Ultrapar announces acquisition of Arch Química Andina

São Paulo, Brazil, September 13, 2007 – ULTRAPAR PARTICIPAÇÕES S.A. (BOVESPA:UGPA4/NYSE:UGP), a company engaged in fuel distribution (Ultragaz/Ipiranga), the production of chemicals (Oxitenó), and in providing integrated logistics solutions for special bulk cargo (Ultracargo), hereby announces the acquisition of Arch Química Andina, C.A. in Venezuela, a subsidiary of the US company Arch Chemicals, Inc.

Arch Química Andina is the sole producer of ethoxylates in Venezuela. The company has a plant located in the city of Santa Rita. Its products line is similar to that produced by Oxitenó, and complementary for some markets.

The price paid for the acquisition was US$ 7.6 million. Ultrapar expects that this new plant will generate annual net revenues of approximately US$ 60 million at full capacity. Arch Química Andina's performance beyond Ultrapar's expectations over the next years may generate additional payment to Arch Chemicals, Inc.

Venezuela was the only ethylene oxide producing country in Latin America where Oxitenó did not have operations. Ultrapar's decision to make this investment is aligned with its strategy of growth and internationalization and is aimed at (i) strengthening the company's presence in the Americas, representing an opportunity to exploit markets in the Andean region and in Chile, which today are served mainly by exports from the United States and Mexico, (ii) providing access to raw material at competitive prices and (iii) increasing the company's ethoxylate production capacity by 70,000 tons/year.

Once the procedural formalities have been completed, the company's name will be changed to Oxitenó Andina.
