Interoffice Memorandum

To: Employees and Consultants Place: New Orleans
Subject: Agreement to Acquire Phelps Dodge Date: November 19, 2006
From: Richard C. Adkerson

I am pleased to report to you a tremendously positive development in the history of our Company. FCX has reached agreement to acquire Phelps Dodge. As a result of this acquisition, FCX will become the largest North American mining company and the world's premier publicly traded copper company. The "new" FCX will be an industry leader with outstanding strengths and opportunities.

- We will be stronger: With an enterprise value of approximately $37.5 billion, strong cash flows and 23,000 employees worldwide, the new FCX will become the world's premier publicly traded copper company and will have the size and the financial strength to optimize existing operations and accelerate growth by aggressively pursuing promising new development projects, exploration and acquisitions.
- We will be more diversified: We will have a base of large, long-lived, geographically diverse assets with significant proven and probable reserves of copper, gold and molybdenum (a metallic element used to harden steel). We will have a great balance of projects between high growth and developed markets.
- We will have even better growth prospects: We are combining two leading mining companies at a time when we see significant long-term opportunities, particularly in copper, where the long-term outlook is so positive, underpinned by strong developed economies and fast-growing developing ones like China, and the limited supplies available.

The new FCX will be a global leader in mining technology and have world-class assets and prospects. Our Grasberg mine, the world's largest copper and gold mine in terms of reserves, will be joined by Phelps Dodge's 14 existing mines and those under development in North and South America and Africa.

Completion of the transaction is subject to approval by shareholders of both companies, regulatory approvals and customary closing conditions. We expect the acquisition to close in the first quarter of 2007. The senior management team will combine the strengths of the two organizations and include representation from both Phelps Dodge and FCX. James R. Moffett, Chairman of FCX, will continue as Chairman and I will continue to serve as Chief Executive Officer. Timothy R. Snider will be Chief Operating Officer of the combined company, Ramiro G. Peru will be Chief Financial Officer and Kathleen L. Quirk will be

Chief Investment Officer. Mark J. Johnson will continue as Chief Operating Officer of our Indonesian operations and Michael J. Arnold will continue in his executive management role, including serving as Chief Financial and Administrative Officer of our Indonesian operations. We are counting on our entire organization to step-up as you have in the past to make the new "FCX" a success.

At closing, we will add three independent members from Phelps Dodge's current Board to the FCX Board of Directors, increasing the size of the Board to sixteen directors in total.

Our parent company will retain the FCX name and trade on the NYSE under the symbol "FCX". The Phelps Dodge name will continue to be used in its existing operations. The corporate headquarters of the combined company will be located in Phoenix, Arizona and FCX will maintain its New Orleans, Louisiana office for accounting and administrative functions for our Indonesian operations. Because there is little overlap between the two companies, we expect that there will be a minimal impact on our New Orleans-based employees, with only a handful of employees affected by the move of the corporate office to Arizona.

We will be discussing this announcement on an investor conference call tomorrow morning. We welcome you to access the webcast for investors at 7:30 a.m. central time to discuss the details of the transaction. The webcast can be accessed at www.fcx.com.

We are entering this new phase in our Company's long and rich history from a position of strength. The year 2006 has been an exceptional success for FCX, with much of that attributable to the hard work and dedication of each of you and I thank every one of you personally for your contribution. Our acquisition of Phelps Dodge will create an extremely powerful force in our industry and give us an even more exciting future. I know we can count on you to make it happen.
