Dear Customer:

As you will recall, in April of this year, Johnson & Johnson entered into a definitive agreement to acquire Synthes, a global developer and manufacturer of orthopaedic devices. We continue to expect the transaction to close in the first half of 2012 subject to regulatory approvals and other customary closing conditions. In the meantime, we have an important development to share with you.

Contingent upon the close of our planned acquisition of Synthes, Michel Orsinger, currently President and CEO of Synthes, has agreed to join Johnson & Johnson as Worldwide Chairman of a Global Orthopaedics Group that will be comprised of the orthopaedics businesses of DePuy and Synthes, as well as DePuy's neuro business.

Until the transaction closes, Gary Fischetti will continue as Company Group Chairman of DePuy, working closely with Michel to shape the combined organization. Post-close, Gary will report to Michel in a senior leadership capacity and help run the Global Orthopaedics Group.

We continued to make steady progress with Synthes Integration planning activities and are more excited than ever about the potential for this merger to help us best meet your needs and ultimately, those of your patients. In the meantime, DePuy and Synthes will continue operating independently and it will be "business as usual" for both companies.

We look forward to welcoming Michel Orsinger to the Johnson & Johnson Family of Companies.

Sincerely,

[INSERT NAME]
