EXPLANATORY NOTE

HCI Group, Inc. is filing this Form 8-K/A to amend Item 1.01 of the Current Report on Form 8-K, which was originally filed by us with the Securities and Exchange Commission on June 20, 2016. Paragraph five of this Form 8-K/A has been amended from the June 20, 2016 Current Report on Form 8-K to clarify and provide additional information about the risk to be retained during our reinsurance program year June 1, 2016 through May 31, 2017 by our wholly owned subsidiary, Claddaugh Casualty Insurance Company Ltd.

Section 1. Registrant's Business and Operations

Item 1.01 Entry into a Material Definitive Agreement

To mitigate risk from hurricanes and other catastrophes, each year our principal operating subsidiary, Homeowners Choice Property & Casualty Insurance Company, Inc. implements a comprehensive reinsurance program whereby we pay premiums to other entities that agree to indemnify us against costs associated with policyholder claims caused by certain catastrophic events. We have secured our reinsurance program for the year June 1, 2016 through May 31, 2017 by entering into contracts with multiple private reinsurance companies and the State Board of Administration of Florida, which administers the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund.

The private reinsurance companies include Renaissance Reinsurance Ltd., Endurance Specialty Insurance Ltd., Everest Reinsurance Company, Chubb Tempest Reinsurance Ltd., Amlin AG, various Lloyd's syndicates and National Liability & Fire Insurance Company, which is an affiliate of Berkshire Hathaway, Inc. Portions of the reinsurance program are secured through our own reinsurance subsidiary, Claddaugh Casualty Insurance Company Ltd., which has mitigated a portion of its risk through multiple retrocession contracts.

The reinsurance contracts offer various coverages, limits, retentions and durations. The private reinsurance contracts cover, in general, hurricanes, tropical storms, tornados, floods, and other large events. The Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund agreement covers storms designated as hurricanes by the National Hurricane Center. Our program provides coverage for an event up to $972 million (excluding flood) which according to catastrophe models approved by the Florida Office of Insurance Regulation is sufficient to cover the probable maximum loss resulting from a 1 in 165 year event based on projected exposure on September 30, 2016. The total premiums for the program (including retrocession premiums paid by Claddaugh) is approximately $127 million with significant portions of the premium payments divided into installments throughout the contract year. Retention under the contracts, excluding the flood reinsurance program, is approximately $16 million in a first event and $20 million in a second event. Following an event that would exhaust coverage provided by the Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund, we would have coverage for a subsequent event as large as $670 million. To the extent we experience maximum covered losses from a single event, we will also incur approximately $10 million of liability in connection with our purchase of reinstatement premium protection to cover the top three layers of our catastrophe reinsurance program. Our private reinsurers are AM Best rated A- or better or have fully collateralized their potential obligations to us.

The Florida Hurricane Catastrophe Fund component of our program is estimated to cover 45% of $942 million of first event loss in excess of $300 million at a total estimated cost of approximately $30 million.

We selectively retain risk in Claddaugh where doing so displaces the need for third party reinsurance in segments of our reinsurance program that would otherwise command relatively higher premium rates. The reinsurance purchased by Homeowners Choice from Claddaugh provides approximately $40 million of coverage in a first event and $36 million of coverage in a second event in exchange for premiums of $31.2 million. Claddaugh has entered into a retrocession contract with Oxbridge Reinsurance Limited, a NASDAQ-listed Cayman Islands company for which our chief executive officer, Paresh Patel, serves as chairman of the board, and one of our directors, Sanjay Madhu, serves as chief executive officer. The Oxbridge contract provides approximately $6.0 million of first-event coverage in exchange for a $3.4 million premium payment. We believe the rates and terms provided by the contract with Oxbridge to be competitive with market rates and terms. In addition, Claddaugh has entered into a retrocession contract with one third-party reinsurer that provides $12.0 million of second-event coverage in exchange for premiums of approximately $1.4 million. Therefore, Claddaugh's net exposure will be approximately $34 million in a first event and $24 million in a second event. Claddaugh and Oxbridge are each required to maintain funds in separate trust accounts to fully collateralize their exposures.

Certain of our private reinsurance contracts that began June 1, 2016 are multi-year contracts that include retrospective provisions that adjust premiums in the event losses are minimal or zero. In accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, we will recognize an asset in the period in which the absence of loss experience obligates the reinsurer to pay cash or other consideration under the contract. On the contrary, we will derecognize such asset in the period in which a loss experience arises. Such adjustments to the asset, which accrue throughout the contract term, will negatively impact our operating results when a catastrophic loss event occurs. As a result, of the $127 million in total premiums attributable to the contract year that began June 1, 2016, we expect to recognize net reinsurance premiums ceded of approximately $113 million from June 1, 2016 to May 31, 2017 assuming no losses occur during that period.
