Item 4. Purpose of Transaction

TAM previously acquired, on behalf of certain investment advisory clients of TAM, Common Shares for investment purposes. TAM currently exercises control or direction over 6.2% of the Common Shares. TAM's purchases of Common Shares were made in the ordinary course of business. The Common Shares over which TAM currently exercises control or direction are beneficially owned by certain investment advisory clients of TAM on whose behalf TAM has discretionary investment authority.

On January 29, 2007, TAM sent a letter to Paul VanWagenen, the Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of the Issuer, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit A. In the letter, TAM expressed its dissatisfaction with the results achieved by the Issuer over the last three years. TAM is considering various alternative courses of action with respect to its investment as described in this Item 4.

TAM intends to evaluate on an ongoing basis its investment in the Issuer and its options with respect to such investment. From time to time, TAM may consider the feasibility and advisability of various alternative courses of action with respect to its investment in the Issuer including, without limitation, (i) to hold the Common Shares as a passive investor or as an active investor (including as a member of a "group" with other beneficial owners of the Issuer's securities), (ii) to acquire beneficial ownership of additional securities of the Issuer in the open market, in privately negotiated transactions or otherwise, or (iii) to dispose of, or cause to be disposed, any or all of the Common Shares held by it at any time. In connection with its evaluation, TAM may seek to meet with the board of directors and/or members of senior management or communicate publicly or privately with other stockholders or third parties to indicate its views on issues relating to the strategic direction undertaken by the Issuer and other matters of interest to stockholders generally. As part of any such discussions, TAM may suggest changes in, or take positions relating to, the strategic direction of the Issuer as a means of enhancing shareholder value. Such suggestions or positions may be related to one or more of the transactions specified in clauses (a) through (j) of Item 4 of the Schedule 13D, including: changes in the composition of the Issuer's board of directors or management, including an increase in the size of the Issuer's board of directors or in the nominees offered to fill any then existing vacancies on such board, changes to the Issuer's certificate of incorporation or bylaws, changes in the Issuer's capitalization or dividend policy, the acquisition or disposition of additional securities of the Issuer and the sale of material assets or another extraordinary corporate transaction, including a sale transaction.

TAM intends to review its investment in the Issuer on a continuing basis and, depending upon the price and availability of the Issuer's securities, subsequent developments concerning the Issuer, the Issuer's business and prospects, other investment and business opportunities available to TAM, general stock market and economic conditions, tax considerations and other factors considered relevant, may decide at any time to increase or decrease the size of its investment in the Issuer or to sell any or all of the securities of the Issuer that it holds.

Item 5. Interest in Securities of the Issuer

(a-b) The aggregate number and percentage of Common Shares to which this Schedule 13D relates is 3,609,309 Common Shares, constituting approximately 6.2% of the 58,389,247 Common Shares outstanding.

Mr. Paul G. Van Wagenen
Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer
Pogo Producing Company
5 Greenway Plaza, Suite 2700
Houston, TX 77046

Dear Mr. Van Wagenen:

Third Avenue Management LLC ("TAM"), on behalf of its advisory clients, currently owns 3.6 million common shares of Pogo Producing Company ("Pogo"), representing a 6.2% ownership interest. We have been Pogo shareholders for approximately three years. TAM's philosophy is to invest in strongly financed and well-managed companies, and we are typically long-term supportive shareholders. When we originally invested in Pogo, it met our stringent investment criteria. However, during the three years that we have been shareholders, we have become increasingly disappointed with Pogo's operating performance and with your performance as CEO.

Particularly disconcerting is the deterioration in the company's financial position. As the table below indicates, since 2003 net debt has increased by more than six times and net debt per mcfe of proved reserves has increased by more than five times. While we believe that the debt load is manageable, the apparent strategy of leveraging up during a period of historically high commodity prices is troubling.

In addition, the company's operations appear to have deteriorated markedly during the last three years. Production per share has dropped by more than 20%. On a unit of production basis, lease operating expense has increased by 178% and G&A has tripled. It is difficult to find a peer company whose operating costs have escalated as rapidly and to the high level that Pogo's have. Although some increase in operating costs would have been understandable, given industry-wide cost inflation and hurricane related costs and production delays, the magnitude of these increases is alarming.

This combination of higher debt, lower production, higher operating costs, and the underwhelming results from your recent acquisition of Northrock Resources appear to have driven the poor relative performance of Pogo's stock over the last three years. Since the end of 2003, Pogo's stock is down 1% while the S&P Midcap Oil and Gas Exploration and Production Index is up 78%. In May 2006, Moody's acknowledged the company's deterioration by downgrading Pogo's Corporate Family Rating to Ba3 from Ba2 citing "rising unsustainable reserve replacement costs, inconsistent production trends, and a sharp decline in organic reserve replacement."

It is readily apparent from the numbers contained in the chart below that Pogo is clearly in need of stronger leadership and a new strategic direction.

(3) Boe per day per million shares.
(4) Pro-forma 2005 reserves for the Latigo acquisition and GOM sale. Does not include any reserve additions or revisions in 2006.

Despite Pogo's poor performance over the past several years, your compensation has been rising. In 2005, you received an 11.8% increase in your base salary and your bonus grew by 25%. You also received a restricted stock award valued at approximately $2 million, up 55% compared to 2004. We believe that if Pogo's compensation structure were tied more closely to performance, these significant increases would not have occurred. These increases are even more concerning because they serve to increase the already overly generous termination provisions of your employment agreement, which provides, among other things, that in the event of a termination due to a change of control, you will receive lump sum payments of five years' salary and bonus plus an amount equal to four times the fair market value on the grant date of your most recent equity award.

We have no doubt that the value of Pogo and its business is substantial. To date, however, you have not been able to maximize shareholder value. It is clearly time for a change in direction. As a result, we are notifying you that we are actively considering the various alternative courses of action with respect to our investment as described in item 4 of our recent Schedule 13D filing, which we may undertake alone or with others, in an attempt to generate a better return for TAM as well as for all of Pogo's shareholders.

Sincerely,

/s/ Curtis Jensen
