Item 1.01 Conflict Minerals Disclosure Report.

This Specialized Disclosure Report on Form SD (“Form SD”) of ZAGG Inc (the “Company”) has been prepared pursuant to Rule 13p-1 and Form SD promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), for the reporting period.

The Company has evaluated its product lines and has determined that certain products the Company contracts to manufacture (the “Covered Products”) contain tin, tungsten, tantalum or gold, which are defined as “Conflict Minerals” under the Exchange Act, and one or more of such minerals are necessary to the functionality or production of certain Covered Products. Based on such determination, the Company conducted a reasonable country of origin inquiry (“RCOI”) to ascertain if any Conflict Minerals in its Covered Products originated in the Democratic Republic of the Congo or an adjoining country (each, a “Covered Country” and collectively, the “Covered Countries”).

To conduct the aforementioned evaluation, the Company created and implemented a Conflict Minerals Policy that requires its suppliers to undertake reasonable due diligence within their supply chains to ensure the Conflict Minerals used in the Company's products do not originate from the Covered Countries. To comply with the Company’s Conflict Minerals Policy, each applicable supplier is required to report annually to the Company regarding Conflict Minerals used in products manufactured for the Company.

The Company notified suppliers of the Conflict Minerals Policy, and conducted a good faith RCOI with respect to the Conflict Minerals within its supply chain.

The Company's due diligence process included the following RCOI procedures:

Evaluation of the Company's product lines to identify those that were likely to contain Conflict Minerals;

Compilation by the Company's purchasing group of a list of suppliers that provided Covered Products which were likely to contain Conflict Minerals;

Preparation and distribution of a Conflict Minerals questionnaire to all suppliers with whom the Company contracted to manufacture Covered Products containing or potentially containing Conflict Minerals during the reporting period.

The questionnaire requires a certification from each supplier regarding whether supplier products contain Conflict Minerals, and a whether those Conflict Minerals used by the supplier are from Conflict Countries; and

Review and validation of supplier responses, including follow-up with suppliers as necessary.

Based on this good faith RCOI, the Company has no reason to believe any of the Conflict Minerals necessary for the functionality or production of the Covered Products during the reporting period originated in the Covered Countries.

The Company continues to update and notify its suppliers as necessary regarding its Conflict Minerals Policy and requires suppliers to respond annually to its questionnaire.
