SDRL - Operational update fourth quarter 2012

Hamilton, Bermuda, January 31, 2013 - In the third quarter financial report Seadrill estimated the downtime for the deepwater rigs in operation to be 41 days for the fourth quarter. After closing the quarter revised estimates show downtime has increasing to approximately 100, days, mainly due to BOP issues on several of the Company's rigs.

In line with what the Company communicated in the third quarter financial report, general and administrative costs have increased due to the management transition process to London, as well as expenses related to the development of one specific IT project. During the transition process the general and administrative costs will be US$10-20 million higher than what has been historically reported, but is expected to be reduced after the transition process has been finalized in the second half of 2013.

The first quarter 2013 results will also be impacted by the West Hercules taking longer than anticipated to be ready for its next assignment. The rig commenced its new contract with Statoil on January 31, 2013.

This information is subject of the disclosure requirements pursuant to section 5-12 of the Norwegian Securities Trading Act.

SDRL - Seadrill orders two jack-ups for delivery in 2015

Hamilton, Bermuda, January 31, 2013 - Seadrill has entered into an agreement for the construction of two high specification jack-up drilling rigs with Dalian Shipbuilding Industry Offshore Inc. (DSIC Offshore) in China. The new units are scheduled for delivery during the first and second quarter 2015, and the estimated total project price is approximately US$230 million (including project management, capitalized interest, drilling and handling tools, spares and operation preparations) per rig, with tail-heavy payment terms.

The two new units will be based on the F&G JU2000E design, with water depth capacity of 400ft and drilling depth of 30,000ft. Seadrill has in addition received fixed price option agreements to construct an additional two units at Dalian, with delivery in the third and fourth quarter 2015. The new jack-ups are of the same design as the four jack-ups currently under construction by Seadrill at Dalian and Jurong, Singapore.

John Fredriksen, Chairman and President of Seadrill Limited, says in a comment, "These newbuilds position us for additional growth in a strengthening jack-up market, providing further earnings upside for Seadrill. The premium jack-up market continues to demonstrate strength as evidenced by increasing dayrates and utilizations. Customers continue show preference for newer units from drilling contractors with proven track records of safe and efficient operations. Currently 312 jack-ups or 65% of the total fleet of 483 jack-ups are older than 25 years. These two new firm orders increases our fleet of modern jack-ups to 25 rigs with an average age of 3 years, and further strengthens our position as the leading operator of premium modern, high-quality drilling units.
