Subject: Another Potential Offer for Our Company

Today, we announced our receipt of an unsolicited acquisition proposal for our company from Golden Gate Capital (<http://goldengatecap.com>), a private equity firm headquartered in San Francisco. Golden Gate is currently working through its due diligence process, which involves examining all aspects of our business and operations. At this point, we don't know whether this proposal will result in a definitive offer or not.

As you know, we announced a definitive agreement to be acquired by SMSC, and we are proceeding with the actions required to complete that transaction. In parallel, we are also working with Golden Gate until we determine whether or not their proposal will result in a definitive offer, which we hope to know in the next week or two.

Both companies are interested in acquiring us primarily for our IP and product portfolios, our engineering teams and track record of execution, and our customer relationships. Our challenge now is to avoid distractions and stay focused on doing the things that have made us a successful company. We must deliver on new-product development schedules, continue to provide outstanding customer support and service, and ensure that our operational and financial performance meets expectations.

In the event that we close the transaction with SMSC, Sailesh Chittipeddi, currently Conexant's president and chief operating officer, is slated to become executive vice president with responsibility for all product lines, worldwide engineering, and marketing. If we close a transaction with Golden Gate, we anticipate that Sailesh will continue with a similar senior management role.

I will keep you informed as this situation develops. In the meantime, it's business as usual for all of us. Thank you for your patience, dedication, and support.

Best regards,

Scott
