ANNEX III

(Pursuant to Annex 15 of CVM Instruction 481/09)

Issuance of Subscription Warrants

1. In case of issuance of subscription warrants:

a. Inform the number of warrants to be issued.

If the Merger of Shares is approved by the shareholders of the Company, 14 subscription warrants shall be issued as of such date, seven (7) of which of Subscription Warrants – Working Capital and seven (7) of which of Subscription Warrants – Indemnification, as defined below, in the book-entry nominative form (“Subscription Warrants”).

b. Explain, in details, the reasons for the issuance and the consequences thereof.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants is justified under the context of the negotiation between Ultrapar and Extrafarma and their shareholders, as part of the price offered, to be retained for at least six years as a guarantee by Extrafarma’s shareholders to the Company to cover (i) the potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and net debt of Extrafarma existing on the date of approval of the Merger of Shares at the Extraordinary Shareholders’ Meetings of the Companies (“Subscription Warrants – Working Capital”) and (ii) the payment related to Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, as detailed below (“Subscription Warrants – Indemnification”).

The Subscription Warrants shall be issued by the Company by virtue of the Merger of Shares and shall be delivered to Extrafarma shareholders, pursuant to the Protocol and Justification. Each of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital shall have the subscription right of up to one hundred and fourteen thousand, four hundred and eighty seven (114,487) common, nominative book-entry shares with no par value issued by Ultrapar, subject to potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma existing on the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMS, in relation to the working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of December 31, 2012. Each of the Subscription Warrants - Indemnification shall have the subscription right of up to four hundred and fifty seven thousand, nine hundred and forty six (457,946) common, nominative book-entry shares with no par value issued by Ultrapar, subject to a potential adjustment due to verification of Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, resulting from (a) fraud, omission, errors, inaccuracies, misstatements or breach of the representation and warranties given by Extrafarma, Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar; (b) facts, acts and/or omission of Extrafarma or by Extrafarma shareholders prior to the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; or (c) breach of the obligations assumed by Extrafarma shareholders and/or by Extrafarma in the Association Agreement. It will be understood that the term "Losses" means all and any intentions and/or liabilities, losses, penalties, damages, fines, judgments, notices, injury, liens (including attachment, seizure or any type of impounding), costs and expenses (including attorneys' fees) after the final and unappealable judicial or arbitration decisions, as well as undisputed administrative or judicial decision or the notice of Loss sent by one party to the other which was not disputed.

c. Inform the issuance price and the exercise price of the warrant.

Considering that it is a merger of shares and that Subscription Warrants are included in the exchange ratio of shares issued by Extrafarma for shares issued by Ultrapar, a specific issuance price was not ascribed to the Subscription Warrants (pursuant to the Article 77 of the Law No. 6,404/76). The exercise price of the Subscription Warrants shall correspond to the market value of the shares issued by Ultrapar at the time of the exercise of the Subscription Warrants and there will be no additional payment by the holders of the Subscription Warrants since, upon the approval of the Merger of Shares, the holders of the Subscription Warrants will contribute all of the shares of Extrafarma to Ultrapar's equity.

d. Inform the criterion for establishment of the issuance price and exercise price and justify, in details, the economic aspects on which such criterion was chosen.

Please, see item (c) above.

e. Provide the managers' opinion on the effects of the capital increase, especially with respect to the dilution caused by such increase.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants will be favorable to the Company and its shareholders within the context of the guarantees provided by Extrafarma's shareholders. It must also be considered that the shares the Subscription Warrants will potentially be granted are part of the exchange ratio of the shares issued by Extrafarma for the shares issued by Ultrapar in the Merger of Shares. The maximum dilution to which Ultrapar shareholders shall be subject upon the full exercise of the Subscription Warrants is of 0,7% (calculated by the maximum amount of shares to be potentially issued upon the total amount of shares issued by the Company after the approval of the Merger of Shares, excluding the shares currently held in treasury).

f. Provide a copy of all reports and studies on which the establishment of the issuance price was based.

g. Inform the terms and conditions which the exercise of the warrant is subject to.

The exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital is subject to the verification of potential adjustment due to the variation of working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs, in relation to the working capital and the net debt of Extrafarma as of December 31, 2012. The Subscription Warrant – Working Capital may be exercised by its holders within five (5) business days after the “Calculation Date,” which is the date corresponding to ten (10) business days after (i) the preparation of Extrafarma’s balance sheet as of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; and (ii) the verification of net debt and working capital of Extrafarma existing on the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs, proportionally to the remaining shares after the adjustment aforementioned. The shares issued due to the exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Working Capital shall be subject to trading restrictions up to the sixth (6th) anniversary of the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs.

The exercise of the Subscription Warrants – Indemnification, is subject to potential adjustment due to verification of Loss(es) subject to indemnification by Extrafarma shareholders to Ultrapar, resulting from (a) fraud, omission, errors, inaccuracies, misstatements or breach of the representation and warranties given by Extrafarma, Extrafarma’s shareholders to Ultrapar; (b) facts, acts and/or omission of Extrafarma or by Extrafarma’s shareholders prior to the date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs; or (c) breach of the obligations assumed by Extrafarma’s shareholders and/or by Extrafarma in the Association Agreement. It will be understood that the term “Losses” means all and any intentions and/or liabilities, losses, penalties, damages, fines, judgments, notices, injury, liens (including attachment, seizure or any type of impounding), costs and expenses (including attorneys’ fees) after the final and unappealable judicial or arbitration decisions, as well as undisputed administrative or judicial decision or the notice of Loss sent by one party to the other which was not disputed. The Subscription Warrant – Indemnification may be exercised, in whole or in part, by its holders (i) within five (5) business days after the 6th anniversary of date of the approval of the Merger of Shares by the ESMs (“Confirmation Date”), proportionally to the remaining shares after adjustments for potential Losses to be indemnified by Extrafarma’s shareholders to Ultrapar that has been accrued until such date; and (ii) after the Confirmation Date, whenever occurs the termination of all and any potential Loss that, before the Confirmation Date, has been identified by the Companies and by Extrafarma’s shareholders as a result of notice or filing of administrative or judicial proceeding or extrajudicial notice, but that has not been effectively accrued prior to such date.

The Subscription Warrants may not be traded or transferred by its holders or otherwise be subject to liens or promise of trading, transfer or liens, except under the succession plan of Extrafarma’s shareholders.

h. Inform if shareholders will be entitled to preemptive rights to subscribe for new warrants and provide the details of the terms and conditions which such right is subject to.

Considering that the Subscription Warrants will be issued under the exchange ratio of the shares issued by Extrafarma for the shares issued by Ultrapar in the Merger of Shares, the shareholders of the Company will not be entitled to preemptive rights in the subscription of Subscription Warrants.

i. Inform if the subscription will be public or private.

Private.

j. Inform the matters which may be established by the Board of Directors.

The issuance of Subscription Warrants shall be approved at the Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, and the capital increase resulting from the future exercise of Subscription Warrants may be approved by the Board of Directors of the Company, within the limits of the authorized capital set forth in the Company's Bylaws.

k. Inform the secondary market in which warrants will be traded, as the case may be.

Not applicable.

l. Described the rights, advantages and restrictions of shares resulting from the exercise of subscription warrants.

The Subscription Warrants are securities other than the shares issued by the Company, and they solely entitle their holders to, under the conditions approved at the Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, the right to subscribe shares issued by Company, upon compliance with the conditions set forth in the certificates of the Subscription Warrants.

The ownership of Subscription Warrants, by itself, does not assure any right to dividends, interests attributable to shareholders' equity and other shareholders' rights; that is, only after the exercise of the Subscription Warrants, that will result in the issuance of shares of the Company, the holders thereof will be entitled to enjoy the shareholders' rights.

The shares of the Company, when issued, shall have the same rights attributed to the outstanding shares issued by Company in the respective date, and the holders thereof shall be entitled to all benefits, including dividends and capital compensations that may be declared by the Company after issued thereof.

m. Provide the percentage of potential dilution resulting from the issuance.

If the Subscription Warrants are fully subscribed and converted into shares, the potential dilution resulting from the issuance (calculated by the maximum number of shares to be potentially issued on the total number of shares issued by the Company after the approval of the Merger of Shares, excluding the shares currently held in treasury) is of 0.7%.

Economic Analysis

The key information regarding the international and the Brazilian macroeconomic environment are presented below. The analysis below refers to the reference-date of this report, and has been prepared based on information from the Central Bank of Brazil (BACEN), Focus Report, Getulio Vargas Foundation (FGV), Global Insight and JP Morgan.

Brazilian Economy(5)

Economic Activity

In the first quarter of 2013, the economic activity showed a 0.6% growth, resulting from a robust growth of the agricultural sector, increased absorption of capital goods and continuous growth of families' consumption. For 2013, the financial indicators suggest that the expansion trend will continue, so that the market expectations for GDP growth are 2.4% in 2013 and 3.0% in 2014.

Inflation

The official inflation index, IPCA (Consumer Price Index) closed 2012 at 5.8% and the last twelve months ended June 2013 closed at 6.7% . According to market expectations, IPCA is projected at 5.9% in 2013 and 5.8% in 2014, within the range of two percentage points above the 4.5% target set by the Brazilian Committee of Monetary Policy (COPOM). The Brazilian General Price Index -- Market (IGP-M), calculated by FGV ended 2012 at 7.8% . The analysts' expectations for this index are 4.9% in 2013 and 5.3% in 2014.

Monetary Policy

In the May 28 and 29 meeting, COPOM took into account the macroeconomic situation and the Brazilian inflation perspectives, and decided to raise the Selic rate to 8.0% per year, 0.5 percentage points above the previous level. COPOM considered the high level of prices that had shown resistance in previous months, and therefore, deemed necessary to implement initiatives aimed to change the scenario.

Country Specific Risk (6)

The index explains the difference in daily performance of the U.S and emerging countries debt securities and it is an indicator of the financial health of the relevant country. The index ended the June at 237 basis points, which indicates a difference of 2.4% between the performance of Brazilian bonds and the U.S. securities. The monthly average was 229 basis points.

The pharmacy sector presented a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 5.7% between 2007 and 2011. The Americas and Europe represent 2012 3.2% the largest markets, with 42.1% and 30.5% of the global market respectively.

4. Market Analysis

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

In 2012, when analyzing the pharmaceutical market, the generics segment contributed to 19% of drug sales in Brazil. OTC accounted for 28%, and branded drugs represented 53% considering reference and other branded drugs.

For 2013, the major chains continued the consolidation trend in the market through the strategy of opening new stores, and the three main companies in the market are expected to open 320 new stores.

Reference / Branded drugs

Despite the growing demand for generic drugs, there is still potential for sales expansion of reference / branded drugs. One reason is the high level of investments in reasearch by multinational industries in Brazil, and greater consumer confidence on well-known brands.

The expiration of patents in the forthcoming years can cause the demand for patented drugs to switch to generic equivalents.

However, the lack of advanced technology to produce generics of complex drugs tends to maintain a moderate growth in sales of branded / reference medicines.

(9) Branded medicines have the same active ingredient of the Reference medicines, which, in turn, are still patented.

4. Market Analysis

The forecast is that the market for branded drugs will present a nominal CAGR of 10.9% (10) in Brazil until 2018.

Generic drugs

The global market for generic drugs grows at approximately 10.8% (11) per year and accounts for more than US$ 150 billion turnover. Worldwide, the United States stand out with sales of generic drugs of US$ 56 billion per year.

According to IMS Health, in Brazil, generic drugs account for 19% in terms of sales without discount (list price).

In countries like France, Germany and the United Kingdom, where the generic market is more mature, the participation of these drugs is 42%, 66%, and 60% by volume, respectively. In the United States, such participation is approximately 80%.

Generic drugs in Brazil are, officially, at least 35% cheaper than branded drugs. Actually, they are on average 50% cheaper to the final consumer. The price of generics allows and increased number of consumers to obtain access to medicines.

Such fact, coupled with the Brazilian government programs, such as "Aqui tem Farm[.]cia Popular" (which aims to give the population access to medicines for common diseases), and the expiration of patents for reference drugs, all contribute to a favorable scenario to the generics market in Brazil.

The forecast is that the generic drugs market presents a nominal CAGR of 18.3% (12) in the country until 2018.

Over the counter / Prescription free medicines (OTC)

OTC are medicines that can be bought without prescription. They are produced and distributed with the intention of being used by the population on its own initiative, for treatment of symptoms and easily identifiable diseases.

In 2012, "ANVISA" published the "RDC" or DRC (Board Resolution) 41, which allows OTC drugs to be exposed on the shelves of pharmacies and changed the regulation of 2009, which determined that these drugs should be accommodated behind the counter, as a way to avoid the irrational self-medication. The new resolution favored the OTC market, which should continue to grow in the coming years, following the growth in the overall pharmaceutical market.

(11) Source: <http://www.progenericos.org.br/index.php/mercado>, 2012

(12) Source: IMS Health

4. Market Analysis

The OTC drugs currently represent approximately 28% of the total pharmaceutical market, according to IMS Health. The expectation is a nominal CAGR of 13.3% (13) until 2018. Healthcare Products ("HPC") The personal care and cosmetics represent a considerable share of total sales of pharmacies. This market presented an average growth of 12.1% (14) between 2007 and 2011. In comparison, the American and Canadian markets presented a CAGR of 1.1% and 2.9% respectively in the same period.

The expectation is that the Brazilian market continues to grow, through an increase in income and change in the distribution of these products from supermarkets to pharmacies channel. The expectation is for continued growth, as seen in the recent years.

5.3 Projected Financial Information

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

Extrafarma's Gross Sales (GS) derive from sales through the channels (1) Retail and (2)

Wholesale: Between 1 and 2 Sales Wholesale Gross Sales years

1. Retail: represents approximately 85.0% of Extrafarmas's total sale on the reference date, composed of the sale of 13% branded, generics and OTC drugs, HPC and convenience products (water, light beverage, cookies, mobile recharge services, Between 2 and 3 among others).

The projection of the retail's sales, considered the sales years from the existing stores on the reference date, as well as Extrafarma's expansion plan, which considers the opening of new stores until 2017, according to the assumptions described below: more than 3 years

[] Existing stores: as of the reference date, Extrafarma (Mature) had 178 stores, of which 59 were classified as under maturation (less than 4 years of operation), and 119 as mature. They were projected under the following assumptions:

[] Under maturation stores: were projected to reach maturity in year 4 of the respective operations, following the maturity curve shown in the side table.

The maturity curve followed the current characteristics of Extrafarma's stores and it is in accordance to the maturity profile of the market analyzed (19). Based on this, after reaching maturity, the average annual sales of the stores were projected on BRL 5.5 million (20).

(18) The analysis of sales' evolution measured by same store sales (SSS) is commonly used on retail segment. It shows the sales growth through comparable stores, with operations during two complete consecutive periods. When the operation of a store is interrupted, or if a store begins its operation in the middle of the year, it is not considered in the calculation of SSS.

(19) The benchmark was based on public information available about peer companies, which operate in the same sector of Extrafarma in Brazil.

(20) Reference value in 2013. This value was yearly adjusted by 0.5p. p. (long-term population growth) above inflation (IPCA) projected by the Central Bank of Brazil during the projected years.

5. Company Overview

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

It is expected growth in all categories of products in the retail channel, with emphasis on generic 41.2% drugs, due to the expiring 41.4% patents scheduled for 41.5% the coming years(22) and 4 the 1 increased access for the end consumer. Based on this, the trend is that the generic category increases its share in the retail's sales mix, as shown in the graph beside.

2. Wholesale 2014 : represents approximately 2015 15.0% of the sales on2016 the reference date and refers to drugs distribution to small chains, independent stores, hospitals and clinics.

The sales growth assumption Branded for the wholesale segment wasGenerics based on the evolution of GDP plus the projected inflation by the Central Bank of Brazil. Throughout the projected period, after the maturation of this market, it is believed that the growth should converge to 0.5 p.p. of real growth above the inflation rate, in accordance to the retail segment.

(21) This expansion was based on the stand-alone operation at the reference date, without considering the potential growth plan with Ultrapar.

(22) As market expectations released in the report Pharmaceutical Market for Latin America and Brazil published by IMS Health on July 2, 2013.

It is important to note that the fixed portions of the operating expenses for the retail channel were projected per store, according to the expansion plan previously presented, reflecting the increase in the structure to support the organic growth projected for Extrafarma for the next years, as shown in the table beside.

(23) The real growth varied from 2.0 p.p. in 2013, based on the labor market conditions observed at the reference date of the Valuation, which varied according to the normalization curve during the explicit forecasted period, reaching 0.5 pp in 2022.

5. Company Overview

Brazil, and the (ii) real growth⁽²⁴⁾, in order to reflect the conditions in the regional labor market;

[] General and Administrative Expenses: refer to utilities and services, maintenance, outsourced services and other expenses. Considered 100.0% and adjusted by the expected inflation ("IPCA") for the period forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil;

[] Occupational Expenses: represented by the cost of rent, condominium, property tax, and funds for advertisement, considered 100.0% fixed and adjusted for the expected inflation ("IGP-M") for the period forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil.

3. Corporate Expenses: mainly composed of indirect expenses of Extrafarma's operation, projected based on their respective share of fixed and variable expenses observed in the historical period, considering the expansion of the Company's corporate structure to support the projected growth of the business. Based on this, the Corporate Expenses are composed by:

[] Personnel Expenses: considered 75.0% fixed, this portion was adjusted by inflation ("IPCA") and real growth⁽²⁵⁾ and 25.0% variable; following the evolution of the total sales of the business;

[] General and Administrative Expenses: considered 75.0% fixed, adjusted by inflation ("IPCA") and 25% variable;

[] Occupational Expenses: represented by the cost of rent, condominium, property tax and funds for advertisement. Considered 100.0% fixed and adjusted by inflation ("IGP-M").

It is important to mention that the increase in corporate expenses reflects the expected increase on Extrafarma's structure in order to support the business growth in the next years, emphasizing the following aspects:

[] A new operations structure will be created to support the business growth;

[] As a result of the expansion plan, which includes the increase of 232 new stores in the next years, it was considered the opening of two⁽²⁶⁾ new distribution centers in the Northeast region of Brazil, with impacts on growth of corporate personnel expenses, utilities and maintenance.

(24) As previously described, projected personnel expenses considered variation of 2.0 p.p. above inflation in 2013, which was normalized to 0.5 p.p. above inflation in 2022.

(25) As previously described earlier, projected personnel expenses considered variation of 2.0 p.p. above inflation in 2013, which was normalized to 0.5 p.p. above inflation in 2022.

(26) Based on the operational characteristics of Extrafarma and as a result of the expansion plan projected, it was considered a new distribution center for every 100 new stores.

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.1 Valuation Methodology Overview	36
6.2 Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation	37

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.1 Valuation Methodology Overview

For this economic-financial valuation, the Income Approach⁽³²⁾ was adopted, through the Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) method. According to the DCF method, the value of a business is equal to the present value of the expected cash flows available to the owners of the capital or debt of the business. In the valuation of a company, the value drivers are developed by discounting free cash flows available for distribution to their present value at the rate that represents the return required by the market and the risks inherent to a specific investment.

The DCF approach is considered the most relevant for assessing businesses or companies, as it contemplates the ability of a company to generate cash inflows and outflows, and providing financing and investment conditions to their operations. More specifically, cash inflows include profits, increase of debt, sale of assets and decrease in net working capital. Cash outflows include payment of the principal of its debt, investment in assets and working capital.

The DCF analysis here presented refers to operating cash flow, also known as free cash flow for the company. Therefore, for the DCF calculation the debt was excluded (ie, payment of interest was excluded of the estimated future expenses, and payment of debt was excluded from the calculation of cash flows). The proposal to exclude interest payments and debt from the calculation of cash flows is to provide an indication of the operational value (EV) of the business, which includes the value of debt and equity.

Thus, the sum of the present values of the free cash flows of the company and the perpetuity⁽³³⁾ value indicates the value of operations, which are still added or reduced by non-operating assets and liabilities and net debt in order to obtain the total capital value of the company.

32 Appendix B for details on the main approaches for valuation..

33 For main parameters for the calculation of perpetuity see, 6.2. Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation".

6. Extrafarma Valuation

6.2 Discounted Cash Flow (DCF) Implementation

Main parameters

Discounted free cash flow(34)

Extrafarma's cash flow was calculated according to the assumptions that were adopted in the projections of income statement, working capital and CAPEX previously presented in this report, as well as other parameters presented below.

Discount Rate(35)

The projected free cash flows were discounted by the weighted average cost of capital (WACC) in Reais (BRL), in nominal terms, i.e., considering the effect of inflation.

The WACC was calculated based on information from selected(36) market players, and was estimated at 12.0% p.a.(37).

Long-term growth rate and calculation of perpetuity value

For the calculation of the perpetuity value, it was considered a percentage of growth (g) of 5.7% p.a. equivalent to the long-term vegetative population growth estimated by IBGE (0.5% p.a.) plus the expected long-term inflation (5.2% p.a.) forecasted by the Central Bank of Brazil. The percentage of 5.7% p.a. (g) was subtracted from the discount rate of 12.0% (k), to obtain the capitalization rate of 6.3% . This capitalization rate was used to estimate the perpetuity value, based on the constant growth model, as shown below:

7. Conclusion

7. Conclusion

[GRAPHIC OMITTED]

The results obtained by the DCF method are relevant in the following context of the planned transaction:

[] The profitability and value assumptions are in line with the historical data and the market where the Company operates and are consistent with the financial indicators⁽³⁹⁾ of the peer companies;

[] The valuation drivers are consistent with the Company's size and expected long-term growth, on a stand-alone basis;

[] The DCF methodology is the one that best reflects the value of an investment based on future profitability (the Income Approach).

This estimated value does not consider possible contingencies, insufficient or unexpected assets or liabilities that are not registered on the Company's balance sheet. As such, the presented results do not consider their effects, if any.

10 Our valuation is based on elements that are reasonably expected, therefore, does not take into account possible extraordinary and unforeseeable events (new regulation for the businesses, changes in tax laws, natural disasters, political and social events, nationalizations, etc.) ;

11 Our valuation was based on the best available information and estimates. However, as any projection encompasses risk and uncertainties, real results may show a difference when compared to projections;

12 Our analyses treat Extrafarma and Ultrapar operations as independent (stand-alone) and therefore do not include operating or fiscal benefits or losses, incremental value and/or costs, if any, that Extrafarma and Ultrafarma may have from the completion of the transaction, if consummated, or any other operation. The valuation also does not take into account any operating and financial gains or losses that may occur after the completion of the transaction.

B. Main Valuation Approaches

Overview

Business enterprises, tangible and intangible assets should be valued based on the appropriate application of the Market, Cost and Income Approaches. Although all three approaches should be considered in a valuation analysis, the fact pattern surrounding the acquisition, the nature of the business or assets, and the availability of data will dictate which approach -- or approaches -- is/are ultimately utilized to calculate value. The following discussion provides an overview of the three approaches to value as well as the most common or relevant valuation methodologies within each approach.

Market Approach

The Market Approach measures value based on what other purchasers in the market have paid for assets or business interests that can be considered reasonably similar to those being valued. When the Market Approach is utilized, data are collected on the prices paid for reasonably comparable assets or interests. Adjustments are made to the prices paid to compensate for differences between those assets or interests and the asset or interest being valued. The application of the Market Approach results in an estimate of the price reasonably expected to be realized from the sale of the asset or business interest.

In practice, sales prices, especially for intangible assets and specialized tangible assets, are rarely available since these are typically transferred as part of the sale of a business, not in piecemeal transactions. Furthermore, because many assets are often unique to a particular enterprise, a comparison between enterprises is difficult.

For these reasons, it is often problematic to apply the Market Approach for the valuation of many intangible assets and many specialized tangible assets. It is however typically used for assets that are commonly traded in the market such as certain real property assets, general plant and equipment, motor vehicles, etc. Some intangible assets, however, are traded on an individual basis, in which case a Market Approach may be an appropriate approach to value.

Income Approach

The Income Approach focuses on the income-producing capability of the identified asset or business. The underlying premise of this approach is that the value of an asset or business can be measured by the present worth of the net economic benefit (cash receipts less cash outlays) to be received over its life. The steps followed in applying this approach include estimating the expected after-tax cash flows attributable to the asset or business over its life and converting these after-tax cash flows to present value through 'discounting'. The discounting process uses a rate of return that accounts for both the time value of money and investment risk factors. Finally, the present value of the after-tax cash flows over the life of the asset is totalled to arrive at an indication of value.

8. Appendix

Discounted cash flow and capitalization methods are commonly used to estimate the value of businesses, intangible assets, and income producing real property assets such as commercial office buildings.

The income capitalization method is defined in (The Appraisal of Real Estate, Thirteenth Edition), Appraisal Institute as: "The process of analyzing a property's capacity to generate future benefits and capitalizes the income into an indication of present value. The principle of anticipation is fundamental to the approach. Techniques and procedures from this approach are used to analyze comparable sales data and to measure obsolescence in the cost approach." The Income Approach is generally not considered to be appropriate to estimate values for plant and equipment assets because it is not usually feasible to attribute income to an individual property unit or the units of equipment that constitute an operating entity, since the assets contribute to earnings only in concert with all other economic factors of the business.

Cost Approach

The Cost Approach is based on the premise that a prudent investor would pay no more for an asset than its replacement or reproduction cost. The cost to replace the asset would include the cost of constructing a similar asset of equivalent utility at prices applicable at the time of the valuation analyses. This estimate may then be adjusted by losses in value attributable to obsolescence (physical, functional and/ or economic).

The Cost Approach is used to determine values in circumstances where it is not possible to determine values using a Market Approach or an Income Approach.

In valuing tangible assets, the Cost Approach relies on the principle of substitution and recognizes that a prudent investor will pay no more for an asset than the cost to replace it new with an identical or similar unit of equivalent utility. Under this approach, the Fair Market Value of an asset is determined by reference to the reproduction or replacement cost new of modern equivalent assets, optimized for over-design, over-capacity and redundant assets, and adjusted to reflect losses in value attributable to physical depreciation and obsolescence.

8. Appendix

C. Discount Rate Derivation

The application of Discounted Cash-Flow Methods requires the determination of an appropriate discount rate. Discounted Cash-Flow Methods are applied under conditions of uncertainty. In common usage, the word risk refers to any exposure to uncertainty in which the exposure has potential negative consequences. It is assumed that marketplace participants are said to be risk adverse. A risk-averse market participant prefers situations with a narrower range of uncertainty over situations with a greater range of uncertainty relative to an expected outcome. Marketplace participants seek compensation, referred to as a risk premium, for accepting uncertainty.

Therefore the determination of the discount rate implies the comparison of the cash-flows generated by the asset with the cash-flows generated with the most favorable alternative investment. In this respect, it must be carefully observed that the cash flows from the asset being valued and the alternative investment are equivalent in terms of risk and maturity.

The determination of the discount rate is based on WACC. The following formula is applied to calculate WACC: $WACC = WE * KE + WD * KD$

Where:

WE = value of equity / value of total capital
KE = market value of equity
WD = value of interest bearing debt / value of total capital
KD = after tax costs of interest bearing debt

Since the WACC reflects the specific risk of an enterprise, adjustments have to be considered based on the asset-specific risk profile.

Cost of equity

To estimate the cost of equity, the Capital Asset Pricing Model (CAPM) is used. The CAPM postulates that the opportunity cost of equity is equal to the return on risk-free securities plus an individual risk premium. The risk premium is the company's systematic risk (beta) multiplied by the market risk (market risk premium), adding the country risk.

8. Appendix

The calculation for the cost of equity, as follows:

KE = $RF + B * MRP + aBR + SP$, where
KE = Expected market return
RF = Risk-free rate of return
B = Systematic risk of a single stock
MRP = Equity risk premium -- general market
aBR = Country-specific risk premium
SP = Specific risk

Starting point for the estimate of cost of equity is the risk-free rate of return. In practice, the interest rate of long-term risk-free financial investments, e.g. fixed-interest public sector securities, is used as a guideline for determining the prevailing interest rate.

The market risk premium (the price of risk) is the difference between the expected rate of return on the market portfolio and the risk-free rate. Historical capital market investigations have shown that investments in shares generate between 4.0% and 7.0% higher returns than investments in low-risk debt securities.

The average market risk premium must be modified to reflect the specific risk structure. The CAPM accounts for the company-specific risk within the beta factor. Beta factors represent a weighting figure for the sensitivity of the company's returns compared to the trend of the entire market. They are thus a measure of volatility for the systematic risk. Beta factors of more than one reflect a higher volatility; beta factors of less than one reflect a lower volatility than the market average. Beta factors are ideally determined with reference to the entire equity market, since the concept of systematic and specific risk requires that individual shares are measured in relation to the market portfolio.

When activities in different countries are taken into consideration, it might be appropriate to use country specific risk premiums.

Capital structure

The capital structure is derived from the average capital structure of a group of comparable companies (peer group).

Decisions:

The members of the Board of Directors discussed the proposal of merger, by the Company, of shares issued by Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A., a closely-held corporation headquartered in the City of Belém, State of Pará, at Travessa Quintino Bocaiúva, 381, CEP 66053-240, enrolled with the Brazilian Corporate Taxpayers' Registry of the Ministry of Finance ("CNPJ/MF") under Nr. 04.899.316/0001-18 ("Extrafarma"), with the consequent conversion of Extrafarma into a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company ("Merger of Shares"), pursuant to the Association Agreement entered into by and among the Company, Extrafarma and its shareholders on September 30, 2013, and pursuant to Article 252 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, for which a favorable report was provided by the Fiscal Council of the Company.

(Minutes of Board of Directors' Meeting of Ultrapar Participações S.A, of December 11th, 2013)

The members of the Board of Directors acknowledged that the Merger of Shares is in the interest of the Company and of its shareholders, in order to enable the strengthening of both companies and of their growth perspectives, through (a) the Company's entry into the significant, growing Brazilian pharmaceutical retail sector, creating new opportunities for value generation to the Company; and (b) the enhanced scale for the expansion of Extrafarma, to be boosted by increased investment capacity, by the widespread presence of Ipiranga's service stations and Ultragaz's resellers, and by the implementation of Ultrapar's corporate governance and incentive systems. The members of the Board of Directors analyzed (i) the draft Protocol and Justification of Merger of Shares issued by Extrafarma by the Company, to be entered into by and among the Officers of the Company and Extrafarma ("Protocol and Justification"); (ii) the economic-financial valuation report of shares issued by Extrafarma, for purposes of Articles 8 and 226 of Law Nr. 6,404/76 ("Appraisal Report"), prepared by the Appraisal Firm, a specialized company appointed by the management of the Company for such appraisal, ad referendum of the Shareholders' Meeting; (iii) the financial statements of Extrafarma and the financial statements of the Company, both audited and with base-date of June 30th, 2013; and (iv) the fairness opinion on the price of Extrafarma for the Merger of Shares prepared by Banco Morgan Stanley S.A. ("Fairness Opinion"), as well as received all additional clarification requested to the Board of Officers, the representatives of the Appraisal Firm and Morgan Stanley. Subsequently, the members of the Board of Directors inquired the Appraisal Firm's and Morgan Stanley's representatives, as experts on the subject, if they have considered in the preparation of their relevant evaluations all the applicable technical and legal provisions, and the Appraisal Firm's and Morgan Stanley's representatives, individually, have confirmed the full compliance of their relevant documents with applicable technical and legal rules.

Based on the analysis and discussions, the members of the Board of Directors have concluded that, under their best knowledge, such evaluations were prepared in accordance with the concepts and assumptions such experts freely and independently adopted in the exercise of their duty. Thus, in exercising its fiduciary duty in the fulfillment of its responsibilities, pursuant to Articles 153, 154 and 155 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, and upon verification that all of the foregoing documents and the Merger of Shares are in compliance with the applicable legal and statutory provisions, the members of the Board of Directors decided to recommend and submit to the approval of shareholders of the Company the proposed Merger of Shares, under the terms and conditions of the Protocol and Justification, and authorized the call of an Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting of the Company, pursuant to Article 28, items "h" and "m" of the Company's Bylaws, to deliberate upon the proposal of the Merger of Shares, including the agenda: (i) the Protocol and Justification; (ii) the ratification of the appointment and engagement of the Appraisal Firm as the specialized firm responsible for the preparation of the Appraisal Report, for purposes of the provisions of Articles 226 and 8 of Law Nr. 6,404/76; (iii) the

The members of the Board of Directors also authorized, under the scope of the Merger of Shares, the issuance of the financial statements of the Company with a base-date of June 30, 2013.

The members of the Board of Directors approved, pursuant to Article 28, item "b" of the Bylaws, the election of Mr. Paulo Correa Lazera, Brazilian citizen, married, businessman, holder of identity card RG Nr. 975.948 (SSP/PA) and enrolled with the Brazilian Individuals Taxpayers' Registry of the Ministry of Finance ("CPF/MF") under Nr. 056.161.582-91, with business address in the City of Belém, State of Pará, at Travessa Quintino Bocaiúva, Nr. 381, CEP 66053-240, to serve as Officer with no specific designation of the Company, subject to the approval of the Merger of Shares by the Extraordinary Shareholders' Meeting of the Company to be called according to the foregoing terms. The term of office of Mr. Paulo Correa Lazera shall coincide with the terms of office of the current members of the Board of Executive Officers, until the Annual Shareholders' Meeting of 2015, which will analyze the documents referred to in Article 133 of Law Nr. 6,404/76, related to fiscal year ended as of December 31, 2014. Management's responsibility for the special purpose interim financial statements

The Company's Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the special purpose individual interim financial statements in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and the special purpose consolidated interim financial statements in accordance with the IFRS, issued by IASB, and the accounting practices adopted in Brazil and for the presentation for the special purpose of complying with the requirements of the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission (CVM) Instruction 319/99, for the merger of shares of Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. by the Company, as well as for such internal control as Management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of these special purpose interim financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these special purpose interim financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with Brazilian and international standards on auditing. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the special purpose interim financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the special purpose interim financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of risks of material misstatement of the special purpose interim financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the Company's preparation and fair presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by Management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion on the special purpose individual interim financial statements

In our opinion, the special purpose individual interim financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Ultrapar Participações S.A. as of June 30, 2013 and its financial performance for the six-month period then ended in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil.

Emphasis of matter

Measurement of investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures

We draw attention to note 2 to the special purpose interim financial statements, which states that the special purpose individual financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting practices adopted in Brazil. In the case of Ultrapar Participações S.A., these accounting practices differ from the IFRS, applicable to separate financial statements, only with respect to the measurement of investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures by the equity method of accounting, which, for purposes of IFRS, would be measured at cost or fair value. Our opinion is not qualified in respect of this matter.

Basis for preparation and presentation of the special purpose interim financial statements and restriction of use and distribution

Without modifying our opinion, we draw attention to note 2 to the special purpose interim financial statements, which describes that these special purpose interim financial statements were prepared only with a special purpose to be used as a basis for the merger of shares of Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. by the Company, as required by CVM Instruction 319/99. As such, the special purpose interim financial statements include only the individual and consolidated balance sheets as of June 30, 2013 and the individual and consolidated statements of income for the six-month period then ended and do not represent a complete set of general purpose financial statements prepared in accordance with the IFRS and accounting practices adopted in Brazil and thus may not be used for any other purposes.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

1. Operations

Ultrapar Participações S.A. (“Ultrapar” or “Company”), is a publicly-traded company headquartered at the Brigadeiro Luis Antônio Avenue, 1343 in the city of São Paulo – SP, Brazil.

The Company engages in the investment of its own capital in services, commercial and industrial activities, by the subscription or acquisition of shares of other companies. Through its subsidiaries, it operates in the segments of liquefied petroleum gas - LPG distribution (“Ultragaz”), fuel distribution and related businesses (“Ipiranga”), production and marketing of chemicals (“Oxitenó”), and storage services for liquid bulk (“Ultracargo”). The Company also operates in oil refining through its joint-venture in Refinaria de Petróleo Riograndense S.A. (“RPR”).

On September 30, 2013, in order to operate in the retail and wholesale of the pharmacy segment, Ultrapar signed an association agreement with Imifarma Produtos Farmacêuticos e Cosméticos S.A. (“Imifarma”), which operates a drugstore chain in Brazil through the brand Extrafarma. The closing of the transaction is expected to take place in the first quarter of 2014. For further details see Material Notice released on September 30, 2013.

2. Summary of significant accounting policies

These individual and consolidated interim financial statements as of June 30, 2013 have been prepared only for the special purpose of complying with the requirements of Instruction No. 319/99 of the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission - CVM for the merger of shares of Imifarma into Ultrapar. These interim financial statements include only the individual and consolidated balance sheets as of June 30, 2013 and the individual and consolidated income statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013, according to the terms of item 29.12 of CVM Ofício-Circular/CVM/SNC/SEP nº 01/2007. Therefore these interim financial statements do not represent a complete set of financial statements and may not be used for other purposes.

The special purpose consolidated interim financial statements (“consolidated interim financial statements”) have been prepared in accordance with the International Financial Reporting Standards (“IFRS”) as issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (“IASB”) and the accounting practices adopted in Brazil (“BR GAAP”) and were presented considering the special purpose described above.

The special purpose individual interim financial statements (“individual interim financial statements”) have been prepared in accordance with BR GAAP and were presented considering the special purpose described above. The investments in subsidiaries, associates and joint ventures are measured by the equity method of accounting, which, for purposes of IFRS, would be measured at cost or fair value.

The individual interim financial statements and consolidated interim financial statements together are “interim financial statements”.

The accounting practices adopted in Brazil comprise the Brazilian Corporate Law and the Pronouncements, Guidelines and Interpretations issued by the Accounting Pronouncements Committee - CPC and approved by the Federal Accounting Council - CFC and the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission - CVM.

The presentation currency of the Company's individual and consolidated interim financial statements is the Brazilian Real ("R$"), which is the Company's functional currency.

The accounting policies described below were applied by the Company and its subsidiaries in a consistent manner in these interim financial statements.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

a. Recognition of income

Revenue and cost of sales are recognized when all risks and benefits associated with the products are transferred to the purchaser. Revenue from services provided and their costs are recognized when the services are provided. Costs of products and services sold provided include goods (mainly fuels/lubricants and LPG), raw materials (chemicals and petrochemicals) and production, distribution, storage and filling costs.

b. Cash and cash equivalents

Include cash, banks deposits and short-term highly-liquid investments that are readily convertible into a known amount of cash and are subject to an insignificant risk of change in value. See Note 4 for further details on cash and cash equivalents of the Company and its subsidiaries.

c. Financial instruments

In accordance with International Accounting Standards (“IAS”) 32, IAS 39 and IFRS 7 (CPC 38, 39 and 40 (R1)), the financial instruments of the Company and its subsidiaries are classified in accordance with the following categories:

- Measured at fair value through profit or loss: financial assets and liabilities held for trading, that is, acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing in the near term, and derivatives. The balances are stated at fair value. The interest earned, the exchange variation and changes in fair value are recognized in profit or loss.
- Held to maturity: non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments, and fixed maturities for which the entity has the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity. The interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss, and balances are stated at acquisition cost plus the interest earned, using the effective interest rate method.
- Available for sale: non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available for sale or that are not classified into other categories at initial recognition. The balances are stated at fair value and the interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss. Differences between fair value and acquisition cost plus the interest earned are recognized in a specific account in the shareholders’ equity. Accumulated gains and losses recognized in the shareholders’ equity are reclassified to profit or loss in case of prepayment.
- Loans and receivables: non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments or receipts, not quoted in an active market, except: (i) those which the entity intends to sell immediately or in the near term and which the entity classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss; (ii) those classified as available for sale; or (iii) those for which the Company may not recover substantially all of its initial investment for reasons other than credit deterioration. The interest earned and the foreign currency exchange variation are recognized in profit or loss. The balances are stated at acquisition cost plus the interests, using the effective interest rate method. Loans and receivables include cash and banks, trade receivables, dividends receivable and other trade receivables.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

The Company and its subsidiaries use derivative financial instruments for hedging purposes, applying the concepts described below:

- Fair value hedge: derivative financial instrument used to hedge exposure to changes in the fair value of an item, attributable to a particular risk, which can affect the entity's profit or loss.
- Hedge accounting: In the initial designation of the fair value hedge, the relationship between the hedging instrument and the hedged item is documented, including the objectives of risk management, the strategy in conducting the transaction and the methods to be used to evaluate its effectiveness. Once the fair value hedge has been qualified as effective, the hedge item is also measured at fair value. Gains and losses from hedge instruments and hedge items are recognized in profit or loss. The hedge accounting must be discontinued when the hedge becomes ineffective.

For further detail on financial instruments of the Company and its subsidiaries, see Notes 4, 14, and 22.

d. Trade receivables

Trade receivables are recognized at the amount invoiced, adjusted to present value if applicable, including all direct taxes attributable to the Company and its subsidiaries. An allowance for doubtful accounts is recorded based on estimated losses and is set at an amount deemed by management to be sufficient to cover any probable loss on realization of trade receivables (see Note 22 - Customer credit risk).

e. Inventories

Inventories are stated at the lower of acquisition cost or net realizable value. The cost value of inventory is measured using the weighted average cost and includes the costs of acquisition and processing directly related to the units produced based on the normal capacity of production. Estimates of net realizable value are based on the average selling prices at the end of the reporting period, net of applicable direct selling expenses. Subsequent events related to the fluctuation of prices and costs are also considered, if relevant. If net realizable values are below inventory costs, a provision corresponding to this difference is recognized. Provisions are also made for obsolescence of products, materials or supplies that (i) do not meet the Company and its subsidiaries' specifications, (ii) have exceeded their expiration date or (iii) are considered slow-moving inventory. This classification is made by management with the support of its industrial team.

f. Investments

Investments in subsidiaries are accounted for under the equity method of accounting in the individual interim financial statements.

Investments in associates in which management has a significant influence or in which it holds 20% or more of the voting stock, or that are under shared control are also accounted for under the equity method of accounting in the interim financial statements (see Note 11).

Other investments are stated at acquisition cost less provision for losses, unless the loss is considered temporary.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

g. Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment is recognized at acquisition or construction cost, including financial charges incurred on property, plant and equipment under construction, as well as maintenance costs resulting from scheduled plant outages and estimated costs to remove, to decommission or to restore assets (see Note 18).

Depreciation is calculated using the straight-line method, for the periods mentioned in Note 12, taking into account the useful life of the assets, which are reviewed annually.

Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of the lease contract term and useful life of the property.

h. Leases

- Finance leases

Certain lease contracts transfer substantially all the risks and benefits associated with the ownership of an asset to the Company and its subsidiaries. These contracts are characterized as finance leases, and assets thereunder are capitalized at lease commencement at their fair value or, if lower, present value of the minimum lease payments under the contracts. The items recognized as assets are depreciated and amortized using the straight-line method based on the useful lives applicable to each group of assets as mentioned in Notes 12 and 13. Financial charges under the finance lease contracts are allocated to profit or loss over the lease contract term, based on the amortized cost and the effective interest rate method of the related lease obligation (see Note 14.i).

- Operating leases

There are lease transactions where the risks and benefits associated with the ownership of the asset are not transferred and where there is no purchase option or the purchase option at the end of the contract is equivalent to the market value of the leased asset. Payments made under an operating lease contract are recognized as cost or expenses in the income statement on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease contract (see Note 23.g).

i. Intangible assets

Intangible assets include assets acquired by the Company and its subsidiaries from third parties, according to the criteria below (see Note 13):

- Goodwill is carried net of accumulated amortization as of December 31, 2008, when it ceased to be amortized. Goodwill generated since January 1, 2009 is shown as intangible asset corresponding to the positive difference between the amount paid or payable to the seller and the fair value of the identified assets and liabilities assumed of the acquired entity, and is tested annually for impairment. Goodwill is allocated to the respective cash generating units (“CGU”) for impairment testing purposes.
- Bonus disbursements as provided in Ipiranga’s agreements with reseller service stations and major consumers are recognized as distribution rights when paid and amortized using the straight-line method according to the term of the agreement.

- Other intangible assets acquired from third parties, such as software, technology and commercial property rights, are measured at the total acquisition cost and amortized using straight-line method, for the periods mentioned in Note 13, taking into account their useful life, which is reviewed annually.

The Company and its subsidiaries have not recognized intangible assets that were created internally. The Company and its subsidiaries have not recognized intangible assets that have an indefinite useful life, except for goodwill and the “am/pm” brand.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

j. Other assets

Other assets are stated at the lower of cost and realizable value, including, if applicable, interest earned, monetary changes and changes in exchange rates incurred or less a provision for loss and, if applicable, adjustment to present value (see Note 2.u).

k. Financial liabilities

The Company and its subsidiaries' financial liabilities include trade payables and other payables, loans, debentures and hedging instruments. Financial liabilities are classified as "financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss" or "financial liabilities at amortised cost". The financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss refer to derivative financial instruments and financial liabilities designated as hedged items in a fair value hedge relationship upon initial recognition (see Note 2.c – fair value hedge). The financial liabilities at amortised cost are stated at the initial transaction amount plus related charges and transaction costs, net of amortization. The charges are recognized in profit or loss using the effective interest rate method (see Note 14.j).

Transaction costs incurred and directly attributable to the activities necessary for contracting loans or for issuing bonds, as well as premiums and discounts upon issuance of debentures and other debt or equity instruments, are allocated to the instrument and amortized to profit or loss over its term, using the effective interest rate method.

l. Income and social contribution taxes on income

Current and deferred income tax ("IRPJ") and social contribution on net income tax ("CSLL") are calculated based on their current rates, considering the value of tax incentives. Taxes are recognized based on the rates of IRPJ and CSLL provided for by the laws enacted on the last day of the interim financial statements. For further details about recognition and realization of IRPJ and CSLL, see Note 9.

m. Provision for assets retirement obligation – fuel tanks

The Company and its subsidiaries have the legal obligation to remove Ipiranga's underground fuel tanks located at Ipiranga-branded service stations after a certain period. The estimated cost of the obligation to remove these fuel tanks is recognized as a liability when tanks are installed. The estimated cost is recognized in property, plant and equipment and depreciated over the respective useful life of the tanks. The amounts recognized as a liability are monetarily restated until the respective tank is removed (see Note 18). An increase in the estimated cost of the obligation to remove the tanks could result in negative impact in future results. The estimated removal cost is reviewed and updated annually or when there is significant change in its amount.

n. Provisions for tax, civil and labor risks

A provision for tax, civil and labor risks is recognized for quantifiable risks, when the chance of loss is more-likely-than-not in the opinion of management and internal and external legal counsel, and the amounts are recognized based on evaluation of the outcomes of the legal proceedings (see Note 23 items a,b,c,d).

o. Post-employment benefits

Post-employment benefits granted and to be granted to employees, retirees, and pensioners are based on an actuarial calculation prepared by an independent actuary, using the projected unit credit method (see Note 24.b). The actuarial gains and losses are recognized in other comprehensive income and presented in the shareholder's equity. Past service cost is recognized through the income statement.

Ultrapar Participações S.A. and Subsidiaries

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

p. Other liabilities

Other liabilities are stated at known or measurable amounts plus, if applicable, related charges, monetary restatement and changes in exchange rates incurred. When applicable, other liabilities are recognized at present value based on interest rates that reflect the term, currency and risk of each transaction.

q. Foreign currency transactions

Foreign currency transactions carried out by the Company or its subsidiaries are remeasured into their functional currency at the exchange rate prevailing at the date of each transaction. Outstanding monetary assets and liabilities of the Company and its subsidiaries are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. The effect of the difference between those exchange rates is recognized in profit or loss until the conclusion of each transaction.

r. Basis for translation of interim financial statements of foreign subsidiaries

Assets and liabilities of the foreign subsidiaries, denominated in currencies other than that of the Company (functional currency: Brazilian Real), which have administrative autonomy, are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. Revenues and expenses are translated using the average exchange rate of each period and shareholders' equity are translated at the historic exchange rate of each transaction affecting shareholders' equity. Gains and losses resulting from changes in these foreign investments are directly recognized in the shareholders' equity as cumulative translation adjustments and will be recognized in profit or loss if these investments are disposed of. The recognized balance in other comprehensive income and presented in the shareholders' equity as cumulative translation adjustments as of June 30, 2013 was a gain of R$ 8,714.

The foreign subsidiaries with functional currency different from the Company and which have administrative autonomy, are listed below:

Oxiteno USA LLC	U.S. Dollar	United States
Oxiteno Andina, C.A.	Bolivar	Venezuela
Oxiteno Uruguay S.A.	U.S. Dollar	Uruguay

According to IAS 29, Venezuela is classified as a hyperinflationary economy. As a result, the interim financial statements of Oxiteno Andina, C.A. ("Oxiteno Andina") were adjusted by the Venezuelan Consumer Price Index.

The subsidiary Oxiteno Uruguay S.A. ("Oxiteno Uruguay") determined its functional currency as the U.S. dollar, as its sales and purchases of goods, and financing activities are performed substantially in this currency.

Assets and liabilities of the other foreign subsidiaries, which do not have administrative autonomy, are considered as an extension of the activities of their parent company and are translated using the exchange rate at the end of the reporting period. Gains and losses resulting from changes in these foreign investments are directly recognized as financial income or loss. The gain recognized in income as of June 30, 2013 amounted to R$ 2,667.

s. Use of estimates, assumptions and judgments

The preparation of the interim financial statements requires the use of estimates, assumptions and judgments for the accounting of certain assets, liabilities and income. Therefore, Company and subsidiaries' management use the best information available at the time of preparation of the interim financial statements, as well as the experience of past and current events, also considering assumptions regarding future events. The interim financial statements therefore include estimates, assumptions and judgments related mainly to determining the fair value of financial instruments (Notes 4, 14 and 22), the determination of the allowance for doubtful accounts (Note 5), the determination of provisions for income taxes (Note 9), the useful life of property, plant and equipment (Note 12), the useful life of intangible assets and the determination of the recoverable amount of goodwill (Note 13), provisions for assets retirement obligations (Note 18), tax, civil and labor provisions (Note 23 items a,b,c,d) and estimates for the preparation of actuarial reports (Note 24.b). The actual result of the transactions and information may differ from their estimates.

t. Impairment of assets

The Company and its subsidiaries review, at least annually, the existence of indication that an asset may be impaired. If there is an indication, the Company and its subsidiaries estimate the recoverable amount of the asset. Assets that cannot be evaluated individually are grouped in the smallest group of assets that generate cash flow from continuous use and that are largely independent of cash flows of other assets (CGU). The recoverable amount of assets or CGUs corresponds to the greater of their fair value net of applicable direct selling costs and their value in use.

To assess the value in use, the Company and its subsidiaries consider the projections of future cash flows, trends and outlooks, as well as the effects of obsolescence, demand, competition and other economic factors. Such cash flows are discounted to their present values using the discount rate before tax that reflects market conditions for the period of impairment testing and the specific risks of the asset or CGU being evaluated. In cases where the expected discounted future cash flows are less than their carrying amount, the impairment loss is recognized for the amount by which the carrying value exceeds the fair value of these assets. Losses for impairment of assets are recognized in profit or loss. In case goodwill has been allocated to a CGU, the recognized losses are first allocated to reduce the corresponding goodwill. If the goodwill is not enough to absorb such losses, the surplus is allocated to the assets on a pro-rata basis. An impairment of goodwill cannot be reversed. For other assets, impairment losses may be reversed only to the extent that the asset's carrying amount does not exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortization, if the impairment had not been recognized.

No impairment was recognized in the period presented.

u. Adjustment to present value

Some of the Company's subsidiaries recognized a present value adjustment to Tax on Goods and Services ("ICMS", the Brazilian VAT) credit balances related to property, plant and equipment (CIAP – see Note 7). Because recovery of these credits occurs over a 48 months period, the present value adjustment reflects, in the interim financial statements, the time value of the ICMS credits to be recovered.

The Company and its subsidiaries reviewed all items classified as non-current and, when relevant, current assets and liabilities and did not identify the need to recognize other present value adjustments.

v. Adoption of the pronouncements issued by CPC and IFRS

The following standards issued by IASB were effective on January 1st, 2013, but CPC has not yet issued pronouncements equivalent to these IAS/IFRS. The adoption of these pronouncements is subject to approval by the CVM and we expect no significant impacts on the interim financial statements of the Company and its subsidiaries:

- Amendments to IAS 1 – Presentation of financial statements: other comprehensive income
- Amendments to IFRS 7 – Financial instruments: offsetting financial assets and liabilities

Certain standards, amendments and interpretations to IFRS issued by IASB that have been issued but are not yet effective were not applied as of June 30, 2013, as follows:

	Effective date
• Amendments to IAS 32 – Financial instruments: presentation	2014
• IFRS 9 – Financial instruments' classification and measurement	2015

CPC has not yet issued pronouncements equivalent to these IAS/IFRS, but is expected to do so before the date they become effective. The adoption of IFRS pronouncements is subject to prior approval by the CVM.

w. Authorization for issuance of the interim financial statements

These interim financial statements were authorized for issue by the Board of Directors on December 11, 2013.

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

On December 31, 2012 the Company tested the balances of goodwill shown in the table above for impairment. The determination of value in use involves assumptions, judgments and estimates of cash flows, such as growth rates of revenues, costs and expenses, estimates of investments and working capital and discount rates. The assumptions about growth projections and future cash flows are based on the Company's business plan, as well as comparable market data, and represent management's best estimate of the economic conditions that will exist over the economic life of the various CGUs, to which goodwill is related.

The evaluation of the value in use is calculated for a period of five years, after which we calculate the perpetuity, considering the possibility of carrying the business on indefinitely.

The discount and growth rates used to extrapolate the projections ranged from 10.4% to 29.6% and 0% to 3.5% p.a., respectively, depending on the CGU analyzed.

The Company's goodwill impairment tests did not result in the recognition of losses for the year ended December 31, 2012.

ii) Software includes user licenses and costs for the implementation of the various systems used by the Company and its subsidiaries, such as: integrated management and control, financial management, foreign trade, industrial automation, operational and storage management, accounting information and other systems.

iii) The subsidiaries Oxiteno S.A., Oxiteno Nordeste and Oleoquímica Indústria e Comércio de Produtos Químicos Ltda. ("Oleoquímica") recognize as technology certain rights of use held by them. Such licenses include the production of ethylene oxide, ethylene glycols, ethanalamines, glycol ethers, ethoxylates, solvents, fatty acids from vegetable oils, fatty alcohols, and specialty chemicals, which are products that are supplied to various industries.

iv) Commercial property rights include those described below:

- On July 11, 2002, subsidiary Terminal Químico de Aratu – Tequimar ("Tequimar") executed an agreement with CODEBA – Companhia das Docas do Estado da Bahia, which allows it to explore the area in which the Aratu Terminal is located for 20 years, renewable for a similar period. The price paid by Tequimar was R$ 12,000, which is being amortized over the period from August 2002 to July 2042.
- In addition, subsidiary Tequimar has a lease contract for an area adjacent to the Port of Santos for 20 years from December 2002, renewable for a similar period, which allows the construction, operation, and use of a terminal for liquid bulk unloading, tank storage, handling, and distribution. The price paid by Tequimar was R$ 4,334, which is being amortized over the period from August 2005 to December 2022.

v) Distribution rights refer mainly to bonus disbursements as provided in Ipiranga's agreements with resellers and large customers. Bonus disbursements are recognized when paid and recognized as an expense in the income statement over the term of the agreement (typically 5 years) which is reviewed as per the changes occurred in the agreements.

22. Risks and financial instruments (Consolidated)

Risk management and financial instruments - Governance

The main risks to which the Company and its subsidiaries are exposed reflect strategic/operational and economic/financial aspects. Operational/strategic risks (including, but not limited to, demand behavior, competition, technological innovation, and material changes in the industry structure) are addressed by the Company's management model. Economic/financial risks primarily reflect default of customers, behavior of macroeconomic variables, such as exchange and interest rates, as well as the characteristics of the financial instruments used by the Company and its subsidiaries and their counterparties. These risks are managed through control policies, specific strategies, and the establishment of limits.

The Company has a conservative policy for the management of resources, financial instruments and risks approved by its Board of Directors ("Policy"). In accordance with the Policy, the main objectives of financial management are to preserve the value and liquidity of financial assets and ensure financial resources for the development of the business, including expansions. The main financial risks considered in the Policy are risks associated with currencies, interest rates, credit and selection of financial instruments. Governance of the management of financial risks and financial instruments follows the segregation of duties below:

- Implementation of the management of financial assets, instruments and risks is the responsibility of the financial area, through its treasury department, with the assistance of the tax and accounting departments.
- Supervision and monitoring of compliance with the principles, guidelines and standards of the Policy is the responsibility of the Risk and Investment Committee composed of members of the Company's Executive Board ("Committee"). The Committee holds regular meetings and is in charge, among other responsibilities, of discussing and monitoring the financial strategies, existing exposures, and significant transactions involving investment, fund raising, or risk mitigation. The Committee monitors the risk standards established by the Policy through a monitoring map on a monthly basis.
- Changes in the Policy or revisions of its standards are subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of Ultrapar.
- Continuous improvement of the Policy is the joint responsibility of the Board of Directors, the Committee, and the financial area.
- The internal audit department audits the compliance with the requirements of the Policy.

Currency risk

Most transactions of the Company and its subsidiaries are located in Brazil and, therefore, the reference currency for risk management is the Brazilian Real. Currency risk management is guided by neutrality of currency exposures and considers the transactional, accounting, and operational risks of the Company and its subsidiaries and their exposure to changes in exchange rates. The Company considers as its main currency exposures the assets and liabilities in foreign currency and the short-term flow of net sales in foreign currency of Oxiteno.

The Company and its subsidiaries use exchange rate hedging instruments (especially between the Brazilian Real and the U.S. dollar) available in the financial market to protect their assets, liabilities, receipts and disbursements in foreign currency, in order to reduce the effects of changes in exchange rates on its results and cash flows in Brazilian Reais within the exposure limits under its Policy. Such foreign exchange hedging instruments have amounts, periods, and rates substantially equivalent to those of assets, liabilities, receipts and disbursements in foreign currency to which they are related. Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are stated below, translated into Brazilian Reais as of June 30, 2013:

Interest rate risk

The Company and its subsidiaries adopt conservative policies for borrowing and investing financial resources and for capital cost minimization. The financial investments of the Company and its subsidiaries are primarily held in transactions linked to the CDI, as set forth in Note 4. Borrowings primarily relate to financing from Banco do Brasil, BNDES and other development agencies, debentures and borrowings in foreign currency, as shown in Note 14.

The Company does not actively manage risks associated with changes in the level of interest rates and attempts to maintain its financial interest assets and liabilities at floating rates. As of June 30, 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries had interest rate derivative financial instruments linked to domestic loans, swapping the fixed interest rate of certain debts to floating interest rate (CDI).

The table below shows the financial assets and liabilities exposed to floating interest rates as of June 30, 2013:

Credit risks

The financial instruments that would expose the Company and its subsidiaries to credit risks of the counterparty are basically represented by cash and bank deposits, financial investments, hedging instruments and trade receivables.

Credit risk of financial institutions - Such risk results from the inability of financial institutions to comply with their financial obligations to the Company and its subsidiaries due to insolvency. The Company and its subsidiaries regularly conduct a credit review of the institutions with which they hold cash and cash equivalents, financial investments, and hedging instruments through various methodologies that assess liquidity, solvency, leverage, portfolio quality, etc. Cash and cash equivalents, financial investments, and hedging instruments are held only with institutions with a solid credit history, chosen for safety and soundness. The volumes of cash and cash equivalents, financial investments and hedging instruments are subject to maximum limits by institution and, therefore, require diversification of counterparty.

Government credit risk - The Company's policy allows investments in government securities from countries classified as investment grade AAA or Aaa by specialized credit rating agencies and in Brazilian government bonds. The volume of such financial investments is subject to maximum limits by each country and, therefore, requires diversification of counterparties.

Customer credit risk - Such risks are managed by each business unit through specific criteria for acceptance of customers and credit rating and are additionally mitigated by diversification of sales. No single customer or group accounts for more than 10% of total revenue.

The Company maintained the following allowances for doubtful accounts on trade receivables:

Liquidity risk

The Company and its subsidiaries' main sources of liquidity derive from (i) cash, cash equivalents and financial investments, (ii) cash generated from operations and (iii) financings. The Company and its subsidiaries believe that these sources are sufficient to satisfy their current funding requirements, which include, but are not limited to, working capital, capital expenditures, amortization of debt and payment of dividends.

The Company and its subsidiaries periodically examine opportunities for acquisitions and investments. They consider different types of investments, either directly or through joint ventures, or associated companies, and finance such investments using cash generated from operations, debt financing, through capital increases or through a combination of these methods.

The Company and its subsidiaries believe to have enough working capital to satisfy their current needs. The gross indebtedness due over the next twelve months totals R$ 1,800.3 million, including estimated interests on loans. Furthermore, the investment plan for 2013 totals R$ 1,426 million. On June 30, 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries had R$ 3,084.7 million in cash, cash equivalents and short-term financial investments (for quantitative information, see Notes 4 and 14).

The table below presents a summary of financial liabilities as of June 30, 2013 to be settled by the Company and its subsidiaries, by maturity. The amounts disclosed in this table are the contractual undiscounted cash outflows, and, therefore, these amounts can be different from the amounts disclosed on the balance sheet as of June 30, 2013.

(2) Includes estimated interest payments on short-term and long-term loans until the payment.

(3) The currency and interest rate hedging instruments were estimated based on projected U.S dollar futures contracts and the futures curve of DI x Pre contract quoted on BM&FBOVESPA as of June 28, 2013, and on the futures curve of LIBOR (BBA - British Bankers Association) on June 28, 2013. In the table above, only the hedging instruments with negative result at the time of settlement were considered.

Capital management

The Company manages its capital structure based on indicators and benchmarks. The key performance indicators related to the capital structure management are the weighted average cost of capital, and the net debt / EBITDA, interest coverage and indebtedness / equity ratios. Net debt is composed of cash, cash equivalents and financial investments (see Note 4) and loans, including debentures (see Note 14). The Company can change its capital structure depending on the economic and financial conditions, in order to optimize its financial leverage and capital management. The Company seeks to improve its return on capital employed by implementing an efficient working capital management and a selective investment program.

Selection and use of financial instruments

In selecting financial investments and hedging instruments, an analysis is conducted to estimate rates of return, risks involved, liquidity, calculation methodology for the carrying value and fair value, and documentation applicable to the financial instruments. The financial instruments used to manage the financial resources of the Company and its subsidiaries are intended to preserve value and liquidity.

The Policy contemplates the use of derivative financial instruments only to cover identified risks and in amounts consistent with the risk (limited to 100% of the identified risk). The risks identified in the Policy are described in the above sections, and are subject to risk management. In accordance with the Policy, the Company and its subsidiaries can use forward contracts, swaps, options, and futures contracts to manage identified risks. Leveraged derivative instruments are not permitted. Because the use of derivative financial instruments is limited to the coverage of identified risks, the Company and its subsidiaries use the term “hedging instruments” to refer to derivative financial instruments.

As mentioned in the section “Risk management and financial instruments – Governance”, the Committee monitors compliance with the risk standards established by the Policy through a risk monitoring map, including the use of hedging instruments, on a monthly basis. In addition, the internal audit department verifies the compliance with the requirements of the Policy.

Hedging instruments existing as of June 30, 2013 are described below, according to their category, risk, and protection strategy:

a - Hedging against foreign exchange exposure of liabilities in foreign currency - The purpose of these contracts is (i) to offset the effect of the change in exchange rates of debts or firm commitments in U.S. dollars by converting them into debts or firm commitments in Brazilian Reais linked to CDI and (ii) change a financial investment linked to the CDI and given as guarantee to loan in U.S. dollar, into a financial investment linked to U.S. dollar. As of June 30, 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries had outstanding swap contracts totaling US$ 229.0 million in notional amount with liability position, on average of 106.2% of CDI, of which US$ 89.0 million, on average, had asset position at US$ + 4.8% p.a. and US$ 140.0 million had asset position at US$ + LIBOR + 1.0% p.a.

b - Hedging against foreign exchange exposure of operations - The purpose of these contracts is to make the exchange rate of the revenues of subsidiaries Oleoquímica, Oxiteno S.A. and Oxiteno Nordeste equal to the exchange rate of the cost of their main raw materials during their operating cycles. As of June 30, 2013, these swap contracts totaled US$ 12.7 million and, on average, had an asset position at 74.4% of CDI and liability position at US$ + 0.0% p.a.

c - Hedging against the interest rate fixed in local financing - The purpose of these contracts is to convert the interest rate on financing contracted in Brazilian Reais from fixed into floating. On June 30, 2013 these swap contracts totaled R$ 617.5 million of notional amount, and on average had an asset position at 12.0% p.a. and liability position at 99.1% of CDI.

Hedge accounting

The Company and its subsidiaries test, throughout the duration of the hedge, the effectiveness of their derivatives, as well as the changes in their fair value. The Company and its subsidiaries designate as fair value hedges certain derivative financial instruments used to offset the variations in interest and exchange rates, based on the market value of financing contracted in Brazilian Reais and U.S. dollars.

On June 30, 2013 the notional amount of interest rate hedging instruments totaled R$ 617.5 million referring to the principal of the pre-fixed loans in Brazilian Reais. As of June 30, 2013, a loss of R$ 18.7 million related to the result of hedging instruments, an income of R$ 54.5 million related to the fair value adjustment of debt and an expense of R$ 80.3 million related to the accrued interest rate of the debt were recognized in the income statements, transforming the average effective cost of the operations into 99.1% of CDI.

On June 30, 2013 the notional amount of foreign exchange hedging instruments designated as fair value hedge totaled US$ 80.0 million. As of June 30, 2013, a gain of R$ 9.4 million related to the result of hedging instruments, an expense of R$ 0.7 million related to the fair value adjustment of debt and an expense of R$ 14.8 million related to the financial expense of the debt were recognized in the income statements, transforming the average effective cost of the operation into 104.1% of CDI (see Note 14.c.1).

The fair value of financial instruments, including currency and interest hedging instruments, was determined as follows:

- The fair values of cash and bank deposits balances are identical to their carrying values.
- Financial investments in investment funds are valued at the value of the fund unit as of the date of the reporting period, which corresponds to their fair value.
- Financial investments in CDBs (Bank Certificates of Deposit) and similar investments offer daily liquidity through repurchase at the “yield curve” and, therefore, the Company believes their fair value corresponds to their carrying value.
- The fair value calculation of LPG Inc.’s notes in the foreign market (see Note 14.b) is based on the quoted prices in an active market.

The fair value of other financial investments and financings was determined using calculation methodologies commonly used for marking-to-market, which consist of calculating future cash flows associated with each instrument adopted and adjusting them to present value at the market rates as of June 30, 2013. For some cases where there is no active market for the financial instrument, the Company and its subsidiaries can use quotes provided by the transaction counterparties.

The interpretation of market information on the choice of calculation methodologies for the fair value requires considerable judgment and estimates to obtain a value deemed appropriate to each situation. Consequently, the estimates presented do not necessary indicate the amounts that may be realized in the current market.

Financial instruments were classified as loans and receivables or financial liabilities measured at amortized cost, except (i) all exchange rate and interest rate hedging instruments, which are measured at fair value through profit or loss, (ii) financial investments classified as measured at fair value through profit or loss, (iii) financial investments that are classified as available for sale, which are measured at fair value through other comprehensive income (see Note 4), (iv) fundings measured at fair value through profit or loss (see Note 14) and (v) guarantees to customers that have vendor arrangements (see Note 14.k), which are measured at fair value through profit or loss. The financial investments classified as held-to-maturity are measured at amortized cost. Cash, banks and trade receivables are classified as loans and receivables. Trade payables and other payables are classified as financial liabilities measured at amortized cost.

Fair value hierarchy of financial instruments on the balance sheet

The financial instruments recognized at fair value on the balance sheet are classified in the following categories:

- (a) Level 1 - prices negotiated (without adjustment) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities;
- (b) Level 2 - inputs other than prices negotiated in active markets included in Level 1 and observable for the asset or liability, either directly (as prices) or indirectly (derived from prices); and
- (c) Level 3 - inputs for the asset or liability which are not based on observable market variables (unobservable inputs).

Sensitivity analysis

The Company and its subsidiaries use derivative financial instruments only to hedge against identified risks and in amounts consistent with the risk (limited to 100% of the identified risk). Thus, for purposes of sensitivity analysis of market risks associated with financial instruments, as required by CVM Instruction 475/08, the Company analyzes the hedging instrument and the hedged item together, as shown on the charts below.

For the sensitivity analysis of foreign exchange hedging instruments, management adopted as a likely scenario the Real/U.S. dollar exchange rates at maturity of each swap, projected by U.S dollar futures contracts quoted on BM&FBOVESPA as of June 28, 2013. As a reference, the exchange rate for the last maturity of foreign exchange hedging instruments is R$ 3.02 in the likely scenario. Scenarios II and III were estimated with a 25% and 50% additional appreciation or depreciation of the Brazilian Real against the likely scenario, according to the risk to which the hedged item is exposed.

Based on the balances of the hedging instruments and hedged items as of June 30, 2013, the exchange rates were replaced, and the changes between the new balance in Brazilian Reais and the balance in Brazilian Reais as of June 30, 2013 were calculated in each of the three scenarios. The table below shows the change in the values of the main derivative instruments and their hedged items, considering the changes in the exchange rate in the different scenarios:

	Risk	Scenario I (likely)	Scenario II	Scenario III
Currency swaps receivable in U.S. dollars
(1) U.S. Dollar / Real swaps	Dollar	89,141	238,531	387,921
(2) Debts/firm commitments in dollars	appreciation	(89,133)	(238,535)	(387,936)
(1)+(2)	Net effect	8	(4)	(15)
Currency swaps payable in U.S. dollars
(3) Real / U.S. Dollar swaps	Dollar	(285)	6,809	13,902
(4) Gross margin of Oxiteno	devaluation	285	(6,809)	(13,902)
(3)+(4)	Net effect	-	-	-

For sensitivity analysis of hedging instruments for interest rates in Brazilian Reais, the Company used the futures curve of DI x Pre contract on BM&FBOVESPA as of June 28, 2013 for each of the swap and debt (hedged item) maturities, to determine the likely scenarios. Scenarios II and III were estimated based on a 25% and 50% deterioration, respectively, of the likely scenario pre-fixed interest rate.

Notes to the special purpose interim financial statements for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

Based on the three scenarios of interest rates in Brazilian Reais, the Company estimated the values of its debt and hedging instruments according to the risk which is being hedged (variations in the pre-fixed interest rates in Brazilian Reais), by projecting them to future value at the contracted rates and bringing them to present value at the interest rates of the estimated scenarios. The result is shown in the table below:

	Risk	Scenario I (likely)	Scenario II	Scenario III
Interest rate swap (in R$)
(1) Fixed rate swap - CDI	Decrease in	-	29,345	60,550
(2) Fixed rate financing	Pre-fixed rate	-	(29,345)	(60,549)

23. Provisions, contingencies and commitments (Consolidated)

a. Provisions for tax, civil and labor risks

The Company and its subsidiaries are parties in tax, civil and labor disputes and are discussing these issues both at the administrative and judiciary levels, which, when applicable, are backed by escrow deposits. Provisions for losses are estimated and updated by management, supported by the opinion of the legal departments of the Company and its outside legal counsel.

The table below demonstrates the breakdown of provisions by nature and its movement:

Provisions	Balance in 12/31/2012	Additions	Write-offs	Monetary restatement	Balance in 06/30/2013

Non-current	550,963				562,666

Some of the provisions above involve escrow deposits in the amount of R$ 423,637 as of June 30, 2013.

b. Tax matters

Provisions

On October 7, 2005, the subsidiaries Cia. Ultragaz and Bahiana Distribuidora de Gás Ltda. (“Bahiana”) filed for and obtained a preliminary injunction to recognize and offset PIS and COFINS credits on LPG purchases, against other taxes levied by the Brazilian Federal Revenue Service, notably IRPJ and CSLL. The decision was confirmed by a trial court on May 16, 2008. Under the preliminary injunction, the subsidiaries were required to make escrow deposits for these debits in the accumulated amount of R$ 308,042 as of June 30, 2013 and have recognized a corresponding liability.

The subsidiary IPP has provisions for IRPJ and CSLL related to the unconstitutionality of Law No. 9316/1996, that denied the deduction of CSLL from the IRPJ tax basis, in the amount of R$ 19,420 as of June 30, 2013.

(In thousands of Brazilian Reais, unless otherwise stated)

The subsidiaries Oxiteno S.A., Oxiteno Nordeste, Cia. Ultragaz, Tequimar, Tropical, Empresa Carioca de Produtos Químicos S.A. (“EMCA”) and IPP filed for a preliminary injunction seeking the deduction of ICMS from their PIS and COFINS tax bases. Oxiteno Nordeste and IPP obtained the right to pay the amounts into escrow deposits through an injunction, and recognized a corresponding provision in the amount of R$ 83,668 as of June 30, 2013.

The subsidiary Oxiteno S.A. decided to pay off, within the Decree 58811/2012 amnesty issued by the State of São Paulo, a tax assessment based on alleged undue ICMS credits taken on invoices issued for the symbolic return of raw materials that had previously been delivered to the subsidiary Oxiteno Nordeste for industrialization. The provision in the amount of R$ 15,364 was paid in April 2013.

The subsidiary IPP and its subsidiaries have provisions related to ICMS, mainly with respect to: (a) tax notices filed in connection with interstate sales of fuel to industrial customers without the payment of ICMS in accordance with the interpretation of Article 2 of Supplementary Law No. 87/1996, R$ 12,289 as of June 30, 2013, and (b) payment of ICMS for several reasons that resulted in tax assessments for which the proof of payment is not so evident, R$ 18,570 as of June 30, 2013.

Contingent liabilities

The main tax claims of subsidiary IPP and its subsidiaries classified as having a possible risk of loss, and that have not been recognized in the interim financial statements due to this assessment, are related to: (a) the required proportional reversal of ICMS credits recognized on the purchase of ethanol that was later resold at lower prices as a result of PROÁLCOOL, a Federal Government program to encourage alcohol production, determining the anticipation of financial subsidy by the distributors to the mill owners and their subsequent reimbursement by the DNC (current National Oil Agency), R$ 108,752 as of June 30, 2013, (b) alleged undue ICMS credits for which the tax authorities understand that there was no proof of origin, R$ 29,105 as of June 30, 2013, (c) assessments for alleged non-payment of ICMS, R$ 24,282 as of June 30, 2013, (d) assessment issued in Ourinhos/SP in connection with the return of ethanol loans made with deferred tax, R$ 38,662 as of June 30, 2013, (e) assessments in the State of Rio de Janeiro demanding the reversal of ICMS credits on interstate sales made under Article 33 of ICMS Convention 66/88, which allowed the use of the ICMS credit but was suspended by an injunction granted by STF, R$ 16,927 as of June 30, 2013, (f) ICMS credits taken in relation to bills considered invalid, though the understanding of the STJ (the Brazilian High Court of Justice) is that it is possible to take credit, even if there is defect in the document of the seller, as long as it is confirmed that the transaction occurred, R$ 27,226 as of June 30, 2013; (g) assessments arising from surplus or shortage of inventory, generated by differences in temperature or handling of the product, without the corresponding issuance of invoices, R$ 27,990 as of June 30, 2013, (h) infraction relating to ICMS credits due to alleged non-compliance with legal formalities, R$ 35,895 as of June 30, 2013 and; (i) assessments arising from ICMS credits related to inputs of ethanol from certain States that had granted tax benefits to producers of alcohol in alleged disagreement with the law, R$ 29,629 as of June 30, 2013.

The subsidiary IPP has assessments invalidating the set-off of IPI credits in connection with the purchase of raw materials used in the manufacturing of products which sales are not subject to IPI under the protection of tax immunity. The non-provisioned amount of this contingency, as of June 30, 2013, is R$ 98,349.

Contigent assets

The Company and its subsidiaries have favorable judgments to pay contributions to PIS and COFINS without the changes introduced by Law 9718/1998 in its original version. The ongoing questioning refers to the levy of these contributions on sources of income other than gross revenue. In 2005, the STF (the Brazilian Supreme Federal Court) decided the question in favor of the taxpayers. Although this has set a favorable precedent, the effect of this decision does not automatically apply to all companies, since they must await the formal decision in their own lawsuits. Certain lawsuits of the Company's subsidiaries are currently pending trial and, in the event all such lawsuits are decided in favor of the subsidiaries, the Company estimates that the total positive effect on income before income and social contribution taxes, may reach R$ 35,588, net of attorney's fees.

c. Civil claims

Provisions

The Company and its subsidiaries maintained provisions for lawsuits and administrative proceedings, mainly derived from contracts entered into with customers and former services providers, as well as proceedings related to environmental issues in the amount of R$ 96,324 as of June 30, 2013.

Contingent liabilities

The subsidiary Cia. Ultragaz is party to an administrative proceeding before CADE (Brazilian antitrust authority) based on alleged anti-competitive practices in the State of Minas Gerais in 2001. The CADE entered a decision against Cia. Ultragaz imposing a penalty of R$ 23,104. The imposition of such administrative decision was suspended by a court order and its merit is being judicially reviewed. Based on the above elements and on the opinion of its legal counsel, the subsidiary did not recognize a provision for this contingency.

d. Labor matters

Provisions

The Company and its subsidiaries maintained provisions of R$ 44,781 as of June 30, 2013 for labor litigation filed by former employees and by employees of our service providers mainly contesting the non-payment of labor rights.

Contingent liabilities

In 1990, the Petrochemical Industry Labor Union (Sindicatúmica), of which the employees of Oxiteno Nordeste and EMCA, companies located in the Camaçari Petrochemical Complex, are members, filed separate lawsuits against the subsidiaries demanding the compliance with the fourth section of the collective labor agreement, which provided for a salary adjustment in lieu of the salary policies practiced. In the same year, a collective labor dispute was also filed by the Union of Employers (SINPEQ) against Sindicatúmica, requiring the recognition of the loss of effectiveness of such fourth section. Individual claims were rejected. The collective bargain agreement is currently pending trial by STF. In the second half of 2010, some companies in the Camaçari Petrochemical Complex signed an agreement with Sindicatúmica and reported the fact in the collective bargain agreement dispute. Based on the opinion of their legal advisors, that reviewed the latest STF decision in the collective bargain agreement dispute as well as the status of the individual claims involving the subsidiaries Oxiteno Nordeste and EMCA, the management of such subsidiaries believed that it was not necessary to recognize a provision as of June 30, 2013.

The Company and its subsidiaries have other pending administrative and legal proceedings of tax, civil and labor nature, individually less relevant, which were estimated by their legal counsel as possible and/or remote risk (proceedings whose chance of loss is 50% or less), and the related potential losses were not provided for by the Company and its subsidiaries based on these opinions. The Company and its subsidiaries are also litigating for recovery of taxes and contributions, which were not recognized in the interim financial statements due to their contingent nature.

As of June 30, 2013, these rates were R$ 5.79 per ton for Aratu and R$ 1.38 per ton for Suape. The subsidiary has met the minimum cargo movement required since the beginning of the agreements.

a. ULTRAPREV- Associação de Previdência Complementar

In February 2001, the Company's Board of Directors approved the adoption of a defined contribution pension plan to be sponsored by Company and each of its subsidiaries. Participating employees have been contributing to this plan, managed by Ultraprev - Associação de Previdência Complementar ("Ultraprev"), since August 2001. Under the terms of the plan, every year each participating employee chooses his or her basic contribution to the plan. Each sponsoring company provides a matching contribution in an amount equivalent to each basic contribution, up to a limit of 11% of the employee's reference salary, according to the rules of the plan. As participating employees retire, they may choose to receive either (i) a monthly sum ranging between 0.5% and 1.0% of their respective accumulated fund in Ultraprev or (ii) a fixed monthly amount which will exhaust their respective accumulated fund over a period of 5 to 25 years. The sponsoring company does not guarantee the amounts or the duration of the benefits received by each employee that retires. As of June 30, 2013, the Company and its subsidiaries contributed R$ 8,735 to Ultraprev, which amount is recognized as expense in the income statement. The total number of participating employees as of June 30, 2013 was 6,869 active participants and 97 retired participants. As of June 30, 2013 the Company had 178 stores operating in the states of Pará, Amapá, Maranhão, Piauí and Ceará, under the trade name of Extrafarma.

On September 30, 2013, the Company and its shareholders entered into a share exchange agreement with Ultrapar Participações S.A. ("Ultrapar"). This transaction is expected to be closed in the first quarter of 2014. These interim financial statements include only the balance sheet as of June 30, 2013 and the statement of income for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013 and have been prepared for the special purpose of being used as basis for the approval of the merger of the Company's shares by Ultrapar.

2 Basis of preparation of the special-purpose interim financial statements and significant accounting practices

2.1 Basis of preparation of the special-purpose interim financial statements

a. Statement of Compliance in relation to CPC standards

The special-purpose interim financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Brazilian accounting practices, in compliance with the provisions included in the Corporate Law, and incorporated changes introduced by Laws 11638 and 11941/09, supplemented by pronouncements, guidelines and interpretations issued by the Committee for Accounting Pronouncements (CPC), approved by resolutions issued by the Federal Accounting Council (CFC), except for the fact that the balance sheet and the statement of income for the period ended June 30, 2013 are not presented in a comparative manner and for the lack of presentation of the statements of comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows.

These special-purpose interim financial statements as of June 30, 2013 have been prepared for the special purpose of meeting the requirements of Instruction 319/99 issued by the Brazilian Securities and Exchange Commission – CVM for the merger of Imifarma's shares by Ultrapar as mentioned in Note 1. These special-purpose interim financial statements include only the balance sheet as of June 30, 2013 and the statement of income for the six-month period ended June 30, 2013, pursuant to item 29.12 of Circular 01/2007 issued by CVM/SNC/SEP. They are not a full set of financial statements and therefore may not be used for other purposes.

The Board of Directors authorized the issuance of these financial statements on December 17, 2013.

b. Basis of measurement

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the accounting practices mentioned in Note 2.2 and using historical cost as the accounting basis, except for the following material items:

- Financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss.

c. Functional and presentation currency

The special-purpose interim financial statements are presented in thousands of Brazilian Reais (R$). The Brazilian Real is the Company's functional currency.

d. Use of estimates and judgments

The preparation of the special-purpose interim financial statements in conformity with the CPC standards requires Management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized in the year in which the estimates are revised and in any future years affected.

Information on critical judgments in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognized in the special-purpose interim financial statements is included in the following notes:

- Note 13 - Recording of agreements including lease.
- Note 13 - Lease classification.

Information about assumptions and estimation of uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment within the next financial year are included in the following notes:

- Note 7 - Deferred taxes.
- Note 16 - Provisions

2.2 Significant accounting policies

a. Financial instruments

(i) Non-derivative financial assets

The Company initially recognizes loans and receivables on the date they are originated. All other financial assets are recognized initially on the trade date, which is the date that the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

The Company derecognizes a financial asset only when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or when it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows on the financial asset in a transaction in which substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred.

The Company classifies non-derivative financial assets into the following categories: financial assets at fair value through profit or loss, investments held to maturity, and loans and receivables. The Company does not have available-for-sale financial assets.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

A financial asset is classified at fair value through profit or loss if it is classified as held-for-trading or is designated as such on initial recognition. Financial assets are designated at fair value through profit or loss if the Company manages such investments and makes purchase and sale decisions based on their fair value in accordance with the Company's documented risk management or investment strategy. Attributable transaction costs are recognized in profit or loss as incurred. Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value, and changes in fair value are recognized in profit or loss for the period.

Held-to-maturity financial assets

If the Company has the positive intent and ability to hold debt securities to maturity, then such financial assets are classified as held-to-maturity. Held-to-maturity financial assets are recognized initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, held-to-maturity financial assets are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Such assets are recognized initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, loans and receivables are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method, less any impairment losses.

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash balances, bank deposits and financial investments with maturities of three months or less from the acquisition date that are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in their fair value, and are used by the Company in the management of its short-term commitments.

(ii) Non-derivative financial liabilities

The Company initially recognizes issued debt securities and subordinated liabilities at the date they are originated. All other financial liabilities (including liabilities designated at fair value recorded in profit or loss) are initially recognized on the trade date, which is the date that the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. The Company derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged, canceled, or expire.

The Company classifies non-derivative financial liabilities into the other financial liabilities category. Such financial liabilities are recognized initially at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these financial liabilities are measured at amortized cost using the effective interest method.

The Company has the following non-derivative financial liabilities: loans and financing, bank overdraft limit (secured account), unsecured bank balances, trade payables, leases, related parties, and other accounts payable.

(iii) Capital

Common shares at nominal value are classified as equity.

Minimum mandatory dividends, as defined in the by-laws, are recognized as liabilities, and may be distributed as interest on shareholders' equity. The excess of dividends to be distributed is classified as additional dividends proposed in the shareholders' equity.

b. Trade receivables and other receivable

Trade receivables correspond to cash receivable from clients deriving from the sale of goods or the rendering of services, recorded at the amount billed, not adjusted to present value due to Management's judgment of not considering this procedure applicable, and include the corresponding direct taxes whose tax liability the Company is responsible for.

The allowance for doubtful accounts is composed of loans overdue for more than 180 days and based on the credit risk analysis which encompasses the loss history, the client's individual situation and the assessment of the legal advisors. Management understands that the allowance recorded is sufficient to cover losses upon the realization of trade receivables.

c. Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realizable value. The cost of inventories is based on the weighted average cost criterion, and includes all costs involved in the acquisition of the asset. Net realizable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less the estimated costs of completion and estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

d. Property, plant and equipment

(i) Recognition and measurement

Property, plant and equipment items are measured at historic acquisition or construction cost, less accumulated depreciation and impairment, if applicable.

Cost includes expenditure that is directly attributable to the acquisition of the asset. The cost of assets built by the Company itself includes the cost of materials and direct labor, as well as any other costs incurred to bring the assets to the location and condition necessary for them to operate according to Management's purposes.

When parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gains and losses arising from the disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment (determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying value of the asset) are recognized as other operating revenues/expenses in profit or loss.

(ii) Subsequent costs

The replacement cost of a component of property, plant and equipment is recognized in the item's carrying value should it be probable that the economic rewards incorporated into the component will flow to the Company and its cost may be reliably measured. The carrying value of a component which has been replaced by another is recorded in the income for the period in which the replacement occurs. All other expenditure is recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

(iii) Depreciation

Items of property, plant and equipment are depreciated from the date they are available for use or, in respect of self-constructed assets, from the day the asset construction is completed and it is available for use.

Depreciation is calculated on the depreciable portion of an asset (its replacement cost less the estimated residual value).

Depreciation is recognized in profit or loss using the straight-line method, as per rates described in Note 9, and considers the estimated useful lives of each part of a property, plant and equipment item, given that this is the method that more closely reflects the consumption pattern of future economic rewards included in assets.

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual amounts are reviewed at each reporting date and possible adjustments are recognized as a change in accounting estimates. Management understands that depreciation rates represent the expectations of the Company's assets' useful lives.

The estimated weighted average rates as of June 30, 2013 are as follows:

	% average rate
Leasehold improvements (as per agreements)	10 to 20
Machinery and equipment	7.14 to 10
Furniture and fixtures	8.33 to 33.33
Vehicles	10 to 33.33
IT equipment	20 to 50

e. Intangible Assets

Intangible asset useful lives are stated as definite or indefinite.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are not amortized and their recoverable value is tested on a yearly basis. Intangible assets which have a definite useful life are amortized considering their effective use.

(i) Subsequent expenditures

Subsequent expenditures are capitalized only when the future economic rewards incorporated into the specific asset to which they are related increase.

(ii) Amortization

Amortization is recognized in profit or loss using the straight-line method, based on the estimated useful lives of intangible assets, as from the date on which they become available for use. Estimated useful lives as of June 30, 2013 are as follows:

- Software: 5 years or for the term of licenses.
- Lease of commercial establishment/transfer fees: 5 years or for the term of the lease agreements.

f. Leases

The Company has operating and financial leases.

The leases in whose terms the Company assumes the risks and rewards inherent in the ownership are classified as financial leases. At the initial recognition the leased asset is measured at a value equal to or the lower of its fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the asset is recorded according to the accounting policy applicable to the asset.

Minimum lease payments performed under financial leases are allocated between financial expenses and decrease in the liabilities outstanding. Financial expenses are allocated to each period over the term of the lease aiming at producing a constant, periodic interest rate on the liability remaining balance.

The other leases are operating leases. Payments made under operating leases are recognized in profit or loss on a straight-line basis for the lease period.

g. Impairment

(i) Financial assets

A financial asset not measured at fair value through profit or loss is valued at each reporting date to determine whether there is objective evidence that it is impaired.

An asset is impaired when objective evidence indicates that a loss event occurred after the initial recognition of the asset and that the loss event had a negative effect on the estimated future cash flows of that asset which can be estimated reliably.

The Company considers evidence of impairment for receivables both at an individualized and at a collective level. All material receivables which are individually significant are tested for impairment. All receivables which are individually significant and are identified as not having endured impairment individually are then collectively assessed with respect to any impairment that might have occurred. Receivables which are not individually significant are collectively assessed for impairment by means of grouping together assets with similar risk characteristics.

In assessing collective impairment tests, the Company uses historical trends of the default chances, the timing of recoveries and the amounts of loss incurred, adjusted to reflect the Management's judgment as to whether current economic and credit conditions are such that the actual losses are likely to be greater or lesser than suggested by historical trends.

(ii) Non-financial assets

The carrying amounts of the Company's non-financial assets, such as those of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets are reviewed at each reporting date to determine whether there is any indication of impairment. If any such indication exists, then the asset's recoverable amount is determined.

The recoverable amount of an asset or cash generating unit (CGU) is the greater of its value in use and its fair value less costs to sell. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects market conditions in effect with respect to the capital recoverability time and the risks specific to the asset or

CGU. In order to test the recoverable value, the assets which cannot be individually tested are grouped together in the smallest asset group generating continuous use cash inflow, which are mostly independent of the cash flows from other assets or groups of assets (the "cash generating unit or CGU"). The Company considers each store individually as a cash generating unit.

The Company did not make any adjustment in the criterion it adopts to measure assets and make accounting estimates in the financial statements, which comprise the balance sheet as of June 30, 2013 and the statement of income for the period from January 1 to June 30, 2013, due to the signature of the share exchange agreement with Ultrapar, referred to in Note n° 1

h. Trade payables

Trade payables are liabilities payable for goods or services acquired over the ordinary course of business, and are classified in their entirety as current liabilities due to the fact that the usually negotiated maturities are shorter than one year, or than the normal operating cycle.

i. Pay received

Pay received from suppliers is measured and recognized as a liability based on its realization value, and recorded in profit or loss for the net amount between the amount received and the costs spent on the supplier's marketing development. It comprises agreements entered into based on purchase volume and occasional negotiations to recover margin, or marketing agreements, among others.

j. Provisions

A provision is recognized, as a result of past events, if the Company has a present obligation (legal or constructive) which can be reliably estimated and it is probable that an economic outflow is required to settle the obligation.

k. Operating revenue

(i) Sale of goods

Operating revenue from the sale of goods in the normal course of business is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable.

Operating revenue is recognized when there is convincing evidence that the most significant risks and rewards inherent in the ownership of goods have been transferred to the buyer, that it is probable that economic financial rewards will flow to the Company, that related costs and the possible return of merchandise can be reliably estimated, that there is no continuous involvement with the goods sold, and that the operating revenue amount can be measured reliably.

(ii) Rental income

Rental income is recognized in profit or loss using the straight line method over the lease term deriving from the assignment of space to cash dispensers.

(iii) Deferred revenue - Loyalty program

The Company has a loyalty program in which clients are benefited from credits known as "Club Extra", by means of which clients are entitled to redeem their points in exchange for Company's goods. The amount regarding the consideration received or receivable, in relation to the initial sale, is allocated among the prizes granted by the loyalty program (Club Extra). The amount allocated to Club Extra is estimated based on the reference to the fair value of the right to buy goods. The fair value of the right to buy goods is estimated based on the value of the goods, which are adjusted in order to take into consideration the redemption rate forecast. The amount allocated to Club Extra is deferred and the revenue is recognized only when the points are redeemed and when the Company has met its obligation of supplying the goods. The time frame for redemption is 12 months counting from the date on which the points are made available. The amount of revenue recognized under these circumstances is based on the number of points which were redeemed in exchange for goods, in relation to the total number of points which is forecasted to be redeemed. Deferred revenue is also recorded as revenue in profit or loss when it is no longer considered probable that the points will be redeemed, i.e. after 12 months.

l. Cost of goods sold

The Company considers as cost of goods sold the weighted average cost, plus non-recoverable taxes and inventory losses due to expiration, spoilages and inventory differences, net of marketing funds received from the pharmaceutical industry.

m. Financial income and financial expenses

Financial income comprises interest income on funds invested (including variation in the fair value of financial assets measured at fair value through profit or loss). Interest income is recognized in profit or loss through the effective interest method.

Financial expenses comprise interest expenses on loans. Borrowing costs which are not directly attributable to the purchase, construction or production of a qualifying asset are recognized in profit or loss through the effective interest method.

n. Income and social contribution taxes

(i) Current taxes

Current year income and social contribution taxes are calculated at the following rates: 15% plus a 10% surtax on any taxable income in excess of R$240 (annual basis) for income tax; and 9% on taxable income for social contribution on profit, considering, where applicable, income and social contribution tax loss offsets and negative basis of social contribution, up to 30% of taxable income.

Income and social contribution tax expenses comprise current income taxes. Current tax is recognized in profit or loss, except to the extent that it relates to items directly recognized in equity or in other comprehensive income.

Current tax is the expected tax payable or receivable on the taxable income or loss for the year, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date, and any adjustment to tax payable in respect of previous years.

(ii) Deferred taxes

Deferred tax is recognized in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of the Company's assets and liabilities for accounting purposes and the corresponding amounts used for income tax purposes. Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates which are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they revert, based on the laws that have been enacted or substantially enacted up to the specific-purpose interim financial statements date.

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are offset if there is a legally enforceable right to offset current tax liabilities and assets, and they relate to income taxes levied by the same tax authority on the same taxable entity.

A deferred income and social contribution tax asset is recognized for unused deductible temporary differences and tax credits to the extent that it is probable that taxable income subject to taxation will be available, against which the deductible temporary differences can be utilized. Deferred income and social contribution tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized.

Total income and social contribution taxes are composed of current and deferred taxes.

o. Business segments

Operating segments are defined as components of an enterprise for which individual financial information is available and is assessed regularly by the main operating decision-maker in the decisions on how to allocate funds to an individual segment, and to assess the segment's performance. Considering that all decisions are made according to consolidated reports, all services are provided using a similar marketing system, there are no managers responsible for a certain segment and all decisions about strategic and financial planning, purchasing, investments and application of funds are made on a consolidated basis, the Company has concluded that it has only one reporting segment.

p. Determination of the adjustment to present value

A specific analysis with respect to the effects arising from adjustment to present value of asset and liability accounts deriving from short-term operations was carried out, and no significant or relevant effect was determined. Long-term monetary assets and liabilities are not subject to discounts to present value.

q. New standards and interpretations not yet adopted

The following pronouncements issued by the International Accounting Standards Board - IASB were enacted on January 1, 2013, however CPC has not yet issued pronouncements equivalent to these International Accounting Standards - IAS/International Financial Reporting Standards - IFRS. The adoption of these pronouncements depends on their approval through CVM's ruling and no significant impacts are expected on the Company's special-purpose interim financial statements:

- Changes in IAS 1 – Presentation of other comprehensive income
- Changes in IFRS 7 – Disclosures – Offsetting financial assets and financial liabilities

b. Estimate of the realization portions regarding deferred tax assets

The Company, based on a technical study approved by the Management, recognized the tax credits on prior-year tax losses and negative bases of social contribution related to the estimate of future taxable profit, which do not have statute of limitations and whose offsetting is limited 30% of the annual taxable profits.

Based on the technical study with respect to the calculation of taxable income projections, the Company estimates to recover the tax credit deriving from negative bases of social contribution and tax losses to offset in 2013, in its entirety.

21 Financial instruments

a. Overview

The Company has exposure to the following risks arising from financial instruments:

- Credit risk;
- Liquidity risk; and
- Market risk.

This note presents information about the Company's exposure to each of the aforementioned risks, about the Company's objectives, and its policies and processes for measuring and managing risk, and capital management.

b. Risk management framework

The Board of Directors has overall responsibility for the establishment and oversight of the Company's risk management framework.

The management of these instruments is carried out by means of operating strategies and internal controls aiming at ensuring their liquidity, profitability and safety. Control policy consists of a permanent follow-up of agreed conditions against the ones prevailing in the market.

The Company's risk management policies were established to identify and analyze risks to which the Company is exposed, in order to set the limits of risks and appropriate controls, and monitor risks and adherence to the limits imposed. Risk management policies and systems are reviewed regularly to reflect changes in market conditions and the Company's activities. The Company, by means of training and management procedures, seeks to develop a discipline and control environment in which all employees are aware of their assignments and obligations.

Management uses financial instruments aiming at obtaining the maximum return on investment for its cash and cash equivalents, at maintaining its assets liquid, hedging itself against interest rate variations and at complying with the financial indices established in its financing contracts (restrictive clauses).

Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Company, which arises mainly from the Company's receivables from clients and investment securities, if a customer or counterparty to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations.

c. Exposure to credit risk

Management understands that the Company is exposed to low credit risk, because its client portfolio consists of final consumers and does not include any client which accounts for more than 10% of its revenues. Its sales are basically made in cash and therefore pose no risk.

Considering the possible risk deriving from the amount passed on by the credit card acquirers, this is daily controlled by means of a strict checking process between billing and collection. The Company currently works with first tier acquirers; therefore, it understands that its risk is low; in addition, the latter assume all responsibility for the onlending of credits.

The Company limits its exposure to credit risks by investing just in highly liquid securities and just in large, first-tier financial institutions. Management actively monitors credit ratings and since the Company has invested just in highly-rated in terms of credit, Management has no expectations that any counterparty will fail to comply with its obligations; therefore, it considers credit risk insignificant.

d. Trade receivables

The carrying amount of financial assets represents the maximum credit exposure. Maximum exposure to credit risk on the financial statements date was as follows:

	06/30/2013
Trade receivables	77,371

The maximum exposure to credit risk for loans and receivables as of December 30, 2013, by type of counterparty was the following:

	06/30/2013
Credit and debit cards	55,190
Agreements	2,799
Wholesale clients	21,629
Allowance for doubtful accounts	(2,247)

e. Cash and cash equivalents

The Company holds cash and cash equivalents amounting to R$10,157 as of June 30, 2013, which account for the maximum credit exposure on those assets. Cash and cash equivalents are held in first-tier financial institutions.

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Company will encounter difficulty in meeting the obligations associated with its financial liabilities that are settled by payments in cash or another financial asset. The Company's approach to managing liquidity is to ensure, as far as possible, that it will always have sufficient liquidity to meet its liabilities when due, under both normal and stressed conditions, without incurring unacceptable losses or risking damage to the Company's reputation.

The Company also monitors the level of expected cash inflows on trade and other receivables together with expected cash outflows on trade and other payables.

Market risk

Market risk is the risk that changes in market prices, such as labor prices and interest rates, will affect the Company's income or the value of its holdings of financial instruments. The objective of the market risk management is to manage and control exposure to market risks, within acceptable parameters, and at the same time optimize the return.

Management understands that the market risk applicable to the Company consists of the interest rate risk, given that the risk posed by an increase in the prices of merchandise provided by suppliers and laboratories is mitigated because price adjustments are annually set by the Chamber for the Regulation of the Medical Pharmaceuticals Market - CMED.

The Company adopts the policy of balancing its transactions pegged to fixed and variable interest rate transactions, in order for a significant exposure not to occur. Loans and financing pegged to variable interest rates are monitored by means of sensitivity analyses.

f. Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk arises from the possibility of the Company reporting gains or losses on fluctuations in interest rates on its financial assets and liabilities. To mitigate this type of risk, the Company seeks to obtain funds from different sources in terms of fixed and floating rates.

The economy's interest rate variations impact both the Company's financial assets and financial liabilities. We show below the impacts arising from these variations on the profitability of the Company's financial investments and indebtedness in local currency substantially pegged to the Interbank Deposit Certificate (CDI). The Company's financial asset and liability sensitiveness was shown in two different scenarios in addition to the probable one.

We present a scenario considered as probable by the Company's Management, with nominal rates reported as of June 30, 2013 (book balance based on the CDI -interbank deposit certificate rate of 7.20% accrued over twelve months and the TJLP - long-term interest rate of 5.2% accrued over twelve months) and a scenario with appreciation of 25% (Scenario I) and 50% (Scenario II) of those rates.

g. Sensitivity analysis

We show as follows the effects on profit or loss as a result of the appreciations as of June 30, 2013:

Financial institutions and types	Risk (rate)	Book balance	Probable scenario	Scenario	Scenario
				I 25%	II 50%
Floating interest rate
Loans and financing	Rate increase	138,527	9,924	12,405	14,886

As a result of the analyses carried out, the Company would record expenses in the Probable. I and II.

Capital Management

The Management's policy is to maintain a strong capital base so as to maintain investor, creditor and market confidence and to sustain future development of the business. Management monitors return on capital, which was defined as the profit or loss arising from operating activities divided by the total equity. It also monitors the level of dividends for the Company's shareholders. Management has no plans related to the compensation of its employees by means of share-based or option-based remuneration.

The Executive Board seeks to maintain a balance between the higher returns that might be possible with higher levels of borrowings and the advantages and security afforded by a sound capital position. There was no change in the approach adopted by the Company to capital management during the period. The Company is not subject to external requirements regarding capital.

h. Classification and fair value of financial instruments

The book balances and market values of financial instruments as of June 30, 2013 are identified as follows:

Description	06/30/2013
	Carrying amount	Fair value
Loans and receivables
Cash and cash equivalents	10,157	10,157
Trade receivables	77,731	77,371
Financial liabilities measured at amortized cost
Trade payables	108,355	108,355
Loans and financing	140,816	140,816

i. Criteria, assumptions and limitations used in the calculation of fair values

Cash and cash equivalents

They are classified as highly-liquid financial assets and initially recognized at fair value plus any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to their initial recognition, investments are measured at amortized cost which is obtained based on the quotations disseminated by their managers. Fair value reflects the amount recorded in the balance sheet.

Trade receivables

They derive directly from the Company's operations and are recorded at their original amounts, subject to impairment loss and adjustment to present value, when applicable. It is estimated that the carrying amount is a reasonable approximation of the fair value, due to the short-term nature of the operations performed.

Trade payables

They directly derive from the Company's activities and are stated at known or estimated amounts, plus the related charges, exchange and/or monetary variations incurred up to the balance sheet date, and adjustment to present value, when applicable. Management understands that the carrying amount does not substantially vary from fair value.

Financing, loans, and related party loans

The financing amounts pegged to the long-term interest rate (TJLP) and interbank deposit certificate (CDI) approximate the liability amounts recorded in the special-purpose interim financial statements on account of the fact that these are floating rates, even considering the cases in which there is a fixed additional rate.

Fair value was determined based on the present value of future principal and cash flows, discounted at the average future CDI rate, corresponding to all loans falling due between 2013 and 2017, based on the reporting date of the special-purpose interim financial statements.

Insurance coverage

As of June 30, 2013, insurance coverage for operating risks was composed of R$2,891 for damage caused by fire to the chain, R$100 for civil liability per store and R$89,100 for property damage in the distribution and inventories center.
