A press release made by JA Solar Holding Co., Ltd. (the “Registrant”) on April 21, 2008 regarding the execution of a new Wafer Supply Agreement between Jiangsu Zhongneng Silicon Technology Development Co., Ltd. and the Registrant.

JA Solar Signs Long-Term Wafer Supply Agreement with GCL Silicon Technology

Hebei, China, April 18, 2008 – JA Solar Holdings Co., Ltd. (“JA Solar”, “the Company”) (NasdaqGM:JASO) announced today that it has signed a new long-term silicon wafer supply agreement with Jiangsu Zhongneng Polysilicon Technology Development Co., Ltd., a subsidiary of GCL Silicon Technology Holdings Ltd. (“GCL Silicon Technology”).

Under the new agreement, GCL Silicon Technology will supply a total of approximately 6,000 MW of silicon wafers to JA Solar from April 2008 to December 2015 at predetermined prices. Delivery of wafers has commenced in the current month.

“We are pleased to forge this strategic relationship with GCL Silicon Technology and look forward to becoming one of its primary business partners,” said Samuel Yang, JA Solar’s Chief Executive Officer. “GCL Silicon Technology has a proven capability in high volume polysilicon manufacturing, and has already started to make contributions to our business. This agreement is an important part of our growth strategy, as we further strengthen and diversify our supply position to support JA Solar’s rapid growth and increased customer demand.”

"JA Solar has been an important customer and we are looking forward to further developing the relationship between the two companies." said Hunter Jiang, President of GCL Silicon Technology. "GCL Silicon Technology is expanding its production capacity to meet the growing demands from customers."
