit bylaws, a vote to approve the proposal to adjourn the FirstMerit special meeting, if necessary or appropriate, to solicit additional proxies if there are insufficient votes at the time of the FirstMerit special meeting to approve the FirstMerit merger proposal may be taken in the absence of a quorum.

In this proposal, FirstMerit is asking its shareholders to authorize the holder of any proxy solicited by the FirstMerit board of directors on a discretionary basis to vote in favor of adjourning the FirstMerit special meeting to another time and place for the purpose of soliciting additional proxies, including the solicitation of proxies from FirstMerit common shareholders who have previously voted.

THE MERGER

The following discussion contains certain information about the merger. The discussion is subject, and qualified in its entirety by reference, to the merger agreement attached as Annex A to this joint proxy statement/prospectus and incorporated herein by reference. We urge you to read carefully this entire joint proxy statement/prospectus, including the merger agreement attached as Annex A, for a more complete understanding of the merger.

Terms of the Mergers

Each of Huntington's and FirstMerit's respective boards of directors has approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. The merger agreement provides for the merger of Merger Sub with and into FirstMerit, with FirstMerit remaining as the surviving entity. Such surviving entity will, as soon as reasonably practicable following the merger and as part of a single integrated transaction, merge with and into Huntington. Immediately following the completion of the second step merger or at such later time as Huntington may determine in its sole discretion, FirstMerit Bank, National Association, a national bank and wholly-owned bank subsidiary of FirstMerit, will merge with and into The Huntington National Bank, a national bank and wholly-owned bank subsidiary of Huntington. The Huntington National Bank will be the surviving bank in the bank merger.

In the merger, each share of FirstMerit common stock, without par value, issued and outstanding immediately prior to the completion of the merger, except for specified shares of FirstMerit common stock held by FirstMerit or Huntington and shares of FirstMerit common stock held by shareholders who properly exercise dissenters' rights, will be converted into the right to receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and $5.00 in cash. No fractional shares of Huntington common stock will be issued in connection with the merger. FirstMerit common shareholders who would otherwise be entitled to a fraction of a share of Huntington common stock upon completion of the merger will instead receive, for the fraction of a share, an amount in cash (rounded to the nearest cent) based on the Huntington share closing price, as discussed below. For a discussion of the treatment of awards outstanding under FirstMerit's equity incentive plans as of the effective time, see "The Merger Agreement Treatment of FirstMerit Equity Awards."

Also in the second step merger, each share of FirstMerit preferred stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time will be automatically converted into the right to receive one share of Huntington preferred stock. But for the par value, the dividend payment dates, the dividend record dates, and the optional redemption date of the securities, the Huntington preferred stock to be issued in connection with the second step merger will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock.

FirstMerit common shareholders are being asked to adopt the merger agreement and Huntington common stockholders are being asked to approve the issuance of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger. See "The Merger Agreement" for additional and more detailed information regarding the legal documents that govern the merger, including information about conditions to the completion of the merger and provisions for terminating or amending the merger agreement.

Background of the Merger

In connection with their ongoing consideration and evaluation of their respective long-term prospects and strategies, each of FirstMerit's and Huntington's board of directors and senior management have considered and regularly reviewed their respective strategic direction and business objectives, including by evaluating strategic growth opportunities, as part of their respective continuous efforts to enhance value for their respective shareholders and other constituencies. These considerations have focused on, among other things, prospects and developments in the regulatory environment, in the economy generally and in financial markets, for financial institutions generally and FirstMerit and Huntington, respectively, in particular, as well as conditions and ongoing consolidation in the financial services industry. In addition, Huntington regularly evaluates and completes business combination opportunities generally in furtherance of its strategic objectives.

Table of Contents

In the fourth quarter of 2014 and the first quarter of 2015, FirstMerit management and representatives of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. (which we refer to as Sandler) engaged in confidential preliminary exploratory discussions with representatives of three financial institutions (which did not include Huntington) regarding their potential interest in pursuing a business combination transaction with FirstMerit; however, none of such financial institutions was interested in pursuing a business combination with FirstMerit at that time or would only consider a transaction without a premium to FirstMerit's then current market price.

On May 1, 2015, Huntington's chief executive officer, Mr. Stephen Steinour, contacted FirstMerit's chief executive officer, Mr. Paul Greig, and provided a verbal initial indication of interest in a potential stock-for-stock business combination with FirstMerit, indicating Huntington's willingness to offer consideration of $24.00 per share of FirstMerit common stock based on Huntington's then-current share price, which represented a 24% premium over FirstMerit's share price of $19.37 on April 30, 2015. Later that day and on May 2, 2015, Mr. Greig notified the other members of the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors (which consists of Mr. Greig, FirstMerit's lead director, Mr. John Blickle, and three additional members of the FirstMerit board of directors) of Huntington's interest.

On May 5, 2015, FirstMerit and the FirstMerit board of directors retained Sandler to act as an independent financial advisor to FirstMerit and the FirstMerit board of directors in connection with Huntington's indication of interest, and more generally to assist in the FirstMerit board of directors' consideration of alternative strategies to enhance long-term shareholder value.

On May 8, 2015, the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors met to consider and discuss Huntington's indication of interest. Representatives of Sandler were also in attendance. At the meeting, representatives of Sandler discussed with the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors the financial aspects of FirstMerit continuing on a standalone basis, provided an overview of Huntington's business, financial position and geographic footprint, including a summary of publicly available data about Huntington, presented initial combined franchise and pro forma merger analyses and discussed recent merger transactions in the industry, the potential for an acquisition of FirstMerit by certain other possibly interested banking organizations and the possible market reaction to a potential business combination with Huntington. Following discussions, the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors determined to bring Huntington's indication of interest before the FirstMerit board of directors.

On May 13, 2015, the FirstMerit board of directors held a special meeting to consider and discuss Huntington's indication of interest. Representatives of Sandler were present at the meeting. At the meeting, representatives of Sandler discussed the matters previously discussed with the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors on May 8, 2015. At the conclusion of the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors authorized and directed Mr. Greig to obtain more specific information about the Huntington indication of interest.

On May 15, 2015, Huntington submitted a written non-binding indication of interest to FirstMerit (which we refer to as the May 15 proposal). The May 15 proposal provided for 100% stock consideration at a fixed exchange ratio of 2.137 shares of Huntington common stock for each share of outstanding FirstMerit common stock, representing an indicative value of $24.00 per share based on Huntington's closing share price of $11.23 on May 14, 2015 and representing a 22% premium to the closing share price of $19.65 of FirstMerit's common stock on such date. The May 15 proposal also noted that Huntington would expand the Huntington board of directors to add three independent members of the FirstMerit board of directors and that Huntington would create a new bank operations center in the Akron, Ohio area, give priority access to Huntington job listings to FirstMerit employees and maintain levels of charitable giving in the Akron, Ohio metro area.

On May 16, 2015, Mr. Greig contacted Mr. Steinour to discuss the regulatory approval process for a possible transaction, Huntington's implied exchange ratio and the representation of FirstMerit directors on the Huntington board of directors.

On May 21, 2015, the FirstMerit board of directors held a special meeting to review and consider the May 15 proposal and Mr. Greig's and Mr. Steinour's subsequent conversations related thereto. Representatives of Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, FirstMerit's outside counsel (which we refer to as Sullivan & Cromwell), were present at the meeting. At the meeting, representatives of Sandler updated the FirstMerit board of directors on matters similar to those previously discussed with the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors on May 8, 2015 and the FirstMerit board of directors on May 13, 2015. A representative of Sullivan & Cromwell then discussed the FirstMerit board of directors' fiduciary duties in general in connection with its evaluation of strategic alternatives, the regulatory requirements for approvals of bank acquisition transactions and the regulatory environment for banks in general and for bank acquisition transactions in particular. Among other things, the FirstMerit board of directors considered the matters discussed by Sullivan & Cromwell, the impact of a transaction on Akron and Canton, Ohio and on FirstMerit employees and the impact of the announcement of a transaction on Huntington's share price. At the conclusion of the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors did not reach a consensus on moving forward with the May 15 proposal at that time and instructed Mr. Greig to inform representatives of Huntington that FirstMerit was not prepared to proceed.

On September 15, 2015, Mr. Greig met with a senior executive of a financial institution to engage in confidential preliminary exploratory discussions regarding a potential business combination with FirstMerit. This financial institution was not one of the institutions with which First Merit had exploratory discussions in late 2014 or early 2015. The senior executive of such financial institution did not indicate an interest in pursuing such a potential business combination at that time, and FirstMerit did not proceed further with such financial institution.

At the request of Huntington, on September 17, 2015, Messrs. Greig and Blicke met with Mr. Steinour and Huntington's lead director, Mr. David Porteous, to discuss the possibility of Huntington submitting a revised proposal.

On September 24, 2015, Mr. Greig and Mr. Steinour met to continue to discuss the possibility of a revised proposal.

On October 5, 2015, Huntington submitted a revised written non-binding indication of interest to FirstMerit (which we refer to as the October 5 proposal). The October 5 proposal provided for 100% stock consideration at a fixed exchange ratio of 2.137 shares of Huntington common stock for each share of outstanding FirstMerit common stock (the same exchange ratio as the May 15 proposal), representing an indicative value of $22.61 per share based on Huntington's closing share price of $10.58 on October 2, 2015 and representing a 31% premium to the closing share price of $17.27 of FirstMerit's common stock on such date. The October 5 proposal reiterated the terms from the May 15 proposal, including board positions and community commitments, and further provided that the FirstMerit directors appointed to the Huntington board of directors would each also be appointed to a committee of the Huntington board of directors, that additional FirstMerit directors would be invited to Huntington's Greater Akron-Canton Region Advisory Board, and that Huntington would seek to relocate existing Huntington jobs to Akron.

On October 6, 2015, the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors met to consider and discuss the October 5 proposal. Representatives of Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell were also in attendance. Among other things, the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors discussed the additional commitments to the combined company's Akron employment and to the community contained in the October 5 proposal compared to the May 15 proposal, including Huntington's commitments to appoint FirstMerit directors to Huntington's Greater Akron-Canton Region Advisory Board and to relocate existing Huntington jobs to Akron, as well as the regulatory approval process for a transaction and the impact of a transaction on Huntington's share price. At the conclusion of the meeting, the Executive Committee of the FirstMerit board of directors determined to bring the October 5 proposal before the FirstMerit board of directors.

On October 14, 2015, the FirstMerit board of directors held a special meeting to review and consider the October 5 proposal. Representatives of Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell were present at the meeting. At the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors discussed, among other things, FirstMerit's standalone position, the financial impact of a potential transaction, the impact of the anticipated increase in interest rates by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the regulatory aspects of a transaction, and the additional commitments to FirstMerit employees and to the community contained in the October 5 proposal compared to the May 15 proposal. At the conclusion of the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors determined to allow Huntington to perform limited due diligence activities in order to confirm the October 5 proposal.

On October 15, 2015, Huntington executed a confidentiality agreement with FirstMerit that contained customary standstill provisions and was given access to an electronic data room with certain non-public information about FirstMerit. Over the course of the next three weeks, representatives of FirstMerit management and Sandler worked with representatives of Huntington and its advisors to facilitate Huntington's due diligence investigation of FirstMerit.

On November 11, 2015, Huntington submitted a renewed written non-binding indication of interest (which we refer to as the November 11 proposal) to FirstMerit in order to confirm that, following its diligence investigation, it remained interested in pursuing an all-stock transaction at a fixed exchange ratio of 2.137 Huntington common shares for each share of outstanding FirstMerit common stock. As of November 10, 2015, this proposal represented an indicative value of $24.81 per share based on Huntington's closing share price of $11.61 on November 10, 2015 and represented a 22% premium to the closing share price of $20.40 of FirstMerit's common stock on such date.

On November 18, 2015, the FirstMerit board of directors held a special meeting to review and consider the November 11 proposal. Representatives of Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell were present at the meeting. At the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors considered, among other things, the value of the consideration offered in the November 11 proposal and the impact on a transaction of the expected increase in interest rates by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and of the recently announced transaction between First Niagara Financial Group and KeyCorp. At the conclusion of the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors did not reach a consensus on moving forward with the November 11 proposal and instructed Mr. Greig to inform Huntington that FirstMerit would not pursue a business combination transaction with Huntington on such terms. Mr. Greig did so later that day.

On November 27, 2015, Mr. Blickle and Mr. Porteous met to discuss the possibility of Huntington submitting a revised proposal.

On December 2, 2015, Huntington submitted a revised written non-binding indication of interest (which we refer to as the December 2 proposal) to FirstMerit, which proposal provided for mixed consideration priced based on an increased exchange ratio of 2.15 shares of Huntington common stock for each share of FirstMerit common stock, consisting of a mix of Huntington common stock and up to 20% cash. As of December 2, 2015, this proposal represented an indicative value of $25.37 per share based on Huntington's closing share price of $11.80 on December 1, 2015, representing a 24% premium to the closing share price of $20.39 of FirstMerit's common stock on such date. The December 2 proposal also provided, among other things, for an increase in the number of FirstMerit directors appointed to the Huntington board of directors from three to four (and provided that such directors would be nominated for a minimum of two full terms), that Huntington would contribute $25 million over ten years to support the greater Akron, Ohio, Canton, Ohio and Flint, Michigan communities and that Huntington would establish a retention pool for employees of FirstMerit as jointly designated by Huntington and FirstMerit.

On December 9, 2015, the FirstMerit board of directors held its previously scheduled annual strategic planning meeting with FirstMerit senior management. While in executive session at the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors reviewed and considered the December 2 proposal. Representatives of FirstMerit management, Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell were also present at the meeting. At the conclusion of the meeting, the FirstMerit board of directors determined to allow Huntington to conduct further due diligence on FirstMerit in order to confirm the December 2 proposal, and authorized FirstMerit's management and advisors to begin performing reverse due diligence on Huntington and negotiating transaction documentation. In reaching this conclusion, the FirstMerit board of directors took into account Sandler's and management's updated views as to the presumptive financial performance of FirstMerit on a standalone basis in 2016, the impact of the expected increase to interest rates by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and the improvements in the December 2 proposal from the November 11 proposal, including the increased exchange ratio, and that a portion of the consideration would be payable in cash (which the FirstMerit board of directors agreed should constitute the maximum 20% of consideration contemplated by the December 2 proposal in order to ensure that a portion of the value of the merger consideration would not be subject to potential downward fluctuations in the price of Huntington common stock once the per share cash amount was fixed), the increased representation of FirstMerit directors on the Huntington board of directors commensurate with FirstMerit shareholders' pro forma ownership of the combined company and the enhanced commitment with respect to FirstMerit's employees and communities.

On December 10, 2015, representatives of Sandler contacted representatives of Goldman, Sachs & Co., Huntington's financial advisor (which we refer to as Goldman Sachs), to confirm FirstMerit's interest in pursuing a transaction with Huntington, provided that Huntington agree to proceed on the basis that the consideration mix would be 80% stock and 20% cash. Representatives of Goldman Sachs conveyed Huntington's interest in proceeding with a deal on such terms.

During the period between the December 9, 2015 meeting of the FirstMerit board of directors and the execution of the merger agreement, as the parties considered and negotiated the transaction and arrangements for FirstMerit personnel and continued to perform due diligence on one another, U.S. equity markets experienced tremendous volatility. For example, from December 9, 2015 to January 25, 2016, the S&P 500 Bank Index declined by 17.4% and the share prices of Huntington and FirstMerit common stock declined by 20.4% and 18.1%, respectively.

During the week of January 4, 2016, the FirstMerit board of directors engaged Jones Day as independent outside counsel to the FirstMerit board of directors.

On January 11, 2016, representatives of Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, Huntington's outside counsel (which we refer to as Wachtell), distributed a draft merger agreement to representatives of Sullivan & Cromwell.

On January 13, 2016, Mr. Greig, after extensive discussions with Mr. Blickle and extensive discussions between Mr. Blickle and individual members of the FirstMerit board of directors, informed Huntington that, given the recent decline in the price of Huntington's common shares (from $11.06 on December 9, 2015 to $10.18 on January 12), the December 2 proposal needed to be improved and requested that Huntington revise such proposal to provide for either a 100% stock transaction or to provide fixed cash consideration per share in line with the value of the cash consideration prior to the recent decline in the price of Huntington common stock. Huntington indicated that it would actively consider such request.

On January 15, 2016, representatives of Sullivan & Cromwell distributed a revised draft of the merger agreement to representatives of Wachtell. Thereafter, discussions between FirstMerit and Huntington and their respective advisors continued, and the parties continued to negotiate the terms of the potential transaction and perform due diligence on one another. The terms negotiated included, among other items, the structure of the potential transaction, employee benefit matters, post-closing governance matters and the details of Huntington's commitments to the communities in which FirstMerit operates.

On January 16, 2016, representatives of FirstMerit's senior management team and Sandler met with representatives of Huntington's senior management team at Huntington's headquarters in Columbus, Ohio in connection with FirstMerit's reverse due diligence investigation of Huntington. At the meeting, FirstMerit's and Huntington's senior management teams discussed, among other things, Huntington's business strategy, finance and accounting, interest rate risk, credit quality, risk management and legal compliance practices.

On January 17, 2016, Mr. Greig and Mr. Steinour had a telephonic meeting to discuss potential terms for a revised proposal from Huntington. During the meeting, Mr. Greig and Mr. Steinour discussed the expected market reaction to an all-stock transaction versus a mixed cash and stock transaction, and Mr. Greig indicated FirstMerit's view that Huntington's next proposal should contain a mix of cash and stock.

On January 18, 2016, FirstMerit and Huntington completed their respective due diligence investigations. Later that day, the Risk Oversight Committee of the Huntington board of directors held a meeting to review the due diligence findings with Huntington management, and to discuss the potential impact of the merger on the risk profile of Huntington.

Thereafter, on January 19, 2016, Huntington submitted its final proposal (which we refer to as the "final proposal") to FirstMerit, which proposal provided, subject to the parties reaching agreement on the remaining open points in the draft merger agreement, for mixed cash and stock consideration consisting of 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock plus a fixed $5.00 in cash per share of outstanding FirstMerit common stock. As of January 15, 2016, this proposal represented an indicative value of $21.48 per share based on Huntington's closing share price of $9.58 on January 15, 2016 and represented a 32% premium to the closing share price of $16.29 of FirstMerit's common stock on such date. In addition to reiterating the terms of the December 2 proposal, the final proposal also provided for a $30 million retention pool for FirstMerit employees and indicated that Huntington would contribute $25 million to the Huntington Foundation dedicated to supporting charitable causes in Akron, Ohio, Canton, Ohio and Flint, Michigan.

On January 20, 2016, the FirstMerit board of directors held a special meeting to review and consider the final proposal. At the meeting, representatives of Sullivan & Cromwell and Jones Day reviewed with the FirstMerit board of directors its fiduciary duties in connection with a potential strategic business combination transaction and regulatory considerations and representatives of Sullivan & Cromwell reviewed the terms of the draft merger agreement. Representatives of Jones Day reviewed with the FirstMerit board of directors Sandler's prior relationships with Huntington, including the relationships described under the section entitled "Opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P.," the facts of which had previously been disclosed to FirstMerit by Sandler prior to Sandler's engagement. The FirstMerit board of directors discussed such prior relationships and related considerations, and determined that those relationships and considerations did not impair the ability of Sandler to continue to act as the financial advisor to FirstMerit. Representatives of Sandler discussed the recent market volatility, provided an overview of financial aspects of each of FirstMerit, Huntington and the combined company, and reviewed the results of FirstMerit's reverse due diligence and the financial terms of the potential transaction. Representatives of Sandler also discussed with the FirstMerit board of directors the environment for other strategic alternatives available to FirstMerit. In connection with that discussion, Sandler noted (i) the fact that FirstMerit management has engaged in preliminary exploratory discussions with potential acquirers from time to time, including speaking with three potential acquirers in the fourth quarter of 2014 and the first quarter of 2015, without any of the parties indicating a substantial interest in pursuing a transaction, (ii) Sandler's assessment that those parties would continue to be not interested in pursuing a strategic transaction with FirstMerit at such time, and (iii) Sandler's assessment that other third parties would not likely be interested in acquiring FirstMerit at such time. The FirstMerit board of directors also discussed the termination fee that could become payable if FirstMerit terminated the merger agreement in certain circumstances, the terms of the merger agreement prohibiting FirstMerit from soliciting, and providing Huntington with the ability to match, third party acquisition proposals as well as the unlikelihood that such terms would have a preclusive effect on a potentially interested third party from making a superior offer. The FirstMerit board of directors discussed such provisions with its legal and financial advisors and confirmed that such provisions were consistent with market practice in transactions of this nature. After discussion of the foregoing matters, the proposed transaction, the status of discussions with Huntington and the risks inherent in a potential transaction, the FirstMerit board of directors authorized senior management, Sandler and Sullivan & Cromwell to continue negotiating the draft merger agreement with Huntington.

Also on January 20, 2016, the Huntington board of directors held a special meeting. Representatives of the Huntington management team and of Goldman Sachs and Wachtell were also in attendance. Prior to the meeting, the directors received a summary of the terms of the draft merger agreement from Wachtell. Mr. Steinour updated the Huntington board of directors on the status of the transaction, including ongoing negotiations with FirstMerit. Mr. Steinour also discussed the findings from Huntington's due diligence review of FirstMerit. Representatives of Wachtell reviewed with the Huntington board of directors the current terms of the draft merger agreement, including a summary of the non-solicit and similar provisions, the provisions relating to governance of the combined company, and the provisions relating to employee matters, along with certain regulatory considerations relating to the transaction. Representatives of Wachtell also discussed with the Huntington board of directors its fiduciary duties in connection with a potential strategic business combination transaction. Representatives of Goldman Sachs discussed certain preliminary financial analyses relating to the proposed transaction. Mr. Steinour then updated the Huntington board of directors on the anticipated next steps, and the Huntington board of directors authorized senior management and Wachtell to continue negotiating the draft merger agreement with FirstMerit.

On January 22, 2016, the FirstMerit board of directors held another special meeting to review and consider the final proposal. In addition, members of FirstMerit's management team and representatives of Sullivan & Cromwell updated the FirstMerit board of directors on the progression of negotiations with Huntington since the last meeting of the FirstMerit board of directors. Also at the meeting, a representative of Sandler updated Sandler's discussion of the financial aspects of the proposed transaction, reviewed with the FirstMerit board of directors Sandler's financial analysis of the per share merger consideration and rendered to the FirstMerit board of directors an oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing, that, as of such date and based upon and subject to the various assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in preparing its opinion, the per share merger consideration to be paid to the holders of FirstMerit shares pursuant to the merger agreement was fair to such holders from a financial point of view. See Opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P. Following these discussions, and extensive review and discussion among FirstMerit's directors, including consideration of the factors described under FirstMerit's Reason for the Merger; Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors, and consideration of the above referenced discussions, the FirstMerit board of directors, in a vote of thirteen members for, none against and one abstaining, subject to finalizing the merger agreement and receipt of advice from Huntington that, following consultations with its regulators, Huntington saw no significant impediments to obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals, (i) determined that the merger agreement, and the transactions contemplated thereby, were fair to, and in the best interests of, FirstMerit and its shareholders, (ii) approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, including the merger and the bank merger, and declared advisable that FirstMerit enter into the merger agreement and (iii) resolved to recommend that the merger agreement be adopted by FirstMerit's shareholders at a shareholders' meeting duly called and held for such purpose.

On January 23, 2016, the Huntington board of directors held a special meeting to consider the terms of the proposed transaction with FirstMerit. Representatives of the Huntington management team and of Goldman Sachs and Wachtell were also in attendance. Prior to the meeting, the directors received copies of an updated draft merger agreement and of the other draft transaction documents and an updated summary of the terms thereof from Wachtell, as well as materials prepared by Goldman Sachs. At the meeting, representatives of Goldman Sachs reviewed Goldman Sachs financial analysis of the proposed transaction, including discussing the various financial methodologies used in its analysis. Representatives of Wachtell updated the Huntington board of directors on the continued negotiations with FirstMerit since the prior meeting of the Huntington board of directors.

Over the course of the next three days, the parties continued to engage in negotiations to finalize the terms of the proposed transaction.

On January 25, 2016, Huntington confirmed to FirstMerit that, following Huntington's consultations with its regulators, Huntington saw no significant impediments to obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals.

In the evening on January 25, 2016, the Huntington board of directors held a special meeting to review and consider the proposed merger agreement. Representatives of the Huntington management team and of Goldman

Sachs and Wachtell were also in attendance. Representatives of Goldman Sachs presented Goldman Sachs' financial analysis to the Huntington board of directors, noting that the analysis had not changed substantively from that presented at the January 23 meeting. Representatives of Goldman Sachs then delivered Goldman Sachs' oral opinion (which was subsequently confirmed in writing by delivery of Goldman Sachs' written opinion dated January 25, 2016) that, as of the date of the Huntington board of directors' meeting and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Huntington. The full text of the written opinion of Goldman Sachs dated January 25, 2016, which sets forth assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex B. Also at the meeting, representatives of Wachtell reviewed with the Huntington board of directors the resolution of certain previously open matters with respect to the terms of the merger agreement since the January 23 meeting. After considering the proposed terms of the merger agreement and the various presentations of its financial and legal advisors, and taking into consideration the matters discussed during the meeting and prior meetings of the Huntington board of directors, including the factors described under Huntington's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the Huntington Board of Directors, the Huntington board of directors unanimously determined that the mergers, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the stock issuance, were advisable and in the best interests of Huntington, and the directors voted to adopt and approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by it.

Following the meeting of the Huntington board of directors, FirstMerit and Huntington executed the merger agreement. The transaction was announced in the morning of January 26, 2016 before the opening of the stock markets in New York.

In reaching its decision to adopt and approve the merger agreement, the mergers and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the stock issuance, and to recommend that Huntington's stockholders approve the issuance of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger, the Huntington board of directors consulted with Huntington management, as well as its independent financial and legal advisors, and considered a number of factors, including the following material factors:

each of Huntington's, FirstMerit's, and the combined company's business, operations, financial condition, asset quality, earnings, and prospects. In reviewing these factors, the Huntington board of directors considered its view that FirstMerit's financial condition and asset quality are sound, that FirstMerit's business and operations complement those of Huntington, and that the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement would result in a combined company with a larger market presence and more diversified loan portfolio as well as a more attractive funding base, including through core deposit funding, than Huntington on a stand-alone basis. The board of directors further considered that FirstMerit's earnings and prospects, and the synergies potentially available in the proposed merger, create the opportunity for the combined company to have superior future earnings and prospects compared to Huntington's earnings and prospects on a stand-alone basis. In particular, the Huntington board of directors considered the following:

the strategic rationale for the merger, given its potential of creating premier banking franchise specializing in serving the banking needs of consumers and small and middle market businesses across the Midwest;

potential growth opportunities through the expansion into new and attractive markets including Chicago and Wisconsin;

the complementary nature of the cultures and product mix of the two companies, including with respect to strategic focus, target markets, client service, credit cultures and risk profiles, which

Huntington management believes should facilitate the successful integration and implementation of the transaction; and the expanded possibilities, including organic growth and future acquisitions, that would be available to the combined company, given its larger size, asset base, capital, and footprint;

the anticipated pro forma impact of the merger on the combined company, including the expected positive impact on financial metrics including earnings and returns on tangible stockholders' equity;

the participation of four of FirstMerit's directors in the combined company, which enhances the likelihood that the strategic benefits that Huntington expects to achieve as a result of the merger will be realized;

FirstMerit's longstanding roots in the Midwestern banking market and its strong ties to many of the same communities that Huntington serves;

its understanding of the current and prospective environment in which Huntington and FirstMerit operate, including national and local economic conditions, the interest rate environment, increasing operating costs resulting from regulatory initiatives and compliance mandates, the competitive environment for financial institutions generally, and the likely effect of these factors on Huntington both with and without the merger;

its review and discussions with Huntington's management concerning the due diligence examination of FirstMerit's business;

Huntington management's expectation that Huntington will retain its capital position and asset quality upon completion of the transaction;

the expectation of significant annual cost savings resulting from the transaction;

the oral opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co., Huntington's financial advisor, to the Huntington board of directors, subsequently confirmed in writing, as to the fairness to Huntington, from a financial point of view and as of the date of the opinion and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth therein, of the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement, as more fully described below in the section entitled "Opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co.;"

the fact that Huntington's stockholders will have a chance to vote on the stock issuance in connection with the merger;

its review with its independent legal advisor, Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, and its independent financial advisors Goldman, Sachs & Co., of the financial and other terms of the merger agreement, including the tax treatment, deal protection and termination provisions; and Huntington's past record of integrating acquisitions and of realizing projected financial goals and benefits of acquisitions.

The Huntington board of directors also considered the potential risks related to the merger but concluded that the anticipated benefits of the merger were likely to substantially outweigh these risks. These potential risks include:

the possibility of encountering difficulties in achieving anticipated cost synergies and savings in the amounts estimated or in the time frame contemplated;

the possibility of encountering difficulties in successfully integrating FirstMerit's business, operations, and workforce with those of Huntington;

certain anticipated merger-related costs;

the diversion of management attention and resources from the operation of Huntington's business towards the completion of the merger;

the possibility that divestitures may be required by regulatory authorities in certain markets in which Huntington and FirstMerit compete;

the regulatory and other approvals required in connection with the merger and the bank merger and the risk that such regulatory approvals will not be received in a timely manner or may impose unacceptable conditions;

that Huntington's stock repurchase program would be suspended during the pendency of the transaction and the potential adverse impact such suspension may have on the trading price of shares of Huntington common stock; and the merger's effect on Huntington's regulatory capital levels.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the Huntington board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive, but includes the material factors considered by the Huntington board of directors. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, the mergers, and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the stock issuance, the Huntington board of directors did not quantify or assign any relative weights to the factors considered, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. The Huntington board of directors considered all these factors as a whole, including discussions with, and questioning of, Huntington's management and Huntington's independent financial and legal advisors, and overall considered the factors to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

For the reasons set forth above, the Huntington board of directors determined that the mergers, the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the stock issuance, are advisable and in the best interests of Huntington, and adopted and approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by it.

The Huntington board of directors recommends that Huntington common stockholders vote FOR the approval of the Huntington stock issuance proposal.

It should be noted that the explanation of the Huntington board of directors' reasoning in this section contains information that is forward-looking in nature, and therefore should be read in light of the factors discussed under the heading Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements.

Opinion of Goldman, Sachs & Co.

At a meeting of the Huntington board of directors held on January 25, 2016, Goldman Sachs rendered to the Huntington board of directors its oral opinion, subsequently confirmed in writing, to the effect that, as of the date of its written opinion and based upon and subject to the factors and assumptions set forth in Goldman Sachs' written opinion, the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Huntington.

The full text of the written opinion of Goldman Sachs, dated January 25, 2016, which sets forth assumptions made, procedures followed, matters considered, qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken in connection with the opinion, is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex B. The summary of the Goldman Sachs opinion contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Goldman Sachs' written opinion. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the Huntington board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of Huntington common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter.

In connection with rendering the opinion described above and performing its related financial analyses, Goldman Sachs reviewed, among other things:

the merger agreement;

Table of Contents

annual reports to stockholders and Annual Reports on Form 10-K of Huntington and FirstMerit for the five years ended December 31, 2014; certain interim reports to stockholders and Quarterly Reports on Form 10-Q of Huntington and FirstMerit; certain other communications from Huntington and FirstMerit to their respective stockholders;

certain publicly available research analyst reports for Huntington and FirstMerit;

financial results for FirstMerit for the quarterly period ending, and as of, December 31, 2015, provided by its management; certain internal financial analyses and forecasts for FirstMerit prepared by its management; and certain internal financial analyses and forecasts for Huntington, certain financial analyses and forecasts for FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis and certain financial analyses and forecasts for FirstMerit giving effect to the merger, in each case prepared by Huntington's management and approved for Goldman Sachs' use by Huntington, which are collectively referred to as the Forecasts, including certain operating synergies projected by the management of Huntington to result from the merger, as approved for Goldman Sachs' use by Huntington, which are referred to as the Synergies.

Goldman Sachs also held discussions with members of the senior management teams of Huntington and FirstMerit regarding their respective assessments of the past and current business operations, financial condition and future prospects of FirstMerit and with members of the senior management team of Huntington regarding their assessment of the past and current business operations, financial condition and operating prospects of Huntington and the strategic rationale for, and the potential benefits of, the merger; reviewed the reported price and trading activity for the shares of Huntington common stock and FirstMerit common stock; compared certain financial and stock market information for Huntington and FirstMerit with similar information for certain other companies the securities of which are publicly traded; reviewed the financial terms of certain recent business combinations in the banking industry and in other industries; and performed such other studies and analyses, and considered such other factors, as Goldman Sachs deemed appropriate.

For purposes of rendering its opinion, Goldman Sachs, with the consent of the Huntington board of directors, relied upon and assumed the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial, legal, regulatory, tax, accounting and other information provided to, discussed with or reviewed by, Goldman Sachs, without assuming any responsibility for independent verification thereof. In that regard, Goldman Sachs assumed with the consent of the Huntington board of directors that the Forecasts, including the Synergies, were reasonably prepared on a basis reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the management of Huntington. Goldman Sachs did not review individual credit files or make an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets and liabilities (including any contingent, derivative or other off-balance-sheet assets and liabilities) of Huntington and FirstMerit or any of their respective subsidiaries and Goldman Sachs was not furnished with any such evaluation or appraisal. Goldman Sachs is not an expert in the valuation of loan and lease portfolios for purposes of assessing the adequacy of the allowances and marks for losses with respect thereto, and, accordingly, Goldman Sachs assumed that such allowances and marks are in the aggregate adequate to cover such losses. Goldman Sachs assumed that all governmental, regulatory or other consents and approvals necessary for the completion of the merger will be obtained without any adverse effect on Huntington or FirstMerit or on the expected benefits of the merger in any way meaningful to Goldman Sachs' analysis. Goldman Sachs also assumed that the merger will be completed on the terms set forth in the merger agreement, without the waiver or modification of any term or condition the effect of which would be in any way meaningful to its analysis.

Goldman Sachs' opinion does not address the underlying business decision of Huntington to engage in the proposed transaction, or the relative merits of the proposed transaction as compared to any strategic alternatives that may be available to Huntington; nor does it address any legal, regulatory, tax or accounting matters. Goldman Sachs' opinion addresses only the fairness from a financial point of view to Huntington, as of the date of the opinion, of the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement. Goldman Sachs did not express any view on, and its opinion does not address, any other term or aspect of the merger agreement, or the merger or any term or aspect of any other agreement or instrument contemplated by the merger agreement or entered into or amended in connection with the merger, including, the fairness of the merger to, or any consideration received in connection therewith by, the holders of any other class of securities, creditors, or other constituencies of Huntington; nor as to the fairness of the amount or nature of any compensation to be paid or payable to any of the officers, directors or employees of FirstMerit, or class of such persons, in connection with the merger, whether relative to the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement or otherwise. Goldman Sachs did not express any opinion as to the prices at which shares of Huntington common stock will trade at any time or as to the impact of the merger on the solvency or viability of Huntington or FirstMerit or the ability of Huntington or FirstMerit to pay their respective obligations when they come due. Goldman Sachs' opinion was necessarily based on economic, monetary, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Goldman Sachs as of, the date of the opinion, and Goldman Sachs assumed no responsibility for updating, revising or reaffirming its opinion based on circumstances, developments or events occurring after the date of the opinion. Goldman Sachs' advisory services and its opinion were provided for the information and assistance of the Huntington board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger and the opinion does not constitute a recommendation as to how any holder of shares of Huntington common stock should vote with respect to the proposed transaction or any other matter. Goldman Sachs' opinion was approved by a fairness committee of Goldman Sachs.

The following is a summary of the material financial analyses presented by Goldman Sachs to the Huntington board of directors in connection with rendering the opinion described above. The following summary, however, does not purport to be a complete description of the financial analyses performed by Goldman Sachs, nor does the order of analyses described represent relative importance or weight given to those analyses by Goldman Sachs. Some of the summaries of the financial analyses include information presented in tabular format. The tables must be read together with the full text of each summary and are alone not a complete description of Goldman Sachs' financial analyses. Except as otherwise noted, the following quantitative information, to the extent that it is based on market data, is based on market data as it existed on or before January 22, 2016 and is not necessarily indicative of current market conditions.

Analysis of Implied Deal Premia and Multiples

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared certain premia and multiples using the closing price for shares of FirstMerit common stock on January 22, 2016, the last trading day prior to the date of execution of the merger agreement and the implied value of the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement (the Aggregate Consideration). For purposes of this analysis, Goldman Sachs calculated the implied price per share of $20.74 for the Aggregate Consideration by multiplying the exchange ratio of 1.72 by $9.15, the closing price for shares of Huntington common stock on January 22, 2016, and adding the $5.00 of cash consideration.

Goldman Sachs calculated and/or compared the following:

the FirstMerit closing share price on January 22, 2016 as compared to (i) the average trading price of the shares of FirstMerit common stock over the 30-day, 60-day and 90-day time periods ended January 22, 2016, and (ii) the high closing price of the shares of FirstMerit common stock over the 52-week period ended January 22, 2016;

the implied premia represented by the implied value of the Aggregate Consideration relative to (i) the FirstMerit share price on January 22, 2016, the last trading day prior to the date of execution of the merger agreement, (ii) the average closing price of shares of FirstMerit common stock over the 30-day, 60-day and 90-day time periods ended January 22, 2016, and (iii) the high closing price of the shares of FirstMerit common stock over the 52-week period ended January 22, 2016;

Table of Contents*FirstMerit Selected Companies Analyses*

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain financial information for FirstMerit corresponding to financial information and public market multiples for the following selected publicly traded companies in the banking industry:

Associated Banc-Corp.
 F.N.B. Corporation
 Fulton Financial Corporation
 MB Financial, Inc.
 Old National Bancorp PrivateBancorp, Inc.
 TCF Financial Corporation
 Wintrust Financial Corporation

Although none of the above companies is directly comparable to FirstMerit, the selected companies were chosen because they are publicly traded companies with operations that for purposes of analysis may be considered similar to certain operations of FirstMerit.

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to FirstMerit and each of the selected companies:

its price per share as of January 22, 2016 as a multiple of estimated EPS for 2016, which is referred to as 2016E P/E, and as a multiple of estimated EPS for 2017 which is referred to as 2017E P/E ; and its price per share as of January 22, 2016 as a multiple of its TBV per share, which is referred to as Price/TBV per share, and as a multiple of its SBV per share, which is referred to as Price/SBV per share. For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used 2016 and 2017 EPS estimates for FirstMerit prepared using the Forecasts and 2016 and 2017 EPS estimates for the selected companies reflecting the most recent median estimates for such companies published by Institutional Broker Estimate System, or I/B/E/S, as of January 22, 2016. Goldman Sachs used TBV per share and SBV per share information for FirstMerit provided by the management of FirstMerit and for the selected companies reflecting the most recent quarter end figure publicly disclosed by each company as of January 22, 2016.

The multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for FirstMerit and the median of the multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the selected companies are listed below:

	FirstMerit	Selected Companies (Median)
2016E P/E	11.5x	12.3x
2017E P/E	10.5x	11.0x
Price/TBV per share	1.3x	1.4x
Price/SBV per share	0.9x	1.0x

Table of Contents

Using the foregoing and its judgment and experience, Goldman Sachs applied illustrative multiple ranges of 2016E P/E, 2017E P/E and P/TBV per share, reflecting the 25th and 75th percentiles of the 2016E P/E, 2017E P/E and Price/TBV per share multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the selected companies to the estimated EPS for 2016 and 2017 for FirstMerit reflected in the Forecasts, and the TBV per share as of December 31, 2015 for FirstMerit, as provided by FirstMerit management, to derive ranges of illustrative values per share of FirstMerit common stock as listed below:

	Multiple Range	Range of Illustrative Values per Share of FirstMerit Common Stock
2016E P/E	11.5x-13.0x	$	16.11-$18.21
2017E P/E	10.5x-11.5x	$	16.14-$17.68
Price/TBV per share	1.3x-1.9x	$	16.00-$22.76

Goldman Sachs also performed a regression analysis using the Price/TBV per share multiples for the selected companies calculated by Goldman Sachs as described above compared to the 2017 estimated return on average tangible common equity, or the 2017E ROATCE, for the selected companies using the median estimates for such companies published by I/B/E/S as of January 22, 2016 to derive a regression line reflecting a range of Price/TBV per share multiples at a range of 2017E ROATCE. The 2017E ROATCE for FirstMerit using the Forecasts corresponded to a Price/TBV per share multiple of 1.5x on the regression line. By applying Price/TBV per share multiples ranging from 1.3x to 1.6x, reflecting Price/TBV per share multiples ranging from 10% greater than, to 10% less than, the 1.5x Price/TBV per share multiple for FirstMerit using the regression line, to TBV per share as of December 31, 2015 for FirstMerit, as provided by FirstMerit management, Goldman Sachs derived implied values per share of FirstMerit ranging from $16.15 to $19.74.

Illustrative Discounted Dividend Analyses for FirstMerit on a Stand-alone Basis

Using the Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed illustrative discounted dividend analyses, as of December 31, 2015, on FirstMerit, on a stand-alone basis, to derive a range of illustrative present values per share of FirstMerit common stock on a stand-alone basis.

Using discount rates ranging from 10.2% to 11.2% reflecting estimates of the cost of equity for FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of December 31, 2015 (a) the forecasted dividends to FirstMerit common shareholders on a stand-alone basis for the years 2016 to 2021, using a target tangible common equity to tangible assets ratio, or TCE/TA, of 8.0% as instructed by Huntington management, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis, as of December 31, 2021, calculated by applying price/tangible book value multiples ranging from 1.5x to 1.9x, to an estimate of the post-dividend tangible book value of FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis as of December 31, 2021, as reflected in the Forecasts. Then, by adding the ranges of present values it derived as described above and dividing these values by the total number of fully diluted shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding as of December 31, 2015, as provided by FirstMerit management, Goldman Sachs derived illustrative present values per share of FirstMerit common stock on a stand-alone basis ranging from $18.32 to $22.29.

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain publicly available information relating to the selected acquisition transactions listed below announced since 2013 in which the target company had an asset value of $5 billion or more and involving target companies in the banking and thrift industry.

Announcement Date	Target	Acquirer
October 30, 2015	First Niagara Financial Group, Inc.	KeyCorp
October 29, 2015	Astoria Financial Corporation	New York Community Bancorp, Inc.
August 17, 2015	National Penn Bancshares, Inc.	BB&T Corporation
January 22, 2015	City National Corporation	Royal Bank of Canada
November 12, 2014	Susquehanna Bancshares, Inc.	BB&T Corporation
September 11, 2013	Sterling Financial Corporation	Umpqua Holdings Corporation
July 15, 2013	Taylor Capital Group, Inc.	MB Financial, Inc.

Although none of the target companies in the selected transactions are directly comparable to FirstMerit and none of the selected transactions are directly comparable to the proposed transaction, the selected transactions were chosen because the target companies were publicly traded companies with operations that for purposes of analysis may be considered similar to certain operations of FirstMerit, and as such, for purposes of the analysis, the selected transactions may be considered similar to the proposed transaction.

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to each of the selected transactions and the proposed transaction:

the implied premia represented by the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the transaction relative to the last undisturbed closing share price for the target company prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction;

the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the transaction as a multiple of the target company's estimated EPS for its first full fiscal year after the announcement of the applicable transaction, or $\text{Consideration}/\text{FY} + 1 \text{ EPS}$; and

the implied value of the consideration per target company share paid in the transaction as a multiple of SBV per share, or the $\text{Consideration}/\text{SBV per share}$, and as a multiple of TBV per share, or $\text{Consideration}/\text{TBV per share}$ of the target company as of the last full fiscal quarter prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction.

For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used estimates for EPS for each target company's first full fiscal year after the announcement of the applicable transaction reflecting the most recent median estimates for such company published by SNL Financial prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction, and Goldman Sachs used SBV per share and TBV per share figures for each target company for the most recent quarter end prior to the announcement of the applicable transaction.

The multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the proposed transaction and the median of the multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the selected transactions are listed below:

	Proposed Transaction	Selected Transactions (Median)
Implied Premium	29%	25%
Consideration/FY + 1 EPS	14.8x	18.7x
Consideration/SBV per share	1.2x	1.6x
Consideration/TBV per share	1.7x	1.7x

Table of Contents

Using the foregoing and its judgment and experience, Goldman Sachs applied illustrative multiple ranges of Consideration/FY + 1 EPS and Consideration/TBV per share, reflecting the 25th and 75th percentiles of the Consideration/FY + 1 EPS and Consideration/TBV per share multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the selected transactions to estimated EPS for 2016 for FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis as reflected in the Forecasts and TBV per share as of December 31, 2015 for FirstMerit, as provided by FirstMerit management, to derive ranges of illustrative values per share of FirstMerit common stock as listed below:

	Multiple Range	Range of Illustrative Values per Share of FirstMerit
Consideration/FY + 1 EPS	17x-20x	$ 23.81-$28.01

Illustrative Discounted Dividend Analyses for FirstMerit with Effects of Synergies

Using the Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed illustrative discounted dividend analyses, as of December 31, 2015, on FirstMerit, on a stand-alone basis taking into account the Synergies of the proposed transaction, to derive a range of illustrative present values per share of FirstMerit common stock.

Using discount rates ranging from 9.7% to 10.7%, reflecting estimates of the blended costs of equity of FirstMerit and Huntington, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of December 31, 2015 (a) the projected dividends to (or capital infusion required from) FirstMerit common shareholders for the years 2016 to 2021 using the Forecasts for FirstMerit, including the Synergies, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for FirstMerit as of December 31, 2021, calculated by applying price/tangible book value multiples ranging from 3.1x to 3.8x to an estimate of the post-dividend tangible book value of FirstMerit as of December 31, 2021, using the stand-alone Forecasts for FirstMerit, including the Synergies and certain other merger-related adjustments provided by Huntington management. Then, by adding the ranges of present values it derived as described above and dividing these values by the total number of fully diluted shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding as of December 31, 2015, as provided by FirstMerit management, Goldman Sachs derived illustrative present values per share of FirstMerit common stock ranging from $34.31 to $41.85.

Huntington Selected Companies Analyses

Goldman Sachs reviewed and compared certain financial information for Huntington to corresponding financial information and public market multiples for the following selected publicly traded companies in the banking industry:

Associated Banc-Corp
 BB&T Corporation
 Comerica Incorporated
 Fifth Third Bancorp
 First Horizon National Corporation
 KeyCorp
 M&T Bank Corporation
 Regions Financial Corporation
 SunTrust Banks, Inc.
 The PNC Financial Services Group, Inc.

Zions Bancorporation

Although none of the selected companies is directly comparable to Huntington, the included companies were chosen because they are publicly traded companies with operations that for purposes of analysis may be considered similar to certain operations of Huntington.

Table of Contents

Goldman Sachs calculated and compared with respect to Huntington and each of the selected companies:

its price per share as of January 22, 2016 as a multiple of estimated EPS for 2016, which is referred to below as 2016E P/E, and as a multiple of estimated EPS for 2017 which is referred to below as 2017E P/E ; and its price per share as of January 22, 2016 as a multiple of its TBV per share, which is referred to below as Price/TBV per share, and as a multiple of its SBV per share, which is referred to below as Price/SBV per share.

For purposes of its calculations, Goldman Sachs used 2016 and 2017 EPS estimates for Huntington from the Forecasts and 2016 and 2017 EPS estimates for the selected companies reflecting the most recent median estimates for such companies published by I/B/E/S as of January 22, 2016. Goldman Sachs used TBV per share and SBV per share figures for Huntington and for the selected companies reflecting the most recent quarter end figure publicly disclosed by each company as of January 22, 2016.

The multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for Huntington and the median of the multiples calculated by Goldman Sachs for the selected companies are listed below:

	Huntington	Selected Companies (Median)
2016E P/E	10.2x	11.0x
2017E P/E	9.4x	9.4x
Price/TBV per share	1.3x	1.2x
Price/SBV per share	1.2x	0.9x

Goldman Sachs also performed a regression analysis using the Price/TBV per share multiples for the selected companies calculated by Goldman Sachs as described above compared to the 2017E ROATCE for the selected companies using the median estimates for such companies published by I/B/E/S as of January 22, 2016 to derive a regression line reflecting a range of Price/TBV per share multiples at a range of 2017E ROATCEs. The 2017E ROATCE for Huntington using the Forecasts corresponded to a Price/TBV per share multiple of 1.4x on the regression line.

Illustrative Discounted Dividend Analyses for Huntington

Using the Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed illustrative discounted dividend analyses, as of December 31, 2015, on Huntington, on a stand-alone basis, to derive a range of illustrative present values per share of Huntington common stock on a stand-alone basis.

Using discount rates ranging from 9.5% to 10.5%, reflecting estimates of the cost of equity for Huntington on a stand-alone basis, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of December 31, 2015 (a) the forecasted dividends to Huntington shareholders on a stand-alone basis for the years 2016 to 2021, using a target TCE/TA ratio of 8.0% as instructed by Huntington management, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for Huntington on a stand-alone basis, as of December 31, 2021, calculated by applying price/tangible book value multiples ranging from 1.4x to 1.7x, to an estimate of the post-dividend tangible book value of Huntington on a stand-alone basis as of December 31, 2021, as reflected in the Forecasts. Then, by adding the ranges of present values it derived as described above and dividing these values by the total number of fully diluted shares of Huntington common stock outstanding as of December 31, 2015, as provided by Huntington management, Goldman Sachs derived illustrative present values per share of Huntington common stock on a stand-alone basis ranging from $9.82 to $11.88.

Using the Forecasts, Goldman Sachs performed illustrative discounted dividend analyses, as of December 31, 2015, on Huntington, on a pro forma basis giving effect to the proposed transaction, to derive a range of illustrative present values per share of Huntington common stock on a pro forma basis.

Using discount rates ranging from 9.7% to 10.7%, reflecting estimates of the blended cost of equity of FirstMerit and Huntington, Goldman Sachs discounted to present value as of December 31, 2015 (a) the forecasted dividends to (or capital infusion required from) Huntington shareholders for the years 2016 to 2021 using the Forecasts for Huntington and FirstMerit, including the Synergies, and (b) a range of illustrative terminal values for Huntington on a pro forma basis as of December 31, 2021, calculated by applying price/tangible book value multiples ranging from 1.9x to 2.3x, to an estimate of the post-dividend tangible book value of Huntington on a pro forma basis as of December 31, 2021, using the Forecasts for Huntington and FirstMerit, including the Synergies and other merger-related adjustments provided by Huntington management. Then, by adding the ranges of present values it derived as described above and dividing these values by the total number of fully diluted shares of Huntington common stock outstanding as of December 31, 2015, plus the number of fully diluted shares of Huntington common stock expected to be issued in the proposed transaction, as provided by Huntington management, Goldman Sachs derived illustrative present values per share of Huntington common stock on a pro forma basis ranging from $11.95 to $14.59.

Illustrative Future Share Price Analyses

Goldman Sachs calculated and analyzed the implied future prices per share of Huntington common stock on a stand-alone basis, as of December 31, 2016 and as of December 31, 2017 by applying, with respect to each year end, an illustrative one year forward P/E multiple of 10.2x, reflecting the 2016E P/E calculated by Goldman Sachs for Huntington as described above under Huntington Selected Companies Analyses, which is referred to as the Stand-alone multiple, to the estimated EPS for Huntington on a stand-alone basis for the following year as reflected in the Forecasts. Goldman Sachs also calculated implied future prices per share of Huntington common stock on a pro forma basis giving effect to the proposed transaction, as of December 31, 2016 and as of December 31, 2017 by applying, with respect to each year end, illustrative one year forward P/E multiples of 10.2x and 10.5x, reflecting a blended P/E multiple using the 2016E P/E calculated by Goldman Sachs for Huntington as described above under Huntington Selected Companies Analyses and the 2016E P/E calculated by Goldman Sachs for FirstMerit as described above under FirstMerit Selected Companies Analyses, which is referred to as the Blended multiple, to the estimated EPS for Huntington for the following year on a pro forma basis giving effect to the proposed transaction and using the Forecasts for Huntington and FirstMerit, including the Synergies. The implied future prices per share of Huntington common stock on a pro forma basis, as of December 31, 2016 and as of December 31, 2017 calculated by Goldman Sachs applying both a Stand-alone multiple and a Blended multiple exceeded the implied future prices per share of Huntington common stock on a stand-alone basis, as of December 31, 2016 and as of December 31, 2017, calculated by Goldman Sachs.

Goldman Sachs applied the estimated 2017E ROATCE for Huntington on a stand-alone basis as reflected in the stand-alone Forecasts for Huntington to the regression line derived by Goldman Sachs using the regression analysis described above under Huntington Selected Companies Analyses and applied the 2018 estimated return on average tangible common equity for Huntington on a pro forma basis giving effect to the proposed transaction (using the Forecasts for Huntington and FirstMerit, including the Synergies) to the same regression line. Using the foregoing, Goldman Sachs derived an implied value per share of Huntington on a pro forma basis that exceeded the implied value per share of Huntington it derived for Huntington on a stand-alone basis.

General

The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process and is not necessarily susceptible to partial analysis or summary description. Selecting portions of the analyses or of the summary set forth above, without considering the analyses as a whole, could create an incomplete view of the processes underlying Goldman Sachs' opinion. In arriving at its fairness determination, Goldman Sachs considered the results of all of its analyses and did not attribute any particular weight to any factor or analysis considered by it. Rather, Goldman Sachs made its determination as to fairness on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all of its analyses. No company or transaction used in the above analyses as a comparison is directly comparable to Huntington or FirstMerit or the proposed transaction.

Goldman Sachs prepared these analyses for purposes of providing its opinion to the Huntington board of directors that, as of the date of the opinion, the merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was fair from a financial point of view to Huntington. These analyses do not purport to be appraisals nor do they necessarily reflect the prices at which businesses or securities actually may be sold. Analyses based upon projections of future results are not necessarily indicative of actual future results, which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by these analyses. Because these analyses are inherently subject to uncertainty, being based upon numerous factors or events beyond the control of the parties or their respective advisors, none of Huntington, Goldman Sachs or any other person assumes responsibility if future results are materially different from those forecast.

The merger consideration to be paid by Huntington for each share of FirstMerit common stock pursuant to the merger agreement was determined through arm's-length negotiations between Huntington and FirstMerit and was approved by the Huntington board of directors. Goldman Sachs provided advice to Huntington during these negotiations. Goldman Sachs did not, however, recommend any specific amount of consideration to Huntington or that any specific amount of consideration constituted the only appropriate consideration for the proposed merger.

As described above, Goldman Sachs' opinion was one of many factors taken into consideration by the Huntington board of directors in considering the proposed transaction. The foregoing summary does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses performed by Goldman Sachs in connection with the delivery of its fairness opinion to the Huntington board of directors and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the written opinion of Goldman Sachs attached as Annex B to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Goldman Sachs and its affiliates are engaged in advisory, underwriting and financing, principal investing, sales and trading, research, investment management and other financial and non-financial activities and services for various persons and entities. Goldman Sachs and its affiliates and employees, and funds or other entities they manage or in which they invest or have other economic interests or with which they co-invest, may at any time purchase, sell, hold or vote long or short positions and investments in securities, derivatives, loans, commodities, currencies, credit default swaps and other financial instruments of Huntington, FirstMerit and any of their respective affiliates and third parties, or any currency or commodity that may be involved in the transaction contemplated by the merger agreement. Goldman Sachs acted as financial advisor to Huntington in connection with, and participated in certain of the negotiations leading to, the proposed transaction. Goldman Sachs has provided certain financial advisory and/or underwriting services to Huntington and/or its affiliates from time to time for which its Investment Banking Division has received, and may receive, compensation, including having acted as co-manager with respect to a public offering of 2.200% Senior Notes due 2019 (aggregate principal amount $500,000,000) by The Huntington National Bank, a subsidiary of Huntington, in February 2014; as book manager with respect to a public offering of Floating Rate Notes due 2017 and 1.375% Senior Notes due 2017 (aggregate principal amount $750,000,000) by The Huntington National Bank in April 2014; as book manager with respect to a public offering of 2.000% Senior Notes due 2018 (aggregate principal amount $750,000,000) by The Huntington National Bank in June 2015; as book manager with respect to a public offering of 2.875% Senior Notes due 2020 (aggregate principal amount $500,000,000) by The Huntington National Bank in August 2015; and as book manager with respect to a public offering of 2.200% Senior Notes due 2018 (aggregate principal amount $850,000,000) by The Huntington National Bank in November 2015. During the two year period prior to the date of its opinion, the Investment Banking Division of Goldman Sachs received compensation for financial advisory and/or underwriting services provided to Huntington and its affiliates of approximately $4.1 million (excluding compensation paid or to be paid to the Investment Banking Division of Goldman Sachs pursuant to its engagement in connection with the merger). Goldman Sachs also provided certain financial advisory and/or underwriting services to FirstMerit and/or its affiliates from time to time for which its Investment Banking Division has received, and may receive, compensation, including having acted as co-manager with respect to a public offering of 4.270% Subordinated Notes due 2026 (aggregate principal amount $250,000,000) of FirstMerit Bank, National Association, a subsidiary of FirstMerit, in November 2014. During the two year period prior to the date of its opinion, the Investment Banking Division of Goldman Sachs received compensation for financial advisory and/or underwriting services provided to FirstMerit and its affiliates of approximately $75,000. Goldman Sachs may also in the future provide financial advisory and/or underwriting services to Huntington, FirstMerit and their respective affiliates for which our Investment Banking Division may receive compensation.

Huntington selected Goldman Sachs as its financial advisor because it is an internationally recognized investment banking firm that has substantial experience in transactions similar to the proposed transaction. Pursuant to an engagement letter between Huntington and Goldman Sachs, Huntington has agreed to pay Goldman Sachs a transaction fee of $18.5 million, all of which is contingent upon completion of the transaction, plus, at the discretion of Huntington, an additional $1.5 million. In addition, Huntington agreed to reimburse Goldman Sachs for certain of its expenses, including reasonable attorneys' fees and disbursements, and to indemnify Goldman Sachs and related persons against various liabilities, including certain liabilities under the federal securities laws.

In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and to recommend that its shareholders approve the merger proposal, the FirstMerit board of directors consulted with FirstMerit management, as well as its financial and legal advisors, and considered a number of factors, including the following factors:

each of FirstMerit's and Huntington's business, operations, financial condition, asset quality, earnings and prospects;

the anticipated economies of scale for the combined company;

the anticipated pro forma impact of the merger on the combined company, including the expected impact on financial metrics, including earnings, dividends, return on equity, tangible book value dilution (and earn-back period), and regulatory capital levels;

the current and prospective environment in which FirstMerit and Huntington operate, including national and local economic conditions, the interest rate environment, the competitive and regulatory environments for financial institutions generally, and the likely effect of these factors on FirstMerit both with and without the merger;

the historical performance of Huntington common stock, Huntington common stock's liquidity in terms of average daily trading volume and the level of future cash dividends anticipated to be received by FirstMerit's shareholders;

Huntington's record of performance over a substantial period of time and throughout various economic cycles, including its earnings record;

the soundness of Huntington's financial condition and asset quality;

publicly available information regarding Huntington's regulatory status and Huntington's assurance that it was unaware of any meaningful obstacle to regulatory approvals on a reasonably timely basis;

the expanded possibilities, including organic growth and future acquisitions, that would be available to the combined company, given its larger size, asset base, capital and footprint;

the form of consideration, including the cash consideration, which would ensure that a portion of the value of the merger consideration would not be subject to potential downward fluctuations in the price of Huntington common stock, and the fact that a significant portion of the merger consideration would be in stock and with a fixed exchange ratio, which would allow FirstMerit's shareholders to participate in the future performance of the combined company;

the expected tax treatment of the mergers, taken together, as a reorganization for United States federal income tax purposes;

the size of the termination fee in relation to the overall transaction size, and the requirement that FirstMerit submit the proposal to adopt the merger agreement to its shareholders even if the FirstMerit board of directors has withdrawn, modified or qualified its recommendation in favor of such proposal;

the complementary nature of the business strategies, customers, cultures, geographic areas and business lines of the two companies, which the FirstMerit board of directors believes should provide the opportunity to mitigate integration risks and increase potential returns, including that:

the geographic scope of the two companies contains overlap, enabling cost savings and achievement of synergies;

the nature of the business strategies, customers and geographic areas of the two companies would enable the combined company to achieve goals FirstMerit would have independently attempted to pursue in connection with its strategic plan (including greater cross-selling opportunities based on complementary product sets); and the similarities in the two companies' community bank operating model and culture, and Huntington's commitment to supporting the local communities it serves;

the written opinion of Sandler, FirstMerit's financial advisor, dated as of January 25, 2016, delivered to the FirstMerit board of directors that, as of such date, and based upon and subject to the various factors, assumptions and limitations set forth in such opinion, the merger consideration to be paid to the holders of FirstMerit common stock in the merger was fair to such holders from a financial point of view, as more fully described below under "Opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P.;"

Huntington's record of service to its communities as exemplified by its Satisfactory Community Reinvestment Act examination rating for several years;

the review undertaken by the FirstMerit board of directors and management, with the assistance of financial and legal advisors, with respect to the strategic alternatives available to FirstMerit, including:

the likelihood of an alternative transaction;

the value of FirstMerit as an independent company;

the capital and earnings available to FirstMerit as an independent company, at the time and as expected in the future, to pursue various business and strategic initiatives; and the challenges facing FirstMerit as an independent institution and the FirstMerit board of directors belief that combining with a larger financial institution would benefit FirstMerit's shareholders, customers and communities;

the fact that the implied value of the merger consideration as of January 21, 2016 of approximately $20.48 for each share of FirstMerit common stock, based on Huntington's closing stock price of $9.00 on that date, represented a 30.2% premium over the closing price of FirstMerit's common stock of $15.73 on January 21, 2016;

the fact that the merger agreement provides that FirstMerit may take certain actions in response to an unsolicited bona fide written acquisition proposal under specific circumstances, in the event that the FirstMerit board of directors makes a good faith determination (in accordance with the merger agreement and after consultation with FirstMerit's outside legal counsel and financial advisor) that the failure to take such actions would more likely than not result in a violation of its fiduciary duties under applicable law;

the other terms of the merger agreement and their comparability to those in other recent consolidation transactions;

its review and discussions with FirstMerit's management concerning the due diligence examination of Huntington;

the transaction-related restructuring charges and other merger-related costs;

the potential risks associated with successfully integrating FirstMerit's business, operations and workforce with those of Huntington, including the costs and risks of successfully integrating the two companies;

the potential risk of diverting management attention and resources from the operation of FirstMerit's and Huntington's respective businesses and towards the completion of the merger and the integration of the two companies;

the nature and amount of payments to be received by FirstMerit's management in connection with the merger;

the regulatory and other approvals required in connection with the merger and the bank merger and the time required to obtain such approvals, consideration of the relevant factors expected to be assessed by the regulators for the approvals and the parties' evaluations of those factors, the expected likelihood that such approvals could be received in a reasonably timely manner and without the imposition of unacceptable conditions and the possibility that regulators may impose certain restrictions on the combined operations of FirstMerit and Huntington (particularly branch divestitures) in order to grant the required approvals;

the anticipated continued participation of certain of FirstMerit's directors, officers and employees in the combined company, which enhances the likelihood that the strategic benefits that FirstMerit expects to achieve as a result of the merger will be realized and that the benefits and talents that FirstMerit brings to the combined company will be appropriately valued and effectively utilized; and maintain certain standards of compensation and benefits (including equity based awards) to continuing FirstMerit employees for up to one year following the effective time;

contribute $25 million to support the communities in which FirstMerit operates, including $20 million of commitments to a new Huntington charitable foundation dedicated to grant making, charitable contributions and support in Akron, Ohio;

establish an operations/call center based in the city of Akron, Ohio or a community with a Joint Economic Development Agreement with the city of Akron, Ohio and use reasonable best efforts to ensure that the operations/call center is fully operational no later than by the second anniversary of the closing date of the merger; and use reasonable best efforts to maintain employment levels in Akron consistent with FirstMerit's employment levels in Akron as of the closing date of the merger, no later than by the second anniversary of the closing date of the merger.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the FirstMerit board of directors is not intended to be exhaustive, but includes the material factors considered by the FirstMerit board of directors. In reaching its decision to approve the merger agreement, the merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, the FirstMerit board of directors did not quantify or assign any relative weights to the factors considered, and individual directors may have given different weights to different factors. The FirstMerit board of directors considered all these factors as a whole, including discussions with FirstMerit's management and FirstMerit's financial and legal advisors, and overall considered the factors to be favorable to, and to support, its determination.

The foregoing discussion of the information and factors considered by the FirstMerit board of directors is forward-looking in nature. This information should be read in light of the factors described under the section entitled Cautionary Statement Regarding Forward-Looking Statements.

For the reasons set forth above, the FirstMerit board of directors determined that the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are advisable and in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders, and approved the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. The FirstMerit board of directors recommends that the FirstMerit common shareholders vote FOR the FirstMerit merger proposal, FOR the FirstMerit compensation proposal and FOR the FirstMerit adjournment proposal, if necessary or appropriate to solicit additional proxies.

Opinion of Sandler O'Neill & Partners, L.P.

On May 5, 2015, FirstMerit and the FirstMerit board of directors retained Sandler to act as an independent financial advisor to FirstMerit and the FirstMerit board of directors in connection with Huntington's indication of interest, and more generally to assist in the FirstMerit board of directors' consideration of alternative strategies to enhance long-term shareholder value.

On December 23, 2015, FirstMerit and Sandler executed an agreement providing for Sandler's fee arrangement in connection with analyzing, structuring, negotiating and effecting a business combination or other strategic alternative involving Huntington.

FirstMerit selected Sandler as its financial advisor because Sandler is a nationally recognized investment banking firm whose principal business specialty is financial institutions. In the ordinary course of its investment banking business, Sandler is regularly engaged in the valuation of financial institutions and their securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions and other corporate transactions.

Sandler acted as financial advisor to FirstMerit in connection with the proposed transaction and participated in certain of the negotiations leading to the execution of the merger agreement. At the January 22, 2016 meeting at which the FirstMerit board of directors considered the merger agreement, Sandler delivered to the FirstMerit board of directors its oral opinion, which was subsequently confirmed in writing on January 25, 2016, that, as of such date, the merger consideration was fair to the holders of FirstMerit common stock from a financial point of view. The merger agreement was approved by the FirstMerit board of directors on January 22, 2016, subject to advice from Huntington that, based on consultations with its regulators, it saw no significant impediments to obtaining the necessary regulatory approvals. The full text of Sandler's opinion is attached as Annex C to this joint proxy statement/prospectus. The opinion outlines the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and qualifications and limitations on the review undertaken by Sandler in rendering its opinion. The description of the opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of the opinion. Holders of FirstMerit common stock are urged to read the entire opinion carefully in connection with their consideration of the proposed transaction.

Sandler's opinion speaks only as of the date of the opinion. The opinion was directed to the FirstMerit board of directors in connection with its consideration of the merger and is directed only to the fairness, from a financial point of view, of the merger consideration to the holders of FirstMerit common stock. Sandler's opinion does not constitute a recommendation to any holder of FirstMerit common stock as to how such holder of FirstMerit common stock should vote at any meeting of shareholders called to consider and vote upon the merger. It does not address the underlying business decision of FirstMerit to engage in the merger or enter into the merger agreement, the form or structure of the merger, the relative merits of the merger as compared to any other alternative business strategies that might exist for FirstMerit or the effect of any other transaction in which FirstMerit might engage, or any other terms contemplated by the merger agreement or the fairness of the merger to any other class of securities, creditor or other constituency of FirstMerit. Sandler

also did not express any opinion as to the fairness of the amount or nature of the compensation to be received in the merger or other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement by any FirstMerit or Huntington officer, director, or employee, or any class of such persons, relative to the merger consideration to be received by FirstMerit's shareholders. Sandler's opinion was approved by Sandler's fairness opinion committee.

In connection with rendering its opinion, Sandler reviewed, among other things:

drafts of the merger agreement, dated January 22, 2016 and January 24, 2016, in connection with its oral opinion and written opinion, respectively;

certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of FirstMerit that Sandler deemed relevant;

certain publicly available financial statements and other historical financial information of Huntington that Sandler deemed relevant;

publicly available consensus median analyst earnings per share estimates for FirstMerit for the years ending December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2017, and an estimated internal projected earnings growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by and discussed with the senior management of FirstMerit; publicly available consensus median analyst earnings per share estimates for Huntington for the years ending December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2017, and an estimated internal projected earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by and discussed with the senior management of Huntington;

the pro forma financial impact of the mergers on Huntington based on assumptions related to transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings, a core deposit intangible asset, branch divestitures and the issuance of $1.3 billion of floating rate debentures, as provided by and confirmed with the senior management of Huntington;

the publicly reported historical price and trading activity for FirstMerit and Huntington common stock, including a comparison of certain stock market information for FirstMerit and Huntington common stock and certain stock indices as well as publicly available information for certain other similar commercial banks, the securities of which are publicly traded;

a comparison of certain financial information for FirstMerit and Huntington with similar commercial banks for which publicly available information is available;

the financial terms of certain recent mergers and business combinations in the commercial banking industry on a national basis, to the extent publicly available;

the current market environment generally and the commercial banking environment in particular; and such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as Sandler considered relevant.

Sandler also discussed with certain members of the senior management of FirstMerit the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of FirstMerit and held similar discussions with the senior management of Huntington regarding the business, financial condition, results of operations and prospects of Huntington.

In performing its review, Sandler relied upon the accuracy and completeness of all of the financial and other information that was available to and reviewed by Sandler from public sources, that was provided to Sandler by FirstMerit or Huntington or their respective representatives, or that was otherwise reviewed by Sandler and Sandler assumed such accuracy and completeness for purposes of rendering its opinion, without any independent verification or investigation. Sandler also relied, at the direction of FirstMerit, without independent verification or investigation, on the assessments of the management of FirstMerit as to its existing and future relationships with key employees and partners, clients, products and services, and Sandler assumed, with FirstMerit's consent, that there would be no developments with respect to any such matters that would affect its analyses or opinion. Sandler further relied on the assurances of the respective managements of FirstMerit and Huntington that they were not aware of any facts or circumstances that would make any of such information inaccurate or misleading. Sandler was not asked to undertake, and did not undertake, an independent verification of any of such information and Sandler did not assume any responsibility or liability for the accuracy or completeness thereof. Sandler did not make an independent evaluation or perform an appraisal of the specific assets, the collateral securing assets or the liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of FirstMerit or Huntington, or any of their respective subsidiaries, and Sandler was not furnished with any such evaluations or appraisals prepared by others. Sandler did not render any opinion or evaluation on the collectability of any assets or the future performance of any loans of FirstMerit or Huntington. Sandler did not make an independent evaluation of the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses of FirstMerit or Huntington, or the combined entity after the mergers, and did not review any individual credit files relating to FirstMerit or Huntington. Sandler assumed, with FirstMerit's consent, that the respective allowances for loan losses for both FirstMerit and Huntington were adequate to cover such losses and will be adequate on a pro forma basis for the combined entity.

In preparing its analyses, Sandler used publicly available consensus median analyst earnings per share estimates for FirstMerit for the years ending December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2017, and an estimated internal projected earnings growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by and discussed with the senior management of FirstMerit. In addition, Sandler used publicly available consensus median analyst earnings per share estimates for Huntington for the years ending December 31, 2016 and December 31, 2017, and an estimated internal projected earnings per share growth rate for the years thereafter, as provided by and discussed with the senior management of Huntington. Sandler also received and used in its pro forma analyses certain assumptions related to transaction expenses, purchase accounting adjustments, cost savings, a core deposit intangible asset, deposit divestitures and the issuance of $1.3 billion of floating rate debentures, as provided by and confirmed with the senior management of Huntington. With respect to the foregoing information, the respective managements of FirstMerit and Huntington confirmed to Sandler that such information reflected (or, in the case of publicly available median analyst earnings per share estimates referred to above, were consistent with) the best currently available estimates and judgments of those respective senior managements of the future financial performance of FirstMerit and Huntington, and Sandler assumed that such performance would be achieved. Sandler expressed no opinion as to such estimates or judgments or the assumptions on which such information were based. Sandler also assumed that there had been no material change in the respective assets, financial condition, results of operations, business or prospects of FirstMerit or Huntington since the date of the most recent financial statements made available to it. Sandler assumed in all respects material to its analyses that FirstMerit and Huntington will remain as going concerns for all periods relevant to its analyses.

In arriving at its opinion, Sandler assumed that the executed merger agreement would be in all material respects identical to the last draft reviewed by it. Sandler also assumed, with FirstMerit's consent, that (i) each of the parties to the merger agreement would comply with all material terms and conditions of the merger agreement and all related agreements, that all of the representations and warranties contained in such agreements were, subject to the standards contained therein, true and correct, that each of the parties to such agreements would timely perform in all material respects all of the covenants and other obligations required to be performed by such party under such agreements and that the conditions precedent in such agreements were not and would not be waived, in each case to the extent material to Sandler's analyses and its opinion, (ii) in the course of obtaining the necessary regulatory or third party approvals, consents and releases with respect to the mergers or bank merger, no delay, limitation, restriction or condition would be imposed that would have a material adverse effect on FirstMerit, Huntington or on the contemplated benefits of the mergers and the bank merger, (iii) the mergers and any related transactions would be completed in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement without any waiver, modification or amendment of any term, condition or agreement thereof and in compliance with all applicable laws and other requirements, and (iv) the mergers, taken together, would qualify as a reorganization for federal income tax purposes. Sandler expressed no opinion as to any of the legal, accounting or tax matters relating to the mergers or any other transactions contemplated in connection therewith.

Sandler's analyses and opinion are necessarily based on financial, economic, market and other conditions as in effect on, and the information made available to Sandler as of, the date of its opinion. Events occurring after such date could materially affect Sandler's opinion. Sandler has not undertaken to update, revise, reaffirm or withdraw its opinion or otherwise comment upon events occurring after the date thereof. Sandler expressed no opinion as to the trading values of FirstMerit common stock or Huntington common stock at any time or what the value of Huntington's common stock would be once it is actually received by the holders of FirstMerit common stock.

In rendering its opinion, Sandler performed a variety of financial analyses. The summary below is not a complete description of all the analyses underlying Sandler's opinion or the presentation made by Sandler to the FirstMerit board of directors, but is a summary of the material analyses performed and presented by Sandler. The summary includes information presented in tabular format. In order to fully understand the financial analyses, these tables must be read together with the accompanying text. The tables alone do not constitute a complete description of the financial analyses. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex process involving subjective judgments as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analysis and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances. The process, therefore, is not necessarily susceptible to a partial analysis or summary description. Sandler believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of the factors and analyses to be considered without considering all factors and analyses, or attempting to ascribe relative weights to some or all such factors and analyses, could create an incomplete view of the evaluation process underlying its opinion. Also, no company included in Sandler's comparative analyses described below is identical to FirstMerit or Huntington and no transaction is identical to the merger. Accordingly, an analysis of comparable companies or transactions involves complex considerations and judgments concerning differences in financial and operating characteristics of the companies and other factors that could affect the public trading values or merger transaction values, as the case may be, of FirstMerit and Huntington and the companies to which they were compared. In arriving at its opinion, Sandler did not attribute any particular weight to any analysis or factor that it considered. Rather, Sandler made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor. Sandler did not form an opinion as to whether any individual analysis or factor (positive or negative) considered in isolation supported or failed to support its opinion; rather, Sandler made its determination as to the fairness of the merger consideration to the holders of FirstMerit common stock on the basis of its experience and professional judgment after considering the results of all its analyses taken as a whole.

In performing its analyses, Sandler also made numerous assumptions with respect to industry performance, business and economic conditions and various other matters, many of which cannot be predicted and are beyond the control of FirstMerit, Huntington, and Sandler. The analyses performed by Sandler are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results, both of which may be significantly more or less favorable than suggested by such analyses. Sandler prepared its analyses solely for purposes of rendering its opinion and provided such analyses to the FirstMerit board of directors at its January 22, 2016 meeting. Estimates on the values of companies do not purport to be appraisals or necessarily reflect the prices at which companies or their securities may actually be sold. Such estimates are inherently subject to uncertainty and actual values may be materially different. Accordingly, Sandler's analyses do not necessarily reflect the value of FirstMerit common stock or the prices at which FirstMerit or Huntington common stock may be sold at any time. The analyses of Sandler and its opinion were among a number of factors taken into consideration by the FirstMerit board of directors in making its determination to approve the merger agreement and the analyses described below should not be viewed as determinative of the decision of the FirstMerit board of directors or senior management with respect to the fairness of the merger.

Summary of Proposed Merger Consideration and Implied Transaction Metrics

Sandler reviewed the financial terms of the proposed transaction. Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, upon the effective time of the merger, each share of FirstMerit common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time, other than certain shares described in the merger agreement, will be converted into the right to receive 1.7200 shares of Huntington common stock plus $5.00 in cash. Using the

Analysis of Selected Merger Transactions

Sandler reviewed a group of selected merger and acquisition transactions. The group consisted of nine nationwide bank and thrift transactions announced between January 1, 2013 and January 21, 2016 with over $1 billion in reported deal value (the Precedent Transactions).

Table of Contents

The Precedent Transactions were composed of the following transactions:

Acquirer	Target
BBCN Bancorp, Inc.	Wilshire Bancorp, Inc.
KeyCorp	First Niagara Financial Group, Inc
New York Community Bancorp, Inc	Astoria Financial Corporation
BB&T Corporation	National Penn Bancshares Inc.
Royal Bank of Canada	City National Corporation
BB&T Corporation	Susquehanna Bancshares Inc.
CIT Group Inc.	IMB Holdco LLC
Umpqua Holdings Corporation	Sterling Financial Corporation
PacWest Bancorp	CapitalSource Inc.

Using the latest publicly available information prior to the announcement of the relevant transaction, Sandler reviewed the following quantitative transaction metrics: transaction price to last-twelve-months earnings per share, transaction price to book value per share, transaction price to tangible book value per share, tangible book premium to core deposits, and 1-day market premium. Sandler compared the indicated transaction metrics for the merger, based on an aggregate implied transaction value of approximately $3.41 billion, or a transaction price per share of approximately $20.48, resulting from the closing stock price of Huntington common stock on January 21, 2016 of $9.00, to the high, low, mean and median metrics of the Precedent Transactions.

Table of Contents*Net Present Value Analyses*

Sandler performed an analysis that estimated the net present value per share of FirstMerit common stock, assuming FirstMerit performed in accordance with publicly available consensus median analyst earnings estimates for FirstMerit for the years ending December 31, 2016 through December 31, 2017 and estimated earnings per share growth rates for the years ending December 31, 2018 through December 31, 2020, as provided by the senior management of FirstMerit. To approximate the terminal value of FirstMerit common stock at December 31, 2020, Sandler applied price to 2020 earnings multiples ranging from 11.0x to 16.0x and multiples of December 31, 2020 tangible book value ranging from 130% to 180%. The terminal values were then discounted to present values using different discount rates ranging from 8.0% to 11.0%, which were chosen to reflect different assumptions regarding required rates of return of holders or prospective buyers of FirstMerit common stock. As illustrated in the following tables, the analysis indicated an imputed range of values per share of FirstMerit common stock of $14.53 to $22.76 when applying multiples of earnings and $15.94 to $23.62 when applying multiples of tangible book value.

Sandler also considered and discussed with the FirstMerit board of directors how this analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including variations with respect to net income. To illustrate this impact, Sandler performed a similar analysis, assuming FirstMerit's net income varied from 15% above estimates to 15% below estimates. This analysis resulted in the following range of per share values for FirstMerit common stock, applying the price to 2020 earnings multiples range of 11.0x to 16.0x referred to above and a discount rate of 9.5%.

In connection with its analyses, Sandler considered and discussed with the FirstMerit board of directors how the present value analyses would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions. Sandler noted that the net present value analysis is a widely used valuation methodology, but the results of such methodology are highly dependent upon the numerous assumptions that must be made, and the results thereof are not necessarily indicative of actual values or future results.

Pro Forma Merger Analysis

Sandler analyzed certain potential pro forma effects of the merger, based on the following assumptions: (i) the merger closes at the end of the third calendar quarter of 2016 and (ii) the merger consideration has a value of $20.48. Sandler also utilized the following: (a) estimated earnings per share for Huntington, based on consensus median analyst estimates and an estimated long-term earnings per share growth rate as provided by Huntington senior management; (b) estimated earnings per share for FirstMerit, based on consensus median analyst estimates and estimated long-term earnings per share growth rates as provided by the senior management of FirstMerit; (c) purchase accounting adjustments provided by the senior management of Huntington consisting of (i) a negative credit mark on loans, (ii) a positive interest rate mark on loans, (iii) other net negative purchase accounting marks, and (iv) a core deposit intangible asset amortized over 8 years using sum-of-the-years-digits method; (d) cost savings projections as provided by Huntington senior management; (e) estimated pre-tax one-time transaction costs and expenses as provided by Huntington senior management; (f) an annual pre-tax opportunity cost of cash as provided by Huntington senior management, (g) the issuance of $1.3 billion of floating rate debentures by Huntington and (h) deposit divestitures with an assumed deposit premium in amounts provided by Huntington. The analysis indicated that the merger could be accretive to Huntington's estimated earnings per share (excluding one-time transaction costs and expenses) in the years ended December 31, 2016 through 2020 and dilutive to estimated tangible book value per share at close and at the year-end of 2016 through 2020.

In connection with this analysis, Sandler considered and discussed with the FirstMerit board of directors how the analysis would be affected by changes in the underlying assumptions, including the impact of final purchase accounting adjustments determined at the closing of the merger, and noted that the actual results achieved by the combined company may vary from projected results and the variations may be material.

Sandler's Relationship

Sandler is acting as FirstMerit's financial advisor in connection with the merger and a significant portion of Sandler's fee is contingent upon the closing of the merger. Sandler's fee is equal to 0.67% of the aggregate purchase price, and is currently estimated to be approximately $24.7 million, which will become due and payable in immediately available funds on the day of closing of the merger. Sandler also received a $4.0 million fee from FirstMerit as a result of rendering its opinion, which fairness opinion fee will be credited in full towards the transaction fee that will become due and payable to Sandler on the day of closing of the merger. FirstMerit has also agreed to indemnify Sandler against certain liabilities arising out of Sandler's engagement and to reimburse Sandler for certain of its out-of-pocket expenses incurred in connection with Sandler's engagement.

During the two years preceding the date of its opinion, Sandler provided certain other investment banking services to FirstMerit, including acting as placement agent in connection with the offer and sale of FirstMerit subordinated debentures in November 2014 for which Sandler received a placement agent fee in an amount equal to $170,086.

During the two years preceding the date of its opinion, Sandler provided certain investment banking services to Huntington and its subsidiaries, including acting as co-manager in connection with the offer and sale of The Huntington National Bank senior debentures in February, June and August 2015 for which Sandler received aggregate fees in the amount of $302,780. In addition, Sandler acted as financial advisor to Huntington in connection with its acquisition of Camco Financial Corporation, which transaction closed on March 1, 2014, for which Sandler received an advisory fee of $471,345. Sandler may provide, and receive compensation for providing, investment banking services to Huntington in the future, including during the pendency of the merger.

In the ordinary course of its business as a broker-dealer, Sandler may purchase securities from or sell securities to FirstMerit, Huntington or their respective affiliates. Sandler may also actively trade the securities of FirstMerit or Huntington for its own account and for the accounts of its customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

Certain Unaudited Prospective Financial Information of Huntington

Huntington does not as a matter of course make public projections as to future earnings or other results due to, among other reasons, the uncertainty of the underlying assumptions and estimates. In connection with the proposed transaction, however, Huntington provided to the Huntington board of directors and Goldman Sachs, its financial advisor, for purposes of performing its financial analyses described above under The Merger

Opinions of Goldman, Sachs & Co. certain unaudited prospective financial information with respect to Huntington and FirstMerit, each on a stand-alone, pre-merger basis, and with respect to FirstMerit giving effect to the merger and as owned by Huntington.

The stand-alone financial projections below were not prepared with a view toward public disclosure or with a view toward complying with the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants with respect to prospective financial information, published guidelines of the SEC regarding forward-looking statements or generally accepted accounting principles in the United States (GAAP), but, in the view of Huntington's management, were prepared on a reasonable basis, reflected the best then-available estimates and judgments and presented, to the best of Huntington management's knowledge and belief, the expected course of action and the expected future financial performance of Huntington and FirstMerit on a stand-alone basis.

However, this information is not fact and should not be relied upon as being necessarily indicative of future results, and readers of this joint proxy statement/prospectus are cautioned not to place undue reliance on the prospective financial information. No representation is made by Huntington, FirstMerit or their respective affiliates or advisors or any other person to any Huntington stockholder or FirstMerit common shareholder regarding the ultimate performance of Huntington, FirstMerit or the combined company compared to the results included in the unaudited prospective financial information presented below.

For purposes of performing its financial analyses of FirstMerit on a standalone basis, Huntington management instructed Goldman Sachs to use net income estimates equal to the I/B/E/S consensus median net income estimates for 2016 and 2017 for FirstMerit and, for years after 2017, to use net income projections that reflected a year-over-year growth rate equal to the rate of net income growth from 2016 to 2017. These net income projections are reflected below.

FirstMerit net income available to common shareholders projections:

	For the Years Ended December 31,
Net income available to common shareholders (millions)	$ 234	$ 257	$ 283	$ 311	$ 342

For purposes of performing its financial analyses of Huntington on a standalone and pro forma basis, Huntington management provided to Goldman Sachs the projections noted below.

Huntington net income available to common stockholders projections:

	For the Years Ended December 31,
Net income available to common stockholders (millions)	$ 725	$ 776	$ 843	$ 898	$ 949

In addition, for purposes of performing its pro forma financial analysis Huntington instructed Goldman Sachs to use forecasts for FirstMerit giving effect to the merger, including to reflect fully phased in projected cost synergies of 40% of FirstMerit's noninterest expense, estimated restructuring charges of $418 million and core deposit intangible amortization over eight years.

Neither Huntington s nor FirstMerit s independent registered public accounting firm nor any other independent accountants have compiled, examined or performed any procedures with respect to the accompanying unaudited prospective financial information contained herein, nor have they expressed any opinion or any other form of assurance on such information or its achievability, and assume no responsibility for, and disclaim any association with, such information. The reports of Huntington s and FirstMerit s independent registered public accounting firms related to Huntington s and FirstMerit s historical financial information are incorporated by reference herein. Such reports do not extend to prospective financial information and should not be read to do so.

The Huntington Board of Directors After the Merger

Pursuant to the merger agreement, Huntington will take all appropriate action so that, as of the effective time, the number of directors constituting the Huntington board of directors will be increased by four and four current directors of FirstMerit to be selected by Huntington in consultation with FirstMerit will be appointed as directors of Huntington.

Interests of Huntington's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

In considering the recommendation of the Huntington board of directors, Huntington stockholders should be aware that Huntington's directors and officers have interests in the merger that are different from, or in addition to, those of Huntington stockholders generally. The Huntington board of directors was aware of these interests and considered them, among other matters, in adopting the merger agreement and making its recommendation that Huntington stockholders vote FOR the Huntington stock issuance proposal. These interests are summarized below.

The Huntington board of directors after the merger will include each of the current directors from the current Huntington board of directors, in addition to four directors from the current FirstMerit board of directors. The Huntington board of directors presently consists of eleven directors.

None of Huntington's directors or executive officers is a party to, or participates in, any Huntington plan, program, or arrangement that provides such director or executive officer with any kind of compensation that is enhanced by or otherwise triggered by the completion of the merger.

Huntington will continue to provide indemnification and insurance coverage to the directors and executive officers of Huntington.

Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger

In considering the recommendations of the FirstMerit board of directors with respect to the merger, you should be aware that FirstMerit's directors and executive officers have agreements or arrangements that provide them with interests in the merger, including financial interests, which may be different from, or in addition to, the interests of the other shareholders of FirstMerit. The FirstMerit board of directors was aware of these interests during its deliberations of the merits of the merger and in determining to recommend to FirstMerit common shareholders that they vote for the FirstMerit merger proposal and thereby approve the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the merger. See The Merger Background of the Merger and The Merger FirstMerit's Reasons for the Merger; Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors. These interests are described in more detail below, and certain of them are quantified in the narrative and table below.

Treatment of FirstMerit Equity Awards

Stock Options. At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is less than the per share cash equivalent consideration will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each net share covered by the FirstMerit option, less applicable tax withholdings. At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is greater than or equal to the per share cash equivalent consideration will be assumed and converted into an option to purchase, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to such FirstMerit option prior to the effective time, the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio, at an exercise price per share (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) determined by dividing the per share exercise price of the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio.

Restricted Stock & Restricted Stock Units. At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will fully vest and be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each share of FirstMerit common stock subject to each such award immediately prior to the effective time, less applicable tax withholdings. The performance conditions applicable to a FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 will be deemed satisfied at maximum performance at the effective time.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted on or following January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will be assumed and converted into a restricted stock or restricted stock unit award relating to shares of Huntington common stock, with the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such award prior to the effective time, and relating to the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying (i) the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to such award immediately prior to the effective time by (ii) the equity award exchange ratio.

Quantification of Payments. For an estimate of the amounts that would be payable to each of FirstMerit's named executive officers upon settlement of their unvested FirstMerit equity awards, see Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers below. The estimated aggregate amount that would be payable to FirstMerit's nine executive officers who are not named executive officers upon settlement of their unvested FirstMerit equity awards if the effective time of the merger occurred on September 30, 2016 is $5.21 million. We estimate that the aggregate amount that would be payable to FirstMerit's 11 non-employee directors upon settlement of their unvested FirstMerit equity awards if the effective time of the merger occurred on September 30, 2016 is $0.71 million. The amounts specified in this paragraph are determined using a price per share of FirstMerit common stock of $18.89, the average closing price per share over the first five business days following the announcement of the merger agreement. The estimated amounts (i) include all equity awards outstanding as of April 1, 2016 and (ii) exclude any equity awards that may vest between April 1, 2016 and September 30, 2016.

Employment and Change in Control Termination Agreements with Named Executive Officers

FirstMerit has an existing employment agreement with Mr. Greig and change in control termination agreements with each of FirstMerit's named executive officers (including Mr. Greig), which provide for benefits in the event of, among other things, (i) a change in control and (ii) a termination of employment by FirstMerit without cause, or a resignation by the named executive officer for good reason, in each case, following a change in control (which we refer to as a "qualifying termination"). David Goodall resigned from his employment with FirstMerit, effective April 1, 2016. As a result of his resignation, he will not be entitled to receive merger-related compensation under any change in control termination agreement or any other compensation arrangement with FirstMerit.

Upon a change in control (and other than if the named executive is terminated for cause), to the extent provided in the applicable change in control agreement, the named executive officers would be eligible to receive benefits (the "named executive officer SERP benefit") under either the FirstMerit Corporation Amended and Restated Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (the "SERP") or the 2008 Supplemental Executive Retirement Plan (the "2008 SERP"), calculated assuming the executive has 24 to 30 months of additional age and service credit and applying other favorable modifications to the benefit calculation methodology. The modified benefit calculation under the applicable supplemental executive retirement plan generally calculates eligible compensation based on the highest monthly base salary during the two years prior to the named executive officer's termination of employment and annual incentive at the greater of target or actual achievement for the year of termination. Mr. Greig is not eligible for any additional SERP benefits, as his benefit under the SERP is frozen.

Upon a qualifying termination during a specified period (36 months for Mr. Greig and 30 months for each other named executive officer) following a change in control, each named executive officer would be entitled to receive:

a lump sum payment equal to the executive's base salary and annual incentive (calculated at the higher of target achievement, actual achievement through the date of termination or the highest annual incentive paid following the change in control for all named executive officers other than Mr. Greig, for whom one-third of his annual incentive will be calculated as previously described and two-thirds will be calculated at target) multiplied by the named executive officer's severance multiple (two and a half in the case of each named executive officer other than Mr. Greig, whose multiple is three);

continued life, medical, and accidental death and dismemberment insurance for the number of years equal to the named executive officer's severance multiple at no cost to the executive (except in the case of Mr. Bichsel, who is over 67 years of age);

to the extent not otherwise provided at the time of the change in control, the named executive officer SERP benefit; provided that such benefits shall be calculated based on the highest base salary during the two years prior to the change in control and annual incentive at the greater of target or achievement for the year of

outplacement fees of $25,000 for each named executive officer other than Mr. Greig, who will receive outplacement fees of $35,000.

In addition, all of the outstanding equity awards held by the named executive officer will be treated as described above. Under the agreements, any payments or benefits payable to the named executive officer will be cut back to the extent that such payments or benefits would result in the imposition of excise taxes under Section 4999 of the Code (but, in Mr. Greig's case, only if such reduction results in a better net after-tax benefit to Mr. Greig).

Each named executive officer (other than Mr. Greig, whose non-competition obligations are described below) is subject to a 12-month post-termination non-compete following a termination without cause or resignation with good reason during the 30-month period following a change in control.

For an estimate of the value of the payments and benefits described above that would be payable to each of the named executive officers under their employment agreements in connection with a qualifying termination following the merger, see Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers below.

Greig Consulting Agreement

Upon closing of the mergers, Mr. Greig will neither be an executive officer or director of Huntington and his employment will terminate at closing (or on July 30, 2016 if the closing occurs before such date). Mr. Greig has entered into a separation and consulting agreement with Huntington under which he will provide strategic advice regarding FirstMerit's business and other services for up to thirty hours per month for a term of three years. Mr. Greig will be paid $1,250,000 per year and will be provided an office, certain administrative and technological benefits (in each case, as provided by Huntington to its senior executives), security services (on the same basis as provided by FirstMerit prior to the closing) and reimbursement of business, travel and entertainment expenses (including business use of corporate aircraft), in accordance with the terms and conditions of the business, travel and entertainment reimbursement policies applicable to Huntington's Chief Executive Officer. Mr. Greig has agreed to abide by non-compete and non-solicitation provisions for a period of three years and six months following his termination of employment with FirstMerit. In connection with this agreement, Mr. Greig's employment will be terminated upon the later of July 1, 2016 and the closing, and he will receive the payments and benefits provided under his change in control termination agreement, as described above. In the event Huntington terminates Mr. Greig's consulting agreement without cause prior to the end of the three-year consulting term, Mr. Greig will be entitled to receive (i) any accrued but unpaid consulting fees and unreimbursed business, travel and entertainment expenses, (ii) a payment equal to the remainder of any consulting fees that he would have earned through the end of the three-year consulting term, and (iii) the office, administrative and technological benefits and security services that Mr. Greig would have received through the end of the three-year consulting term.

Change in Control Termination Agreements with Other Executive Officers

FirstMerit has existing change in control termination agreements with each of FirstMerit's executive officers who are not named executive officers, which provide for benefits in the event of, among other things, a change in control or a qualifying termination following a change in control.

Upon a change in control (and other than if the named executive is terminated for cause), to the extent provided in the executive officer's applicable change in control agreement, certain executive officers would be entitled to more favorable benefits under the SERP or the 2008 SERP, which generally include one to two years of additional age and service crediting and other favorable modifications to the benefit calculation methodology under the applicable plan (the executive officer SERP benefit). Upon a qualifying termination during the one or two year period, as applicable, following a change in control, each executive officer who is not a named executive officer would be entitled to:

continued life, medical, and accidental death and dismemberment insurance benefits for the number of years equal to the executive officer's severance multiple at no cost to the executive (except in the case of those executives who are over 67 years of age);

if provided by the applicable change in control agreement and to the extent not otherwise provided at the time of the change in control, the executive officer SERP benefit; provided that such more favorable benefit calculation may be adjusted; and outplacement fees of up to $25,000.

In addition, all of the outstanding equity awards held by the executive officer will be treated as described above. Under the agreements, any payments or benefits payable to the executive officer will be cut back to the extent that such payments or benefits would result in the imposition of excise taxes under Section 4999 of the Code.

The estimated aggregate amount that would be payable to FirstMerit's executive officers who are not named executive officers under their respective change in control termination agreements if the effective time of the merger were to occur and they were to experience a qualifying termination on September 30, 2016 is $11.96 million.

Post-Merger Compensation Arrangements with Huntington

Since execution of the merger agreement, Huntington has engaged, and it expects to continue to engage, in discussions with certain of FirstMerit's executive officers (other than Mr. Greig) regarding potential roles with the combined company after the consummation of the merger. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, none of the executive officers and directors of FirstMerit (other than Mr. Greig) have entered into any agreements or arrangements with Huntington or its affiliates regarding continued service with Huntington, FirstMerit or their respective affiliates after the effective time. However, prior to the effective time of the merger, such agreements or arrangements may be entered into, which could amend, terminate or otherwise modify the existing FirstMerit change in control termination arrangements with the executive officers that are described in this section and/or provide for the payment (or the right to future payment) of all or a portion of the benefits provided under such existing change in control termination arrangements.

Non-Qualified Retirement Compensation Plans

Pursuant to the 2008 SERP and the FirstMerit Corporation 2008 Excess Benefit Plan, upon a termination without cause or resignation for good reason during the two years following a change in control, participants will vest in full in any unvested FirstMerit contributions to the participant's accounts under such plans.

As of the date hereof, all of the named executive officers and executive officers are fully vested in the FirstMerit Corporation 2008 Excess Benefit Plan.

For an estimate of the value of the accelerated vesting of 2008 SERP or 2008 Excess Benefit Plan contributions described above for each of the named executive officers in connection with a qualifying termination following the merger, see Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers below. The estimated aggregate value of the accelerated vesting and the executive officer SERP benefit, as described above, for FirstMerit's executive officers who are not named executive officers in respect of such benefits if the effective time of the merger were to occur and they were to experience a qualifying termination on September 30, 2016 is $1.01 million.

Other Compensation Matters

All of FirstMerit's executive officers are participants in the FirstMerit Corporation 2013 Annual Incentive Plan, which provides that, if the executive officer is terminated without cause during the one-year period following a change in control, then applicable performance goals will be deemed earned at not less than target and service requirements will lapse. Under the merger agreement, FirstMerit has the right to establish annual bonus awards and performance goals in respect of the 2016 fiscal year. Such performance goals will be deemed satisfied as of the effective time based on actual performance through the closing date and annualized for the full 2016 performance year, taking into account the expenses and costs related to the merger.

In addition, under the terms of the merger agreement, FirstMerit may grant 2016 annual equity awards in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, although such awards may provide for service-based vesting in lieu of performance-based vesting and will provide for double-trigger vesting, such that in the event that an employee is terminated without cause (or for good reason in the case of employees, excluding Mr. Greig, who are party to a severance agreement that provides for a good reason termination right) the 2016 annual equity awards will vest as of the date of such termination.

Prior to the effective time, FirstMerit may establish a rabbi trust to fund the amounts that could become payable under certain FirstMerit benefit plans and arrangements, including the change in control agreements described above and FirstMerit's deferred compensation and supplemental executive retirement plans.

For an estimate of the value of the payments and benefits described above that would be payable to each of the named executive officers in respect of their 2016 bonuses in connection with a qualifying termination following the merger, see Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers below. The estimated aggregate amount that would be payable to FirstMerit's executive officers who are not named executive officers in respect of their 2016 bonuses if the effective time of the merger were to occur and they were to experience a qualifying termination on September 30, 2016 is $1.56 million.

Indemnification; Directors and Officers Insurance

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, directors and executive officers of FirstMerit will be entitled to certain ongoing indemnification and coverage under directors and officers liability insurance policies following the merger. For additional information, see The Merger Agreement Director and Officer Indemnification and Insurance of this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Board of Directors of Huntington Following the Merger

Pursuant to the merger agreement, Huntington will take all appropriate action so that, as of the effective time, the number of directors constituting the Huntington board of directors will be increased by four and four current directors of FirstMerit (which shall not include Mr. Greig) to be selected by Huntington in consultation with FirstMerit will be appointed as directors of Huntington. In addition, two of the FirstMerit directors who will serve as Huntington directors will also serve as trustees for the new Huntington charitable foundation, dedicated to grant making, charitable contributions and support in the city of Akron, Ohio.

Greater Akron-Canton Advisory Board

On the closing date of the merger, Huntington will invite all current members of the FirstMerit board of directors (other than the FirstMerit directors who join the Huntington board of directors) to serve as members of Huntington's existing Greater Akron-Canton Advisory Board, and will appoint to such advisory board all individuals who accept such invitation. The members of such advisory board who are not employees of Huntington or its subsidiaries or members of the Huntington board of directors will serve on the advisory board for at least three years or until their earlier death or resignation, and will receive compensation not less than the compensation received by the other then-current members of such advisory board.

Merger-Related Compensation for FirstMerit's Named Executive Officers

This section sets forth the information required by Item 402(t) of Regulation S-K regarding the compensation for each of FirstMerit's named executive officers that is based on or otherwise relates to the merger. The merger-related compensation payable to these individuals is subject to a non-binding advisory vote of FirstMerit's shareholders, as described above in FirstMerit Proposals Proposal No. 2 FirstMerit Compensation Proposal.

The table below sets forth the amount of payments and benefits that each of FirstMerit's named executive officers would receive in connection with the merger, assuming that the merger was completed and each such named executive officer experienced a qualifying termination on September 30, 2016. The amounts below are determined using a price per share of FirstMerit common stock of $18.89, the average closing price per share over the first five business days following the announcement of the merger agreement, and are based on multiple assumptions that may or may not actually occur or be accurate on the relevant date, including the assumptions described in the footnotes to the table. The amounts below do not reflect certain compensation actions that may occur before the effective time of the merger. As a result of the foregoing assumptions, the actual amounts, if any, to be received by each FirstMerit named executive officer may materially differ from the amounts set forth below.

Set forth below are the values of each type of equity-based award that would become vested and be settled upon the effective time of the merger assuming a qualifying termination in the case of the double trigger awards, based on a price per share of FirstMerit common stock of $18.89, the average closing price per share over the first five business days following the announcement of the merger agreement. - (4) As described above, the named executive officers would be entitled to receive the following benefits under the SERP or 2008 SERP, to the extent provided in their change in control agreements: (a) age and service credit and (b) application of favorable modifications to the calculation methodology for benefits. The amounts in the table include incremental increase in value that will result from such benefits. Mr. Greig would not be entitled to such benefit as his benefit under the SERP is frozen. In addition, pursuant to the 2008 SERP, any unvested contributions will vest.

For further details regarding the SERP benefits, see Interests of FirstMerit's Directors and Executive Officers in the Merger Employment and Change in Control Termination Agreements with Named Executive Officers.

- (5) Mr. Goodall resigned his employment with FirstMerit, effective April 1, 2016. As a result of his resignation, he will not be entitled to receive merger-related compensation.

Huntington's Dividend Policy

On April 20, 2016, Huntington announced that its board of directors declared a $0.07 per common share dividend, payable on July 1, 2016 to stockholders of record as of June 17, 2016.

Huntington stockholders will be entitled to receive dividends when and if authorized by the Huntington board of directors and declared by Huntington out of funds legally available for dividends. The Huntington board of directors periodically will consider the payment of dividends, taking into account Huntington's financial condition, level of net income and earnings expectations, and economic conditions, industry practices and other factors, including applicable banking laws and regulations.

Public Trading Markets

Huntington common stock is listed for trading on the NASDAQ under the symbol `HBAN`, and FirstMerit common stock is listed on the NASDAQ under the symbol `FMER`. Upon completion of the merger, FirstMerit common stock will no longer be quoted on the NASDAQ. Following the merger, shares of Huntington common stock will continue to be traded on the NASDAQ.

Under the merger agreement, Huntington will cause the shares of Huntington common stock to be issued in the merger, including with respect to FirstMerit stock options, FirstMerit restricted stock, and FirstMerit restricted stock units, to be approved for listing on the NASDAQ, subject to notice of issuance.

Each outstanding share of FirstMerit's 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, is represented by FirstMerit depository shares that are listed on the NYSE under the symbol `FMER-A`. Each FirstMerit depository share represents a 1/40th interest in a share of FirstMerit 5.875% Non-Cumulative

Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A. Following the conversion of FirstMerit preferred stock into Huntington preferred stock upon completion of the second step merger, Huntington intends to list such depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN.

Dissenters' Rights in the Merger

Under the MGCL, Huntington stockholders will not be entitled to appraisal or dissenters' rights in connection with the mergers, the merger agreement, or the stock issuance.

However, if the merger agreement is adopted by FirstMerit common shareholders, FirstMerit common shareholders who do not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal and who properly demand payment of fair cash value of their shares are entitled to certain dissenters' rights pursuant to Sections 1701.84(A) and 1701.85 of the OGCL. Section 1701.85 generally provides that shareholders of FirstMerit will not be entitled to such rights without strict compliance with the procedures set forth in Section 1701.85, and failure to take any one of the required steps may result in the termination or waiver of such rights. Specifically, any FirstMerit common shareholder who is a record holder of shares of FirstMerit common stock on April 15, 2016, the record date for the FirstMerit special meeting, and whose shares are not voted in favor of the adoption of the FirstMerit merger proposal may be entitled to be paid the fair cash value of such shares of common stock after the effective time of the merger. To be entitled to such payment, a shareholder must deliver to FirstMerit a written demand for payment of the fair cash value of the shares held by such shareholder before the vote on the FirstMerit merger proposal is taken, the shareholder must not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal, and the shareholder must otherwise comply with Section 1701.85. A FirstMerit common shareholder's failure to vote against the FirstMerit merger proposal will not constitute a waiver of such shareholder's dissenters' rights, as long as such shareholder does not vote in favor of the FirstMerit merger proposal. Any written demand must specify the shareholder's name and address, the number and class of shares held by him, her or it on the record date, and the amount claimed as the fair cash value of such shares of common stock. See the text of Section 1701.85 of the OGCL attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus for specific information on the procedures to be followed in exercising dissenters' rights.

If FirstMerit so requests, dissenting shareholders must submit their share certificates to FirstMerit within 15 days of such request, for endorsement on such certificates by FirstMerit that a demand for appraisal has been made. Failure to comply with such request will terminate the dissenting shareholders' rights, at FirstMerit's option exercised by written notice sent to the applicable dissenting shareholder within 20 days after the lapse of the 15-day period, unless a court for good cause shown otherwise directs. Such certificates will be promptly returned to the dissenting shareholders by FirstMerit. If FirstMerit and any dissenting shareholder cannot agree upon the fair cash value of FirstMerit's common shares, either may, within three months after service of demand by the shareholder, file a petition in the Court of Common Pleas of Summit County, Ohio, for a determination of the fair cash value of such dissenting shareholder's shares of common stock. The fair cash value of a share of FirstMerit common stock to which a dissenting shareholder is entitled under Section 1701.85 will be determined as of the day prior to the vote of the FirstMerit common shareholders. If the shares of FirstMerit common stock are listed on a national securities exchange, such as the NASDAQ, immediately before the effective time of the merger, the fair cash value will be the closing sale price of FirstMerit's shares of common stock as of the close of trading on the day before the vote of the FirstMerit common shareholders. Investment banker opinions to company boards of directors regarding the fairness from a financial point of view of the consideration payable in a transaction, such as the merger, are not opinions regarding, and do not address, fair cash value under Section 1701.85.

If a FirstMerit common shareholder exercises his or her dissenters' rights under Section 1701.85, all other rights with respect to such shareholder's shares of FirstMerit common stock will be suspended until FirstMerit purchases the shares, or the right to receive the fair cash value is otherwise terminated. All rights of the dissenter with respect to the dissenter's shares of FirstMerit common stock will be reinstated should the right to receive the fair cash value be terminated other than by the purchase of such shares.

Table of Contents

The foregoing description of the procedures to be followed in exercising dissenters' rights available to holders of FirstMerit's common stock pursuant to Section 1701.85 of the OGCL may not be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of Section 1701.85 attached as Annex D to this joint proxy statement/prospectus.

Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger

Completion of the merger is subject to prior receipt of certain approvals and consents required to be obtained from applicable governmental and regulatory authorities. Subject to the terms and conditions of the merger agreement, Huntington and FirstMerit have agreed to cooperate with each other and use their reasonable best efforts to promptly prepare and file all necessary documentation, to effect all applications, notices, petitions and filings, and to obtain as promptly as practicable all regulatory approvals necessary or advisable to complete the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. These approvals include, among others, approval from the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC. On March 10, 2016, Huntington and The Huntington National Bank, respectively, filed applications and notifications to obtain regulatory approvals from the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC.

Federal Reserve Board

Certain of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement are subject to approval by the Federal Reserve Board pursuant to the BHC Act. Huntington submitted on March 10, 2016 an application pursuant to sections 3(a)(3) and 3(a)(5) of the BHC Act (12 U.S.C. § 1842(a)(3) and (5)) and section 225.15 of Regulation Y (12 C.F.R. § 225.15), seeking the prior approval of the Federal Reserve Board for Huntington to acquire FirstMerit and thereby also indirectly acquire FirstMerit Bank. The Federal Reserve Board takes into consideration a number of factors when acting on applications under section 3 of the BHC Act (12 U.S.C. § 1842(c)) and section 225.13 of Regulation Y (12 C.F.R. § 225.13). These factors include the financial condition of the bank holding companies and banks involved and the future prospects of the combined organization (including consideration of the current and projected capital positions and the levels of indebtedness) and the managerial resources (including the competence, experience, and integrity of the officers, directors, and principal shareholders, as well as their record of compliance with laws and regulations). The Federal Reserve Board also considers the effectiveness of the applicant in combatting money laundering, the convenience and needs of the communities to be served, as well as the extent to which the proposal would result in greater or more concentrated risks to the stability of the U.S. banking or financial system. The Federal Reserve Board may not approve a proposal that would have significant adverse effects on competition or on the concentration of resources in any banking market.

Office of the Comptroller of the Currency

Certain of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, including the bank merger, are also subject to approval by the OCC. The Huntington National Bank filed on March 10, 2016 an application with the OCC pursuant to the Bank Merger Act (12 U.S.C. § 1828(c)), 12 U.S.C. §§ 36 and 215a and OCC regulations (12 C.F.R. § 5.33), for prior approval for FirstMerit Bank to merge with and into The Huntington National Bank and to retain and operate the main office and branches of FirstMerit Bank as branch offices of The Huntington National Bank. The OCC takes into consideration a number of factors when acting on applications under the Bank Merger Act and its regulations (12 C.F.R. § 5.33(e)). These factors include the financial and managerial resources and future prospects of the existing and combined banks. The OCC also considers the effectiveness of the applicant in combatting money laundering, the convenience and needs of the communities to be served, as well as the extent to which the proposal would result in greater or more concentrated risks to the stability of the U.S. banking or financial system. The OCC may not approve a proposal that would have significant adverse effects on competition or on the concentration of resources in any banking market.

Table of Contents

As required by the Community Reinvestment Act (the CRA) and in reviewing the convenience and needs of the communities to be served, the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC will consider the records of performance of the relevant insured depository institutions under the CRA. In their most recent respective CRA performance evaluations, both The Huntington National Bank and FirstMerit Bank received an overall satisfactory regulatory rating.

Public Notice and Comments

Furthermore, the BHC Act, the Bank Merger Act and applicable regulations require published notice of, and the opportunity for public comment on, these applications, and authorize the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC to hold a public hearing or meeting if the Federal Reserve Board or the OCC determines that a hearing or meeting would be appropriate. The Federal Reserve Board and the OCC take into account the views of third party commenters, particularly on the subject of the merging parties CRA performance and record of service to their respective communities, and any hearing, meeting or comments provided by third parties could prolong the period during which the applications are under review by the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC.

Waiting Periods

In addition to the Federal Reserve Board, the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (which we refer to as the DOJ) conducts a concurrent competitive review of the merger to analyze the merger s competitive effects and determine whether the merger would result in a violation of the antitrust laws. Transactions approved under section 3 of the BHC Act or the Bank Merger Act generally may not be completed until 30 days after the approval of the applicable federal agency is received, during which time the DOJ may challenge the transaction on antitrust grounds. With the approval of the applicable federal agency and the concurrence of the DOJ, the waiting period may be reduced to no less than 15 days. The commencement of an antitrust action would stay the effectiveness of such an approval unless a court specifically ordered otherwise. In reviewing the merger, the DOJ could analyze the merger s effect on competition differently than the Federal Reserve Board or the OCC, and thus it is possible that the DOJ could reach a different conclusion than the Federal Reserve Board or the OCC regarding the merger s effects on competition. A determination by the DOJ not to object to the merger may not prevent the filing of antitrust actions by private persons or state attorneys general.

There can be no assurance if and when DOJ clearance will be obtained, or as to the conditions or limitations that such DOJ approval may contain or impose.

Additional Regulatory Approvals and Notices

Notifications and/or applications requesting approval may be submitted to various other federal and state regulatory authorities and self-regulatory organizations, including certain state insurance departments.

Huntington and FirstMerit believe that the merger does not raise substantial antitrust or other significant regulatory concerns and that we will be able to obtain all requisite regulatory approvals. However, neither Huntington nor FirstMerit can assure you that all of the regulatory approvals described above will be obtained and, if obtained, we cannot assure you as to the timing of any such approvals, our ability to obtain the approvals on satisfactory terms or the absence of any litigation challenging such approvals. In addition, there can be no assurance that such approvals will not impose conditions or requirements that, individually or in the aggregate, would or could reasonably be expected to have a material adverse effect on the financial condition, results of operations, assets or business of Huntington following completion of the merger. There can likewise be no assurances that U.S. federal or state regulatory authorities will not attempt to challenge the merger, or, if such a challenge is made, as to the result of such challenge.

Neither Huntington nor FirstMerit is aware of any material governmental approvals or actions that are required for completion of the merger other than those described above. It is presently contemplated that if any such additional governmental approvals or actions are required, those approvals or actions will be sought. There can be no assurance, however, that any additional approvals or actions will be obtained.

FirstMerit and the individual members of the FirstMerit board of directors, Huntington, and Merger Sub have been named as defendants in five substantially similar putative derivative and class action lawsuits filed by alleged shareholders of FirstMerit in the Court of Common Pleas, Summit County, Ohio and the United States District Court for the Northern District of Ohio: Murray v. Huntington Bancshares Inc., et al., Case No. CV-2016-02-0917 (Ohio Comm. Pl. filed Feb. 11, 2016); The Robinson Family Trust v. Greig, et al., Case No. CV-2016-02-0981 (Ohio Comm. Pl. filed Feb. 17, 2016); Wojno v. FirstMerit Corporation et al., No. 16-cv-00461 (N.D. Ohio filed Feb. 26, 2016); Wilkinson v. FirstMerit Corp. et al., No. 16-cv-00723 (N.D. Ohio filed March 23, 2016); and Hafner v. Greig et al., No. 16-cv-00762 (N.D. Ohio filed March 28, 2016). Prior to filing a lawsuit, the plaintiff in Wilkinson v. FirstMerit Corp. et al., No. 16-cv-00723 (N.D. Ohio filed March 23, 2016) sent a stockholder demand to the FirstMerit board of directors dated February 29, 2016. The five actions allege, among other things, that the FirstMerit directors breached their fiduciary duties by entering into the merger agreement without regard to the fairness of its terms to FirstMerit common shareholders and that Huntington and Merger Sub aided and abetted those alleged fiduciary breaches. Plaintiffs claim, among other things, that FirstMerit conducted an inadequate sale process, agreed to the proposed transaction on inadequate terms, and that the transaction would provide unique financial and other benefits to the FirstMerit board of directors and management. Several of the actions also assert disclosure-related claims under the federal securities laws. The actions seek a variety of equitable and injunctive relief including, among other things, enjoining the consummation of the merger, directing the defendants to exercise their fiduciary duties to obtain a transaction that is in the best interests of FirstMerit and its shareholders, directing the defendants to account to the plaintiffs and the purported class for their damages, and awarding plaintiffs costs and attorneys' fees. The defendants believe that the claims in these lawsuits are wholly without merit and intend to defend them vigorously. Other potential plaintiffs may file additional lawsuits challenging the proposed transaction.

The outcome of the pending and any additional future litigation is uncertain. If any case is not resolved, the lawsuit(s) could prevent or delay completion of the merger and result in substantial costs to Huntington and FirstMerit, including any costs associated with the indemnification of directors and officers. One of the conditions to the closing of the merger is that no order, injunction, or decree issued by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing the consummation of the merger or the bank merger shall be in effect. As such, if plaintiffs are successful in obtaining an injunction prohibiting the completion of the merger or the bank merger on the agreed-upon terms, then such injunction may prevent the merger from being completed, or from being completed within the expected timeframe. The defense or settlement of any lawsuit or claim that remains unresolved at the time the merger is completed may adversely affect Huntington's business, financial condition, results of operations, and cash flows.

THE MERGER AGREEMENT

The following describes certain aspects of the merger, including certain material provisions of the merger agreement. The following description of the merger agreement is subject to, and qualified in its entirety by reference to, the merger agreement, which is attached to this joint proxy statement/prospectus as Annex A and is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. We urge you to read the merger agreement carefully and in its entirety, as it is the legal document governing the merger.

Explanatory Note Regarding the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement and this summary of terms are included to provide you with information regarding the terms of the merger agreement. Factual disclosures about Huntington and FirstMerit contained in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or in the public reports of Huntington and FirstMerit filed with the SEC may supplement, update or modify the factual disclosures about Huntington and FirstMerit contained in the merger agreement. The merger agreement contains representations and warranties by Huntington, on the one hand, and by FirstMerit, on the other hand. The representations, warranties and covenants made in the merger agreement by Huntington and FirstMerit were qualified and subject to important limitations agreed to by Huntington and FirstMerit in connection with negotiating the terms of the merger agreement. In particular, in your review of the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement and described in this summary, it is important to bear in mind that the representations and warranties were negotiated with the principal purpose of establishing circumstances in which a party to the merger agreement may have the right not to consummate the merger if the representations and warranties of the other party prove to be untrue due to a change in circumstance or otherwise, and allocating risk between the parties to the merger agreement, rather than establishing matters as facts. The representations and warranties also may be subject to a contractual standard of materiality different from that generally applicable to shareholders and reports and documents filed with the SEC and some were qualified by the matters contained in the confidential disclosure schedules that Huntington and FirstMerit each delivered in connection with the merger agreement and certain documents filed with the SEC. Moreover, information concerning the subject matter of the representations and warranties, which do not purport to be accurate as of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, may have changed since the date of the merger agreement.

For the foregoing reasons, the representations and warranties or any descriptions of those provisions should not be read alone or relied upon as characterizations of the actual state of facts or condition of Huntington or FirstMerit or any of their respective subsidiaries or affiliates. Instead, such provisions or descriptions should be read only in conjunction with the other information provided elsewhere in this document or incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Please see Where You Can Find More Information. Huntington and FirstMerit will provide additional disclosures in their public reports to the extent they are aware of the existence of any material facts that are required to be disclosed under federal securities laws and that might otherwise contradict the terms and information contained in the merger agreement and will update such disclosure as required by federal securities laws.

Structure of the Merger

Each of Huntington's and FirstMerit's respective boards of directors has approved the merger agreement. The merger agreement provides for the merger of Merger Sub with and into FirstMerit, with FirstMerit remaining as the surviving entity and becoming a wholly owned subsidiary of Huntington. Such surviving entity will, as soon as reasonably practicable following the merger and as part of a single integrated transaction, merge with and into Huntington in a second step merger. Immediately following the completion of the second step merger or at such later time as Huntington may determine in its sole discretion, FirstMerit Bank, National Association, a national bank and a wholly-owned subsidiary of FirstMerit, will merge with and into The Huntington National Bank, a national bank and a wholly-owned subsidiary of Huntington, with The Huntington National Bank continuing as the surviving entity.

Before the completion of the merger, Huntington may change the method of effecting the combination of Huntington and FirstMerit if and to the extent requested by Huntington. However, no such change may (1) alter or change the amount or kind of the merger consideration, (ii) adversely affect the tax treatment of the mergers with respect to shareholders of FirstMerit or (iii) be reasonably likely to cause the closing of the transaction to be materially delayed or the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals to be prevented or materially delayed. The merger agreement further provides that if either FirstMerit fails to obtain the required vote of its shareholders to adopt the merger agreement, or Huntington fails to obtain the required vote of its stockholders to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock, each of the parties will in good faith use its reasonable best efforts to negotiate a restructuring of the transaction (provided that neither party will have any obligation to alter or change any material term of the merger agreement, including the amount or kind of the merger consideration, in a manner adverse to such party or its shareholders or adversely affect the tax treatment of the mergers with respect to shareholders of FirstMerit) and/or resubmit the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby (or as restructured) to its shareholders for approval or adoption.

Merger Consideration

Each share of FirstMerit common stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the completion of the merger will be converted into the right to receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock and $5.00 in cash, except for specified shares of FirstMerit common stock held by FirstMerit or Huntington (with certain limited exceptions) and shares of FirstMerit common stock that are held by shareholders who properly exercise their dissenters' rights.

If, after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the effective time, the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock or Huntington common stock is increased, decreased, changed into, or exchanged for a different number or kind of shares or securities as a result of a reorganization, recapitalization, reclassification, stock dividend, stock split, reverse stock split, or other similar change in capitalization, or there is any extraordinary dividend or distribution, an appropriate and proportionate adjustment will be made to the merger consideration to provide holders of FirstMerit common stock the same economic effect as contemplated by the merger agreement.

Fractional Shares

Huntington will not issue any fractional shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. Instead, a shareholder of FirstMerit common stock who otherwise would have received a fraction of a share of Huntington common stock will receive an amount in cash (rounded to the nearest cent) determined by multiplying (i) the average of the closing prices of Huntington common stock on the NASDAQ for the five full trading days ending on the day preceding the closing date by (ii) the fraction of a share (rounded to the nearest thousandth when expressed in decimal form) of Huntington common stock that such holder would otherwise have been entitled to receive.

Governing Documents; Directors and Officers; Governance Matters

At the effective time of the merger, Merger Sub's articles of incorporation and code of regulations in effect immediately prior to the effective time of the merger will be the articles of incorporation and code of regulations of the surviving corporation after completion of the merger, until thereafter amended in accordance with applicable law.

Huntington will take all appropriate action so that, as of the effective time, the number of directors constituting the Huntington board of directors will be increased by four and four current directors of FirstMerit (which shall not include Mr. Greig) to be selected by Huntington in consultation with FirstMerit, which directors we refer to as the FirstMerit directors, will be appointed as directors of Huntington. Such FirstMerit directors will also be given the opportunity to serve on at least one committee of the Huntington board of directors for so long as each such FirstMerit director is on the Huntington board of directors, with at least one FirstMerit director serving on the Community Development Committee of the Huntington board of directors. Unless any FirstMerit director has died, resigned or been removed from the Huntington board of directors, for at least the first two Huntington annual meetings after the closing date, the Huntington board of directors shall (i) nominate the FirstMerit directors for reelection to the Huntington board of directors, (ii) recommend to the Huntington stockholders the election of the FirstMerit directors and (iii) solicit proxies for the FirstMerit directors to the same extent as it does for any of its other nominees to the Huntington board of directors.

FirstMerit Options. At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is less than the per share cash equivalent consideration will be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each net share covered by the FirstMerit option, less applicable tax withholdings.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit option that is outstanding and has a per share exercise price that is greater than or equal to the per share cash equivalent consideration will be assumed and converted into an option to purchase, on the same terms and conditions as were applicable to such FirstMerit option prior to the effective time, the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded down to the nearest whole share) determined by multiplying the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio, at an exercise price per share (rounded up to the nearest whole cent) determined by dividing the per share exercise price of the FirstMerit option by the equity award exchange ratio.

FirstMerit Restricted Stock Awards and FirstMerit RSU Awards. At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will fully vest and be cancelled and converted into the right to receive the merger consideration in respect of each share of FirstMerit common stock subject to each such award immediately prior to the effective time, less applicable tax withholdings. The performance conditions applicable to a FirstMerit RSU award granted prior to January 25, 2016 will be deemed satisfied at maximum performance at the effective time.

At the effective time, each FirstMerit restricted stock award and FirstMerit RSU award granted on or following January 25, 2016 that is outstanding will be assumed and converted into a restricted stock or restricted stock unit award relating to shares of Huntington common stock, with the same terms and conditions as were applicable under such award prior to the effective time, and relating to the number of shares of Huntington common stock (rounded to the nearest whole share), determined by multiplying (i) the number of shares of FirstMerit common stock subject to such award immediately prior to the effective time by (ii) the equity award exchange ratio.

Treatment of FirstMerit Preferred Stock and Depositary Shares

Each share of FirstMerit preferred stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the second step merger will be automatically converted into the right to receive one share of Huntington preferred stock. Pursuant to the merger agreement, the Huntington preferred stock must have rights, preferences, privileges, and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions that, taken as a whole, are not materially less favorable than the rights, preferences, privileges, and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions equivalent to the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock, taken as a whole immediately prior to the effective time of the second step merger. But for the par value, the dividend payment dates, the dividend record dates, and the optional redemption date of the securities, the Huntington preferred stock will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock. Each outstanding share of FirstMerit preferred stock is presently represented by depositary shares that are listed on the NYSE under the symbol FMER-A and represent a 1/40th interest in a share of FirstMerit preferred stock. Upon completion of the second step merger, Huntington will assume the obligations of FirstMerit under the deposit agreement. Huntington will instruct the depositary to treat the shares of Huntington preferred stock received by it upon conversion of the shares of FirstMerit preferred stock as newly deposited securities under the deposit agreement. The depositary shares will thereafter represent shares of Huntington preferred stock. Huntington intends to list such Huntington depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN following the completion of the second step merger. Following the completion of the second step merger, Huntington will have 100,000 shares of Huntington preferred stock and 4,000,000 Huntington depositary shares issued and outstanding.

Closing and Effective Time of the Merger

The merger will be completed only if all conditions to the merger discussed in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and set forth in the merger agreement are either satisfied or waived. Please see Conditions to Complete the Merger.

The merger will become effective as of the date and time set forth in the certificate of merger to be filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Ohio. The closing of the merger will occur at 10:00 a.m., New York City time on a date no later than three business days after the satisfaction or waiver of the last to occur of the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, unless another date, time or place is agreed to in writing by the parties. It currently is anticipated that the completion of the merger will occur in the third quarter of 2016 subject to the receipt of regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions, but neither FirstMerit nor Huntington can guarantee when or if the merger will be completed.

Closing and Effective Time of the Second Step Merger

On the date of the completion of the merger and as soon as practicable following the effective time of the merger, Huntington will cause the surviving entity in the merger to be merged with and into Huntington, with Huntington surviving the second step merger. To effect the second step merger, Huntington will cause to be filed articles of merger with the Department of Assessment and Taxation of the State of Maryland in accordance with the MGCL and a certificate of merger with the Secretary of State of the State of Ohio in accordance with the OGCL. The second step merger will become effective as of the date and time set forth in the articles of merger to be filed with the Department of Assessment and Taxation of the State of Maryland.

Conversion of Shares; Exchange of Certificates

The conversion of FirstMerit common stock into the right to receive the merger consideration will occur automatically at the effective time of the merger. After completion of the merger, the exchange agent will exchange certificates representing shares of FirstMerit common stock for the merger consideration to be received pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement.

Letter of Transmittal

As promptly as practicable after the completion of the merger, and in any event within 10 days thereafter, the exchange agent will mail to each holder of record of FirstMerit common stock immediately prior to the effective time of the merger a letter of transmittal and instructions on how to surrender certificates representing shares of FirstMerit common stock immediately prior to the effective time in exchange for the merger consideration the holder is entitled to receive under the merger agreement as well as any dividends or other distributions which, after the surrender of a certificate representing shares of FirstMerit common stock (if certificated), have become payable with respect to the whole shares of Huntington common stock that the shares of FirstMerit common stock represented by such certificate have been converted into the right to receive under the merger agreement, in each case without interest.

If a certificate for FirstMerit common stock has been lost, stolen, or destroyed, the exchange agent will issue the merger consideration upon receipt of (1) an affidavit of that fact by the claimant and (2) if required by Huntington, the posting of a bond in an amount as Huntington may determine is reasonably necessary as indemnity against any claim that may be made against it with respect to such certificate.

After completion of the merger, there will be no further transfers on the stock transfer books of FirstMerit of shares of FirstMerit common stock that were issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time.

Withholding

Huntington will be entitled to deduct and withhold, or cause the exchange agent to deduct and withhold, from any cash portion of the merger consideration, cash in lieu of fractional shares, cash dividends or distributions payable, or any other cash amounts payable under the merger agreement to any holder of FirstMerit common stock or FirstMerit equity awards the amounts it is required to deduct and withhold under the Code or any provision of state, local, or foreign tax law. If any such amounts are withheld and paid over to the appropriate governmental authority, such amounts will be treated for all purposes of the merger agreement as having been paid to the holder of FirstMerit common stock from whom they were withheld.

Dividends and Other Distributions

No dividends or other distributions declared with respect to Huntington common stock will be paid to the holder of any unsurrendered certificates of FirstMerit common stock until the holder surrenders such certificate in accordance with the merger agreement. After the surrender of a certificate in accordance with the merger agreement, the record holder thereof will be entitled to receive any such dividends or other distributions, without any interest, which had previously become payable with respect to the whole shares of Huntington common stock that the shares of FirstMerit common stock represented by such certificate have been converted into the right to receive under the merger agreement.

Representations and Warranties

The merger agreement contains customary representations and warranties of each of FirstMerit and Huntington relating to their respective businesses. The representations and warranties in the merger agreement do not survive the effective time of the merger.

The merger agreement contains representations and warranties made by each of FirstMerit and Huntington relating to a number of matters, including the following:

corporate matters, including due organization, qualification and corporate power of itself and its subsidiaries;

capitalization;

authority relative to execution and delivery of the merger agreement and the absence of conflicts with, or violations of, organizational documents, laws or other obligations as a result of the merger;

required governmental and other regulatory filings and other consents and approvals in connection with the merger;

reports to regulatory authorities;

financial statements, internal controls, books and records, accounting practices and absence of undisclosed liabilities;

broker's fees payable in connection with the merger;

the absence of certain changes or events;

legal proceedings;

tax matters;

compliance with applicable laws;

certain material contracts;

absence of agreements with regulatory authorities;

risk management instruments and transactions;

investment securities;

information security matters;

related party transactions;

inapplicability of state takeover statutes;

absence of action or any fact or circumstance that could reasonably be expected to prevent the mergers, taken together, from qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;

opinion from financial advisor;

the accuracy of information supplied for inclusion in this joint proxy statement/prospectus and other similar documents; and loan portfolio matters.

Huntington also represents and warrants to FirstMerit that it has, or will have available to it prior to the closing date, all funds necessary to satisfy its obligations under the merger agreement.

In addition, certain representations and warranties relating to a number of matters are made only by FirstMerit, including:

employee and employee benefit plan matters;

environmental matters;

real property;

intellectual property;

absence of any investment adviser subsidiaries; and insurance matters.

Certain representations and warranties of FirstMerit and Huntington are qualified as to knowledge, materiality or material adverse effect.

For purposes of the merger agreement, a material adverse effect, when used in reference to FirstMerit, Huntington, or the surviving company, means a material adverse effect on (i) the business, properties, assets, liabilities, results of operations or financial condition of such party and its subsidiaries taken as a whole (provided, that, with respect to this clause (i), material adverse effect shall not be deemed to include the impact of (A) changes, after the date of the merger agreement, in GAAP or applicable regulatory accounting requirements, (B) changes, after the date of the merger agreement, in laws, rules, or regulations of general applicability to companies in the industries in which such party and its subsidiaries operate, or interpretations thereof by courts or governmental entities, (C) changes, after the date of the merger agreement, in global, national, or regional political conditions (including the outbreak of war or acts of terrorism) or in economic or market (including equity, credit and debt markets, as well as changes in interest rates) conditions affecting the financial services industry generally and not specifically relating to such party or its subsidiaries, (D) failure, in and of itself, to meet earnings projections or internal financial forecasts, but not including the underlying causes thereof, (E) disclosure or consummation of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement (including any effect on a party's relationships with its customers or employees) or actions expressly required by the merger agreement in contemplation of the transactions contemplated thereby, (F) actions or omissions taken pursuant to the written consent of Huntington, in the case of FirstMerit, or FirstMerit, in the case of Huntington; except, with respect to subclauses (A), (B), or (C), to the extent that the effects of such change are materially disproportionately adverse to the business, properties, assets, liabilities, results of operations, or financial condition of such party and its subsidiaries, taken as a whole, as compared to other companies in the industry in which such party and its subsidiaries operate) or (ii) the ability of such party to timely consummate the transactions contemplated thereby.

Covenants and Agreements

Conduct of Business Prior to the Completion of the Merger

FirstMerit has agreed that, prior to the effective time of the merger (or earlier termination of the merger agreement), subject to specified exceptions, it will, and will cause each of its subsidiaries to (a) conduct its business in the ordinary course in all material respects and (b) use reasonable best efforts to maintain and preserve intact its business organization and advantageous business relationships. In addition, each of FirstMerit and Huntington has agreed that, during the same period, subject to specified exceptions, it will, and will cause each of its subsidiaries to, take no action that would reasonably be likely to adversely affect or delay the ability of either of FirstMerit or Huntington to obtain any necessary approvals of any governmental entity or regulatory agency required for the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, or to perform its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement, or to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby on a timely basis.

Additionally, FirstMerit and Huntington have undertaken further covenants. Prior to the effective time of the merger (or earlier termination of the merger agreement), subject to specified exceptions, FirstMerit may not, and may not permit any of its subsidiaries to, without prior written consent of Huntington (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), undertake the following:

other than in the ordinary course of business, incur any indebtedness for borrowed money (other than indebtedness of FirstMerit or any of its wholly-owned subsidiaries to FirstMerit or any of its subsidiaries), assume, guarantee, endorse, or otherwise as an accommodation become responsible for the obligations of any other person (other than a subsidiary of FirstMerit);

adjust, split, combine, or reclassify any capital stock;

make, declare, or pay any dividend, or make any other distribution on, or directly or indirectly redeem, purchase, or otherwise acquire, any shares of its capital stock or any securities or obligations convertible (whether currently convertible or convertible only after the passage of time or the occurrence of certain events) into, or exchangeable for, any shares of its capital stock (except (A) regular quarterly cash dividends by FirstMerit at a rate not in excess of $0.17 per share of FirstMerit common stock (except that if Huntington increases the rate of its regular quarterly dividends on Huntington Common Stock paid by it during any fiscal quarter after the date of the merger agreement relative to that paid by it during the immediately preceding fiscal quarter, FirstMerit will be permitted to increase the rate of dividends on FirstMerit Common Stock paid by it during the same fiscal quarter by the same proportion, or if not possible in the same quarter, in the next fiscal quarter with an appropriate catch-up adjustment to account for the amounts that would have been paid in the prior quarter), (B) quarterly dividends payable on FirstMerit preferred stock, (C) dividends paid by any of the subsidiaries of FirstMerit to FirstMerit or any of its wholly-owned subsidiaries, (D) the acceptance of shares of FirstMerit common stock as payment for the exercise price of FirstMerit stock options or for withholding taxes incurred in connection with the exercise of FirstMerit stock options or the vesting or settlement of FirstMerit equity awards and dividend equivalents thereon, if any, in each case, in accordance with past practice and the terms of the applicable award agreements, or (E) required dividends on common stock of any subsidiary of FirstMerit;

grant any stock options, stock appreciation rights, performance shares, restricted stock units, restricted shares, or other equity-based awards or interests, or grant any individual, corporation, or other entity any right to acquire any shares of its capital stock; issue, sell, or otherwise permit to become outstanding any additional shares of capital stock or securities convertible or exchangeable into, or exercisable for, any shares of its capital stock or any options, warrants, or other rights of any kind to acquire any shares of capital stock, except for the issuance of shares upon the exercise of FirstMerit stock options or the vesting or settlement of FirstMerit equity awards (and dividend equivalents thereon, if any) outstanding as of the date of the merger agreement or granted on or after such date to the extent permitted under the merger agreement;

sell, transfer, mortgage, encumber, or otherwise dispose of any of its material properties or assets to any individual, corporation, or other entity other than a wholly-owned subsidiary, or cancel, release, or assign any material indebtedness to any such person or any claims held by any person, in each case other than in the ordinary course of business;

except for transactions in the ordinary course of business (including by way of foreclosure or acquisitions of control in a fiduciary or similar capacity or in satisfaction of debts previously contracted in good faith), make any investment that would be material to FirstMerit and its subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, either by purchase of stock or securities, contributions to capital, property transfers, or purchase of any property or assets of any other individual, corporation, or other entity, other than in a wholly-owned subsidiary of FirstMerit;

terminate, materially amend, or waive any material provision of certain material FirstMerit contracts, or make any material change in any instrument or agreement governing the terms of any of its securities, other than normal renewals in the ordinary course of business, or enter into any contract that would constitute a material FirstMerit contract if it were in effect on the date of the merger agreement;

except as required under applicable law or the terms of any FirstMerit benefit plan existing on the date of the merger agreement, (i) enter into, adopt or terminate any FirstMerit benefit plan, (ii) amend (whether in writing or through the interpretation thereof) any FirstMerit benefit plan, other than amendments in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice that do not materially increase the cost or expense of maintaining such plan, program policy or arrangement, (iii) increase the compensation payable to any current or former employee, officer, director, independent contractor or consultant, except for annual base salary or wage merit increases for employees in the ordinary course of business, consistent with past practice, that do not exceed, 2.3% of the aggregate cost of all employee annual base salaries and wages in effect as of the date of the merger agreement, to be effective May 1, 2016, (iv) pay or award, or commit to pay or award, any bonuses or incentive compensation, (v) accelerate the vesting of any equity-based awards or other compensation, (vi) enter into any collective bargaining agreement or similar agreement or arrangement, (vii) fund any rabbi trust or similar arrangement, (viii) terminate the employment or services of any officer, employee, independent contractor or consultant whose annual base salary or base wage is greater than $150,000, other than for cause, or (ix) hire any officer, employee, independent contractor or consultant whose annual base salary or base wage is greater than $150,000;

except for debt workouts in the ordinary course of business, settle any material claim, suit, action, or proceeding in an amount and for consideration in excess of $1 million individually or $2 million in the aggregate (net of any insurance proceeds or indemnity, contribution or similar payments received by FirstMerit or any of its subsidiaries in respect thereof), or would impose any material restriction on the business of it or its subsidiaries or Huntington;

take any action or knowingly fail to take any action where such action or failure to act could reasonably be expected to prevent the mergers, taken together, from qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;

amend the FirstMerit organizational documents or comparable governing documents of its significant subsidiaries (as defined in Rule 1-02 of Regulation S-X promulgated under the Exchange Act);

merge or consolidate itself or any of its significant subsidiaries with any other person, or restructure, reorganize, or completely or partially liquidate or dissolve it or any of its significant subsidiaries; materially restructure or materially change its investment securities or derivatives portfolio or its interest rate exposure, through purchases, sales, or otherwise, or the manner in which the portfolio is classified or reported, except as may be required by GAAP or by applicable laws, regulations, guidelines or policies imposed or requested by any governmental entity;

knowingly take any action that is intended to or would reasonably be likely to adversely affect or materially delay the ability of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries to obtain any necessary approvals of any governmental entity required for the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or the bank merger agreement or the required adoption of the merger agreement by the FirstMerit common shareholders or to perform its except for communications made in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, make any written communications to the employees of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries with respect to employment, compensation or benefits matters addressed in the merger agreement or related, directly or indirectly, to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; or agree to take, make any commitment to take, or adopt any resolutions of its board of directors or similar governing body in support of, any of the actions prohibited by the merger agreement.

Prior to the effective time of the merger (or earlier termination of the merger agreement), subject to specified exceptions, Huntington may not, and Huntington may not permit any of its subsidiaries to, without prior written consent of FirstMerit (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld), undertake the following:

amend its organizational documents in a manner that would materially and adversely affect FirstMerit common shareholders or adversely affect FirstMerit common shareholders relative to other holders of Huntington common stock;

adjust, split, combine, or reclassify any capital stock of Huntington;

make, declare, or pay any extraordinary dividend on any capital stock of Huntington;

incur any indebtedness for borrowed money (other than indebtedness of Huntington or any of its wholly-owned subsidiaries to Huntington or any of its subsidiaries) that would reasonably be expected to prevent Huntington or its subsidiaries from assuming FirstMerit's or its subsidiaries' outstanding indebtedness;

sell, transfer, mortgage, encumber or otherwise dispose of any of its material properties or assets to any individual, corporation or other entity other than a wholly owned subsidiary, in each case other than in the ordinary course of business or in a transaction that, together with such other transactions, is not reasonably likely to cause the closing to be materially delayed or the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals to be prevented or materially delayed;

make any material investment either by purchase of stock or securities, contributions to capital, property transfers, or purchase of any property or assets of any other individual, corporation or other entity, other than in a wholly owned subsidiary of Huntington, except for transactions in the ordinary course of business or in a transaction that, together with such other transactions, is not reasonably likely to cause the closing to be materially delayed or the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals to be prevented or materially delayed;

merge or consolidate itself or any of its significant subsidiaries (as defined in the merger agreement) with any other person where it or its significant subsidiary, as applicable, is not the surviving person, or if the merger or consolidation is reasonably likely to cause the closing to be materially delayed or the receipt of the requisite regulatory approvals to be prevented or materially delayed, or restructure, reorganize or completely or partially liquidate or dissolve it or any of its significant subsidiaries;

take any action or knowingly fail to take any action where such action or failure to act could reasonably be expected to prevent the mergers, taken together, from qualifying as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code;

knowingly take any action that is intended to or would reasonably be likely to adversely affect or materially delay the ability of Huntington or its subsidiaries to obtain any necessary approvals of any governmental entity required for the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement or the bank merger agreement or the approval from Huntington stockholders required to issue shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger or to perform its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement or to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby;

except for communications made in accordance with the terms of the merger agreement, make any written communications to the employees of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries with respect to employment, compensation or benefits matters addressed in the merger agreement or related, directly or indirectly, to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement; or agree to take, make any commitment to take, or adopt any resolutions of its board of directors or similar governing body in support of, any of the actions prohibited by the merger agreement.

Regulatory Matters

Huntington and FirstMerit have agreed to cooperate and use their respective reasonable best efforts to promptly prepare and file all necessary documentation, to effect all applications, notices, petitions, and filings, to obtain as promptly as practicable all permits, consents, approvals, and authorizations of all third parties and governmental entities that are necessary or advisable to consummate the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement and to comply with the terms and conditions of all such permits, consents, approvals, and authorizations of all such third parties and governmental entities. Huntington and FirstMerit have each agreed to use, and to cause their respective applicable subsidiaries to use, reasonable best efforts obtain each requisite regulatory approval and any approvals required for the bank merger as promptly as reasonably practicable, and to cooperate with each other in connection therewith.

Each of Huntington and FirstMerit will, and will cause its subsidiaries to, use their reasonable best efforts, in each case as promptly as practicable, (a) to take, or cause to be taken, all actions necessary, proper or advisable to comply promptly with all legal requirements that may be imposed on such party or its subsidiaries with respect to the merger and the bank merger and, subject to the conditions set forth in the merger agreement, to consummate the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, and (b) to obtain (and to cooperate with the other party to obtain) any material consent, authorization, order or approval of, or any exemption by, any governmental entity and any other third party that is required to be obtained by Huntington or FirstMerit or any of their respective subsidiaries in connection with the merger, the bank merger and the other transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Huntington and FirstMerit have also agreed to furnish each other with all information reasonably necessary or advisable in connection with any statement, filing, notice or application to any governmental entity in connection with the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, as well as to promptly keep each other apprised of the status of matters related to the completion of the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement.

Employee Benefit Matters

Huntington has agreed to provide each FirstMerit continuing employee, for so long as they are employed following the effective time, with (i) for the period commencing at the effective time and ending on December 31, 2016, base salary or wages, as applicable, and target incentive opportunities (including equity-based awards) that are no less than those provided by FirstMerit to the continuing employee immediately prior to the effective time, (ii) during the period commencing on January 1, 2017 and ending on the first anniversary of the effective time, base salary or wages, as applicable, and target incentive opportunities (including equity-based awards) that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to those provided to similarly situated employees of Huntington and its subsidiaries, and (iii) during the period commencing at the effective time and ending on the first anniversary thereof, employee benefits that are substantially comparable in the aggregate to those provided to similarly situated employees of Huntington and its subsidiaries (excluding any frozen benefit plans or benefit plans that exclusively provide benefits to grandfathered employees of Huntington and its subsidiaries); provided that until such time as Huntington fully integrates the continuing employees into its plans, participation in the FirstMerit benefit plans will be deemed to satisfy each of the foregoing standards. In addition, during the period commencing at the effective time and ending on the first anniversary thereof, Huntington will provide severance to each continuing employee pursuant to the terms and conditions of the severance plan or policy of FirstMerit and its subsidiaries applicable to each such continuing employee as of January 25, 2016; provided that such severance shall be subject to the execution and non-revocation of a customary release of claims and may be paid in a lump sum.

Following the effective time, subject to certain customary exclusions, Huntington will use commercially reasonable efforts to waive pre-existing conditions, exclusions, and waiting periods with respect to participation and coverage requirements under the Huntington plans in which FirstMerit continuing employees are eligible to participate after the effective time (new plans), provide credit for previously incurred eligible expenses in satisfying co-payments, coinsurance or deductibles under any new plans that provide health care benefits, and recognize service, subject to specified exceptions, with FirstMerit for purposes of any new plan to the same extent that such service was taken into account under the analogous FirstMerit benefit plan. Huntington agrees to assume and honor all FirstMerit benefit plans in accordance with their terms as of the date of the merger agreement.

Table of Contents

Huntington may request that FirstMerit terminate its 401(k) plan effective immediately prior to the effective time, in which case, FirstMerit continuing employees will be eligible to participate in and make rollover contributions to the Huntington 401(k) plan.

Director and Officer Indemnification and Insurance

The merger agreement provides that following completion of the merger, Huntington and the surviving corporation will indemnify and hold harmless, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, all present and former directors, officers, and employees of FirstMerit and its subsidiaries or fiduciaries of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries under any FirstMerit benefit plan (in their capacity as such) against any costs or liabilities incurred in connection with any threatened or actual claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation, whether arising before or after the effective time of the merger, arising in whole or in part out of the fact that such person is or was a director, officer, employee or fiduciary of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries or under any FirstMerit benefit plan or matters existing or occurring at or prior to the effective time of the merger (including in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby), and will also advance expenses to such persons to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, provided that such person provides an undertaking to repay such advances if it is ultimately determined that such person is not entitled to indemnification.

The merger agreement requires Huntington to maintain, for a period of six years after completion of the merger, FirstMerit's or its subsidiaries' and any similar policies covering fiduciaries under any FirstMerit benefit plan, existing directors' and officers' liability insurance policy, or policies with a substantially comparable insurer of at least the same coverage and amounts and containing terms and conditions that are no less advantageous to the insured, with respect to claims against present and former officers and directors of FirstMerit and its subsidiaries arising from facts or events that occurred at or prior to the completion of the merger. However, Huntington is not required to spend annually more than 300% of the current annual premium paid as of the date of the merger agreement by FirstMerit for such insurance (which we refer to as the "premium cap"), and if such premiums for such insurance would at any time exceed that amount, then Huntington will maintain policies of insurance which, in its good faith determination, provide the maximum coverage available at an annual premium equal to the premium cap. In lieu of the foregoing, FirstMerit, in consultation with Huntington but only upon the consent of Huntington, may (and, at Huntington's request, will use its reasonable best efforts to) obtain at or prior to the effective time of the merger a six-year "tail" policy under FirstMerit's existing directors' and officers' insurance policy and similar policy covering fiduciaries under the FirstMerit benefit plans providing equivalent coverage to that described in the preceding sentence if such a policy can be obtained for an amount that, in the aggregate, does not exceed the premium cap. If such a "tail" policy is purchased, Huntington must maintain the policy in full force and effect and not cancel such policy.

Dividends

Huntington and FirstMerit must coordinate with the other for the declaration of any dividends in respect of Huntington common stock and FirstMerit common stock and the record dates and payment dates relating thereto to ensure that FirstMerit common shareholders do not fail to receive a dividend (or receive two dividends) in any one quarter. Starting with the second quarter of 2016, (i) the FirstMerit board of directors will cause its regular quarterly dividend record dates and payments dates for FirstMerit common stock to be similar to the regular quarterly dividend record dates and payment dates for Huntington common stock, and (ii) the Huntington board of directors will continue to pay dividends on Huntington common stock on substantially the same record and payment date schedules as have been utilized in the past until the effective time of the merger or the earlier termination of the merger agreement.

Regional Advisory Boards; Certain Community Commitments

On the closing date of the merger, Huntington will invite all current members of the FirstMerit board of directors (other than the FirstMerit directors who join the Huntington board of directors) to serve as members of

Huntington's existing Greater Akron-Canton Advisory Board, and will appoint to such advisory board all individuals who accept such invitation. The members of such advisory board who are not employees of Huntington or its subsidiaries or members of the Huntington board of directors will serve on the advisory board for at least three years or until their earlier death or resignation, and will receive compensation not less than the compensation received by the other then-current members of such advisory board.

Prior to the closing date of the merger, Huntington will also establish a new Huntington charitable foundation, dedicated to grant making, charitable contributions and support in the city of Akron, Ohio. Over a ten year period following the closing date of the merger, Huntington will ratably contribute to the foundation an amount in cash equal to $20 million to support, in a manner consistent with Huntington's giving charitable guidelines, community development and reinvestment, civic and charitable activities in the greater Akron area. The Huntington board of directors will designate three initial members of the board of trustees of the foundation, including two former FirstMerit directors domiciled in the greater Akron area who become Huntington directors at the closing of the merger, and one other current Huntington director. Huntington has also agreed to contribute $5 million over a ten year period following the date of the closing of the merger to The Huntington Foundation dedicated to supporting community development and reinvestment, civic and charitable activities in the greater Canton, Ohio and Flint, Michigan areas.

Pursuant to the terms of the merger agreement, Huntington and FirstMerit have also agreed to plan for the establishment of an operations/call center based in Akron, Ohio or a community with a Joint Economic Development Agreement with the city of Akron, Ohio. Further, following the effective time of the merger, Huntington will use its reasonable best efforts to ensure that the operations/call center is fully operational by no later than the second anniversary of the closing date of the merger and to maintain employment levels in Akron consistent with FirstMerit's employment levels in Akron as of the closing date of the merger by no later than the second anniversary of the closing date of the merger. Huntington will also provide FirstMerit employees who would otherwise be terminated as a result of the merger with priority access to job listings throughout all of Huntington's and FirstMerit's combined areas.

FirstMerit Shareholder Meeting and Recommendation of the FirstMerit Board of Directors

FirstMerit has agreed to hold a meeting of its shareholders for the purpose of voting upon adoption of the merger agreement as soon as reasonably practicable and upon the declaration of effectiveness of the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part. Except in the case of an adverse recommendation change (as defined below), the FirstMerit board of directors has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to obtain from its shareholders the vote required to adopt the merger agreement, including by communicating to its shareholders its recommendation (and including such recommendation in this joint proxy statement/prospectus) that they adopt and approve the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. FirstMerit must engage a proxy solicitor reasonably acceptable to Huntington to assist in the solicitation of proxies from shareholders relating to such required vote. However, if the FirstMerit board of directors, after receiving the advice of its outside counsel and, with respect to financial matters, its financial advisors, determines in good faith that it would more likely than not result in a violation of its fiduciary duties under applicable law to continue to recommend the merger agreement, then it may submit the merger agreement to its shareholders without recommendation or may withhold or withdraw or modify in a manner adverse to Huntington its recommendation to its shareholders (each of the foregoing defined in this joint proxy statement/prospectus as an adverse recommendation change) (although the resolutions approving the merger agreement may not be rescinded or amended) and may communicate the basis for its adverse recommendation change to its shareholders in this joint proxy statement/prospectus or a supplemental amendment thereto, provided that (1) it gives Huntington at least three business days' prior written notice of its intention to take such action and a reasonable description of the event or circumstances giving rise to its determination to take such action (including, in the event such action is taken by the FirstMerit board of directors in response to an acquisition proposal, the latest material terms and conditions, and the identity of the third-party making any such acquisition proposal, or any amendment or modification thereof, or describe in reasonable detail such other event or circumstances); and (2) at the end of such notice period, the FirstMerit board of directors takes into account any amendment or modification to the merger agreement proposed by Huntington and after receiving the advice of its outside counsel and, with respect to financial matters, its financial advisors, determines in good faith that it would nevertheless more likely than not result in a violation of its fiduciary duties under applicable law to continue to recommend the merger agreement. Any material amendment to any acquisition proposal will require a new notice period.

Except in the case of an adverse recommendation change, FirstMerit must adjourn or postpone its shareholder meeting up to two times if there are insufficient shares of FirstMerit common stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business of such meeting, or if on the date of such meeting, FirstMerit has not received proxies representing a sufficient number of shares necessary for adoption of the merger agreement.

Huntington has agreed to hold a meeting of its stockholders for the purpose of voting upon the issuance of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger, as soon as reasonably practicable. The Huntington board of directors has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts to obtain from its stockholders the vote required to approve the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger, including by communicating to its stockholders its recommendation (and including such recommendation in this joint proxy statement/prospectus). Huntington must engage a proxy solicitor reasonably acceptable to FirstMerit to assist in the solicitation of proxies from shareholders relating to such required vote.

Huntington must postpone or adjourn its stockholder meeting up to two times if there are insufficient shares of Huntington common stock represented (either in person or by proxy) to constitute a quorum necessary to conduct the business of such meeting, or if on the date of such meeting, Huntington has not received proxies representing a sufficient number of shares necessary for the approval of the issuance of shares of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger.

Agreement Not to Solicit Other Offers

Under the terms of the merger agreement, FirstMerit will not, and will cause its subsidiaries and its and their officers, directors, agents, advisors, and representatives not to, directly or indirectly, (i) initiate, solicit, knowingly encourage, or knowingly facilitate inquiries or proposals with respect to any acquisition proposal, (ii) engage or participate in any negotiations with any person concerning any acquisition proposal, or (iii) provide any confidential or nonpublic information or data to, or have or participate in any discussions with, any person relating to, any acquisition proposal. For purposes of the merger agreement, an acquisition proposal means, other than the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, any offer or proposal relating to, or any third-party indication of interest in, (i) any acquisition or purchase, direct or indirect, of 25% or more of the consolidated assets of FirstMerit and its subsidiaries, or 25% or more of any class of equity or voting securities of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries whose assets, individually or in the aggregate, constitute more than 25% of the consolidated assets of FirstMerit, (ii) any tender offer or exchange offer that, if consummated, would result in such third-party beneficially owning more than 25% of any class of equity or voting securities of FirstMerit or its subsidiaries whose assets, individually or in the aggregate, constitute more than 25% of the consolidated assets of FirstMerit, or (iii) a merger, consolidation, share exchange or other business combination or reorganization involving FirstMerit or its subsidiaries whose assets, individually or in the aggregate, constitute more than 25% of the consolidated assets of FirstMerit, except in each case, for any sale of whole loans and securitizations in the ordinary course of business and any bona fide internal reorganization.

However, in the event that prior to the adoption of the merger agreement by FirstMerit's shareholders, FirstMerit receives an unsolicited bona fide written acquisition proposal, it may, and may permit its subsidiaries and its and their officers, directors, agents, advisors, and representatives to, furnish or cause to be furnished nonpublic information or data and participate in negotiations or discussions to the extent that its board of directors concludes in good faith (after receiving the advice of its outside counsel, and with respect to financial matters, its financial advisor) that failure to take such actions would be more likely than not to result in a violation of its fiduciary duties under applicable law, provided that, prior to providing any such nonpublic information, FirstMerit provides such information to Huntington and enters into a confidentiality agreement with such third-party on terms no less favorable to it than the confidentiality agreement between Huntington and FirstMerit, and which confidentiality agreement does not provide such person with any exclusive right to negotiate with FirstMerit.

FirstMerit agreed to, and to cause its and its subsidiaries' officers, directors, agents, advisors, and representatives to, immediately cease and cause to be terminated any activities, discussions, or negotiations conducted before the date of the merger agreement with any person other than Huntington with respect to any acquisition proposal. FirstMerit will promptly (within one business day) advise Huntington following receipt of any acquisition proposal or any inquiry which could reasonably be expected to lead to an acquisition proposal, and the substance thereof (including the material terms and conditions of and the identity of the person making such acquisition proposal), and will keep Huntington reasonably apprised of any related developments, discussions, and negotiations on a current basis, including any amendments to or revisions of the terms of such inquiry or acquisition proposal. In addition, FirstMerit has agreed to use its reasonable best efforts, subject to applicable law and the fiduciary duties of the FirstMerit board of directors to enforce any existing confidentiality or standstill agreements to which it or any of its subsidiaries is a party. FirstMerit has also agreed that during the term of the merger agreement, it will not and will cause its subsidiaries and its and their officers, directors, agents, advisors, and representatives to not enter into any binding acquisition agreement, merger agreement or other definitive transaction agreement (other than a confidentiality agreement permitted pursuant to the previous paragraph) relating to any acquisition proposal.

Certain Additional Covenants

The merger agreement also contains additional covenants, including, among others, covenants relating to the filing of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, obtaining required consents, the listing of the shares of Huntington common stock and preferred stock to be issued in the merger, coordination with respect to litigation relating to the merger and further actions required to consummate the merger, advice relating to the occurrence of a material change, access to information, exemption from takeover laws, public announcements with respect to the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement, exemption from liability under Section 16(b) of the Exchange Act, the absence of control over the other party's business and Huntington's or its subsidiaries' assumption of FirstMerit's or its subsidiaries' obligations in respect of its outstanding debt, guarantees, securities, and other agreements to the extent required by the terms of such debt, guarantees, securities, and other agreements.

Conditions to Complete the Merger

Huntington's and FirstMerit's respective obligations to complete the merger are subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the following conditions:

the adoption of the merger agreement by FirstMerit's shareholders and the approval of the issuance of Huntington common stock in connection with the merger by Huntington's stockholders;

the authorization for listing on the NASDAQ, subject to official notice of issuance, of the Huntington common stock to be issued in connection with the merger, and the authorization for listing on the NASDAQ or NYSE, subject to official notice of issuance, of the Huntington preferred stock to be issued pursuant to the merger agreement;

the effectiveness of the registration statement of which this joint proxy statement/prospectus is a part and the absence of any stop order (or proceedings for that purpose initiated or threatened and not withdrawn);

the absence of any order, injunction, or decree by any court or agency of competent jurisdiction or other legal restraint or prohibition preventing the completion of the merger or the bank merger, and the absence of any statute, rule, regulation, order, injunction, or decree enacted, entered, promulgated, or enforced by any governmental entity which prohibits or makes illegal consummation of the merger;

the receipt of all regulatory authorizations, consents, orders or approvals (1) required from the Federal Reserve Board and the OCC, (2) required under the HSR Act and (3) otherwise set forth in the merger agreement that are necessary to consummate the transactions contemplated thereby, or those the failure of which to be obtained would reasonably be likely to have, individually or in the aggregate, a material adverse effect on Huntington or the surviving corporation, having been obtained and remaining in full force and effect and all statutory waiting periods in respect thereof having expired;

the accuracy of the representations and warranties of the other party contained in the merger agreement as of the date on which the merger agreement was entered into and (except to the extent such representations and warranties speak as of an earlier date) as of the date on which the merger is completed, subject to the materiality standards provided in the merger agreement (and the receipt by each party of an officer's certificate from the other party to such effect);

the performance by the other party in all material respects of all obligations required to be performed by it under the merger agreement at or prior to the date on which the merger is completed (and the receipt by each party of an officer's certificate from the other party to such effect); and receipt by such party of an opinion of its outside legal counsel to the effect that on the basis of facts, representations, and assumptions set forth or referred to in such opinion, the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code.

Neither FirstMerit nor Huntington can provide assurance as to when or if all of the conditions to the merger can or will be satisfied or waived by the appropriate party. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, neither FirstMerit nor Huntington has reason to believe that any of these conditions will not be satisfied.

Termination of the Merger Agreement

by mutual written consent of Huntington and FirstMerit;

by either Huntington or FirstMerit, if any governmental entity that must grant a requisite regulatory approval has denied approval of the merger or the bank merger and such denial has become final and nonappealable, or any governmental entity of competent jurisdiction has issued a final nonappealable order, injunction or decree permanently enjoining or otherwise prohibiting, or making illegal, the consummation of the merger or the bank merger, unless the failure to obtain a requisite regulatory approval is due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement to perform or observe its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement;

by either Huntington or FirstMerit, if the merger has not been completed on or before January 25, 2017 (which we refer to as the termination date), unless the failure of the merger to be consummated by that date is due to the failure of the party seeking to terminate the merger agreement to perform or observe its covenants and agreements under the merger agreement;

by either Huntington or FirstMerit (provided that the terminating party is not then in material breach of any representation, warranty, covenant, or other agreement contained in the merger agreement), if there is a breach of any of the covenants or agreements or any of the representations or warranties (or any such representation or warranty ceases to be true) set forth in the merger agreement on the part of the other party which, either individually or in the aggregate, would constitute, if occurring or continuing on the date the merger is completed, the failure of a closing condition of the terminating party and which is not cured within the earlier of the termination date and 45 days following written notice to the party committing such breach, or by its nature or timing cannot be cured during such period;

by Huntington, if, prior to obtaining the requisite approval of the merger agreement by FirstMerit common shareholders, (x) FirstMerit or the FirstMerit board of directors (i) submits the merger agreement to its shareholders without a recommendation for approval, or otherwise withdraws or materially and adversely modifies (or discloses its intention to withdraw or materially and adversely modify) its recommendation as contemplated by the merger agreement, or recommends to its shareholders an acquisition proposal other than the merger, or (ii) materially breaches its obligations to hold a meeting of its shareholders to adopt and approve the merger agreement or not to solicit alternative acquisition proposals; or (y) a tender offer or exchange offer for 20% or more of the outstanding shares of FirstMerit common stock is commenced, and the FirstMerit board of directors recommends that the shareholders of FirstMerit tender their shares in such tender or exchange offer or otherwise fails to recommend that such shareholders reject such tender offer or exchange offer within the 10 business day period specified in Rule 14e-2(a) under the Exchange Act.

Effect of Termination

If the merger agreement is terminated, it will become void and have no effect, except that (1) both Huntington and FirstMerit will remain liable for any liabilities or damages arising out of its fraud or its willful and material breach of any provision of the merger agreement, and (2) designated provisions of the merger agreement will survive the termination, including those relating to payment of termination fees and expenses and the confidential treatment of information.

Termination Fee

In the event that after the date of the merger agreement and prior to the termination of the merger agreement, a bona fide acquisition proposal has been made known to senior management of FirstMerit or has been made directly to its shareholders generally, or any person shall have publicly announced (and not withdrawn) a bona fide acquisition proposal with respect to FirstMerit and (A) thereafter the merger agreement is terminated by either Huntington or FirstMerit because the merger has not been completed prior to the termination date, and FirstMerit has failed to obtain the required vote of its shareholders at the duly convened special meeting of FirstMerit's shareholders or any adjournment or postponement thereof at which a vote on the adoption of the merger agreement is taken, or (B) thereafter the merger agreement is terminated by Huntington based on a breach of the merger agreement by FirstMerit that would constitute the failure of a closing condition and that has not been cured during the permitted time period, or by its nature cannot be cured during such period, and (C) prior to the date that is 12 months after the date of such termination, FirstMerit enters into a definitive agreement or consummates a transaction with respect to an acquisition proposal (whether or not the same acquisition proposal as that referred to above), then FirstMerit will, on the date of consummation of such transaction, pay Huntington, by wire transfer of same day funds, a fee equal to $100.6 million (the termination fee) (provided that for purposes of the foregoing, all references in the definition of acquisition proposal to 25% will instead refer to 50%).

In the event that Huntington terminates the merger agreement pursuant to the last bullet set forth under "The Merger Agreement Termination of the Merger Agreement" above, FirstMerit will, as promptly as reasonably practicable after the date of termination (and in any event, within three business days thereafter), pay Huntington by wire transfer of same day funds the termination fee.

Expenses and Fees

Except as otherwise provided in the merger agreement, whether or not the merger is consummated, all costs and expenses incurred in connection with the merger agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby will be paid by the party incurring or required to incur such expenses.

Amendment, Waiver, and Extension of the Merger Agreement

The merger agreement may be amended in writing by the parties, by action taken or authorized by their respective boards of directors, at any time before or after approval of the merger agreement proposal by the FirstMerit common shareholders, in a writing signed on behalf of each of the parties, provided that after adoption of the merger agreement by the FirstMerit common shareholders, there may not be, without further approval of such shareholders, any amendment of the merger agreement that requires further approval under applicable law.

At any time prior to the effective time of the merger, the parties may, by written instrument, to the extent legally allowed, (a) extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other parties, (b) waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties contained in the merger agreement or in any document delivered pursuant thereto, or (c) waive compliance with any of the agreements or conditions contained in the merger agreement, provided that after adoption of the merger agreement by the FirstMerit common shareholders, there may not be, without further approval of such shareholders, any extension or waiver of the merger agreement or any portion thereof that requires further approval under applicable law. Any agreement on the part of a party to any extension or waiver must be in writing.

Governing Law; Jurisdiction

The merger agreement is governed by and will be construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Delaware without regard to any applicable conflicts of law (except that matters relating to the fiduciary duties of the FirstMerit board of directors will be subject to the laws of the State of Ohio and matters relating to the fiduciary duties of the Huntington board of directors will be subject to the laws of the State of Maryland). The parties agree that any action or proceeding in respect of any claim arising out of or related to the merger agreement or the transactions contemplated thereby will be brought exclusively in any federal or state court of competent jurisdiction located in the State of Delaware.

ACCOUNTING TREATMENT

The accounting principles applicable to this transaction are included in the FASB Codification Topic ASC 805, Business Combinations. ASC 805 provides guidance on the accounting and reporting of transactions that represent business combinations to be accounted for under the acquisition method. The acquisition method entails:

(a) identification of the acquirer; (b) determination of the acquisition date; (c) recognition and measurement of the identifiable assets acquired, the liabilities assumed, and any non-controlling interest in the acquiree; and (d) recognition and measurement of goodwill or a gain from a bargain purchase.

In this transaction Huntington is the acquirer and will accordingly apply the business combination under the acquisition method guidance. On the acquisition date, Huntington (the acquirer) will recognize and measure, at fair value, all the identifiable assets acquired and liabilities assumed. Huntington will also recognize goodwill arising from the transaction. The results of operations for the combined company will be reported prospectively subsequent to the acquisition date.

MATERIAL U.S. FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGERS

The following general discussion sets forth the anticipated material United States federal income tax consequences of the mergers, taken together, to U.S. holders (as defined below) of FirstMerit common stock that exchange their shares of FirstMerit common stock for shares of Huntington common stock and cash in the merger. This discussion does not address any tax consequences arising under the laws of any state, local or foreign jurisdiction, or under any United States federal laws other than those pertaining to income tax. This discussion is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the regulations promulgated under the Code and court and administrative rulings and decisions, all as in effect on the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. These laws may change, possibly retroactively, and any change could affect the accuracy of the statements and conclusions set forth in this discussion.

This discussion addresses only those FirstMerit common shareholders that hold their shares of FirstMerit common stock as a capital asset within the meaning of Section 1221 of the Code (generally, property held for investment). Further, this discussion does not address all aspects of United States federal income taxation that may be relevant to you in light of your particular circumstances or that may be applicable to you if you are subject to special treatment under the United States federal income tax laws, including if you are:

an S corporation or other pass-through entity (or an investor in an S corporation or other pass-through entity);

a mutual fund;

a dealer or broker in stocks and securities, or currencies;

a trader in securities that elects mark-to-market treatment;

a holder of FirstMerit common stock subject to the alternative minimum tax provisions of the Code;

a holder of FirstMerit common stock that received FirstMerit common stock through the exercise of an employee stock option, through a tax qualified retirement plan or otherwise as compensation;

a person that is not a U.S. holder (as defined below);

a person that has a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar;

a holder of FirstMerit common stock that holds FirstMerit common stock as part of a hedge, straddle, constructive sale, wash sale, conversion or other integrated transaction; or a United States expatriate.

In addition, the discussion does not address any alternative minimum tax or any state, local or foreign tax consequences of the merger, nor does it address any tax consequences arising under the unearned income Medicare contribution tax pursuant to the Health Care and Education Reconciliation Act of 2010. Determining the actual tax consequences of the mergers to you may be complex. They will depend on your specific situation and on factors that are not within the control of FirstMerit or Huntington. You should consult with your own tax advisor as to the tax consequences of the merger in your particular circumstances.

For purposes of this discussion, the term U.S. holder means a beneficial owner of FirstMerit common stock that is for United States federal income tax purposes (i) an individual citizen or resident of the United States, (ii) a corporation, or entity treated as a corporation, organized in or under the laws of the United States or any state thereof or the District of Columbia, (iii) a trust if (a) a court within the United States is able to exercise primary supervision over the administration of the trust and one or more U.S. persons have the authority to control all substantial decisions of the trust or (b) such trust has made a valid election to be treated as a U.S. person for U.S. federal income tax purposes or (iv) an estate, the income of which is includible in gross income for U.S. federal income tax purposes regardless of its source.

The United States federal income tax consequences to a partner in an entity or arrangement that is treated as a partnership for United States federal income tax purposes and that holds FirstMerit common stock generally will depend on the status of the partner and the activities of the partnership. Partners in a partnership holding FirstMerit common stock should consult their own tax advisors.

Tax Consequences of the Mergers Generally

The parties intend for the mergers, taken together, to qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. It is a condition to Huntington's obligation to complete the merger that Huntington receive an opinion from Wachtell, Lipton, Rosen & Katz, dated the closing date of the merger, to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. It is a condition to FirstMerit's obligation to complete the merger that FirstMerit receive an opinion from Sullivan & Cromwell LLP, dated the closing date of the merger, to the effect that the mergers, taken together, will qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code. These opinions will be based on representation letters provided by Huntington and FirstMerit and on customary factual assumptions. Neither of the opinions described above will be binding on the Internal Revenue Service. Huntington and FirstMerit have not sought and will not seek any ruling from the Internal Revenue Service regarding any matters relating to the mergers, and as a result, there can be no assurance that the Internal Revenue Service will not assert, or that a court would not sustain, a position contrary to any of the conclusions set forth below.

Provided the mergers, taken together, qualify as a reorganization within the meaning of Section 368(a) of the Code, upon exchanging your FirstMerit common stock for Huntington common stock and cash (other than cash received in lieu of a fractional share), you generally will recognize gain (but not loss) in an amount equal to the lesser of (1) the amount of gain realized (i.e., the excess of the sum of the amount of cash and the fair market value of the Huntington common stock received pursuant to the merger over your adjusted tax basis in the shares of FirstMerit common stock surrendered) and (2) the amount of cash received pursuant to the merger (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share). If you acquired different blocks of FirstMerit common stock at different times or different prices, you should consult your tax advisor regarding the manner in which gain or loss should be determined. Any recognized gain generally will be long-term capital gain if, as of the effective date of the merger, your holding period with respect to the FirstMerit common stock surrendered exceeds one year. If, however, the cash received has the effect of the distribution of a dividend, the gain will be treated as a dividend to the extent of the holder's ratable share of accumulated earnings and profits as calculated for United States federal income tax purposes. See Possible Treatment of Cash as a Dividend below.

The aggregate tax basis in the shares of Huntington common stock that you receive in the merger, including any fractional share interests deemed received and redeemed as described below, will equal your aggregate adjusted tax basis in the FirstMerit common stock you surrender, reduced by the amount of cash received (excluding any cash received in lieu of a fractional share) and increased by the amount of gain, if any, recognized by you (excluding any gain recognized with respect to cash received in lieu of a fractional share) on the exchange. Your holding period for the shares of Huntington common stock that you receive in the merger (including a fractional share interest deemed received and sold as described below) will include your holding period for the shares of FirstMerit common stock that you surrender in the exchange.

In general, the determination of whether the gain recognized in the exchange will be treated as capital gain or has the effect of a distribution of a dividend depends upon whether and to what extent the exchange reduces the holder's deemed percentage stock ownership of Huntington. For purposes of this determination, the holder is treated as if it first exchanged all of its shares of FirstMerit common stock solely for Huntington common stock and then Huntington immediately redeemed, which we refer to in this document as the deemed redemption, a portion of the Huntington common stock in exchange for the cash the holder actually received. The gain recognized in the deemed redemption will be treated as capital gain if the deemed redemption is (1) substantially disproportionate with respect to the holder or (2) not essentially equivalent to a dividend.

The deemed redemption will generally be substantially disproportionate with respect to a holder if the percentage described in (2) below is less than 80% of the percentage described in (1) below. Whether the deemed redemption is not essentially equivalent to a dividend with respect to a holder will depend upon the holder's particular circumstances. At a minimum, however, in order for the deemed redemption to be not essentially equivalent to a dividend, the deemed redemption must result in a meaningful reduction in the holder's deemed percentage stock ownership of Huntington. In general, that determination requires a comparison of (1) the percentage of the outstanding stock of Huntington that the holder is deemed actually and constructively to have owned immediately before the deemed redemption and (2) the percentage of the outstanding stock of Huntington that is actually and constructively owned by the holder immediately after the deemed redemption. In applying the above tests, a holder may, under the constructive ownership rules, be deemed to own stock that is owned by other persons or stock underlying a holder's option to purchase in addition to the stock actually owned by the holder.

The Internal Revenue Service has ruled that a shareholder in a publicly held corporation whose relative stock interest is minimal (e.g., less than 1%) and who exercises no control with respect to corporate affairs is generally considered to have a meaningful reduction if that shareholder has a relatively minor (e.g., approximately 3%) reduction in its percentage stock ownership under the above analysis; accordingly, the gain recognized in the exchange by such a shareholder would be treated as capital gain.

These rules are complex and dependent upon the specific factual circumstances particular to each holder. Consequently, each holder that may be subject to these rules should consult its tax advisor as to the application of these rules to the particular facts relevant to such holder.

Cash Instead of a Fractional Share

If you receive cash instead of a fractional share of Huntington common stock, you will be treated as having received the fractional share of Huntington common stock pursuant to the merger and then as having exchanged that fractional share for cash in redemption by Huntington. As a result, you generally will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the amount of cash received and the basis allocable to your fractional share of Huntington common stock. This gain or loss generally will be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the merger, the holding period for the shares (including the holding period of FirstMerit common stock surrendered therefor) is greater than one year. The deductibility of capital losses is subject to limitations.

Backup Withholding

If you are a non-corporate holder of FirstMerit common stock you may be subject to information reporting and backup withholding (currently at a rate of 28%) on any cash payments you receive. You generally will not be subject to backup withholding, however, if you:

furnish a correct taxpayer identification number, certify that you are not subject to backup withholding on the substitute Form W-9 or successor form included in the election form/letter of transmittal you will receive and otherwise comply with all the applicable requirements of the backup withholding rules; or provide proof that you are otherwise exempt from backup withholding.

Any amounts withheld under the backup withholding rules will generally be allowed as a refund or credit against your United States federal income tax liability, provided you timely furnish the required information to the Internal Revenue Service.

This summary of certain material United States federal income tax consequences is for general information only and is not tax advice. You are urged to consult your tax advisor with respect to the application of United States federal income tax laws to your particular situation as well as any tax consequences arising under the United States federal estate or gift tax rules, or under the laws of any state, local, foreign or other taxing jurisdiction.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

The following pro forma condensed combined financial information combines the historical consolidated financial position and results of operations of Huntington and its subsidiaries and FirstMerit and its subsidiaries, as an acquisition by Huntington of FirstMerit using the acquisition method of accounting and giving effect to the related pro forma adjustments described in the accompanying notes. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of FirstMerit will be recorded by Huntington at their respective fair values as of the date the merger is completed. The pro forma condensed combined financial information should be read in conjunction with the sections entitled Business and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations in Huntington's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 which is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus, and FirstMerit's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2015 (as amended by Annual Report on Form 10-K/A filed on April 25, 2016) which is incorporated by reference into this joint proxy statement/prospectus. See Where You Can Find More Information.

The pro forma condensed combined balance sheet gives effect to the merger as if the transaction had occurred on December 31, 2015. The pro forma condensed combined income statements for the year ended December 31, 2015 give effect to the merger as if the transaction had become effective on January 1, 2015.

The pro forma condensed combined financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not indicate the financial results of the combined company had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of each period presented, nor the impact of possible business model changes. The pro forma condensed combined financial information also does not consider any potential effects of changes in market conditions on revenues, expense efficiencies, asset dispositions, and share repurchases, among other factors. In addition, as explained in more detail in the accompanying notes, the preliminary allocation of the pro forma purchase price reflected in the pro forma condensed combined financial information is subject to adjustment and may vary significantly from the actual purchase price allocation that will be recorded upon completion of the merger.

The pro forma condensed combined financial statements have been prepared to give effect to the following:

the acquisition of FirstMerit by Huntington;

the distribution of shares of Huntington common stock and cash to FirstMerit's shareholders in exchange for shares of FirstMerit common stock (assuming a 1.72 exchange ratio); and Huntington's issuance of $500 million of debt at a 2.57% interest rate to finance the acquisition of FirstMerit. The interest rate was estimated based on a February 2016 five-year treasury rate, plus the spread of our last five-year debt issuance, and adjusted from a bank to a holding company basis. In the event the interest rates on our fixed rate debt increase or decrease by 0.125%, our annual interest expense would increase or decrease by less than $1 million.

The pro forma condensed combined financial statements do not include certain non-recurring transaction costs that Huntington expects to incur in connection with the acquisition. Excluded are one-time expenditures estimated at $286 million pretax related to employee costs, costs to sell certain redundant locations, costs to merge information technology systems, and other one-time transaction related costs. Huntington expects to fund these costs through cash from operations. Due to the scope and complexity of these activities, the amount of these costs could increase or decrease materially and the timing of incurrence could change.

Table of ContentsNote 1 Basis of Presentation

The pro forma condensed combined financial information and explanatory notes have been prepared to illustrate the effects of the merger involving Huntington and FirstMerit under the acquisition method of accounting with Huntington treated as the acquirer. The pro forma condensed combined financial information is presented for illustrative purposes only and does not necessarily indicate the financial results of the combined companies had the companies actually been combined at the beginning of each period presented, nor does it necessarily indicate the results of operations in future periods or the future financial position of the combined entities. Under the acquisition method of accounting, the assets and liabilities of FirstMerit, as of the effective date of the merger, will be recorded by Huntington at their respective fair values and the excess of the merger consideration over the fair value of FirstMerit's net assets will be allocated to goodwill.

The merger, which is currently expected to be completed in the third quarter of 2016, provides for FirstMerit common shareholders to receive 1.72 shares of Huntington common stock and $5.00 in cash for each share of FirstMerit common stock they hold immediately prior to the merger. Based on the closing trading price of shares of Huntington common stock on the NASDAQ on January 25, 2016, the last trading day before the public announcement of the signing of the merger agreement, the value of the merger consideration per share of FirstMerit common stock was $20.14. Based on the closing trading price of shares of Huntington common stock on the NASDAQ on April 21, 2016, the last practicable trading day before the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, the value of the merger consideration per share of FirstMerit common stock was $22.58. In addition, upon completion of the second step merger, each share of FirstMerit's 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A will be converted into the right to receive a share of Huntington's 5.875% Series C Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock.

The pro forma allocation of the purchase price reflected in the pro forma condensed combined financial information is subject to adjustment and may vary from the actual purchase price allocation that will be recorded at the time the merger is completed. Adjustments may include, but not be limited to, changes in (i) FirstMerit's balance sheet through the effective time of the merger; (ii) the aggregate value of merger consideration paid if the price of shares of Huntington common stock varies from the assumed $10.22 per share, which represents the closing share price of Huntington common stock on April 21, 2016; (iii) total merger-related expenses if consummation and/or implementation costs vary from currently estimated amounts; and (iv) the underlying values of assets and liabilities if market conditions differ from current assumptions.

The accounting policies of both Huntington and FirstMerit are in the process of being reviewed in detail. Upon completion of such review, conforming adjustments or financial statement reclassification may be determined.

Note 2 Preliminary Purchase Price Allocation

The pro forma adjustments include the estimated purchase accounting entries to record the merger transaction. The excess of the purchase price over the fair value of net assets acquired, net of deferred taxes, is allocated to goodwill. Estimated fair value adjustments included in the pro forma financial statements are based upon available information and certain assumptions considered reasonable, and may be revised as additional information becomes available.

Core deposit and purchased credit card relationship intangible assets of $281 million are included in the pro forma adjustments separate from goodwill and amortized using the sum-of-the-years-digits method over eight years. Trust relationship intangible assets of $45 million are also included in the pro forma adjustments separate from goodwill and amortized using the sum-of-the-years-digits method over twelve years. When the actual amortization is recorded for periods following the completion of the merger, the straight line or sum-of-the-years-digits method will be used. Goodwill totaling $1.6 billion is included in the pro forma adjustments and is not subject to amortization. The purchase price is contingent on Huntington's price per common share at the closing date of the merger, which has not yet occurred. Accordingly, a 10% increase or decrease in Huntington's most recently used price per share of common stock would result in a corresponding goodwill adjustment of approximately $294 million.

Note 3 Pro Forma Adjustments

The following pro forma adjustments have been reflected in the pro forma condensed combined financial information. All taxable adjustments were calculated using a 35.0% tax rate to arrive at deferred tax asset or liability adjustments. All adjustments are based on current assumptions and valuations, which are subject to change.

- A. Adjustments to cash and short-term investments to reflect estimated cash of $836 million used to purchase FirstMerit, net proceeds from the $500 million debt issuance, and contractually obligated pre-tax merger costs of $123 million.
- B. Adjustment to securities classified as held-to-maturity to reflect estimated fair value of acquired investment securities.
- C. Adjustment to loans, net of unearned income to reflect estimated fair value adjustments, which included lifetime credit loss expectations, current interest rates and liquidity, to acquired loans.

Table of Contents

- D. Elimination of FirstMerit's existing allowance for loan losses. Purchased loans in a business combination are recorded at estimated fair value on the purchase date and the carryover of the related allowance for loan losses is prohibited.
- E. Reflects a balance sheet reclassification from accrued income and other assets of $624 million to conform to Huntington's financial statement presentation.
- F. Adjustment to premises and equipment to reflect estimated fair value of acquired premises and equipment.
- G. Adjustments to goodwill to eliminate FirstMerit goodwill of $742 million at merger date and record estimated goodwill associated with the merger of $1.6 billion.
- H. Adjustments to other intangible assets to eliminate FirstMerit other intangible assets of $61 million and record estimated other intangible assets associated with the merger of $326 million, which includes estimated core deposit intangible assets of $266 million.
- I. Adjustment to deposits to reflect estimated fair value of acquired interest-bearing deposits.
- J. Adjustment to long-term debt to reflect estimated fair value of acquired long-term debt and the $500 million of debt issued in connection with the transaction.
- K. Adjustment to accrued expenses and other liabilities to reflect the effects of the acquisition accounting adjustments and contractually obligated merger costs.
- L. Adjustment to deferred tax liabilities to reflect the effects of the acquisition accounting adjustments and contractually obligated merger costs.
- M. Adjustments to preferred shares to eliminate the FirstMerit preferred stock and convert it to Huntington preferred stock.
- N. Adjustments to common stock to eliminate FirstMerit common stock of $128 million par value and record the issuance of Huntington common stock to FirstMerit common shareholders of $3 million par value.
- O. Adjustments to capital surplus to eliminate FirstMerit capital surplus of $1.4 billion and record the issuance of Huntington common stock in excess of par value to FirstMerit common shareholders of $2.9 billion.

- P. Adjustments to eliminate remaining FirstMerit equity balances of $1.3 billion.
- Q. Adjustment to retained earnings to reflect contractually obligated after-tax merger costs of $94 million.
- R. Adjustments to common shares outstanding to eliminate 165,757,588 shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding and record 287,521,371 shares of Huntington common stock calculated using the exchange ratio of 1.72 per share.
- S. Net adjustments to interest income of $1 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 to eliminate FirstMerit amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts on previously acquired loans and securities and record estimated amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts on acquired loans and held-to-maturity securities.
- T. Net adjustments to interest expense of less than $1 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 to eliminate FirstMerit amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts on previously acquired deposits and record estimated amortization of premiums and accretion of discounts on acquired deposits and long-term debt.
- U. Reflects incremental interest expense of $13 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 related to the issuance of acquisition debt totaling $500 million, bearing interest at an interest rate of 2.57%, in connection with the FirstMerit acquisition transaction. The interest expense adjustment assumes amortization of estimated total debt issuance costs of $1 million for the year ended December 31, 2015.

Table of Contents

- V. Net adjustments to noninterest expense of $59 million for the year ended December 31, 2015 to eliminate FirstMerit amortization expense on other intangible assets and record estimated amortization of acquired other intangible assets. See Note 2 for additional information regarding Huntington's amortization of acquired other intangible assets.

- W. Adjustment to income tax expense to record the income tax effects of pro forma adjustments at the estimated combined statutory federal and state tax rate of 35.0%.

- X. Adjustments to weighted-average shares of Huntington common stock outstanding to eliminate weighted-average shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding and record shares of Huntington common stock outstanding, calculated using the exchange ratio of 1.72 per share for all shares.

Note 4 Merger Integration Costs

Merger- and integration-related costs are not included in the pro forma condensed combined statements of income since they will be recorded in the combined results of income as they are incurred prior to, or after completion of, the merger and are not indicative of what the historical results of the combined company would have been had the companies been actually combined during the periods presented. Merger- and integration-related costs are estimated to be $431 million pretax; $145 million is estimated to be incurred at closing. The $145 million of contractually obligated pre-tax merger costs are reflected in the pro forma adjustments as a $123 million reduction to cash and due from banks (reference A) and a $22 million increase to accrued expenses and other liabilities (reference K).

Note 5 Divestiture of FirstMerit and/or Huntington Branches

Due to the competitive considerations of the merger in accordance with regulatory guidelines, Huntington expects that it will have to divest FirstMerit and/or Huntington branches in certain banking areas in order to obtain regulatory approvals to complete the transactions contemplated by the merger agreement. If required by regulatory authorities, Huntington will divest branches in certain areas in a manner sufficient to eliminate such regulatory authorities competitive concerns. However, these branch divestitures have not yet been identified and therefore are excluded from the pro forma analysis. See The Merger Regulatory Approvals Required for the Merger.

Table of ContentsDESCRIPTION OF NEW HUNTINGTON PREFERRED STOCK

Upon completion of the second step merger, FirstMerit's 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A, or the FirstMerit preferred stock, will be converted into the right to receive Huntington's 5.875% Series C Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, or the Huntington preferred stock. But for the par value of the securities, the dividend payment dates, the dividend record dates, and the optional redemption date, the Huntington preferred stock will have terms that are substantively identical to the terms of the outstanding FirstMerit preferred stock. Each outstanding share of FirstMerit preferred stock is presently represented by depositary shares that are listed on the NYSE under the symbol FMER-A and represent a 1/40th interest in a share of FirstMerit preferred stock. Upon completion of the second step merger, such depositary shares will represent shares of Huntington preferred stock, and Huntington intends to list such depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN. The following briefly summarizes the terms and provisions of the Huntington preferred stock.

Preferred Stock

The Huntington charter currently authorizes the Huntington board of directors, without further stockholder action, to cause Huntington to issue up to 6,617,808 shares of serial preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share, and to classify and reclassify any unissued shares of serial preferred stock by establishing the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends, qualifications, terms or conditions of redemption or other rights thereof, without further vote or action by Huntington stockholders. The Huntington charter may be amended from time to time to increase the number of authorized shares of preferred stock. Any such amendment would require the approval of the holders of two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast on the matter. As of the date of this joint proxy statement/prospectus, there are 362,506 shares of Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock issued and outstanding, 35,500 shares of Huntington Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock issued and outstanding, and 402,500 shares of Huntington 6.250% Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock issued and outstanding.

Series C Preferred Stock

Shares of Huntington preferred stock, upon issuance in exchange for FirstMerit preferred stock at the completion of the second step merger, will be validly issued, fully paid, and nonassessable. The depositary will be the sole holder of shares of Huntington preferred stock. The holders of Huntington depositary shares will be required to exercise their proportional rights in the Huntington preferred stock through the depositary.

With respect to the payment of dividends and distributions upon liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up of Huntington's business and affairs, the Huntington preferred stock will rank (i) senior to Huntington common stock, (ii) pari passu with Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock, Huntington Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Huntington 6.250% Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, and each other series of Huntington preferred stock which expressly provides in the articles supplementary classifying such preferred stock that it will rank pari passu with the Huntington preferred stock, and (iii) junior to all existing and future indebtedness and other non-equity claims on Huntington, and to each other series of Huntington preferred stock which expressly provides in the articles supplementary classifying such preferred stock that it will rank senior to the Huntington preferred stock.

The Huntington preferred stock will not be convertible into, or exchangeable for, shares of any other class or series of Huntington capital stock or other securities. The Huntington preferred stock will be perpetual and will have no maturity date.

Dividends

Dividends on shares of the Huntington preferred stock will not be cumulative and will not be mandatory. Holders of the Huntington preferred stock will be entitled to receive, if, when and as declared by the Huntington board of directors (or a duly authorized committee of the Huntington board of directors) out of assets legally available for the payment of dividends under the MGCL, non-cumulative cash dividends at a rate equal to 5.875% on the $1,000 per share liquidation amount of the Huntington preferred stock (equivalent to $25 per depositary share) per annum, payable quarterly in arrears on January 15, April 15, July 15, and October 15 of each year, beginning after the closing of the second step merger, each such date being referred to herein as a dividend payment date

References to the accrual (or similar terms) of dividends in this joint proxy statement/prospectus refer only to the determination of the amount of such dividend and do not imply that any right to a dividend arises prior to the date on which a dividend is declared.

Dividends will be payable to holders of record of the Huntington preferred stock as they appear on Huntington's books on the applicable record date, which shall be the first day of the month in which the relevant dividend payment date occurs, or such other record date, not exceeding 30 days before the applicable dividend payment date, as shall be fixed by the Huntington board of directors (or a duly authorized committee of the Huntington board of directors). A dividend record date established for the Huntington preferred stock need not be a business day. The corresponding record dates for the depositary shares will be the same as the record dates for the Huntington preferred stock.

A dividend period is the period from and including a dividend payment date to but excluding the next dividend payment date, except that the initial dividend period for shares of the Huntington preferred stock issued upon completion of the second step merger will commence on the last dividend payment date prior to the closing of the second step merger. The amount of dividends payable shall be computed on the basis of a 360-day year consisting of twelve 30-day months. Dollar amounts resulting from that calculation will be rounded to the nearest cent, with one-half cent being rounded upward. If any date on which dividends would otherwise be payable is not a business day, then the dividend payment date will be the next succeeding business day and no additional dividends will accrue in respect of any payment made on the next succeeding business day. Huntington will not pay interest or any sum of money instead of interest on any dividend payment that may be in arrears on the Huntington preferred stock.

The term business day means each Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday or Friday on which banking institutions are not authorized or obligated by law, regulation or executive order to close in New York, New York.

Dividends on shares of the Huntington preferred stock will not be cumulative. Accordingly, if the Huntington board of directors does not declare a dividend on the Huntington preferred stock payable in respect of any dividend period before the related dividend payment date, such dividend will not be deemed to have accrued and Huntington will have no obligation to pay a dividend for that dividend period on the dividend payment date or at any future time, whether or not dividends on the Huntington preferred stock, dividend parity stock (as defined below), junior stock (as defined below) or other preferred stock are declared for any future dividend period.

Dividends on the Huntington preferred stock will cease to accrue on the redemption date, if any, as described below under Redemption.

Priority Regarding Dividends

So long as any share of Huntington preferred stock remains outstanding, unless (i) the full dividends for the most recently completed dividend period have been declared and paid (or declared and a sum sufficient for the payment thereof has been set aside) on all outstanding shares of Huntington preferred stock, and (ii) Huntington is not in default on its obligation to redeem any shares of Huntington preferred stock that have been called for redemption:

no dividend or other distribution shall be declared, paid, or set aside for payment, and no distribution shall be declared, made or set aside for payment on any junior stock (as defined below) (other than (i) a dividend payable solely in junior stock or (ii) any dividend in connection with the implementation of a stockholders rights plan, or the redemption or repurchase of any rights under any such plan); and

no shares of junior stock or parity stock (as defined below) shall be repurchased, redeemed or otherwise acquired for consideration by Huntington, directly or indirectly, other than (i) as a result of a reclassification of junior stock for or into other junior stock or reclassification of parity stock for or into other parity stock, (ii) pro rata offers to purchase all, or a pro rata portion, of the Huntington preferred stock and such parity stock, (iii) the exchange or conversion of junior stock for or into other junior stock or the exchange or conversion of parity stock for or into other parity stock or junior stock, (iv) through the use of the proceeds of a substantially contemporaneous sale of other shares of junior stock or parity stock, (v) purchases, redemptions, or other acquisitions of shares of the junior stock in connection with any employee contract, benefit plan, or other similar arrangement with or for the benefit of employees, officers, directors, or consultants of Huntington, (vi) purchases or other acquisitions by a broker-dealer subsidiary of Huntington solely for the purpose of market-making, stabilization or customer facilitation transactions in junior stock or parity stock in the ordinary course of its business, (vii) purchases of shares of junior stock or parity stock pursuant to a contractually binding requirement to buy junior stock or parity stock existing prior to the most recently completed dividend period, including under a contractually binding stock repurchase plan, (viii) the purchase of fractional interests in shares of junior stock pursuant to the conversion or exchange provisions of such stock or the security being converted or exchanged, (ix) purchases by a broker-dealer subsidiary of Huntington of capital stock of Huntington for resale pursuant to an offering by Huntington of such capital stock underwritten by such broker-dealer subsidiary, and (x) the acquisition by Huntington or any of its subsidiaries of record ownership in junior stock or parity stock for the beneficial ownership of other persons (other than for the beneficial ownership by Huntington or any of its subsidiaries, including as trustees or custodians), nor shall any monies be paid to or made available for a sinking fund for the redemption of any such securities by Huntington.

If dividends are not paid in full upon the shares of Huntington preferred stock and any shares of dividend parity stock, all dividends paid or declared for payment on Huntington preferred stock and all such dividend parity stock and payable on such dividend payment date (or, in the case of dividend parity stock having dividend payment dates different from the dividend payment date of the Huntington preferred stock, on a dividend payment date falling within the dividend period related to such dividend payment date) will be shared based on the ratio between the then-current dividends due on shares of Huntington preferred stock and (i) in the case of any series of non-cumulative dividend parity stock, the aggregate of the current and unpaid dividends due on such series of preferred stock, and (ii) in the case of any series of cumulative dividend parity stock, the aggregate of the current and accumulated and unpaid dividends due on such series of preferred stock.

Subject to the foregoing, and not otherwise, such dividends (payable in cash, securities, or otherwise) as may be determined by the Huntington board of directors (or a duly authorized committee of the Huntington board of directors) may be declared and paid on any class or series of junior stock from time to time out of assets legally available for such payment, and the holders of Huntington preferred stock will not be entitled to participate in any such dividend. Holders of the Huntington preferred stock will not be entitled to receive any dividends not authorized by the Huntington board of directors and declared by Huntington and no interest, or sum of money in lieu of interest, shall be payable in respect of any dividend not so declared.

As used in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, junior stock means Huntington common stock and any other class or series of Huntington capital stock now or hereafter authorized, issued, or outstanding that, by its terms, expressly provides that it ranks junior to the Huntington preferred stock as to (i) payment of dividends or (ii) distributions upon Huntington's liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up.

As used in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, dividend parity stock means any class or series of Huntington capital stock that ranks equally with the Huntington preferred stock in the payment of dividends and in the distribution of assets upon Huntington's liquidation, dissolution or winding up.

As used in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, parity stock includes both dividend parity stock and voting parity stock.

Table of Contents

As used in this joint proxy statement/prospectus, voting parity stock means any and all outstanding series of dividend parity stock having voting rights to elect directors upon the non-payment of dividends equivalent to those described below.

Restrictions on the Payment of Dividends

The payment of dividends on the Huntington preferred stock is subject to the priority provisions and other restrictions described above in Dividends. Huntington's ability to pay dividends on the Huntington preferred stock is also dependent on Huntington's ability to receive dividends from its subsidiaries.

Further, dividends on the Huntington preferred stock will not be declared, paid, or set aside for payment if Huntington fails to comply, or if and to the extent such act would cause Huntington to fail to comply, with applicable laws and regulations, including any capital adequacy guidelines or regulations of the Federal Reserve Board (or, as and if applicable, the capital adequacy guidelines or regulations of any appropriate federal banking agency (as defined in Section 3(q) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act)). The articles supplementary creating the Huntington preferred stock explicitly provides that dividends on the Huntington preferred stock may not be declared or set aside for payment if and to the extent such dividends would cause Huntington to fail to comply with the applicable capital adequacy guidelines.

Redemption

No Mandatory Redemption

The Huntington preferred stock is perpetual and has no maturity date. The Huntington preferred stock is not subject to any mandatory redemption, sinking fund, or other similar provisions.

Neither the holders of Huntington preferred stock nor holders of Huntington depository shares will have the right to require the redemption or repurchase of the Huntington preferred stock.

Optional Redemption

Huntington may redeem the Huntington preferred stock at its option, subject to approval from the Federal Reserve Board or other appropriate federal banking agency, in whole or in part, from time to time, on any dividend payment date on or after the fifth anniversary of the closing of the second step merger, out of funds legally available therefor, at a price equal to $1,000 per share (equivalent to $25 per depository share), plus (except as otherwise provided) the per share amount of any declared and unpaid dividends (without accumulation of any undeclared dividends) on the Huntington preferred stock prior to the date fixed for redemption, defined as the redemption date.

Redemption Following a Regulatory Capital Treatment Event

Notwithstanding the foregoing, within 90 days of Huntington's good faith determination that a regulatory capital treatment event (as defined below) has occurred, Huntington may, at its option, subject to the approval of the appropriate federal banking agency, provide notice of its intent to redeem in accordance with the procedures described below, and subsequently redeem Huntington preferred stock, in whole but not in part, at a redemption price equal to $1,000 per share (equivalent to $25 per depository share), plus any declared and unpaid dividends, without accumulation of any undeclared dividends.

A regulatory capital treatment event means a good faith determination by the Huntington board of directors (or a duly authorized committee of the Huntington board of directors) that, as a result of (i) any amendment to, or change (including any announced prospective change) in, the laws or regulations of the United States or any political subdivision of or in the United States that is enacted or becomes effective (or will become effective) after the initial issuance of any share of Huntington preferred stock; (ii) any proposed change in those laws or regulations that is announced or becomes effective (or will become effective) after the initial issuance of any share of Huntington preferred stock; or (iii) any official administrative decision or judicial decision or administrative action or other official pronouncement interpreting or applying those laws or regulations that is announced after the initial issuance of any share of Huntington preferred stock, there is more than an insubstantial risk that Huntington will not be entitled to treat the full liquidation value of all shares of Huntington preferred stock then outstanding as Tier 1 Capital (or its equivalent) for purposes of the capital adequacy guidelines or regulations promulgated by the Federal Reserve Board (or, as and if applicable, the capital adequacy guidelines or regulations of any appropriate federal banking agency), as then in effect and applicable, for as long as any share of Huntington preferred stock is outstanding.

Redemption Procedures and Limitations

If any shares of Huntington preferred stock are redeemed, the redemption price payable to the holder of any shares called for redemption will be payable on the applicable redemption date against the surrender to Huntington or its agent of any certificate(s) evidencing the shares called for redemption. Any declared but unpaid dividends payable on a redemption date but occurring after the dividend record date for any dividend period shall not be paid to the holder of Huntington preferred stock entitled to receive the redemption price, but will instead be paid to the holder of record of the redeemed shares on the dividend record date relating to the applicable dividend payment date.

If any shares of Huntington preferred stock are to be redeemed, a notice of redemption shall be given by first class mail to the holders of record of the Huntington preferred stock to be redeemed at their respective last addresses appearing on the Huntington stock register (provided that, if the Huntington preferred stock is held in book-entry form through The Depository Trust Company, referred to as DTC, Huntington may give such notice in any manner permitted by DTC) or by such other method approved by the depository for the Huntington preferred stock, in its reasonable discretion. Any notice of redemption shall be mailed at least 30 days and no more than 60 days before the redemption date, and each notice of redemption will include a statement setting forth:

the number of shares of the Huntington preferred stock to be redeemed and, if less than all the shares held by the holder are to be redeemed, the number of shares of Huntington preferred stock to be redeemed from the holder;

the redemption price;

the place or places where the certificates representing shares of Huntington preferred stock are to be surrendered for payment of the redemption price; and that dividends on the shares of Huntington preferred stock to be redeemed shall cease to accrue on the redemption date.

Any notice of redemption mailed or otherwise delivered as described above shall be conclusively presumed to have been duly given, whether or not any holder of the Huntington preferred stock receives such notice. Failure to duly give notice of redemption, or any defect in such notice, to any holder of shares of Huntington preferred stock designated for redemption shall not affect the validity of the proceedings for the redemption of any other shares of Huntington preferred stock.

In case of any redemption of only part of the shares of the Huntington preferred stock at the time outstanding, the shares to be redeemed shall be selected either pro rata, by lot or in such other manner as the Huntington board of directors may determine to be fair and equitable.

If notice of redemption has been duly given and, if on or before the redemption date specified in such notice, Huntington has deposited all funds necessary for the redemption, separate and apart from Huntington's other assets, in trust for the pro rata benefit of the holders of the shares of Huntington preferred stock called for redemption, with a bank or trust company doing business in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York, and having a capital and surplus of at least $500 million and selected by the Huntington board of directors, so as to be and continue to be available solely therefor, then, notwithstanding that any certificate for any share so called for redemption has not been surrendered for cancellation, on and after the redemption date, all shares of Huntington preferred stock called for redemption shall no longer be deemed outstanding, all dividends with respect to such shares of Huntington preferred stock shall cease to accrue on and after the redemption date, and all rights with respect to such shares shall forthwith on such redemption date cease and terminate, except only the right of the holders thereof to receive the amount payable on such redemption from the redemption depository at any time after the redemption date from the funds so deposited, without interest. Huntington shall be entitled to receive, from time to time, from the redemption depository any interest accrued on such funds, and the holders of any shares called for redemption shall have no claim to any such interest. Any funds so deposited and unclaimed at the end of three years from the redemption date shall, to the extent permitted by law, be released or repaid to Huntington, and in the event of such repayment, the holders of record of the shares of Huntington preferred stock called for redemption shall be deemed to be Huntington unsecured creditors for an amount equivalent to the amount deposited as stated above for the redemption of such shares and so repaid to Huntington, but shall in no event be entitled to any interest.

Under the Federal Reserve Board's current risk-based capital guidelines applicable to bank holding companies, any redemption of the Huntington preferred stock is subject to prior approval by the Federal Reserve Board. The articles supplementary creating the Huntington preferred stock explicitly provides that any redemption of the Huntington preferred stock is subject to Huntington's receipt of any required prior approval by the Federal Reserve Board or other appropriate federal banking agency and to the satisfaction of any conditions set forth in the capital guidelines or regulations of the Federal Reserve Board or other appropriate federal banking agency applicable to the redemption of the Huntington preferred stock.

See "Redemption of Depository Shares" for information about redemption of Huntington depository shares relating to the Huntington preferred stock.

Liquidation Rights

In the event that Huntington voluntarily or involuntarily liquidates, dissolves or winds up its affairs, holders of the Huntington preferred stock will be entitled to receive an amount per share equal to the fixed liquidation preference of $1,000 per share (equivalent to $25 per depository share), plus any declared and unpaid dividends prior to the payment of the liquidating distribution (but without any amount in respect of dividends that have not been declared prior to the date of payment of the liquidating distribution), after satisfaction of liabilities or obligations to creditors and subject to the rights of holders of any securities ranking senior to the Huntington preferred stock with respect to distributions upon the voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of Huntington's business and affairs, and before Huntington makes any distribution of assets to the holders of junior stock. After payment of the full amount of the liquidating distribution described above, the holders of the Huntington preferred stock shall not be entitled to any further participation in any distribution of Huntington's assets.

If Huntington's assets are not sufficient to pay the liquidation amount in full to all holders of the Huntington preferred stock and all holders of any shares of Huntington's stock ranking as to any such liquidation distribution on parity with the Huntington preferred stock, the amounts paid to the holders of the Huntington preferred stock and to such other shares will be paid pro rata in accordance with the respective liquidation amount and the aggregate liquidation amount of any such outstanding shares of dividend parity stock. If the liquidation amount per Huntington preferred stock has been paid in full to all holders of the Huntington preferred stock and the liquidation preference of any other shares ranking on parity with the Huntington preferred stock has been paid in full, the holders of junior stock will be entitled to receive all of Huntington's remaining assets according to their respective rights and preferences.

Table of Contents

For purposes of the liquidation rights, neither the sale, lease, exchange or transfer of all or substantially all of Huntington's property and assets, nor the consolidation or merger by Huntington with or into any other corporation or by another corporation with or into Huntington, whether for cash, securities or other property, will constitute a liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of Huntington's affairs.

Voting Rights

Right to Elect Two Directors upon Nonpayment

Whenever dividends payable on any shares of the Huntington preferred stock or any other class or series of preferred stock that ranks on parity with the Huntington preferred stock as to payment of dividends, and upon which similar voting rights have been conferred and are exercisable, have not been paid for an aggregate of six or more quarterly dividend periods, whether or not consecutively (such occurrence referred to as a non-payment event), the authorized number of directors then constituting the Huntington board of directors will automatically be increased by two. Holders of the Huntington preferred stock, together with the holders of all other classes or series of voting parity stock (as defined above), voting as a single class, will be entitled to elect the two additional members of the Huntington board of directors, known as the preferred stock directors, at any annual meeting of stockholders (or at a special meeting called for that purpose prior to such next annual meeting, subject to certain exceptions) and at each subsequent annual meeting of stockholders until all full dividends have been declared and paid on the Huntington preferred stock and any other class or classes of dividend parity stock for at least four consecutive dividend periods after the non-payment event.

If and when full dividends have been regularly paid for at least four consecutive dividend periods following a non-payment event on the Huntington preferred stock and any other class or series of dividend parity stock, the holders of the Huntington preferred stock shall be divested of the foregoing voting rights (subject to reversioning in the event of each subsequent non-payment event) and the term of office of each preferred stock director so elected shall terminate and the number of directors on the Huntington board of directors shall automatically decrease by two.

Any preferred stock director may be removed at any time with or without cause by the holders of record of a majority of the outstanding shares of the Huntington preferred stock (together with holders of voting parity stock) when they have the voting rights described above. So long as a non-payment event shall continue, any vacancy in the office of a preferred stock director (other than prior to the initial election of the preferred stock directors) may be filled by the written consent of the preferred stock director remaining in office, or if none remains in office, by a vote of the holders of the outstanding shares of the Huntington preferred stock (together with holders of voting parity stock) to serve until the next annual meeting of shareholders. The preferred stock directors shall each be entitled to one vote per director on any matter.

If the holders of the Huntington preferred stock become entitled to vote for the election of directors, the Huntington preferred stock may be considered a class of voting securities under interpretations adopted by the Federal Reserve Board. As a result, certain holders of the Huntington preferred stock may become subject to regulations under the BHC Act and/or certain acquisitions of the Huntington preferred stock may be subject to prior approval by the Federal Reserve Board.

Other Voting Rights

So long as any shares of Huntington preferred stock remain outstanding, in addition to any other vote or consent of stockholders required by law or the Huntington charter, the affirmative vote or consent of the holders of at least two-thirds of all of the then-outstanding shares of Huntington preferred stock entitled to vote thereon, voting separately as a single class, shall be required to:

authorize or increase the authorized amount of, or issue shares of, any class or series of Huntington capital stock ranking senior to the Huntington preferred stock, or issue any security convertible into or evidencing the right to purchase any such class or series of Huntington capital stock;

amend the provisions of the Huntington charter, including the articles supplementary creating the Huntington preferred stock, so as to adversely affect the special powers, preferences, privileges, or rights of the Huntington preferred stock, taken as a whole; or consummate a binding share exchange or reclassification involving the Huntington preferred stock, or of a merger or consolidation of Huntington with or into another corporation or other entity, unless in each case (x) the shares of Huntington preferred stock remain outstanding or, in the case of any such merger or consolidation with respect to which Huntington is not the surviving or resulting entity, are converted into or exchanged for preference securities of the surviving or resulting entity or its ultimate parent, and (y) such shares remaining outstanding or such preference securities, as the case may be, have such rights, preferences, privileges and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions thereof, taken as a whole, as are not materially less favorable to the holders thereof than the rights, preferences, privileges, and voting powers, and limitations and restrictions thereof, of Huntington preferred stock immediately prior to such consummation, taken as a whole.

When determining the application of the supermajority voting rights described above, the authorization, creation, and issuance of, or an increase in the authorized or issued amount of, junior stock, or any series of preferred stock (or any securities convertible into or exchangeable or exercisable for such junior stock or preferred stock), that ranks equally with the Huntington preferred stock with respect to the payment of dividends (whether such dividends are cumulative or non-cumulative) and as to distributions upon Huntington's liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up, shall not be deemed to adversely affect the powers, preferences, privileges, or rights, and shall not require the affirmative vote or consent, of the holders of any outstanding shares of Huntington preferred stock.

Supermajority voting rights described above shall not apply if, at or prior to the time when any such vote or consent would otherwise be required, all outstanding shares of Huntington preferred stock have been redeemed, or called for redemption upon proper notice and sufficient funds for the redemption have been deposited in trust for such redemption.

Depository, Transfer Agent, and Registrar

American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC will be the depository, transfer agent, and registrar for the Huntington preferred stock. Huntington may, in its sole and absolute discretion, remove the depository in accordance with the agreement between Huntington and the depository; provided that Huntington will appoint a successor depository who will accept such appointment prior to the effectiveness of its removal.

Depository Shares

Each Huntington depository share will represent a 1/40th interest in one share of Huntington preferred stock, and will be evidenced by depository receipts. The shares of Huntington preferred stock will be deposited with American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC, as depository, under the deposit agreement. Huntington will assume the obligations of FirstMerit under the deposit agreement upon the completion of the second step merger. Huntington will instruct the depository to treat the shares of Huntington preferred stock received by it in exchange for shares of FirstMerit preferred stock as newly deposited securities as provided in the deposit agreement. The FirstMerit depository shares will then become Huntington depository shares and thereafter represent shares of Huntington preferred stock. Huntington intends to list such Huntington depository shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN following the completion of the second step merger. Subject to the terms of the deposit agreement, each holder of an Huntington depository share will be entitled, through the depository, in proportion to the applicable fraction of a share of Huntington preferred stock represented by such Huntington depository share, to all the rights and preferences of the Huntington preferred stock represented thereby (including dividend, voting, redemption, and liquidation rights).

Dividends and Other Distributions

Each dividend payable on a depositary share will be in an amount equal to 1/40th of the dividend declared and payable on the related share of the Huntington preferred stock.

Table of Contents

The depositary will distribute any cash dividends or other cash distributions received in respect of the deposited Huntington preferred stock to the record holders of Huntington depositary shares relating to the underlying Huntington preferred stock in proportion to the number of Huntington depositary shares held by the holders. If Huntington makes a distribution other than in cash, the depositary will distribute any such amounts of the securities or property received by it to the record holders of Huntington depositary shares entitled to those distributions, unless it determines, after consultation with Huntington, that the distribution cannot be made proportionally among those holders or that it is not feasible to make a distribution. In that event, the depositary may, with Huntington's approval, adopt such method as it deems equitable and practicable for the purpose of effecting such distribution, including the sale of the property and distribution of the net proceeds from the sale to the holders of the Huntington depositary shares.

Record dates for the payment of dividends and other matters relating to the Huntington depositary shares will be the same as the corresponding record dates for the Huntington preferred stock.

The amounts distributed to holders of Huntington depositary shares will be reduced by any amounts required to be withheld by the depositary or by Huntington on account of taxes or other governmental charges. The depositary may withhold any payment or distribution, or refuse any transfer, exchange, or withdrawal of any Huntington depositary shares or the shares of the Huntington preferred stock, or sell any part or all of the Huntington preferred stock or other property represented by the Huntington depositary shares for the account of the holder thereof, until such taxes, other governmental charges, and other fees and expenses provided for in the deposit agreement are paid.

Redemption of Depositary Shares

If Huntington redeems the Huntington preferred stock represented by the Huntington depositary shares, the Huntington depositary shares will be redeemed from the proceeds received by the depositary resulting from the redemption of the Huntington preferred stock held by the depositary. The redemption price per Huntington depositary share is expected to be equal to 1/40th of the redemption price per share payable with respect to the Huntington preferred stock (or $25 per depositary share), plus any declared and unpaid dividends, without accumulation of any undeclared dividends.

Whenever Huntington redeems shares of Huntington preferred stock held by the depositary, the depositary will redeem, as of the same redemption date, the number of Huntington depositary shares representing shares of Huntington preferred stock so redeemed. The depositary will mail notice of redemption to record holders of the Huntington depositary receipts not less than 30 days and not more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for redemption of the Huntington preferred stock and the related Huntington depositary shares.

Withdrawal of the Huntington preferred stock

Unless the depositary shares have previously been called for redemption, any holder of depositary shares may receive the number of whole shares of the Huntington preferred stock and any money or other property represented by those depositary receipts after surrendering the depositary receipts at the corporate trust office of the depositary, paying any taxes, charges and fees provided for in the deposit agreement and complying with any other requirement of the deposit agreement. Holders of depositary shares making these withdrawals will be entitled to receive whole shares of the Huntington preferred stock, but holders of whole shares of the Huntington preferred stock will not be entitled to deposit that Huntington preferred stock under the deposit agreement or to receive depositary receipts for that Huntington preferred stock after withdrawal. If the depositary shares surrendered by the holder in connection with withdrawal exceed the number of depositary shares that represent the number of whole shares of the Huntington preferred stock to be withdrawn, the depositary will deliver to that holder at the same time a new depositary receipt evidencing the excess number of depositary shares.

Voting the Huntington preferred stock

Because each depositary share represents a 1/40th interest in a share of the Huntington preferred stock, holders of depositary receipts will be entitled to 1/40th of a vote per depositary share under those limited circumstances in which holders of the Huntington preferred stock are entitled to vote.

When the depositary receives notice of any meeting at which the holders of the Huntington preferred stock are entitled to vote, the depositary will mail or transmit by such other authorized method to the record holders of the Huntington depositary shares relating to the Huntington preferred stock the following information: (i) such information as is contained in the notice of meeting; (ii) a statement that the holders of Huntington depositary shares at the close of business on a specified record date (as described below) will be entitled to instruct the depositary as to the exercise of voting rights pertaining to the amount of Huntington preferred stock represented by their respective Huntington depositary shares; and (iii) a brief statement as to the manner in which such instruction may be given. Each record holder of the Huntington depositary shares on the record date, which will be the same date as the record date for the Huntington preferred stock, may instruct the depositary to vote the amount of the Huntington preferred stock represented by the holder's Huntington depositary shares. To the extent possible, the depositary will vote the amount of the Huntington preferred stock represented by Huntington depositary shares in accordance with the instructions it receives. Huntington will agree to take all reasonable actions that the depositary determines are necessary to enable the depositary to vote as instructed. To the extent any such instructions request the voting of a fractional interest of a share of Huntington preferred stock, the depositary will aggregate such interest with all other fractional interests resulting from requests with the same voting instructions and will vote the number of whole votes resulting from such aggregation in accordance with the instructions received in such requests. If the depositary does not receive specific instructions from the holders of any Huntington depositary shares representing the Huntington preferred stock, it will not vote the amount of the Huntington preferred stock represented by such Huntington depositary shares.

Preemptive and Conversion Rights

Depositary, Transfer Agent, and Registrar

American Stock Transfer & Trust Company, LLC will be the depositary, transfer agent, and registrar for the Huntington depositary shares.

Form of Preferred Stock and Depositary Shares

The Huntington depositary shares will initially be issued in book-entry form through DTC. The Huntington preferred stock will be issued in registered form to the depositary.

Listing of Depositary Shares

Huntington intends to list such Huntington depositary shares on the NASDAQ under the symbol HBANN following the completion of the second step merger.

The Deposit Agreement

Amendment and Termination of the Deposit Agreement

Huntington may amend the form of depositary receipt evidencing the depositary shares and any provision of the deposit agreement at any time and, from time to time by agreement with the depositary. However, any amendment that (i) imposes additional charges, (ii) materially and adversely alters the rights of the holders of depositary shares or (iii) are materially and adversely inconsistent with the rights granted to the holders of Huntington preferred stock, will not be effective unless the holders of at least a majority of the depositary shares

then outstanding approve the amendment. Huntington will make no amendment that impairs the right of any holder of depositary shares to receive shares of the Huntington preferred stock and any money or other property represented by those depositary shares, except in order to comply with mandatory provisions of applicable law. Holders who retain or acquire their depositary receipts after an amendment becomes effective will be deemed to have agreed to the amendment and will be bound by the amended deposit agreement.

The deposit agreement will automatically terminate if:

there has been made a final distribution in respect of the Huntington preferred stock in connection with Huntington's liquidation, dissolution, or winding-up, and such distribution has been distributed to the holders of Huntington depositary shares; or there has been consent of holders of Huntington depositary shares representing not less than two-thirds of the Huntington depositary shares outstanding.

Fees, Charges, and Expenses

Huntington will pay all transfer and other taxes and governmental charges arising solely from the existence of the depositary arrangements regarding any Huntington depositary shares offered by use of this joint proxy statement/prospectus. Huntington will also pay all charges of the depositary in connection with the initial deposit of the Huntington preferred stock and the initial issuance of the Huntington depositary shares, and any redemption or exchange of the Huntington preferred stock at the option of Huntington.

Resignation and Removal of Depositary

The depositary may resign at any time by delivering a notice to Huntington of its election to do so. Huntington may remove the depositary at any time. Any such resignation or removal will take effect upon the appointment of a successor depositary and its acceptance of such appointment. The successor depositary must be appointed within 60 days after delivery of the notice of resignation or removal and be a bank or trust company with a principal office in the United States and having a combined capital and surplus of at least $100 million. If a successor is not appointed within 60 days, the outgoing depositary may petition a court to do so.

Miscellaneous

The depositary will not be liable for any failures, delays or losses arising (directly or indirectly) out of conditions beyond its reasonable control. The depositary will not be obligated to appear in, prosecute, or defend any legal proceeding relating to any Huntington depositary shares or deposited Huntington preferred stock unless reasonably satisfactory indemnity is furnished.

COMPARISON OF STOCKHOLDERS RIGHTS

If the merger is completed, FirstMerit common shareholders will receive shares of Huntington common stock in the merger. Huntington is organized under the laws of the State of Maryland and FirstMerit is organized under the laws of the State of Ohio. The following is a summary of certain material differences between (1) the current rights of FirstMerit common shareholders under the FirstMerit articles of incorporation and code of regulations and Ohio law and (2) the current rights of Huntington common stockholders under the Huntington charter and bylaws and Maryland law.

The following summary is not a complete statement of the rights of stockholders of the two companies or a complete description of the specific provisions referred to below. The summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to FirstMerit and Huntington's governing documents, which we urge you to read carefully and in their entirety. Copies of Huntington's and FirstMerit's governing documents have been filed with the SEC. To find out where copies of these documents can be obtained, please see Where You Can Find More Information.

AUTHORIZED CAPITAL STOCK

The FirstMerit articles of incorporation authorize FirstMerit to issue up to 300,000,000 shares of common stock, without par value, and 7,000,000 shares of serial preferred stock, without par value. As of the FirstMerit record date, there were 166,462,448 shares of FirstMerit common stock outstanding, and 100,000 shares of FirstMerit preferred stock outstanding.

The Huntington charter authorizes Huntington to issue up to 1,500,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, and 6,617,808 shares of serial preferred stock, par value $0.01 per share. As of the Huntington record date, there were 798,867,394 shares of Huntington common stock outstanding, 362,506 shares of Huntington 8.50% Series A Non-Cumulative Perpetual Convertible Preferred Stock outstanding, 35,500 shares of Huntington Floating Rate Series B Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock outstanding, and 400,000 shares of Huntington 6.250% Series D Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock outstanding.

VOTING

Under Ohio law, each share of common stock of FirstMerit is entitled to one vote on each matter properly submitted to the shareholders for their vote.

Under Huntington's charter and bylaws, each share of common stock of Huntington is entitled to one vote on each matter submitted to a vote at a meeting of stockholders.

RIGHTS OF PREFERRED STOCK

The FirstMerit articles of incorporation provide that the FirstMerit board of directors is authorized, in respect of any unissued shares of preferred stock, to fix or change the series designation, authorized number of shares in each series, dividend rates, dividend payment dates, redemption

The Huntington charter provides that the Huntington board of directors may classify and reclassify any unissued shares of serial preferred stock by authorizing the issuance of serial preferred stock in one or more series and establishing the preferences, conversion or other rights, voting powers, restrictions, limitations as to dividends, qualifications, term or conditions of redemption, or other rights of such series, all of which shall be set forth in the articles supplementary providing for the issuance of such serial preferred stock.

rights and prices, terms and amounts of any sinking funds, liquidation preferences, terms of conversion, restrictions on issuance of other classes of securities, voting rights, and right to elect up to two preferred stock directors.

As of the FirstMerit record date, there were 100,000 shares of FirstMerit 5.875% Non-Cumulative Perpetual Preferred Stock, Series A outstanding.

SIZE OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The FirstMerit code of regulations currently provides that the size of the FirstMerit board of directors may be fixed or changed at a meeting of shareholders called for the purpose of electing directors at which a quorum is present, or by the board of directors by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the authorized number of directors. However, without the approval of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power of FirstMerit, the number of directors may not be less than 9 or more than 15.

The Huntington charter provides that the size of the Huntington board of directors may be increased or decreased pursuant to Huntington's bylaws but may not be less than 3. The Huntington bylaws currently provide that a majority of the entire board of directors may alter the number of directors, but such number may not be more than 25 or less than 3.

The current size of the FirstMerit board of directors is 14 directors.

The current size of the Huntington board of directors is 11 directors. In connection with the merger agreement, at the effective time of the merger, the size of the Huntington board of directors will be increased by 4, and 4 former FirstMerit directors selected by Huntington in consultation with FirstMerit will be elected to the Huntington board of directors, which will then consist of 15 directors.

CLASSES OF DIRECTORS

REMOVAL OF DIRECTORS

The FirstMerit code of regulations currently provides that a director may be removed by a vote of the holders of a majority of the voting power entitling them to elect directors in place of the director to be removed.

The Huntington charter and bylaws provide that, subject to the rights of holders of one or more classes of stock other than common stock to elect or remove one or more directors, any director (or the entire board) may be removed at any time but only for cause and only by the affirmative vote of at least two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast generally in the election of directors.

FILLING VACANCIES ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Under the FirstMerit code of regulations, in the event of the occurrence of any vacancy or vacancies of the FirstMerit board of directors, however caused, the remaining directors, though less than a majority of the whole authorized number of directors, may, by the vote of a majority of their number, fill any such vacancy for the unexpired term.

Under Huntington's bylaws, stockholders may elect a successor to fill a vacancy on the board of directors which results from the retirement or removal of a director. Huntington's bylaws also provide that a majority of the remaining directors, whether or not sufficient to constitute a quorum, may fill a vacancy which results from any cause except an increase in the number of directors, and a majority of the entire board of directors may fill a vacancy which results from an increase in the number of directors. Any director elected to fill a vacancy shall serve for the remainder of the full term of the directorship in which the vacancy occurred and until a successor is elected and qualifies.

SPECIAL MEETINGS OF STOCKHOLDERS

FirstMerit's code of regulations provides that special meetings of the shareholders of FirstMerit may be called by the president, by the board of directors acting at a meeting, by the majority of the directors acting without a meeting, or by persons who hold not less than 50% of all shares outstanding and entitled to vote thereat.

Huntington's bylaws provide that the chairman of the board of directors, the president, the chief executive officer, the board of directors, or the secretary on the written request of stockholders entitled to cast at least a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting, may call a special meeting of the stockholders.

QUORUM

Under the FirstMerit code of regulations, at any meeting of shareholders, the holders of the shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power of FirstMerit present in person or by proxy constitutes a quorum. However, no action required by law, the FirstMerit articles of incorporation, or the FirstMerit code of regulations to be authorized or taken by a designated proportion of the shares of FirstMerit may be authorized or taken by a lesser proportion. Holders of a majority of the shares represented at a meeting of shareholders, whether or not a quorum is present, may adjourn such meeting.

Under the Huntington bylaws, unless Maryland law or the Huntington charter provides otherwise, at any meeting of stockholders, the presence in person or by proxy of stockholders entitled to cast a majority of all the votes entitled to be cast at the meeting constitutes a quorum. Once quorum has been established, the stockholders present in person or by proxy at a duly called meeting may continue to transact business until adjournment, notwithstanding the withdrawal from the meeting of enough stockholders to leave fewer than would be required to establish a quorum. Whether or not a quorum is present, a meeting of stockholders may be adjourned from time to time by the chairman of the meeting.

NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDER MEETINGS

FirstMerit's code of regulations provides that written notice of the time, place and purpose of a meeting of shareholders must be given to each shareholder entitled to notice of the meeting. Such notice must be provided not less than 7 days nor more than 60 days before such meeting and may be by mail or by personal delivery.

Huntington's bylaws provide that written or electronic notice of the time and place (and the purpose, if the meeting is a special meeting or notice of the purpose is required by law) of each stockholders' meeting must be provided to each stockholder entitled to vote at the meeting and to each other stockholder entitled by statute to notice of the meeting. Such notice must be provided not less than 10 days nor more than 90 days before each stockholders' meeting and may be by mail, by delivering it personally, by leaving the notice at the stockholder's residence or usual place of business, or by any other means permitted by Maryland law.

ADVANCE NOTICE OF STOCKHOLDER PROPOSALS AND NOMINATIONS

Nominations for the election of directors may be made by the board of directors or by any shareholder entitled to vote in the election of directors. However, any shareholder entitled to vote in the election of directors at a meeting may nominate a director only if written notice of such shareholder's intent to make such nomination or nominations has been given, either by personal delivery or by United States mail, postage prepaid, to FirstMerit's secretary not later than (a) with respect to an election to be held at an annual meeting of shareholders, 90 days in advance of the date established by the FirstMerit regulations for the holding of such meeting, and (b) with respect to an election to be held at a special meeting of shareholders for the election of directors, the close of business on the 7th day following the date on which notice of such meeting is first given to shareholders. Each such notice shall set forth (a) the name and address of the shareholder who intends to make the nomination and of the person or persons to be nominated, (b) a representation that the shareholder is a holder of record of shares of FirstMerit entitled to vote at such meeting and intends to appear in person or by proxy at the meeting to nominate the person or persons specified in the notice, (c) a description of all arrangements or understandings between the shareholder and each nominee and any other person or persons (naming such person or persons) pursuant to which the nomination or nominations are to be made by the shareholder, (d) such other information regarding each nominee proposed by such shareholder as would be required to be included in a proxy statement filed pursuant to the proxy rules of the SEC had the nominee been nominated, or intended to be nominated, by the board of directors, and (e) the consent of each nominee to serve as a director of FirstMerit if so elected. The chairman of the meeting may refuse to acknowledge the nomination of any person not made in compliance with the foregoing procedure.

Huntington's bylaws require that all director nominations and proposals of other business to be considered by the stockholders be properly brought before the meeting. In order for a stockholder nomination or other stockholder proposal to be properly brought before an annual meeting, any Huntington stockholder making such a nomination or proposal must give notice to Huntington's corporate secretary at Huntington's principal executive office not earlier than the 150th day nor later than 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the 120th day prior to the first anniversary of the date of the proxy statement for the preceding year's annual meeting, provided that in the event that the date of the annual meeting is advanced or delayed by more than 30 days from the first anniversary of the date of the preceding year's annual meeting, notice by the stockholder to be timely must be delivered not earlier than the 150th day prior to the date of such annual meeting and not later than 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the later of the 120th day prior to the date of such annual meeting or the 10th day following the day on which public announcement of the date of such meeting is first made. Such stockholder's notice shall set forth certain information as specified in the Huntington bylaws.

In the event that the number of directors to be elected to the Huntington board of directors is increased, and there is no public announcement of such action at least 130 days prior to the first anniversary of the date of the proxy statement for the preceding year's annual meeting, a stockholder's notice of nomination for any new positions created by such increase will be considered timely if it is delivered to Huntington's secretary at Huntington's principal executive office not later than 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the 10th day following the day on which such public announcement is first made by Huntington.

Only such business that has been brought before a special meeting pursuant to Huntington's notice of the meeting may be conducted at the special meeting of stockholders. Nominations by stockholders of individuals for election to the board of directors may be made at a special meeting of stockholders at which directors are to be elected only by a stockholder that has duly requested that a special meeting be called for the purpose of electing directors, or provided that the special meeting has been duly called for the purpose of electing directors, by any stockholder who is a stockholder of record both at the time of giving of notice of the special meeting and at the time of the special meeting and who has complied with the notice provisions relating to such nomination. Notice of nomination by a stockholder must be delivered to Huntington's secretary at Huntington's principal executive office not earlier than the 120th day prior to such special meeting and not later than 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on the later of the 90th day prior to such special meeting or the 10th day following the day on which public announcement is first made of the date of the special meeting and of the nominees proposed by the Huntington board of directors to be elected at such meeting.

Stockholder's notice, whether for annual or for special meeting, shall set forth certain information as specified in the Huntington bylaws.

PROXY ACCESS

The FirstMerit code of regulations provides that FirstMerit shall include in its proxy statement for any annual meeting of shareholders the name (and other required information regarding the nominee and supporting statement not exceeding 500 words) of any shareholder nominees for the board of directors, as long as certain requirements are met. This proxy access provision of the FirstMerit code of regulations permits any shareholder or group of up to 20 shareholders who have maintained continuous qualifying ownership (as defined in the FirstMerit code of regulations) of 3% or more of FirstMerit's outstanding capital stock for at least the previous three years (as of the date the notice of nomination is delivered to FirstMerit, as of the record date for determining shareholders entitled to vote at the meeting, and through the meeting date) (we refer to such shareholder as eligible shareholder) to include a specified number of director nominees in FirstMerit's proxy materials for an annual meeting of shareholders.

Written notice of such eligible shareholder's intent to make such nomination or nominations must be given, either by personal delivery or by United States mail, postage prepaid, to FirstMerit's secretary not later than 90 days in advance of the date established by the FirstMerit regulations for the holding of such annual meeting. In addition, at the time of giving such notice, the eligible shareholder seeking to include the shareholder nominee in FirstMerit's proxy materials must expressly elect to have the shareholder's nominee included in FirstMerit's proxy materials.

The maximum number of shareholder nominees (including shareholder nominees that were submitted for inclusion in FirstMerit's proxy materials but were subsequently withdrawn or that the board of directors decides to nominate itself) that may be included in FirstMerit's proxy materials is 20% of the number of directors in office as of the last day on which notice of a nomination may be delivered. If the number of shareholder nominees submitted by eligible shareholders exceeds the maximum number, each eligible shareholder shall select one shareholder nominee for inclusion in FirstMerit's proxy materials until the maximum number is reached, going in the order of the amount (largest to smallest) of shares of FirstMerit's capital stock each eligible shareholder disclosed as owned.

The FirstMerit code of regulations provides that each shareholder seeking to include a director nominee in FirstMerit's proxy materials is required to provide FirstMerit with certain information and undertakings specified in the FirstMerit code of regulations.

A shareholder nominee will not be eligible for inclusion in FirstMerit's proxy materials if: the eligible shareholder does not expressly elect at the time of providing the notice to have its nominee included in FirstMerit's proxy materials; the eligible shareholder who has nominated such shareholder nominee has engaged in or is currently engaged in, or has been or is a participant in another person's solicitation within the meaning of Rule 14a1(l) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, in support of the election of any individual as a director at the meeting other than its shareholder nominee or any nominee of the board; such shareholder nominee is not independent; such shareholder nominee's election would cause FirstMerit to be in violation of its code of regulations, articles of incorporation, the listing standards of the principal exchange upon which FirstMerit's capital stock is traded, or any other applicable state or federal law, rule or regulation; such shareholder nominee is or has been, within the past three years, an officer or director of a competitor, as defined in Section 8 of the Clayton Antitrust Act of 1914; such shareholder nominee is a director, trustee, officer or employee with management functions for any depository institution, depository institution holding company or entity; such shareholder nominee is a named subject of a pending criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations and other minor offenses) or has been convicted in such a criminal proceeding within the past 10 years; such shareholder nominee is subject to any order of the type specified in Rule 506(d) of Regulation D promulgated under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended; the information provided by the shareholder nominee or the applicable eligible shareholder was untrue in any material respect or omitted to state a material fact necessary in order to make the statement made, in the light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, as determined by the FirstMerit board of directors; or the eligible shareholder or the applicable shareholder nominee otherwise contravenes any of the agreements or representations made by such eligible shareholder or the shareholder nominee or otherwise fails to comply with its obligations.

HUNTINGTONANTI-TAKEOVER PROVISIONS AND OTHER STOCKHOLDER PROTECTIONS

The Ohio Control Share Acquisition Act (the Acquisition Act) generally prohibits a control share acquisition unless the shareholders approve the transaction at a special meeting, at which a quorum is present, by both the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the corporation and by the affirmative vote of a majority of the voting power of the corporation excluding the voting power of interested shares. Control share acquisition means any acquisition of an issuer's shares which would entitle the acquirer, immediately after such acquisition, directly or indirectly, to exercise or direct the exercise of voting power of the issuer in the election of directors within any of the following ranges of such voting power: (1) one-fifth or more but less than one-third of such voting power; (2) one-third or more but less than a majority of such voting power; or (3) a majority or more of such voting power.

The Acquisition Act does not apply to a corporation if its articles of incorporation or code of regulations so provide. FirstMerit has opted out of the Acquisition Act.

Maryland law includes a control share acquisition statute that, in general terms, provides that where a person acquires issued and outstanding shares of a Maryland corporation's voting stock (referred to as control shares) within one of several specified ranges (one-tenth or more but less than one-third, one-third or more but less than a majority or a majority or more), approval of the control share acquisition by the corporation's stockholders must be obtained before the acquiring person may vote the control shares. Control shares do not include shares that the person is then entitled to vote as a result of having previously obtained stockholder approval or shares acquired directly from the corporation. The required stockholder vote is two-thirds of all votes entitled to be cast, excluding interested shares, defined as shares held by the acquiring person, officers of the corporation and employees who are also directors of the corporation. A corporation may, however, opt out of the control share statute through a charter or bylaw provision.

Huntington has not opted out of the control share acquisition statute. Accordingly, the Maryland control share acquisition statute applies to acquisitions of

Table of ContentsFIRSTMERIT

Ohio's merger moratorium statute prohibits certain transactions (including disposition of assets, mergers and consolidations, voluntary dissolutions and transfer of shares) between an Ohio corporation with 50 or more shareholders and a beneficial owner of 10% or more of the outstanding voting stock of the corporation (interested shareholder) for at least three years after such interested shareholder attains 10% ownership, unless the board of directors of the corporation approves the transaction before such shareholder attains 10% ownership. Subsequent to the three-year period, a business combination may take place provided that certain conditions are satisfied, including: (1) the board of directors approves the transaction; (2) the transaction is approved by the holders of shares with at least two-thirds of the voting power of the corporation (or a different proportion set forth in the articles of incorporation), including at least a majority of the disinterested shareholders; or (3) the business combination results in shareholders, other than the interested shareholder, receiving a fair price plus interest for their shares.

FirstMerit has not opted out of the merger moratorium statute.

HUNTINGTON

Maryland law includes a business combination statute that prohibits certain business combinations (including a merger, consolidation, share exchange or, in certain circumstances specified under the statute, an asset transfer or issuance or reclassification of equity securities) between a Maryland corporation and an interested stockholder (one who beneficially owns, directly or indirectly, 10% or more of the voting power of the corporation's outstanding voting stock or an affiliate or associate of the corporation who, at any time within the two-year period prior to the date in question, was the beneficial owner, directly or indirectly, of 10% or more of the voting power of the then outstanding voting stock of the corporation) for a period of five years after the interested stockholder first becomes an interested stockholder, unless the transaction has been approved by the board of directors before the interested stockholder became an interested stockholder or the corporation has exempted itself from the statute. After the five-year period has elapsed, a corporation subject to the statute may not complete a business combination with an interested stockholder unless (1) the transaction has been recommended by the board of directors and (2) the transaction has been approved by affirmative vote of at least (A) 80% of the votes entitled to be cast by the holders of outstanding shares of voting stock of the corporation and (B) two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast by holders of voting stock of the corporation other than shares held by the interested stockholder with whom (or with whose affiliate) the business combination is to be effected or held by an affiliate or associate of the interested stockholder. This approval requirement need not be met if certain fair price and terms criteria have been satisfied.

Huntington has not opted out of the Maryland business combination statute.

The MGCL permits a Maryland corporation with a class of equity securities registered under the Exchange Act and at least three independent directors to elect to be subject, by provision in its charter or bylaws or a resolution of its board of directors and notwithstanding any contrary provision in the charter or bylaws, to any or all of the following five provisions:

a two-thirds vote requirement for removing a director;

a requirement that the number of directors be fixed only by vote of the directors;

a requirement that a vacancy on the board be filled only by the remaining directors and for the remainder of the full term of the class of directors in which the vacancy occurred; or a majority requirement for the calling of a stockholder-requested special meeting of stockholders.

Through provisions in the Huntington charter and bylaws unrelated to these provisions of the MGCL, Huntington already (1) requires a two-thirds vote for the removal of any director from its board of directors, which removal will be allowed only for cause, (2) vests in its board of directors the exclusive power to fix the number of directorships, and (3) requires, unless called by the chairman of the board of directors, the president, the chief executive officer or the board of directors, the request of stockholders entitled to cast not less than a majority of all votes entitled to be cast on a matter at such meeting to call a special meeting to consider and vote on any matter that may properly be considered at a meeting of stockholders. In the future, the Huntington board of directors may elect, without stockholder approval, to create a classified board or elect to be subject to one or more of the other provisions of the MGCL described above.

Pursuant to the Ohio's anti-greenmail statute, a public corporation formed in Ohio may recover profits that a shareholder makes from the sale of the corporation's securities within 18 months after making a proposal to acquire control or publicly disclosing the possibility of a proposal to acquire control. The corporation may not, however, recover from a person who proves either: (1) that his sole purpose in making the proposal was to succeed in acquiring control of the corporation and there were reasonable grounds to believe that he would acquire control of the corporation; or (2) that his purpose was not to increase any profit or decrease any loss in the stock. Also, before the corporation may obtain any recovery, the aggregate amount of the profit realized by such person must exceed $250,000. Any shareholder may bring an action on behalf of a corporation if the corporation refuses to bring an action to recover these profits.

FIRSTMERIT

Ohio law further requires that any offeror making a control bid for any securities of a subject company pursuant to a tender offer must file information specified in the Ohio Securities Act with the Ohio Division of Securities when the bid commences. The Ohio Division of Securities must then decide whether it will suspend the bid under the statute. If it does so, it must make a determination within three calendar days after the hearing has been completed and no later than 14 calendar days after the date on which the suspension is imposed. For this purpose, a control bid is the purchase of, or an offer to purchase, any equity security of a subject company from a resident of Ohio that would, in general, result in the offeror acquiring 10% or more of the outstanding shares of such company. A subject company includes any company with both: (1) its principal place of business or principal executive office in Ohio or assets located in Ohio with a fair market value of at least $1,000,000; and (2) more than 10% of its record or beneficial equity security holders are resident in Ohio, more than 10% of its equity securities are owned of record or beneficially by Ohio residents, or more than 1,000 of its record or beneficial equity security holders are resident in Ohio.

LIMITATION OF PERSONAL LIABILITY OF OFFICERS AND DIRECTORS

Under Ohio law, a director is not liable for monetary damages unless it is proved by clear and convincing evidence that his action or failure to act was undertaken with deliberate intent to cause injury to the corporation or with reckless disregard for the best interests of the corporation.

Huntington's charter provides that no director or officer of Huntington will be personally liable to Huntington or its stockholders for money damages, to the fullest extent permitted by Maryland law.

The MGCL permits a Maryland corporation to include in its charter a provision limiting the liability of its directors and officers to the corporation and its stockholders for money damages except for liability resulting from (a) actual receipt of an improper benefit or profit in money, property or services or (b) active and deliberate dishonesty established by a final judgment as being material to the cause of action.

INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS AND INSURANCE

Under the OGCL, a corporation may indemnify directors and officers from liability, other than in an action by or in the right of the corporation, by reason of the fact that the person is or was a director or officer, if

Under Maryland law, reasonable expenses may be advanced to a present or former director, or to an officer, employee, or agent who is not a director to the same extent that they may be advanced to a

such person acted in good faith and in a manner reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the corporation, and with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, if such person had no reasonable cause to believe his or her conduct was unlawful. In the case of an action by or in the right of a corporation, a person may not be indemnified (i) if the person seeking indemnification is found liable for negligence or misconduct in the performance of his duty to the corporation, unless the court in which such action was brought determines such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification or (ii) if liability asserted against such person concerns certain unlawful distributions. The indemnification provisions of the OGCL require indemnification of a director who has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action that he was a party to by reason of the fact that he is or was a director of the corporation. The indemnification authorized by the OGCL is not exclusive and is in addition to any other rights granted to directors under the articles of incorporation or regulations of the corporation or to any agreement between the directors and the corporation.

Ohio law provides that a director (but not an officer, employee or agent) of an Ohio corporation is entitled to mandatory advancement of expenses, including attorneys fees, incurred in defending any action, including derivative actions, brought against the director, provided that the director agrees to cooperate with the corporation concerning the matter and to repay the amount advanced if it is proven by clear and convincing evidence that the director's act or failure to act was done with deliberate intent to cause injury to the corporation or with reckless disregard for the corporation's best interests. Advancement of expenses to officers, employees and agents on the other hand is discretionary.

Pursuant to its articles of incorporation, FirstMerit may indemnify any director or officer, any former director or officer of FirstMerit and any person who is or has served at the request of FirstMerit as a director, officer or trustee of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, trust or other enterprise (and his heirs, executors and administrators)

action of the board of directors, or by contract. The director, officer, employee, or agent must give to the corporation a written affirmation of his or her good faith belief that the standard of conduct necessary for indemnification by the corporation has been met, and a written undertaking providing that if it is ultimately determined that the standard of conduct has not been met, said director, officer, employee, or agent will repay the amount advanced.

Under Maryland law, unless provided otherwise by the corporation's charter (which Huntington's charter does not), indemnification is mandatory if a present or former director or an officer has been successful on the merits or otherwise in the defense of any proceeding arising from his or her service as a director or officer unless such indemnification is not otherwise permitted as described in the following sentence. Maryland law permits a Maryland corporation to indemnify its present and former directors and officers, among others, against judgments, penalties, fines, settlements and reasonable expenses actually incurred by them in connection with any proceeding to which they may be made a party by reason of their service in those or other capacities unless it is established that (1) the act or omission of the director or officer was material to the matter giving rise to the proceeding and was committed in bad faith or was the result of active and deliberate dishonesty, (2) the director or officer actually received an improper personal benefit in money, property or services, or (3) in the case of a criminal proceeding, the director or officer had reasonable cause to believe his or her act or omission was unlawful. In addition to the foregoing, a court of appropriate jurisdiction may, under certain circumstances, order indemnification if it determines that the director or officer is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnification in view of all the relevant circumstances, whether or not the director or officer has met the standards of conduct set forth in the preceding sentence or has been adjudged liable on the against expenses, including attorneys' fees, judgments, fines and amounts paid in settlement, actually and reasonably incurred by him by reason of the fact that he is or was such director, officer or trustee in connection with any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, basis that a personal benefit was improperly received in a proceeding charging improper personal benefit to the director or the officer. If the proceeding was an action by or in the right of the corporation or involved a determination that the director or officer whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative, to the full extent permitted by applicable law, as the same may be in effect from time to time. The indemnification provided for in the FirstMerit articles of incorporation shall not be deemed to restrict the right of FirstMerit to (i) indemnify employees, agents and others as permitted by such law, (ii) purchase and maintain insurance or provide similar protection on behalf of directors, officers or such other persons against liabilities asserted against them or expenses incurred by them arising out of their service to FirstMerit as contemplated by the FirstMerit articles of incorporation, and (iii) enter into agreements with such directors, officers, employees, agents or others indemnifying them against any and all liabilities (or such lesser indemnification as may be provided in such agreements) asserted against them or incurred by them arising out of their service to FirstMerit as contemplated by the FirstMerit articles of incorporation.

received an improper personal benefit, however, no indemnification may be made if the individual is adjudged liable to the corporation, except to the extent of expenses approved by a court of appropriate jurisdiction.

Maryland law also provides that, where indemnification is permissible, it must be authorized for a specific proceeding after a determination has been made that indemnification of the director or officer is permissible in the circumstances because the director or officer has met the standard of care described above. Such determination must be made (1) by a majority vote of a quorum of the board of directors consisting of directors who are not parties to the proceeding (or if such a quorum cannot be obtained, the determination may be made by a majority vote of a committee of the board of directors which consists solely of one or more directors who are not parties to the proceeding and who were designated to act by a majority of the full board of directors), (2) by special legal counsel selected by the board of directors or by a committee of the board of directors by vote as set forth in the preceding sentence (or if the requisite quorum of the board of directors cannot be obtained and the committee cannot be established, a majority of the full board of directors, including directors who are parties, may select the special counsel), or (3) by a vote of the stockholders other than those stockholders who are directors or officers and a party to the proceedings.

In addition, Maryland law provides that a corporation may not indemnify a director or officer or advance expenses for a proceeding brought by that director or officer against the corporation, except for a proceeding brought to enforce indemnification, or unless the charter, bylaws, resolution of the board of directors, or an agreement approved by the board of directors expressly provides otherwise.

Huntington's charter provides that the corporation will indemnify its directors to the full extent permitted by law; its officers to the same extent it indemnifies its directors; and any officers who are not directors to the further extent as determined by the board of directors and consistent with the law.

The Huntington bylaws obligate it to indemnify, to the maximum extent permitted by Maryland law, any present or former director or officer or any individual who, while a director or officer of Huntington and at Huntington's request, serves or has served as a director, officer, partner, trustee, member or manager of another corporation, real estate investment trust, limited liability company, partnership, joint venture, trust, employee benefit plan or other enterprise and who is made or threatened to be made a party or a witness to the proceeding by reason of his or her service in that capacity from and against any claim or liability to which that individual may become subject or which that individual may incur by reason of his or her service in any of the foregoing capacities and to pay or reimburse his or her reasonable expenses in advance of final disposition of a proceeding. The Huntington bylaws also permit it to indemnify and advance expenses to any individual who served a predecessor of Huntington in any of the capacities described above and any employees or agents of Huntington or a predecessor of Huntington.

AMENDMENTS TO CHARTER AND BYLAWS

FirstMerit's articles of incorporation may be amended or new articles of incorporation may be adopted by the shareholders at a meeting held for such purpose by an affirmative vote of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power.

In order to amend the Huntington charter, Maryland law requires an affirmative vote of holders of two-thirds of stock entitled to vote on the matter.

FirstMerit's code of regulations may be amended or new code of regulations may be adopted by the shareholders at a meeting held for such purpose by an affirmative vote of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power on such proposal, or without a meeting by written consent of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power on such proposal.

In order to amend or repeal the Huntington bylaws, the Huntington charter requires an affirmative vote of two-thirds of the votes entitled to be cast by the outstanding shares of voting stock of Huntington. The Huntington board of directors also has the power to amend the Huntington bylaws.

ACTION BY WRITTEN CONSENT OF THE STOCKHOLDERS

Under Ohio law, any shareholder action to be taken by written consent without a meeting must be done unanimously. However, the code of regulations of FirstMerit provides that the code of regulations may be amended without a meeting by written consent of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the Under Maryland law, common stockholders may act without a meeting if a unanimous written or electronic consent which describes the action is given by all the stockholders entitled to vote on the matter and is filed with the records of stockholders meetings. If authorized by the charter, holders of common stock may act by the voting power on such proposal. The code of regulations also provides that any contract, act, or transaction, prospective or past, of FirstMerit, or of the board of directors, or of the officers may be approved or ratified without a meeting by written consent of the holders of shares entitling them to exercise a majority of the voting power of FirstMerit.

Huntington's charter does not address stockholder action without a meeting and, therefore, unanimous consent is required for stockholder action without a meeting.

STOCKHOLDER RIGHTS PLAN

CHANGE IN ACCOUNTANTS

On November 10, 2014, Huntington determined not to renew the engagement of its independent registered public accounting firm, Deloitte & Touche LLP, and appointed PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP as its new independent registered public accounting firm to audit Huntington's consolidated financial statements for the year ending December 31, 2015. The change was the result of a competitive bidding process involving several accounting firms. The decision not to renew the engagement of Deloitte & Touche LLP and to retain PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP was made by the Audit Committee of the Huntington board of directors. Such dismissal became effective upon Deloitte &

Touche LLP's completion of its procedures on the financial statements of Huntington as of and for the year ended December 31, 2014 and the filing of the related Form 10-K, except with respect to audit and audit-related services pertaining to the year ended December 31, 2014, as required by Huntington.

Table of Contents

The audit reports of Deloitte & Touche LLP on the consolidated financial statements of Huntington and subsidiaries as of and for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2014, did not contain any adverse opinion or disclaimer of opinion, nor were they qualified or modified as to uncertainty, audit scope, or accounting principles. During the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2014, there were no disagreements between Huntington and Deloitte & Touche LLP on any matter of accounting principles or practices, financial statement disclosure, or auditing scope or procedure (within the meaning of Item 304(a)(1)(iv) of Regulation S-K) and there were no reportable events (as defined by Item 304(a)(1)(v) of Regulation S-K).

During the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2014, neither Huntington nor anyone on its behalf consulted with PricewaterhouseCoopers LLP regarding any of the matters or events set forth in Item 304(a)(2)(i) and (ii) of Regulation S-K.
