RISKMETRICS RECOMMENDS THAT CHEMED CORPORATION STOCKHOLDERS VOTE FOR ALL CHEMED NOMINEES ON THE WHITE PROXY CARD

Second Leading Independent Proxy Advisory Firm Endorses Chemed's Director Nominees

CINCINNATI – May 19, 2009 – Chemed Corporation (NYSE:CHE) today announced that RiskMetrics Group (formerly Institutional Shareholder Services), a leading independent proxy voting advisory firm, recommends that Chemed stockholders vote FOR all of the Company's director nominees at Chemed's 2009 Annual Meeting of Stockholders to be held on May 29, 2009.

Chemed's CEO, Kevin J. McNamara, and Chairman of the Board, George J. Walsh, issued the following joint statement:

“We welcome the support of RiskMetrics Group. This recommendation further enforces our strong belief that electing all of Chemed's director nominees is in the best interests of all stockholders. The Board's nominees have the necessary depth and breadth of relevant expertise in areas that are critical to Chemed's continued success, and we are confident that they will continue building on Chemed's track record of value creation. We strongly urge all Chemed stockholders to protect their investment by voting the WHITE proxy card today.”

In its May 18, 2009 report recommending the election of all Chemed nominees, RiskMetrics states*:

“[O]n balance we conclude the dissident has not met its burden of proving that board change is warranted.”

“[T]he dissident has not raised any specific claims that the company has demonstratively underperformed. Rather, the dissident has raised various operational and governance issues that we feel, in and of themselves, are not sufficient to warrant board change. We note the board has been receptive to investor sentiment and has acted in ways to reduce its size (15 to 11) and improve its composition by nominating two shareholder endorsed nominees – one of which was proposed by its largest shareholder.”

“Regarding the merits of a tax-free spin-off, we find no evidence that [the] board summarily dismissed this alternative, noting that this option has only become viable since February 25, 2009. Arguably, although the board's action on this issue may have been in reaction to dissident stimulus, we note the board enlisted two highly reputable financial advisors to thoroughly investigate this alternative. The conclusion they reached indicated a tax-free spin-off strategy's downside risk outweighs its benefits in this market and thus would be inappropriate at this time. Additionally, we note the company's financial and operating reporting structure and high degree of specificity it provides to investors would permit a relatively quick and seamless separation of the two businesses should this strategy be warranted.”

“We therefore recommend shareholders vote on management's WHITE proxy card for ALL management nominees.”

As previously announced, Glass Lewis & Co. also recommends that Chemed stockholders vote FOR all of the Company's director nominees. Glass Lewis and RiskMetrics are widely recognized as the world's leading independent proxy voting and corporate governance advisory firms. The analyses and recommendations of RiskMetrics and Glass Lewis are relied upon by well over a thousand institutional investment firms, mutual funds and other fiduciaries around the world.

Chemed's Board unanimously urges stockholders to follow the recommendations of RiskMetrics and Glass Lewis by voting FOR all of the Company's director nominees by voting the WHITE proxy card by telephone or via the Internet. Chemed's Board also recommends that stockholders discard any materials received from dissident hedge fund MMI Investments, L.P.
