MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Shareholders:

I am delighted to present this convocation notice for the general shareholders meeting for the 18th fiscal year (from April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2009).

With Japan's mobile phone market reaching maturation, as the customers' values and needs have diversified, we have implemented a variety of reforms working to deliver the best possible service, safety and security to each and every customer. In July 2008, we changed the corporate logo and the corporate colors, and by merging the eight regional subsidiaries into NTT DoCoMo, Inc., we carried out a fundamental review of the business operational structure. We have also continued our efforts to enhance customer satisfaction, including the rollout of handset series that enable customers to choose handsets that meet their values and lifestyles, and the launch of new services, such as the i-concier service, that propose new ways of using mobile handsets.

Further, last October, we announced our medium-term business direction called DOCOMO's Change and Challenge to Achieve New Growth, which lays out the future action plan to be taken going forward.

While the business environment in which we find ourselves has grown even more severe, by steadily undertaking Change and Challenge programs viewed from the customers' perspective, we aim to become a company that contributes to the attainment of a safe and secure society where all people can live comfortably and richly, and to the sustainable development of such a society.

As always, I ask for your continued goodwill and support.

BUSINESS REPORT

(For the fiscal year from April 1, 2008 to March 31, 2009)

Note: The term FY2008 hereinafter refers to the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, and other fiscal years are referred to in a corresponding manner. All non-consolidated figures regarding results of operations in this report were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan (Japanese GAAP), unless otherwise stated herein. Consolidated results contained herein were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP), unless otherwise noted.

1. Business Matters of the Corporate Group

(1) Main Business Segments of the Corporate Group

The main business activities of our Group are summarized in the table below.

Business Segment	Main Business Activities
Mobile phone business	Cellular (FOMA) services, cellular (mova) services, packet communications services, international services, satellite mobile communication services, and sales of handsets and equipments for each service, etc.
Miscellaneous businesses	Credit business, wireless LAN services, IP telephone service, etc.

(2) Developments and Results of Operations for the Corporate Group

The environment of mobile market, which has already entered a mature phase given the high penetration rate, has been getting severer in such areas as customer acquisition and further improvement of customer services among competitors, as well as market entry by new competitors such as MVNOs*. As economic environments deteriorate worldwide, our market environments have been getting uncertain for instance, changes in economic trend started to cast an influence in the form of a decreased number of handsets sold.

In such market environment, we changed our corporate branding with the introduction of New DOCOMO Commitments, and reorganized our group structure by integrating eight regional subsidiaries for the purpose of enhancing the speed and effectiveness of our operations. We also announced our future business direction based on a new action plan DOCOMO's Change and Challenge to Achieve New Growth, and continued our efforts to enhance customer satisfaction by revisiting every aspect of our business from the customer's perspective, such as enhancement of our service plans, rollout of new handset series, introduction of new services, and improvement of our network quality. In addition, we strived for further penetration of our new discount programs and new handset purchase methods, which we believe are appropriate for the current market conditions. These efforts led to a significant decrease of churn rate from the prior fiscal year to 0.50%, significant improvement in the number of lost subscribers using Mobile Number Portability, and the number of net additions is recovering.

Table of Contents

As a result, for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, operating revenues were ¥4,448.0 billion, a decrease of ¥263.8 billion from the prior fiscal year, reflecting the penetration of new discount programs. Operating income was ¥831.0 billion, an increase of ¥22.6 billion from the prior fiscal year, due to a decrease in cost of equipments resulting from the decreased number of handsets sold. Income before income taxes was ¥780.5 billion and net income was ¥471.9 billion.

Note: Consolidated results contained herein were prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (U.S. GAAP).

(6) Group CSR Activities

Adhering to our message We connect people to people, and people to their worlds. We open the door to the future, we will listen to each individual customer and to society, and will drive innovation toward the future to create abundance and convenience in life and culture. We have taken various actions in areas of key importance, such as global environment protection, promotion of universal design products and services, realization of a safe and secure mobile society and disaster preparedness and response. Among these activities, those that are directly related to the products and services offered by us have been promoted under the DOCOMO Anshin Mission aimed at delivering peace of mind.

The main CSR activities for the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 are as follows:

<< Global Environmental Conservation Initiatives >>

As a part of our initiatives to reduce greenhouse gas emissions by cutting electric power consumption by mobile network equipments, we launched the ICT* Ecology Project in February 2009 and began testing cutting-edge technologies.

We collected used cellular handsets (a cumulative total of approximately 69.00 million units as of March 31, 2009) and carried out the docomo Woods reforestation program (at 43 locations on a cumulative basis as of March 31, 2009).

In collaboration with PLDT and SMART, we carried out tree planting activities in the Philippines. Some of the funds for these activities came from the sale of metal recovered from recycled cellular phones collected at docomo Shops and other locations.

<<Adoption of Universal Design>>

At docomo Shops, measures to create barrier-free environments were taken, including the installation of entryway ramps and wheelchair-accessible restrooms (in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009, 149 shops were barrier-free).

In accordance with the universal design concept, we continued working to expand the number of handsets and functions that seniors, children and the disabled can use with peace of mind. Cumulative nationwide sales of the Raku-Raku PHONE series, which has been extremely well-received by numerous customers since its launch in 1999, had surpassed 15.00 million units as of March 31, 2009.

<< Realizing a Safe and Secure Mobile Society >>

In addition to Mobile Phone Safety Classes to teach proper mobile phone use and etiquette as well as how to deal with phone-related problems (since classes were first held in 2004, a total of approximately 9,200 classes were held with approximately 1.49 million attendees, of which approximately 4,600 classes were held in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009 with approximately 790,000 attendees), educational video materials for the Mobile Phone Safety Classes were distributed free of charge to schools and other organizations. In April 2009, we also added a program designed for seniors to protect themselves against crimes such as fraud where the victim is deceived into remitting money to a bank account and other problems.

Access restriction services (filtering services)* were modified to reflect the i-mode filter certification standards of third party organizations. We also began providing the Web Blocking service that restricts access to web sites and Access Restriction Customization that allows customers to make individual settings of web sites to be blocked and those that can be viewed according to their own preferences. We also modified the i-mode Filters service and confirmed with all current i-mode subscribers under 18 who had not yet signed up for Access Restriction services whether they wished to use Access Restriction services, and unless their parents or guardians specifically reported that the services were unnecessary, i-mode Filters were applied to such subscribers automatically. Following the implementation of the Act on Establishment of Enhanced Environment for Youth's Safe and Secure Internet Use on April 1, 2009, we began strongly encouraging the use of access restriction services when customers sign up for i-mode services and are working towards promotion of the services.

- * Services that restrict access to harmful sites:
 - Kids i-mode Filters which allows access only to i-mode menu sites, other than gravure sites and community sites; and
 - i-mode Filters which allows access to public sites other than the sites such as dating sites, illegal sites and community sites.

<<Activities for Disaster Response>>

Constructed backup circuits and facilities by adopting multiple transmission lines or looped transport circuits and installing redundancy systems in communication facilities or decentralizing equipment installations, and reinforced the earthquake resistance of our buildings and radio towers, in an effort to secure means for communication in the event of a disaster.

Since Area Mail* began services in December 2007 to transmit emergency earthquake reports from the Meteorological Agency, there have been nine transmissions in total, and as of March 31, 2009, nine municipalities have introduced and used the systems as a means of disseminating disaster and evacuation information to residents.

In the Iwate Miyagi Inland Earthquake of June 2008, we promptly deployed mobile power supply vehicles and motor power generators to base stations where the power was out, to ensure service in coverage areas. After the earthquake, we provided such services as free mobile phone rentals and recharging at evacuation shelters.

An emergency alert system service that broadcasts disaster and evacuation information to areas prone to natural catastrophe.

<<Social Contribution Activities>>

To assist the education of children, we carried out programs aimed at fostering young talent by sponsoring sports clinics.

Through the Mobile Communication Fund, a non-profit organization that we established in July 2002, we awarded commendations including the presentation of the DOCOMO Mobile Science Prize (four times in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009) to recognize outstanding research results and papers relating to mobile communication, and support foreign students from Asian countries (20 students from seven countries in the fiscal year ended March 31, 2009).

NOTES TO NON-CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Significant accounting policies for the non-consolidated financial statements

Basis of preparation:

The accompanying non-consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in Japan.

1. Valuation of certain assets

(1) Securities

Investments in subsidiaries and affiliates are stated at cost, which is determined by the moving average method.

Available-for-sale securities whose fair value is readily determinable are stated at fair value as of the end of the fiscal year. The holding gains and losses, net of applicable deferred tax assets/liabilities, are directly reported as a separate component of net assets instead of being reflected in earnings. The cost of securities sold is determined by the moving-average method with the exception of the cost of debt securities sold, which is determined by the first-in, first-out method.

Available-for-sale securities whose fair value is not readily determinable are stated at moving-average cost.

(2) Derivative instruments

Derivative instruments are stated at fair value as of the end of the fiscal year.

(3) Inventories

Inventories are stated at cost. The cost of terminal equipment to be sold is determined by the first-in, first-out method. The cost of other inventories is determined by the specific identification method. The amount of inventories in the non-consolidated balance sheet is reduced based on a decrease of profitability.

(Change in Accounting Policy)

Accounting standard for Measurement of Inventories

Effective April 1, 2008, the Company adopted Accounting Standard for Measurement of Inventories (Accounting Standards Board of Japan (ASBJ) Statement No.9 issued on July 5, 2006). In accordance with ASBJ Statement No.9,

Loss on write-off of inventories which had been previously presented in the non-operating expenses has been reclassified to operating expenses.

The adoption of this standard resulted in an increase in operating expenses of telecommunication businesses and supplementary businesses by ¥6,536 million and ¥13,960 million, respectively, and decrease in total operating income by ¥20,497 million.

2. Depreciation and amortization of non-current assets

(1) Property, plant and equipment (except lease assets)

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is computed by the declining balance method with the exception of buildings, which are depreciated on a straight-line basis. The useful lives of the assets are determined by estimation and the residual values of the assets are determined substantially.

(2) Intangible assets (except lease assets)

Intangible assets are amortized on a straight-line basis.

Internal-use software is amortized over the estimated useful lives (5 years or less) on a straight-line basis.

Table of Contents

(3) Lease assets

Financial leases other than those deemed to transfer ownership of properties to lessees

Depreciation of property, plant and equipment is computed by the declining balance method with the exception of buildings, which are depreciated on a straight-line basis. The useful lives of the assets are the term of leases and the residual values of the assets are determined substantially. In a case where the residual value of a leased asset other than a building equals zero, depreciation of such asset is computed by multiplying ten-ninths to the equivalent amount computed by the declining balance method under an assumption that the residual value of the asset is 10% of its acquisition cost. Intangible assets are amortized over the term of leases on a straight-line basis.

(Additional Information)

Effective October 1, 2008, the Company decreased the estimated useful lives of its long lived assets (except for lease assets) related to its 2G mova mobile phone services. This change in accounting estimate was due to the scheduled termination of mova services on March 31, 2012. As mova subscribers have been steadily migrating to its 3G service, FOMA, the Company has decided to discontinue mova services and concentrate on FOMA services. The change resulted in a decrease of ¥59,014 million in Total operating income , Recurring profit and Income before income taxes

3. Accounting for allowances

(1) Allowance for doubtful accounts

The Company provides for doubtful accounts principally in an amount computed based on the historical bad debt ratio during a certain reference period and the estimated uncollectible amount based on the analysis of certain individual accounts including claims in bankruptcy.

(2) Liability for employees' retirement benefits

In order to provide for employees' retirement benefits, the Company accrues the liability as of the end of the fiscal year in an amount calculated based on the estimated projected benefit obligation and plan assets at the end of the fiscal year.

Actuarial losses (gains) are recognized as incurred at the end of the fiscal year.

Prior service cost is amortized on a straight-line basis over the average remaining service periods of employees at the time of occurrence.

(3) Reserve for point loyalty programs

The costs of awards under the point loyalty programs called DOCOMO Point Service and DOCOMO Premium Club that are reasonably estimated to be redeemed by the customers in the future based on historical data are accounted for as reserve for point loyalty programs.

(4) Provision for loss on PHS business

In order to provide for the loss resulting from PHS business, the Company reserves a necessary provision for the estimated future loss.

4. Other Significant Accounting Policies

(1) Foreign currency translation

Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities are translated into Japanese yen at the current spot rate at the end of the fiscal year and the subsequent translation gains or losses are reflected in earnings.

(2) Hedge accounting

Japanese GAAP provides for two general accounting methods for hedging financial instruments. One method is to recognize the changes in fair value of a hedging instrument in net income in the period of the change as gain or loss together with the offsetting loss or gain on the hedged item attributable to the risk being hedged. The other method is to defer the gain or loss over the period of the hedging contract together with offsetting loss or gain deferral of the hedged items. The Company has adopted the latter accounting method.

However, when an interest rate swap contract meets certain conditions, the net amount to be paid or received under the contract is added to or deducted from the interest on the hedged items.
