2.4 Business Review

2.4.1 Production and Operations

In the first three quarters of 2006, China's economy continued to grow at a relatively rapid pace, with a GDP growth rate of 10.7%, whilst the domestic demands for petroleum and petrochemical products both maintained rational growth rates. Crude Oil prices in the world market dropped remarkably, after reaching a new record high. The Company has brought into play our advantages of integrated operations, endeavored to expand resources and the market, improved production and operational performances, reinforced competitive forces in the market, and maintained growth momentum in production of crude oil and natural gas, processing volume of crude oil, sales volume of oil products, as well as outputs of ethylene and synthetic resins.

Exploration & Production: The Company has carefully implemented its resources strategy, with a combined focus on both crude oil and natural gas, accelerated efforts in building up production capacities, and realized stable oil and natural gas production with various growth rates. To be concrete, production of crude oil and natural gas grew by 2.84% and 18.08% on a year-on-year basis, respectively. Moreover, the Company has proactively proceeded with the development activities in Puguang Gas Field.

Refining: The Company has closely tracked the international crude oil market, in adherence to its multi-sourcing tactics for crude oil resources, and brought down costs in crude oil purchasing; besides, the Company adjusted the product mix, striving to meet market demand, as well. As a consequence, the processing volume of crude oil and output of oil products have grown by 4.45% and 2.93% respectively on a year-on-year basis; while the yield of light oil and commercialization ratio have both risen up.

Marketing and distribution: The Company has actively deployed resources, managed to increase the sales volume of oil products steadfastly, and further improved its marketing structure. At the same time, the Company has brought into full play the role of its modern logistics system, and done a good job in organizing the dispatching and transportation of oil products. In the first three quarters of 2006, the domestic sales volume and retail volume of oil products have grown by 7.17% and 17.52% respectively on a year-on-year basis.

Chemicals: The Company has continually enabled chemical facilities to conduct production work on a safe, stable and full-load basis, increased the outputs of major products, optimized product mix, and proceeded steadfastly on concentrated sales of products. In the first three quarters of 2006, production of ethylene and synthetic resins have grown by 17.80% and 13.38% respectively on a year-on-year basis.
