RADA ELECTRONIC INDUSTRIES LTD. AND ITS SUBSIDIARY

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED STATEMENTS

U.S. dollars in thousands

NOTE 1:- GENERAL

- a. RADA Electronic Industries Ltd., an Israeli corporation (the "Company") is engaged in the development, manufacturing and sale of Automated Test Equipment ("ATE") products, avionics equipment and aviation data acquisition and debriefing systems.
- b. The Company operates a test and repair shop using its ATE products in Beijing, China through its 80% owned Chinese subsidiary, Beijing Huari Aircraft Components Maintenance and Services Co. Ltd. ("CACS" or "subsidiary"). CACS was established with a third party, which owns the remaining 20% equity interest.

- c. The accompanying unaudited interim consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information. Accordingly, they do not include all the information and footnotes required by generally accepted accounting principles for complete financial statements. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, are not necessarily indicative of the results of operations that may be expected for the year ended December 31, 2004.

NOTE 2:- SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies applied in the annual financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 2003 are applied consistently in these financial statements.

- a. Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

- b. For further information, refer to the consolidated financial statements as of December 31, 2003.

- c. Accounting for share based compensation:

The Company account for share based compensation for employees using the intrinsic value method presented in Accounting Principles Board (APB) Statement No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations, and comply with the disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, and with the disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 148, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation-Transition and Disclosure Amendment of SFAS No. 123.

Pro forma information regarding the Company's net income and net earnings per share is required by SFAS No. 123 and has been determined as if the Company had accounted for its employee stock options under the fair value method prescribed by SFAS No. 123.

Edgar Filing: RADA ELECTRONIC INDUSTRIES LTD - Form 6-K/A

If deferred compensation had been determined under the above mentioned fair value method, the effect on the Company's share based compensation cost, net income and net earnings per share would have been immaterial for all the reported periods.

NOTE 3:- CONTRACTS IN PROGRESS

Amounts included in the financial statements, which relate to costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts are classified as current assets. Billings in excess of costs and estimated earnings on uncompleted contracts are classified as current liabilities. Summarized below are the components of the amounts:

Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

This information should be read in conjunction with the condensed consolidated financial statements and notes included in Item 1 of Part I of this Quarterly Report and the audited financial statements and notes thereto and Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations for the year ended December 31, 2003 contained in our 2003 Annual Report on Form 20-F. The discussion and analysis which follows may contain trend analysis and other forward-looking statements within the meaning of Section 21E of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 which reflect our current views with respect to future events and financial results. These include statements regarding our earnings, projected growth and forecasts, and similar matters that are not historical facts.

We remind shareholders that forward-looking statements are merely predictions and therefore are inherently subject to uncertainties and other factors that could cause the future results to differ materially from those described in the forward-looking statements.

Overview

We develop, manufacture and sell automated test equipment and avionics products for military and commercial use mainly in Israel, Europe and the United States. Until December 31, 2001 we also sold aircraft spare parts through our subsidiary, Jetborne International, but this business was discontinued following the sale of our holdings in Jetborne. We also provide test and repair services using our CATS(R) testers and test program sets through our Chinese subsidiary, CACS. In addition, we provide manufacturing services to third parties engaged mainly in the avionics market.

In March 2002, we sold, effective December 31, 2001, our 75% equity interest in Jetborne to ILI Aviation Ltd., a private company registered under the laws of the Marshall Islands. ILI undertook to cause Jetborne to repay us all outstanding inter-company loan balances plus interest and additional royalties whereby the repayment will be made in accordance with a schedule based on a percentage of actual sales of Jetborne's inventory on hand on the effective date of the agreement. All payments due to us under the agreement must be paid no later than the tenth anniversary of the agreement. Based on our assessment of the collectibility of this debt we recorded an allowance for the full balance due to us under the agreement.

Critical Accounting Policies

Our critical accounting policies, including the assumptions and judgments underlying them, are disclosed in the notes to our consolidated financial statements. These policies have been consistently applied in all material respects and address such matters as revenue recognition. While the estimates and judgments associated with the application of these policies may be affected by different assumptions or conditions, we believe the estimates and judgments associated with the reported amounts are appropriate in the circumstances.

The significant accounting policies listed in Note 2 of our consolidated financial statements that we believe are the most critical to aid in fully understanding and evaluating our financial condition and results of our operations under generally accepted accounting principles are discussed below.

Intangible Assets. Costs of producing our TPS software library, which is integrated with our test station, incurred subsequent to achieving technological feasibility, were capitalized according to FASB No. 86 "Accounting for the Costs of Computer Software to be Sold, Leased or Otherwise Marketed" and are amortized over the estimated useful life of the product. We assess the recoverability of these intangible assets at each balance sheet date by determining whether unamortized capitalized costs do not exceed the net realizable value of the software. Net realizable value is the estimated future gross revenues from a product reduced by the estimated future costs of disposing of that product, including costs of performing maintenance and customer support required to satisfy our obligations set forth at the time of sale. The use of different assumptions with respect to the expected cash flows from our assets and other economic variables, primarily the discount rate, may lead to different conclusions regarding the recoverability of our assets' carrying values and to the potential need to record an impairment loss for our intangible assets.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets. We are required to assess the impairment of long-lived assets on an annual basis, and potentially more frequently when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying value may not be recoverable in accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards, ("SFAS") No. 144, "Accounting for the Impairment or Disposal of Long-Lived Assets." We assess the impairment of our assets based on a number of factors, including any significant changes in the manner of our use of the respective assets or the strategy of our overall business and significant negative industry or economic trends. Upon determination that the carrying value of a long-lived asset may not be recoverable, based upon a comparison of fair value to the carrying amount of the asset, an impairment charge is recorded. We measure fair value based on the projected future undiscounted cash flows expected to be generated by the respective asset. Under different assumptions with respect to the recoverability of our long-lived assets, our determination may be different, which may negatively affect our financial position and results of operations.

Edgar Filing: RADA ELECTRONIC INDUSTRIES LTD - Form 6-K/A

Share-Based Compensation. We account for stock-based compensation using the intrinsic value method prescribed in Accounting Principles Board ("APB") opinion No. 25, "Accounting for Stock Issues to Employees," and related interpretations. Under APB 25, compensation cost is measured as the excess, if any, of the closing market price of our stock at the date of grant over the exercise price of the option granted. We recognize compensation cost for stock options, if any, ratably over the vesting period. We account for warrants issued to non-employees in accordance with the provisions of SFAS No. 123, "Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation." We use the Black-Scholes option pricing model to value warrants granted to non-employees.

Revenue Recognition. Our revenues are derived primarily from sales of automated test equipment and avionics products. Revenues from sales of automated test equipment and avionics products are recognized upon delivery of merchandise or performance of services. Revenues from sales of other products are generally recognized upon shipment of the product. Revenues from services are recognized upon performance of the services. Revenues from long-term fixed price contracts are recognized by the percentage-of-completion method. We apply this method when the total of the costs of the contract can reasonably be estimated. Revenues ascribed to each period represent costs incurred during the period, with the addition of estimated earnings accrued, based on the extent of progress towards completion during the period. The percentage-of-completion is determined for each contract at the rate that costs incurred to date bear to the total estimated cost to be incurred over the duration of each contract. With regard to contracts on which a loss is anticipated, a provision is made for the entire amount of the estimated loss. Contracts are considered to be 100% complete when the customer accepts the project and when the project is delivered, or when the project complies with performance specifications, depending upon the specific situation. Revenues from test and repair services are recognized upon performance of the maintenance services.

Revenues from certain arrangements may include multiple elements within a single contract. Our accounting policy complies with the revenue determination requirements set forth in EITF 00-21, relating to the separation of multiple deliverables into individual accounting units with determinable fair values. Our arrangements are accounted for as one unit of accounting.

Fair Value of Warrants. In September 2003, we finalized an agreement with Bank Hapoalim B.M. and Bank Leumi Le Israel B.M., or our Banks, to restructure $3,451,000 of our debt to them. Pursuant to the agreement, we paid the Banks $1,100,000 on account of our debt to them and they forgave $1,100,000 in debt and agreed to accept warrants to purchase 3,781,995 of our ordinary shares, exercisable at par value per share, to purchase ordinary shares in lieu of $1,251,000 of debt. This transaction was recorded in accordance with FASB No. 15, "Accounting by Debtors and Creditors for Troubled Debt Restructurings." The warrants issued to the Banks were recorded at fair value using the Black and Scholes pricing model, since we do not believe that the market price of an ordinary share on the date of consummation reflects fair value. The fair value of the warrants was based on the value of an ordinary share at the consummation date of the transaction, based on a valuation of the warrants prepared by an external valuation expert. The difference between the consideration paid to the Banks and the carrying amount of the debt was recognized as a gain on restructuring of debt, net of issuance expenses.

Significant Expenses

Edgar Filing: RADA ELECTRONIC INDUSTRIES LTD - Form 6-K/A

Cost of Revenues. Cost of revenues consists primarily of manufacturing costs, depreciation of fixed assets, software development costs, impairment losses on long-lived assets and amortization of capitalized software.

Research and Development Expenses. Research and development expenses consist primarily of salaries of employees and subcontractors engaged in on-going research and development activities and other related expenses. Research and development expenses are expensed as incurred.

Marketing, Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Marketing and Selling expenses consist primarily of expenses for sales and marketing personnel, sales commissions, marketing activities, public relations, promotional materials, travel expenses and trade show exhibit expenses. General and administrative expenses consist primarily of salaries and related expenses for executive, accounting, administrative personnel, professional fees, provisions for doubtful accounts, and other general corporate expenses.

Financial Income (Expenses), Net. Financial expenses consist of interest and bank expenses and currency remeasurement losses. Financial income consists of interest on cash and cash equivalent balances, currency remeasurement gains and gain on restructuring of debt.

Other Expenses, Net. Other expenses, net relate primarily to items of income or expenses outside our ordinary course of business.

Nine Months Ended September 30, 2004 Compared with Nine Months Ended September 30, 2003

Revenues. Our revenues increased 46% to $ 10.65 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 from $7.32 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2003. The increase in our revenues is primarily attributable to the increase of revenues from the sale of GDS and DAS to Smiths Aerospace Electronic Systems for the PM-V Program and sale of FACE systems to the Portuguese Air Force and the U.S. NAVY. We expect that this growth rate will continue in the fourth quarter of 2004 and that the growth will be generated primarily from sales of our traditional products.

Cost of Revenues. Cost of revenues increased 35% to $7.77 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 from $5.76 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2003. the increase is mainly due to increased revenues.

Gross Profit. Our gross profit increased 85% to approximately $2.88 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 from $1.55 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2003. Our profit margin increased to 27% in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 from 21% in the nine months ended September 30, 2003. The improved margins reflects our reaching a sales level that provides for better utilization of our fixed overhead costs. Our margins should improve further with better utilization of our manufacturing facilities.

Marketing, Selling, General and Administrative Expenses. Marketing, selling, general and administrative expenses increased 7% to $2.12 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2004 from $1.98 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2003. We are continuing our costs savings measures, but we have increased our sales efforts in our current and new markets, which has resulted in increased marketing and selling expenses .

Financial Income (Expenses), Net. Our financial expense, net was $321,000 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004. In the nine months ended September 30, 2003 we had financial income of $733,000. Our financial income in 2003 was primarily attributable to an approximate $1 million gain on our restructuring of debt with our banks.

Liquidity and Capital Resources

As of September 30, 2004 we did not have any bank debt. At September 30, 2004, we had working capital surplus of $150,000 and cash and cash equivalents of $1.9 million.

In the third quarter of 2004, we raised $5.88 million from investors in a private placement. The investment consisted of $3.0 million in convertible debentures and $2.88 million of equity. The price of the equity was $1.60 per share, and the convertible debentures can be converted at $2.10 per share. In addition, the investors have an Additional Investment Right (AIR) to invest $2.31 million at $2.10 per share, and $2.34 million upon the exercise of warrants at an exercise price of $2.50 per share.

We had capital expenditures of $187,000 in the nine months ended September 30, 2004. We currently do not have any significant capital spending or purchase commitments.

Net cash used in operating activities was $11 million in the nine months ended September 30, 2004. This was attributable primarily to our net income of $0.5 million, an increase in trade receivables of approximately $1.1 million, a decrease in deferred revenues of approximately $0.2 million, which was offset in part by depreciation and amortization of $0.7 million, an increase in inventories of approximately $0.7 million and an increase in costs and estimated earnings in excess of billings on uncompleted contracts, net of approximately $0.4 million.

Net cash used in investing activities was approximately $1.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, mainly due to investment in long term restricted cash of $1.1 million.

Net cash generated from financing activities was $3.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 2004, mainly due to the net proceeds of $5.7 million(net) from issuance of our shares and convertible notes in a private placement and repayment of $1.9 million of short term bank debt.

We have been dependent in recent years on receiving financial support from our principal shareholders. We cannot assure that they will continue to provide us with funds when requested, and that such funds, if any, will be sufficient to finance our operations. The failure of our principal shareholders or other new investors to provide us with the necessary financing may result in a significant scale back or elimination of some aspects of our operations. Based on our current financial condition, the anticipated continued financial support from our shareholders and existing and anticipated shipments in the remainder of 2004, we anticipate that our capital resources will be adequate to satisfy our working capital and capital expenditure requirements until December 31, 2005. We may need to raise additional funds thereafter.

As of September 30, 2004 there were 19,486,838 warrants outstanding to purchase 19,486,838 of our ordinary shares. Of such warrants, 3,781,991 warrants have an exercise price of (par value) per share, 13,667,347 warrants have an exercise price of $2.00 per share, 1,100,000 warrants have an exercise price of

$2.1 per share and 937,500 warrants have an exercise price of $2.50 per share. To the extent any warrants are exercised the proceeds will be added to our working capital.

Off-Balance Sheet Arrangements

We are not a party to any material off-balance sheet arrangements. In addition, we have no unconsolidated special purpose financing or partnership entities that are likely to create material contingent obligations.

Tabular Disclosure of Contractual Obligations

The following table summarizes our minimum contractual obligations and commercial commitments, as of September 30, 2004 and the effect we expect them to have on our liquidity and cash flow in future periods.

Contractual Obligations	Payments due by Period
	Total	Less than 1 year	1-3 Years	3-5 Years	More than 5 years
Long-term debt obligations.....	$2,562,000	-	$2,562,000	-	-
Capital (finance) lease obligations.....	-	-	-	-	-
Operating lease obligations.....	$338,000	$270,000	$68,000	-	-
Other long-term liabilities reflected on the company's balance sheet under U.S. GAAP	-	-	-	-	-
Total.....	$2,900,000	$270,000	$2,630,000	-	-

In addition, we have long-term liabilities for severance pay that is calculated pursuant to Israeli severance pay law generally based on the most recent salary of the employees multiplied by the number of years of employment, as of the balance sheet date. Employees are entitled to one month's salary for each year of employment or a portion thereof. As of September 30, 2004 our severance pay liability was $2.1 million.
