CBL & ASSOCIATES PROPERTIES FORMS JOINT VENTURE WITH AUSTRALIAN PROPERTY INVESTOR

CONTRIBUTES INTERESTS IN 51 COMMUNITY CENTERS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (September 24, 2003) - CBL & Associates Properties, Inc. (NYSE:CBL) announced today that it has formed a joint venture with Galileo America REIT ("Galileo"), the U.S. affiliate of Australia-based Galileo America Shopping Trust, to invest in power and community centers throughout the United States. CBL will contribute to the joint venture 90% of its ownership interest in 51 power and community centers for total consideration of approximately $516 million. CBL will retain a 10% interest in the joint venture. Galileo America Shopping Trust has filed a product disclosure statement with the Australian securities authorities and expects to be listed on the Australian Stock Exchange during the fourth quarter under the ticker "ASX:GSA".

The 51 centers, including community centers under construction, will be contributed in three tranches in October 2003, January 2004 and January 2005. Net cash proceeds to CBL from the transaction are expected to be approximately $387 million, with $255 million received in tranche I, $56 million in tranche II and $76 million in tranche III. The contribution of the community center properties is expected to generate gains on a GAAP basis for CBL of approximately $99 million for the three tranches, of which $72 million will be reported in 2003, $22 million in 2004 and $5 million in 2005.

The Company expects that a significant portion of the taxable gain from this sale will be deferred. The net proceeds from the contribution of the properties will be reinvested in new developments, future mall acquisitions and other retail real estate opportunities. During 2002, the 47 properties in operation for the full year generated net operating income of $41.2 million.

The joint venture will assume approximately $99 million of existing debt on ten of the properties and CBL will retire $53 million in loans associated with two properties. The joint venture will obtain additional debt financing of approximately $160 million at the closing of the first two tranches. As a result of this transaction, CBL will eliminate $152 million of debt from its balance sheet.

Pursuant to a long-term agreement, CBL will be the exclusive manager for all of Galileo's properties in the United States, and will be entitled to management, leasing, acquisition, disposition and financing fees. CBL may also earn up to an additional $8 million based upon certain leasing and occupancy goals for the tranche I properties during the first six months from closing.

A committee that includes two members from CBL, two members from Galileo, and one independent member appointed jointly will manage the joint venture. Galileo Advisory LLC will provide advisory services to the joint venture.

Commenting on the announcement, Charles B. Lebovitz, chairman and chief executive officer of CBL said, "We are excited about our association with Galileo and the opportunities this new venture creates. The Galileo team brings an experienced group of professionals to the venture, and we believe this combination will generate excellent growth for both CBL and Galileo shareholders. The formation of the joint venture and the contribution of 51 power and community centers will not in any way minimize our continuing commitment to pursue all areas of our business plan. By retaining an interest in the 51 power and community centers while continuing to manage and lease these properties, as well as sourcing new acquisition opportunities for Galileo, we expect to be even more active in all components of the shopping center business. In addition, we intend to maintain an active pipeline of new community center developments to serve the growing expansion needs of our retailers.

"An important component of our success over the years has been the ability to meet the needs of a wide range of retailers through the development and acquisition of regional malls, associated centers and community shopping centers. We have long stated that we would only consider a transaction involving our community center portfolio that allows us to fully realize the value inherent in our portfolio and generate a favorable long-term return to our shareholders. During the past several years we have achieved these goals through one-off sales of individual properties. The joint venture with Galileo presents a unique opportunity that will enable us to generate a greater return for our shareholders as well as provide access to a new and growing source of capital via the Australian public markets."

This transaction does not involve any of CBL's regional malls and associated centers nor affect its development programs. This transaction would be consistent with the Company's long-stated goal of maximizing shareholder value through the development, acquisition and disposition of retail properties.

Neil Werrett, managing director of Galileo Fund Management Ltd, added, "We are very excited about the relationship with CBL. This transaction affords us the opportunity to invest in power and community centers in the largest retail market in the world. This portfolio has a track record of strong occupancy and growth and benefits from diversity in its tenant base and market locations as well as possessing an attractive lease expiry profile and market demographics. Our offering is being well received in Australia. We have assembled an experienced team to provide advisory services to the joint venture, and our investors are looking forward to growing the joint venture in the United States."

Overall Rationale and Strategy

Earlier today we announced that we have formed a joint venture with Galileo America Shopping Trust, wherein CBL will contribute 90% of its ownership interest in 51 power and community centers and retain a 10% interest. We are very excited about this transaction and are looking forward to working with the experienced team at Galileo. CBL's power and community centers are the foundation for Galileo and CBL to grow the portfolio with Australian capital. Galileo's and CBL's objective is to continue to invest in quality power and community centers in the United States that are competitive and well located in their respective markets.

Transcript of Conference Call

September 24, 2003

The joint venture will engage CBL as the exclusive leasing and managing agent for this 51-property portfolio. We will earn fees for various services including management, leasing, acquisition, and disposition as well as financing fees. Our experienced in-place team of community center professionals will handle these operations and provide management services.

We will continue to be very active in the development of power and community centers. As we have long stated, community centers are valuable assets that have provided and will continue to be a source of generating capital for the company.

Prior to this transaction, we have recycled our capital through one-off dispositions of community centers. This transaction met our stringent criteria of not only raising attractively priced capital, but also providing long-term growth opportunities. Through our new joint venture partner we will have access to the capital markets in Australia.

As a result of this transaction, our company assets will consist primarily of regional malls and associated centers. Since our IPO in 1993 we have grown our regional mall portfolio from 14 regional malls to 57 regional malls today. Our portfolio of 22 associated centers is not included in this transaction as we view them as integral to the regional mall retail complex. While this transaction clearly focuses our company's portfolio on regional mall assets, we remain fully committed to all facets of the shopping center business and we will continue to pursue development and acquisition of community centers.

Edgar Filing: CBL & ASSOCIATES PROPERTIES INC - Form 8-K

Excluding the properties involved in this joint venture, CBL's remaining portfolio now has 12 community centers. Three of these centers are under contract for sale and the remaining nine will remain in CBL's portfolio or will be sold once the opportunity to create value occurs.

Financial Strategy

The net cash proceeds to us from the portfolio sale are approximately $387 million. The proceeds will be received in three tranches. Tranche I, scheduled to close in late October, amounts to $255 million, with Tranche II producing $56 million and closing in January 2004. Tranche III is scheduled to close one year later providing an additional $76 million. The joint venture will assume approximately $99 million of the existing long-term fixed rate debt on these properties. CBL will retire $53 million of variable rate loans, and eliminate approximately $152 million of total debt from CBL's balance sheet.

CBL & ASSOCIATES PROPERTIES, INC.

Transcript of Conference Call

September 24, 2003

We stated in the press release that the 2002 NOI for three tranches of the 47 operating community centers was $38.5 million, however we are amending this NOI as $41.2 million. The six-month ended 2003 NOI for the operating properties in the transaction for the three tranches was $21.3 million. A schedule of this will be attached to the Form 8-K.

CBL's 10% stake in the joint venture will be reported as investments in unconsolidated affiliates in our consolidated financial statements. For this transaction CBL will record approximately $31.5 million in investment in unconsolidated affiliates, which is $57.3 million in gross investment less $25.8 million of debt.

The joint venture includes projects that are under development and in the lease up stage. In order to realize the full value for these projects, CBL has agreed to master lease this specific space for up to five years. As we lease the each applicable space, CBL will be released from the master lease obligation. Our maximum obligation annually for the master lease will be approximately $4.7 million and based upon leased and committed spaces, our obligation has already been significantly reduced by our leasing results through today.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

A significant portion of the taxable gain on the sale of the centers will be offset by the purchase of the Faison Malls via a section 1031 tax-free exchange. Based on our projections after taking into consideration this tax-free exchange, we expect a taxable gain of $14.2 million to be reported in 2003 and a taxable gain of $23.0 million to be reported in 2004. However, we believe this net taxable gain number may be significantly reduced by further 1031 tax-free exchanges that we intend to explore.

We anticipate that the proceeds from the contribution of the power and community center properties are to be reinvested in new development projects and regional mall acquisition opportunities. As we have always stated we do not budget for acquisitions because we do not think it is prudent to make an acquisition merely to achieve budgeted projections. We will continue to remain conservative with acquisitions by only pursuing those that can create additional long-term value for our shareholders.

Now I would like to hand the call over to Stephen Lebovitz.

JOINT VENTURE PARTNERSHIP'S MANAGEMENT

A five-member management committee will have the sole authority to make all operating and other decisions for the joint venture including: budgeting; acquiring, selling or exchanging real estate; pledging any of the joint venture's assets to any mortgages or liens; and financing. The five committee members are: Charlie Willett and John Foy from CBL, two members of Galileo and one additional independent member, Robert F. Welanetz, SCSM former President/CEO of Jones Lang LaSalle in Atlanta, who has been jointly appointed by us and Galileo.

Transcript of Conference Call

September 24, 2003

The two members of the committee from Galileo are Neil Werrett and Susan MacDonald. Neil Werrett is the Managing Director and founder of Galileo Funds Management Limited. Most recently Neil was Global Head, Corporate Transactions and Product Development at AMP Henderson Global Investors in Australia, where he was employed for 24 years in various roles. Susan MacDonald is the Executive Director/Manager for the Trust. Susan will manage the day-to-day operations of the Trust. Susan was formerly Managing Director, AMP Shopping Centres in Australia. Prior to AMP, Susan was Asset Management Director for Lend Lease Europe, based in London, England. We are excited to have these two very talented and experienced members as part of the joint venture.

JOINT VENTURE PARTNERSHIP'S MANAGEMENT AGREEMENT

The property management agreement includes the following key points:

1. CBL will manage the properties for fees based on 3.5% of gross revenues collected.
2. CBL has the right to terminate the management agreement at the end of 3-years if the fee arrangement is unsatisfactory in CBL's sole opinion.
3. CBL will receive acquisition fees of 80 basis points, leasing fees of 5% of new leases and 3% of renewal leases and finance fees of 40 basis points of borrowings, which does not include the borrowings of the joint venture to acquire the initial 51 properties.

COMMUNITY CENTER DEVELOPMENT

CBL is not restricted in any way from developing and holding non-mall assets for its portfolio. As acquisition opportunities for non-mall assets arise we will first present those to the joint venture committee. If CBL elects to sell newly developed or other non-mall assets it owns, the joint venture will be given the first right to purchase. This arrangement remains in place only so long as we manage the joint venture's properties.

Summary

In summary, we are very excited about this transaction with our new Australian joint venture partner as it provides both of us tremendous opportunities for our companies to grow through development, management and acquisitions. We have known the principals of Galileo for some time and have visited with them both in Australia and in the United States.

This transaction was executed with favorable pricing and upside potential through the 10% retained ownership interests in the properties and the fees to be generated by the portfolio. While the transaction will have a dilutive impact until we reinvest these funds, we believe that the benefits of this transaction and the future growth potential it provides, makes this an exciting transaction for us.

Following this transaction, the CBL portfolio will contain 57 regional malls and 31 non-mall properties. We continue to be the largest regional mall owner in the Southeast and have a growing presence in the Midwest and other parts of the country. With this transaction we are well positioned to take advantage of acquisition and development opportunities and to maximize the value to our shareholders.

We will now be happy to answer any questions you may have.
